FOR SKIN CANCER, PEACE OF MIND COMES SOONER.

Once you notice a change on your skin, an answer can't come soon enough. The dermatology team at Mayo Clinic Health System understands. They make it a point to see every new patient within days—not months. And that extraordinary access continues until the patient is in the clear.

With Mohs microscopically controlled surgery, testing for skin cancer and the surgery to remove it are done within the same procedure. With this precise technique, Mayo Clinic dermatology specialists clear the patient's skin cancer in a single day. And more of the healthy tissue is protected.

Here, real peace of mind comes sooner.
