'Undateable' Sports Unforgettable Characters

Candace Havens FYI Television, Inc.

Dating is tough. No matter how intelligent, beautiful or wealthy you are, finding someone to love, who will love you back, can be trying at the best of times. For the friends on "Undateable," returning Tuesday at 8 p.m. on NBC, it can be downright hopeless.

But that doesn't keep this gang from trying. Mismatched roommates Danny (Chris D'Elia, "Whitney") and Justin (Brent Morin, "Ground Floor") have an eclectic group of friends including Danny's sister, Leslie (Bianca Kajlich, "Rules of Engagement"), Shelly (Ron Funches, "Crash & Bernstein"), Burski (Rick Glassman) and Brett (David Fynn, "Game of Thrones").

The series, which debuted last summer, hit a note with viewers. The ratings were good enough that the network decided to bring the show back midseason.

While they do try to get dates, it isn't just about that. These are characters viewers want to get to know. People they can relate to on many levels. "It's a show about seven people that would all be very lonely if it were not for each other," says executive producer Bill Lawrence ("Cougar Town," "Scrubs"). "One of the things we take great pride in - and it plays even a bigger factor in the show this year - is Adam (Sztykiel, "Due Date"), executive producer, and Jeff (Ingold, "Ground Floor"), executive producer, are both from the Detroit area. The show takes place in Detroit. It's about a group of underdogs. The city is a huge character in the show, if you watch it. We feel like this is actually kind of a real shared experience for a bunch of young people, especially when you put them in that city, feeling like they have a chance to make it, but maybe feeling like the world is a little against them right now. That's what I feel like the show is about." There is a new cast member joining the gang. "We wanted to add another female regular," Lawrence says, "so we brought in Bridgit Mendler ("Wizards of Waverly Place," "Good Luck Charlie")." She'll play Candace, a waitress at the bar who quickly becomes like a little sister to the gang.

"It's been a very weird experience because we cast her because she was great," Lawrence says. "And my children are suddenly incredibly interested in the show because, apparently, Bridgit is a singing star and was on another show, and my kids are much more impressed by her. I think it probably affected you a little bit to know that she has more Twitter followers than you," he points to D'Elia.

"You aren't supposed to say that," D'Elia rolls his eves.

For Mendler, she's hoping her fans follow. "So far they've said a lot of nice things on social media," she says. "I mean, obviously, it's a different kind of comedy. So, I'm thinking that it will more be something that the older fans will gravitate toward, but I think it's genuinely funny. So, I'm assuming that my fans will as well."

Lawrence believes there's a reason the audience has connected with these characters. "My favorite thing about 'Taxi,' 'Cheers,' 'Seinfeld' and 'Friends' I was lucky enough to get to write on 'Friends' the first year before I got fired - I came to care for the characters," Lawrence says. "If I hadn't watched the week before and didn't watch the week after and I got to see the show, I could still just kind of relax with people who I enjoy watching and actually laugh.

"I feel like a lot of network comedies have gotten away from that. Don't get me wrong. I've made them myself - halfhour kind of dramedies. But for me as a huge TV fan, my favorite thing is to sit back and watch any of those shows - 'Big Bang' or whatever - and just have a couple of honest chuckles with my kids and kind of enjoy the characters and wish I was hanging out with them. It's one of my favorite parts of television. I miss

it. We've gotten away from it a little bit.'

While Lawrence and the writers pen every episode, they encourage the actors to improvise on set. "We do have a lot of freedom to take what's there and try different things," D'Elia says. "We might just keep going after we say the lines and do something totally different. They're great about just keeping the cameras rolling. There are times when we might be going for 15 or 20 minutes on a two-minute scene. It's a great atmosphere where we can try stuff and if it works great, if it doesn't, it's fine. You can't do that just anywhere. So, we appreciate that."

THIS WEEK'S BEST BETS

SUNDAY Madam Secretary CBS, 7 p.m.

Elizabeth (Téa Leoni) secretly travels to Iran in an attempt to prevent a coup that could impact President Dalton's (Keith Carradine) administration on "Madam Secretary," airing Sunday at 7 p.m. on CBS. Also, Elizabeth brings her staff up to speed on the investigation into Marsh's (Brian Stokes Mitchell) death. Anna Deveare Smith ("Nurse Jackie," "The West Wing") guest-stars on the episode as Attorney General Mary Campbell.

MONDAY

Dancing with the Stars ABC, 7 p.m.

Professional hoofer Allison Holker is partnered with actor/musician Riker Lynch ("Glee") as the 10th anniversary celebrity cast steps up for season 20 of "Dancing with the Stars," premiering Monday at 7 p.m. on ABC. Also strapping on their ballroom shoes this season are double-amputee Iraq War Army veteran Noah Galloway, "Shark Tank" investor Robert Herjavec, actress and "Lady Marmalade" singer Patti LaBelle, Olympic gold medalist gymnast Nastia Liukin, Carl's Jr. "All Natural" model former sitcom sexpot and Thighmaster spokeswoman Suzanne Somers, and actress Rumer Willis, daughter of Bruce Willis and Demi Moore. This season brings back such fan-favorite theme nights as Disney and Latin nights and also introduce new themes, including Spring Break Night. Viewers will also have more access to the show than ever before with #DWTSAllAccess offering viewers a behind-the-scenes look with six live stream videos from key positions in the ballroom.

Charlotte McKinney, LMFAO rapper Redfoo, NFL defensive end Michael Sam, "Hunger Games" actress

TV STAR

Additionally, viewers will have access to the "DWTS" rehearsal studio like never before, with live streaming videos available throughout the week on ABC. com.

Rose McIver TUESDAY ndiZombie

The CW, 8 p.m.

After a zombie attack left medical resident Liv (Rose McIver) one of the newly undead, she tries her best to fit in among the living, passing off her and taking an appropriately dead-end job in the Seattle coroner's office where she can satisfy her inappropriate cravings, by secretly snacking on the brains of the unidentified corpses that make a final stop in the morgue, on the horror drama "iZombie," premiering Tuesday at 8 p.m. on The CW. Despite her careful concealment, Liv's eccentric boss, Dr. Ravi Chakrabarti (Rahul Kohli), discovers her secret and is surprisingly excited about the scientific possibilities, even helping in her search for Blaine (David Anders), the zombie responsible for her zombie status. But even with her boss's enthusiasm, Liv remains resigned to an eternity as a zombie without hope or purpose - until she realizes that with every brain she consumes, she retains a portion of that person's memories.

shockingly pale skin as "Goth,"

WEDNESDAY Empire FOX, 7 p.m.

Hakeem (Bryshere Gray) decides to flirt with the enemy, while trying to figure out what the best move is for his career on the two-hour season finale of "Empire," airing Wednesday at 7 p.m. on FOX. Elsewhere, Jamal (Jussie Smollett) and Lucious (Terrence Howard) are on their way to forming a music-centered relationship, but once again Lucious has a secret that's about to change everything. Meanwhile, Cookie (Taraji P. Henson) is cooking up a plan of her own. Gueststarring on the episode are Jennifer Hudson, Derek Luke, Gabourey Sidibe and Judd Nelson, while Snoop Dogg, Charles Hamilton, Rita Ora, Juicy J and Patti Labelle make appearances as themselves.

THURSDAY The Real Housewives of Melbourne BRAVO, 8 p.m.

Thursday at 8 p.m. on Bravo, bold barrister Gina Liano and the other Australian socialites of "The Real Housewives of Melbourne" continue in their second-season efforts to put last year's tensions behind them, but the group's dynamic has changed with the addition of dog-loving art consultant Gamble Breaux and business owner Pettifleur Berenger. Successful women in their own right, the seven feisty femmes of the series are seen as Victorian royalty married to wealthy and high-profile businessmen, doctors and rock stars, and they make no excuses for the lives of luxury they lead. There is no shortage of high-end drama as the champagne flows as quickly as the fiery remarks are made. From luxurious golf outings to chic fashion shows, resentments rise and friendships are damaged beyond repair. With two new ladies in the mix, the wild accusations and surprising revelations leave everyone reeling and reaching for another cocktail.

Entertainment News Channel Debuts New Royal Drama

Candace Havens FYI Television, Inc.

Living in the spotlight is the cost of doing business when it comes to royalty. Never was that more true than with "The Royals," premiering Sunday at 9 p.m. on E! This is the first scripted drama for the network, and it centers on a fictional royal family in England. Created by Mark Schwahn ("One Tree Hill"), the series stars Elizabeth Hurley (Queen Helena), William Moseley (Prince Liam), Vincent Regan (King Simon) and Alexandra Park (Princess Eleanor). These people have more scandal in their lives than any 10 families.

Hurley drew inspiration from a variety of real-life people to play the role. "Well, I thought to myself when I got offered this part," says Hurley, "what would it have been like if Princess Diana had become Queen of England. I felt she was someone we could identify with more because she's a more similar age group and then her kids would be about the age of these kids now. And so I took some inspiration from her, knowing how she dressed, how she spoke – everything that we saw for the public - stepping out of cars, raising money and making speeches. So, I took that as some inspiration. But then, of course, what we never got to see with Princess Diana really was behind those closed doors, so all that, I made up myself. Mark gave us a lot of it. Some of it we picked from Cruella de Vil from the Disney characters."

There is a great deal of rich people doing naughty things, but the series is surprisingly dramatic and emotional. "This show has a lot of heart and soul to it," adds Schwahn. "And I will say, in addition to Elizabeth, on episode one we were in wardrobe together, and Elizabeth suggested a little bit of fur. She said, 'Don't you think the queen should wear little bits of cruelty now and then?' So, I thought it was perfect for her character. She's been very brave in approaching the more villainous aspects of the character."

For Prince Liam, a tragic incident in the first episode changes the way he looks at the world. But leaving his bad-boy antics behind isn't easy. "It thrusts him into a life that was nothing that he thought it was going to be," Moseley says. "So, he meets a lovely girl and that also changes things. But old habits die hard and it's a hard thing to break. Liam definitely does have to rethink himself."

Park says it's fun to step outside her comfort zone to play the party-girl princess. "I'm nowhere near as wild as her," says the actress. "Not really. We were talking about this earlier. Like Elizabeth said, I also have drawn inspiration from characters in story tales like Disney's story tale 'Snow White' and 'Twilight,' bits of things that come to me at certain times of particular scripts. But at the end of the day, I think Eleanor is her own character. She stands on her own. There's no one like her. I think that's why I feel so privileged to play her, because you will see she really unfolds throughout the series, and she's very multilayered.

"In terms of the partying and wildness and makeup, I think all of that is going to be pretty relatable for young women, in general, around the world because Eleanor uses all that stuff as a mask at the end of the day. She fronts as this confident, boozehound, table dancing, don't care – but you get to know her, and I think you get to know many young women in that age of being 20, and realize Queen Helena (Elizabeth Hurley) has a difficult time controlling "The Royals," premiering Sunday at 9 p.m. on E!

that they're actually pretty lost. They're searching for what their reason is and their point is. She's a royal. She's got a destiny. She can't do a lot of stuff."

Veteran primetime soap actress Joan Collins is also gueststarring on the series as the Grand Duchess of Oxford. Her first day of work was memorable in a funny way. "I was so sick the day that I worked and went on the set coughing and sneezing," says Collins. "Elizabeth was also coughing and sneezing, so there was a huge amount of Kleenex everywhere, but we've known each other for a long time and have been quite good friends, and it was great. We seem to have the same blood group, if you know what I mean."

"And you know what? We've often discussed how much we'd love to play mummy and daughter," adds Hurley, "and it's third time lucky. There were two chances in the past. There was a movie and then a TV show, and it somehow never happened. And Joan used to say to me, 'We better hurry up and make it happen, or you'll be much too old to be my daughter.' So finally, thank you, Mark, it happened."

TRIVIA CHAIN

TV Superheroes

1. One of the very first live-action superheroes on television, this powerful refugee from a doomed world was played in the 1950s by an actor whose own demise was just as tragic and filled with controversy.

2. The campy 1960s series about this caped crusader featured guest villains played by such diverse stars as Zsa Zsa Gabor, Liberace and Vincent Price.

In 1975, this statuesque brunette from Phoenix – a former Miss World USA provided a perfect living personification of the Amazonian princess turned All-American crime-fighter envisioned by DC Comics artists.

Long before the magic of CGI, this bodybuilder champion made possible the huge and powerful instrument of justice that a scientist poisoned by gamma radiation would become when angered on this 1978 series.

5. The 1980s brought this comedy about a specialed teacher who gains superhuman abilities from a red suit given to him by aliens - but he immediately loses the instruction booklet.

6. In 1993, Japanese tokusatsu sci-fi caught on in the U.S. with this show about a group of teens who protected the world by transforming into skilled warriors who could also pilot giant robots.

7. This current CW series follows a crime scene investigator who was left a speedy "metahuman" by a particle accelerator accident. SOLUTION ON PAGE 3

According to a new poll, the value of baby teeth is skyrocketing, up 25 percent from last year. In the U.S., the tooth fairy left a total of $255 million last year. The Vikings believed that children's teeth had magic powers that would help them fight in battles. This explains why there are no more Vikings.

On May 2, Las Vegas will host the fight of the decade, Floyd Mayweather versus Manny Pacquiao. It's a long time coming. Tickets are expected to start at $1,000 for the worst seats. It's estimated a child would have to lose around 230 baby teeth to afford a ticket to this fight.

THE BOLD AND THE BEAUTIFUL

TV STAR

With Carter's assistance, Rick took the next step in dissolving his marriage to Caroline. Wyatt asked Quinn to keep an article of value safe for him. Nicole refused to leave the mansion. Carter appealed to a softer side of Rick when asking whether he was really over Caroline. Eric attempted to motivate the staff to be more supportive of Rick. Later, Ridge confronted Eric about his sudden change of opinion regarding Rick and Maya's relationship. Brooke took a good look at herself and asked if this was how she wanted to keep leading her life. Ivy stood up to Rick about how disrespectful he was being to his employees. Wait to See: Katie turns to an old flame for some advice.

Brooke has trouble maintaining her sobriety. Wyatt warns his mother about Deacon.

DAYS OF OUR LIVES

Stefano, Victor and Kate got caught up in a tangled web of deceit and betrayal. Chad came to Abigail's rescue. Serena and Nicole unwittingly ruined each other's plans. Melanie put her foot down with Brady. Serena was forced to make a quick decision. John provided Paul with a reason to stay in town a little longer. Lucas helped Will investigate after they came across a curious photo of Tori. Trouble was in the air for Brady and Theresa. Will blackmailed Tori. Lucas tried his best to get Paul to stay out of Will and Sonny's marriage. Kate was blindsided at the DiMera board meeting. JJ and Theresa got into a heated confrontation, which Paige overheard. Wait to See: Kate and Stefano battle for control of the DiMera empire. Brady questions Melanie about her time in Europe. Eve and Paige are both drawn to JJ as he takes part in a music showcase.

GENERAL HOSPITAL

Jordan warned Anna that the Port Charles mob wars were about to erupt. Dante and Nathan continued to investigate Luke's latest ploy. Sam and Spinelli shared a warm reunion. Maxie made a confession to Lulu about her love life. Carly had a suggestion for Jake. Spinelli thought he recognized someone from his past. Jake asked Sam for a favor. Michael had a new job offer for Sabrina, which didn't exactly please Kiki. Shawn shared his suspicions about Jordan with Sonny and Duke. Julian devised a discreet plan to eradicate a member of the mob. Meanwhile, Shawn and Sonny decided to test Jordan's loyalty. Elizabeth was upfront with Ric about her feelings for Jake. Wait to See: Julian welcomes a new member to his organization. Morgan and Kiki plot against Michael. Nathan gives Spinelli an ultimatum.

THE YOUNG AND THE REST-LESS

Jack told Ashley about Abby and Austin's affair. Later, Abby's peers confronted her at the cabin, accusing her of killing Austin. Kyle told Summer that she deserved better. Adam begged Sage not to divorce him. Sage continued her and Adam's charade in front of Constance's estate manager. Dylan and Avery's plan to spend time together was interrupted by a call from Phyllis. Joe showed up at the coffeehouse and informed Dylan that he would be staying in town for a while. Avery gasped when she saw Dylan with the box that Joe had given him. Lily was surprised that Kelly was so calm about Phyllis' trial. Lauren was caught off-guard when Michael asked what she would do if she outlived him. Sharon told Nick that she was finally starting to forgive herself. Later, Dylan confided in Sharon that he believed Avery was afraid of him. Wait to See: Adam risks exposure at Kelly and Billy's engagement party. Neil makes a shocking announcement. Joe reaches out to Avery for help.
