Holiday Programming Both Fresh and Familiar

Dan Rice

FYI Television, Inc.

It's already Christmastime on the major networks, and that comes with a few certainties. We can count on a sleigh full of familiar faces from holiday animation, while musical artists will be drawn into unlikely duets on variety specials and NBC will air "It's a Wonderful Life" a few times. Speaking of the classic 1947 family drama, its premise will undoubtedly be borrowed for the formulaic Christmas-themed episodes of far too many TV series along with those of Charles Dickens' "A Christmas Carol" and O Henry's "The Gift of the Magi." But thankfully, there will be some fresh offerings among the traditional fare, with something to suit most everyone's sense of entertainment.

For instance, while there will be plenty of chances for the kiddies to rediscover Rudolph, Frosty, the Grinch and various incarnations of Santa Claus, a couple of new animated specials can be enjoyed by the whole family. Debuting Tuesday, Dec. 16, at 7 p.m. on NBC, "Elf: Buddy's Musical Christmas" stars four-time Emmy winner Jim Parsons ("The Big Bang Theory") as the voice of Buddy in an original hour-long stop-motion program based on the popular film "Elf" and the hit Broadway show "Elf: The Musical." With nine new songs, the special features a voice cast including Mark Hamill, Ed Asner, Fred Armisen, Jay Leno, Matt Lauer, Gilbert Gottfried, Kate Micucci, Rachael MacFarlane, Max Charles and Steve Higgins.

And then on Thursday, Dec. 25, at 7 p.m., NBC encores the all-new "How Murray Saved Christmas," which tells how cranky deli owner Murray Weiner (voiced by Jerry Stiller, "The King of Queens") and Edison Elf (Sean Hayes, "Will & Grace") were forced to fill in for Santa Claus one Christmas. Based on the best selling children's book by four-time Emmy-winning writer Mike Reiss ("The Simpsons"), the one hour holiday musical co-stars Jason Alexander ("Seinfeld") and John Ratzenberger ("Cheers"), while featuring Dennis Haysbert ("24," the Allstate commercials) as the narrator.

For decidedly older viewers, CBS offers an encore presentation of last year's "I Love Lucy Christmas Special,"Sunday at 7 p.m., in which stars Vivian Vance, Lucille Ball, Desi Arnaz and William Frawley appear in two backto-back episodes of the classic comedy series, including the seldom-seen "Christmas Episode" and an all-new colorized version of "Job Switching" (a.k.a. "Chocolate Factory"). Both episodes were tinted with a vintage look – a nod to the 1950s era in which the shows were filmed.

Also suitable for more mature tastes is the hour-long musical celebration of "Michael Bublé's Christmas in New York," airing Wednesday, Dec. 17, at 7 p.m. on NBC. Originating from Radio City Music Hall in New York City, Bublé's fourth annual NBC Christmas special features the multiple Grammy-winning singer and his band performing an "unplugged" series of songs requested by his social media followers, but that's secondary to his sharing the stage with Barbra Streisand, Miss Piggy, Ariana Grande and The Rockettes. "I could not be more excited to celebrate the Christmas holidays in New York with such a fantastic array of talented women," Bublé gushes.

Ariana Grande, by the way, will also perform on "The iHeart-Radio Jingle Ball 2014," airing Thursday, Dec. 18, at 7 p.m. on The CW. The Madison Square Garden concert will also include Taylor Swift, Iggy Azalea, Maroon 5, Sam Smith, Pharrell Williams, OneRepublic, Meghan Trainor, 5 Seconds of Summer, Jessie J., Shawn Mendes and Nick Jonas. The music continues Tuesday, Dec. 23, at 7 p.m. as NBC airs "One Direction: The TV Special," which a number of young fans will certainly consider a holiday gift in itself.

Friday, Dec. 19, at 7 p.m., NBC encores its annual presentation of "Christmas in Rockefeller Center," the star studded tree lighting extravaganza that also features Cyndi Lauper, Idina Menzel, LeAnn Rimes, Pentatonix, Sara Bareilles, Trisha Yearwood and the unlikely duo of Lady Gaga and Tony Bennett, all performing current hits and holiday classics.

For those who enjoy a bit of competition while needing a little inspiration for their holiday home decorations, "The Great Christmas Light Fight" returns for its second season on Monday, Dec. 8, at 7 p.m. on ABC. Michael Moloney and Sabrina Soto from "Extreme Makeover: Home Edition" host this sparkling family contest of elaborate Christmas light displays. Each of the six one-hour episodes spotlights four families from across America who work harder than Santa's elves in order to possibly win the ultimate Christmas gift - $50,000!

One holiday tradition that will have couples anxious to unwrap their Christmas gifts together is "The Victoria's Secret Fashion Show" airing from London for the first time, Tuesday, Dec. 9, at 9 p.m. The heavenly procession of Victoria's Secret Angels includes Adriana Lima, Alessandra Ambrosio, Candice Swanepoel, Doutzen Kroes, Lily Aldridge, Behati Prinsloo, Karlie Kloss and Multiple Grammy winner Michael Bublé welcomes Miss Piggy, to his fourth annual NBC holiday special, "Michael Bublé's Christmas in New York," airing Wednesday, Dec. 17, at 7 p.m.

Lindsay Ellingson, all of whom help the program merge fashion, fantasy and entertainment into a runway spectacle that could melt icicles.

Looking ahead to New Year's Eve, ABC will have the biggest party with "Dick Clark's New Year's Rockin' Eve with Ryan Seacrest," starting Wednesday, Dec. 31, at 7 p.m. Fergie hosts the Billboard Hollywood Party with special performances by Charli XCX, One Direction and Meghan Trainor, while Gavin DeGraw and Lady Antebellum perform in Nashville and Taylor Swift headlines the night in Times Square, with Jenny McCarthy reporting from the sidelines. "Each year, 'New Year's Rockin' Eve' continues its iconic legacy by delivering incredible performances from the year's hottest artists, and this year is no exception," boasts heir to the throne Seacrest. "We already have secured an unprecedented number of music acts, culminating with a Times Square performance by Taylor, the biggest superstar in music today."

There are choices for the last night of 2014: the Miami-set "Pitbull's New Year's Revolution" begins at 7 p.m. on FOX, while "NBC's New Year's Eve with Carson Daly" starts at 9 p.m. with its own take on the Times Square action.

The Newsroom HBO, 8 p.m.

Refusing to reveal the name of Neal's (Dev Patel) government source, who provided ACN with leaked Department of Defense documents, Will (Jeff Daniels) is incarcerated for contempt. Meanwhile, Charlie (Sam Waterston) appears to embrace Pruit's (B.J.

Novak) mandate to capture vounger viewers by ordering a reluctant Don (Thomas Sadoski) to track down principals in a sexual-abuse case at an elite college. Sloan (Olivia Munn) voices her objection to a new digital site built by Neal's replacement, Bree

(Jon Bass). And Jim (John Gallagher Jr.) and

Maggie (Alison Pill), stranded in a Moscow airport, look to land seats for a Cuban-bound plane, hoping to interview one of its high-profile passengers.

When Flynn's (Tony Denison) daughter (guest star Torrey DeVitto) comes to visit, the true nature of his relationship with Sharon (Mary McDonnell) comes to light. Meanwhile, a Hollywood comeback is interrupted when a former child star is found dead on skid row, leaving the director of the actor's current movie and his manager as prime suspects.

TUESDAY

About a Boy NBC, 8:30 p.m.

With Christmas celebrations in full swing, Will (David Walton) is in agony over the cheerfulness around his least favorite holiday and the constant playing of his hit song "Runaway Sleigh." With his lawsuit still pending, Laurie (Annie Mumolo) advises Will to settle and move on. Refusing to give up any of his earnings, Will and Marcus (Benjamin Stockham) go on a search for the original handwritten song lyrics as evidence to prove he is the sole writer of the song. Meanwhile, Fiona (Minnie Driver) and Andy (Al Madrigal) try to create the perfect white Christmas for

WEDNESDAY Hell's Kitchen FOX, 7 p.m.

After receiving their coveted black jackets, the remaining six contestants will compete in their first individual challenge from Chef Gordon Ramsay, during which they must create a unique dish using Omaha steaks on a special two-hour episode. Determined by Chef Ramsay and his guest judges, Omaha Steaks president and CEO Bruce Simon and SVP Todd Simon, the winner of the challenge will be featured in a nationwide advertising campaign, as well as receive a gift certificate to culinary store Surfas and one other surprise. Later on, during the dinner service, the contestants will team up to face their toughest competition yet and one contestant will be kicked out of the kitchen for good. Then, the remaining contestants will prepare gourmet dishes for "glampers" - enthusiasts of glamorous camping - and the contestant who receives the most votes from the glampers will win a luxury glamping trip for two.

THURSDAY Bad Judge NBC, 8 p.m.

Over Christmas, Rebecca (Kate Walsh) tries the case of "Face Mask Mom," a mother who tackled a peewee football player. While the trial is rendered even more difficult by the sweltering heat, and the air conditioning can only be fixed by a specific union worker that is nowhere to be found, both Face Mask Mom and Rebecca come to realize that they can truly enjoy the holidays when surrounded by good friends. # Lifetime Presents Miniseries Set in Biblical Times

Candace Havens FYI Television, Inc.

When author Anita Diamant sat down to write "The Red Tent," which has been adapted into a four-hour miniseries airing Sunday at 8 p.m. on Lifetime, she wasn't thinking about writing a Bible story. She wanted to take an old story and write it from a point of view that had never been seen before.

"I didn't start by choosing this historical period," Diamant says. "I started with a story about a woman mentioned very briefly: Dinah. I thought there was a question posed by the text - a mystery even. What really happened to Jacob and Leah's daughter in the city of Shechem? Was she assaulted, as two of her brothers insisted? That's hard to see given that the man wanted to marry her and agrees to a very high bride price. But since Dinah doesn't say anything in the Bible, we really can't know what happened. So, in my novel, Dinah is the narrator. She has a voice. I set the book in about 1.500 B.C.E. and tried to describe the period as best as I could, but there was very little information about the women of that time. I had to invent all sorts of things - food, clothing, work. I tried to make educated guesses based on the material I did find."

Once executive producer Paula Weinstein read the novel, she knew Dinah's (Rebecca Ferguson) tale had the makings of a great movie. "When I read the book, I was so moved by this powerful story," says Weinstein. "And what we all know to be true is that women have pretty much been written out of history and sidelined. The idea that there was a story of a girl in the early days of the Bible that was potentially such a great story really grabbed me. And it made me think of all the stories that were perhaps not told. You know about Leah (Minnie Driver) and Rachel (Morena Baccarin), but you don't really know what it was like to be a woman then."

In the miniseries, the red tent is where all of the women in the camp go and gather when they aren't feeling well, or to give birth. It's a safe haven away from the men where they share their stories and their skills. Here, the writers depart somewhat from Diamant's novel, which stresses that the women were forcibly banished to the tent during their menstruation, a time when they were considered unclean. Such a practice was common among ancient cultures, with some tribes sending their women completely outside of their camps. Nevertheless, the women come to view their gathering inside the tent as a time of sisterhood and gender instruction for girls like Dinah, who learned much from her four mothers within this segregated environment.

Baccarin plays one of the four wives of Jacob (Iain Glen), a talented midwife who passes her skills down to Dinah. "I'd read the book years ago and I was excited when they asked me to be a part of this," Baccarin says. "She's described as like the pretty wife, young and impetuous. What I liked about the book is that it shows that the women were so much more and shares the different personalities. She is very impulsive, but whatever choices from her heart. These women are the heart of what happens in the camp.

"I've said many times to my friends that I had a red tent to go to. It seems like such a great wonderful place to be yourself. Women need a place to have some time away from their significant other. You need that place where you feel safe and you just want to be and have space. That's kind of what this is. Also, the traditions of storytelling get passed down. I loved how the bond between these women grows, and I think it's important to have a community like that."

The midwifery scenes brought memories back for Baccarin. "I just had a baby a year ago, so that was all very clear and present in my mind," she continues. "I had a chance to chat with some midwives. But the great thing about this movie is that it isn't about the medicine or medical aspect of giving birth; it's about the emotional journey these women go on when giving birth and what all of that means. And it's about family. I felt like having had a kid gave me plenty of experience with that."

If the scenery feels authentic, it's meant to be. The miniseries was shot in Morocco. "It was incredibly hot," Baccarin laughs, "and it was incredibly dusty. It was tough. I have to say, battling the elements was not my favorite part of being there. It was terrible, and you'll see we're squinting throughout the movie because it was so bright. But I loved the place. The food and the people. And the people I was working with were wonderful. I was there with my 6-month-old son, so it was a little tricky at times, but I had fun."

1. In recent decades, the lawless frontier of the Old West has been re-imagined in films as the post-apocalyptic world, a trend beginning in 1979 with the titular character of this film trilogy about an Australian cop who becomes a drifting loner fighting for fuel and food.

2. This 1995 sci-fi action film takes place after the polar ice caps have melted and submerged most of the land, leaving survivors and their descendants to live on boats and fight for fuel and food.

3. The third film adaptation of the 1954 source novel, this 2007 drama revolves around a lone survivor of a manmade virus who fights mutants in an empty city while searching for a cure.

4. A weaponized virus has killed most everyone in this 1994

TV miniseries, after which the survivors are drawn to rival camps of good and evil before their final battle for dominance.

5. This 2010 drama follows an enigmatic nomad who traverses what's left of America after a nuclear war to deliver a powerful text to a safe location.

6. Based on a Pulitzer Prizewinning novel, this 2009 film follows a father struggling to teach his son how to survive among the brutal scavengers and cannibals of the wasteland.

7. After Earth is ravaged by a 60-year war with alien invaders, the remainder of mankind is migrating aboard a space station, while a tech and his partner stay behind to protect the fusion energy generators for the colonists in this 2013 sci-fi drama.

President Obama gave a speech on immigration tonight, and none of the big four TV networks aired it. Even television wants to distance itself from President Obama now.

The band One Direction is here tonight. Why do girls scream when they see their favorite pop stars? I wonder if long ago there was some handsome Neanderthal playing a gourd and all the women went "Ahhh!"

Jimmy Fallon

President Obama will travel to Las Vegas to speak at the same high school where he laid out his immigration plan two years ago. So, Obama's become that guy who graduated a while ago and still comes back to hang with the seniors.

David Letterman

Anyone ever flown JetBlue? No, that's not true. If you'd flown JetBlue, you would still be at the airnort

I hear JetBlue is reducing leg room by 1.5 inches. Know why? Because so many passengers on JetBlue look around and say, "It's so roomy in here! I feel so uncomfortable with all this space!"

SOAP OPERA REVIEW

THE BOLD AND THE BEAUTIFUL

Liam grilled Deacon about how he could remain in a relationship with someone as manipulative as Quinn. Meanwhile, Quinn got a dose of reality when she overheard what the guests were saying about her at Hope's baby shower. Ivy and Hope mutually set aside their differences when they realized that they would always be in each other's lives. When Wyatt voiced his concern about how his mom was negatively affecting his marriage, Bill suggested that he take drastic measures to ensure that his family remain intact. As a promise to Hope, Liam vowed to protect her and her baby from any threat. Quinn made an emotional plea to Deacon to speak to Hope on her behalf. Wait to See: Wyatt severs ties from his past. Deacon's relationships are put to the test. Feuding family members set aside their differences for the sake of a loved one.

DAYS OF OUR LIVES

Melanie panicked when Daniel told her about the mysterious phone call that he just received. JJ told Paige that he wanted to keep seeing her, but that they must keep their relationship a secret. Nicole tried to clarify matters with Eric. Adrienne gave Sonny some stern advice. Eve enlisted Theresa's help in breaking up Paige and JJ. A furious Rafe confronted Kate about her conniving ways. Ben demanded answers from Clyde about the lie he told. Hope was thrown when she learned an interesting tidbit about Aiden from Chase. Rafe tried to convince Jordan that she was making a big mistake with Chad. Stefano delighted in rattling Kate's nerves. Daniel realized that Melanie wasn't being completely honest. Clyde and Jordan had another big blowup. Wait to See: Melanie's secret is revealed. Eric gets a surprise visitor from his past. Sonny runs into a problem expanding his new club.

GENERAL HOSPITAL

Alexis told Molly something important about her father. Madeline threatened to expose one of Obrecht's lies if she didn't help her with her case. Nikolas was furious about a recent finding. Nina and Franco picked a name for the baby. Patrick made a difficult admission to Sam. Spencer demanded answers from Nikolas. Jake recognized a mysterious visitor at Thanksgiving. Brad had some important advice for Britt. Anna apologized for a recent incident, but assured everyone that they were safe. Jake found himself in a quandary that could get him into trouble. Sonny crossed paths with an enemy in prison. Sabrina apologized to Michael about pointing him in the wrong direction regarding AJ's murder. Nikolas was stunned by Elizabeth's news. Wait to See: Sonny learns who rules the roost at the prison. Anna's job is on the line. Franco and Nina get a visitor.

THE YOUNG AND THE RESTLESS

Summer threw Sharon out when she tried to visit Nick. Joe criticized Michael for not keeping up with the details of the real-estate project. Stitch confided in Chelsea that he feared losing Victoria to her ex. Kelly lost confidence in her relationship with Jack after overhearing his conversation with Abby. Hilary tried to play Cupid with Devon and her co-worker Gwen. Phyllis and Billy got into an altercation after she boldly told him that she wanted her position back at Jabot. After learning more about Adam's past, Sage warned him not to mess up the deal they had together. Summer admitted to Avery that she was worried about Nick. Wait to See: Lauren has some tough questions for Michael. Phyllis declares war on Kelly. Adam crosses paths with Chelsea.
