A Time for Giving Thanks – and Giving Homes to the Loving Lonely

Candace Havens
FYI Television, Inc.

This Thanksgiving, man's best friend will be treated to a little extra attention – aside from the additional table scraps that come with the holiday feast. Airing Thursday at 7 p.m., "FOX's Cause for Paws: An All-Star Dog Spectacular" is a two-hour celebration of canine companions and the joy they bring to our lives. Famous dog lovers come together with the thoughtful message that, if you are in the market for a furry friend with whom to share your life, it would be ideal to avoid the inadvertent support of a puppy mill and instead adopt a shelter dog, one who would reward its rescuer with boundless gratitude and love.

The inspirational program is co-hosted by two-time Academy Award winner Hilary Swank and Golden Globe winner Jane Lynch. Swank, who also co-executive-produces the groundbreaking special with Michael Levitt, says she is hoping to raise awareness of the millions of animals that are euthanized each year in the United States alone, a number that could be greatly diminished if more people considered adopting shelter dogs – many of which are purebreds – and then followed through by spaying or neutering their pets.

"I have long been an advocate for animal adoption and know firsthand the immense joy a shelter animal brings to our lives," says Swank. "Yet, every year more than four million animals are euthanized because of overcrowding in shelters. We are so fortunate to have an animal advocate in the FOX network that not only sees the need for more awareness surrounding this issue, but is willing to set aside a two-hour block for this important cause. This partnership will change the path of a soul for thousands of animals looking for their forever home."

The program will feature inspiring and often amusing stories of rescue dogs and people who dedicate their lives to saving animals in need, and include viral videos starring rescue pups and musical tributes to amazing superhero canines. Throughout the broadcast, viewers will be introduced to rescue dogs available for adoption by such celebrities as Betty White, Miranda Lambert, Scarlett Johansson, Cesar Millan, Kristen Bell, Kristin Chenoweth, Paula Abdul, LeAnn Rimes, Rebecca Romijn, Emmy Rossum, P!nk, Kesha, Carrie Ann Inaba, Sharon and Kelly Osbourne, Josh Duhamel and his wife, Fergie. Also appearing are the acclaimed rescue canines The Olate Dogs, who will join in an exclusive performance to honor all shelter dogs in need of adoption.

During the broadcast, viewers will be provided with information about adoptable animals in their local areas, and given the opportunity to make donations to the Petfinder Foundation, an independent nonprofit organization supporting shelters and rescue groups nationwide. Viewers can also donate via a text number listed during the show or online at fox.com/causeforpaws.

"We've seen the entertainment industry come together for so many worthwhile causes benefiting people, now it's time for them to rally for man's best friend," says Levitt. "It warms my heart that so many animal loving celebrities are stepping up in support of all the beautiful souls that need us to be their voice. This is our big opportunity to change the misperception of shelter animals and show the world that rescuing a dog is always the way to go."

The special will also include awards and celebrity presentations showcasing such canine categories as Cutest Puppy, Best Celebrity/Dog Lookalike, Guiltiest Dog, Best Licker, Smartest Dog and Best Viral Dog Video. And viewers will be provided with information regarding adoptable animals in their local areas, as well as the opportunity to help raise funds for rescue organizations throughout the U.S. The time will be used to promote awareness of many dog-related issues and topics while encouraging people to adopt one of the more than eight million animals that are currently in the U.S. shelter system, each patiently waiting to become part of a loving family.

"I feel like they love you for you, you know – that's why I have six," joked Lambert, the co-founder of the MuttNation Foundation for animal rescue, as she publicized her partnership with Pedigree earlier this year to improve the animal shelter in her hometown of Tishomingo, Oklahoma. "It's all about those dogs in those Grammy-winning singer and MuttNation founder Miranda Lambert is among the dog lovers participating on "FOX's Cause for Paws: An All-Star Dog Spectacular," airing Thursday at 7 p.m.

enclosures that need a home," she continued, breaking into tears. "And that's what we're doing today, because when I came here, there was nothing." The year also brought Lambert's seventh-annual MuttNation charity event, "Cause for the Paws," as well as the seventh of her rescue dogs, the current roster now being Black Betty, Cher, Delilah, Delta, Virginia Bluebell, Jessi and Waylon – several of which served as "bridesmaids" in her wedding to Blake Shelton last year. "I am looking forward to seeing lots of dogs find loving forever homes through adoption," she says of her work with MuttNation, which she established with her mother, Bev Lambert, "in the hopes of turning every shelter into no-kill shelters."

So, as the holiday assemblies gatherings both large and small, while sparking some remembrances in solitary souls, let us all recognize the others left outside, those who would be forever beholden for such simple blessings as eyes to meet and company to keep.

THURSDAY NFL Football

FOX, 3:30 p.m.

Running back LeSean McCoy and the Philadelphia Eagles visit the Dallas Cowboys for a Thanksgiving Day tussle. This is only the second time that the Eagles have faced their arch rivals on Thanksgiving Day. In 1989, Philadelphia shut out the Cowboys, 27-0, at Texas Stadium. That game is remembered as the "Bounty Bowl" amidst allegations that the Eagles, coached by Buddy Ryan, had put a $200 bounty on Dallas kicker Luis Zendejas, who had been cut by Philadelphia earlier that season. Jimmy Johnson was in his first season as the Cowboys' head coach and famously said after the game, "I have absolutely no respect for the way they played the game. I would have said something to Buddy, but he wouldn't stand on the field long enough. He put his big, fat rear end into the dressing room."

Grumpy Cat Stars in New Lifetime Movie

Candace Havens
FYI Television, Inc.

What started out as a series of funny kitten memes on the Internet has turned into a big business for Bryan and Tabatha Bundesen, the owners of Grumpy Cat (real name Tardar Sauce). There are T-shirts, mugs and now a new cable movie, "Grumpy Cat's Worst Christmas Ever," debuting Saturday, November 29, at 7 p.m. on Lifetime. If you haven't heard of Grumpy Cat, you need only to look at her adorable face to see how she became a star.

When Lifetime execs were talking about doing a new Christmas movie, they came up with the idea of using the adorable feline as the lead in one. "I was in a meeting and we needed a Christmas movie," says Lifetime executive producer Arturo Interian. "I have three daughters, and two of them love Grumpy Cat. They had shown me these memes. I said in the meeting, 'How about this sort of grumpy, surly cat, who would be sort of an Ebenezer Scrooge or Grinch,' and everyone in the meeting said, 'Yes!' Then it became how do I get the rights and how do I get a cat to star in a movie. At the time, I didn't know anything about Grumpy Cat, other than she had funny pictures online.

"But I think she's a very relatable character," Interian adds. "I think we've all had that grumpy day or that moment in a day where we feel a little miserable. Grumpy Cat always says what we're thinking, though we may never say it out loud. She's also incredibly cute, which sort of takes the edge off it. When she says something surly or miserable, she's so darn cute she gets away with it."

Most of the movie takes place in a mall pet store where the young heroine, Chyrstal (Megan Charpentier, "Mama"), volunteers. She's had trouble making friends at school, and she still isn't over her parents' divorce. The pet shop is the one place she can forget her troubles. But when some nefarious musicians decide to kidnap an expensive dog to get cash for their tour bus, Chyrstal is forced to be braver than she feels. Grumpy Cat helps her try to thwart the robbery.

Once the filmmakers secured the rights and were able to get Grumpy Cat under contract, it was time to find the rest of the cast. Interian knew that the voice of the cat was key. "The first time I met Ben Lashes," he says, "who manages Grumpy Cat, he said Aubrey Plaza ('Parks and Recreation') had to do the voice. As we went through our casting process, he kept saying it had to be Aubrey. I convinced my bosses at Lifetime that we needed her, and then Aubrey was crazy enough to say yes.

This is a comedy and it never takes itself too seriously. It has tongue planted firmly in cheek. "It started with us saying we wanted to make fun of Lifetime movies," Interian reveals. "They're very sincere and sentimental, which is great. But for this, we wanted to poke a little fun at that. So, whenever we have one of those really sincere moments, Grumpy Cat can roll her eyes or say something snarky. When Aubrey got in the booth, she started commenting on everything, which took it to a whole other level. It was pretty genius what she did.

"We did that with all the voice cast. It was a difficult process finding the right voices for the animals, but when we did find them, we knew right away. And we made some surprising choices. Everyone brought a lot to the table."

There are some special effects involved with Grumpy Cat so she wouldn't be harmed during the filming. "I learned a lot about working with animals in this movie," says Interian. "Each animal in the pet store had its own trainer. It was a challenge. We don't always have the biggest budgets on these movies, but we were able to get a lot of animals into the film and make the schedule work for a child actor. But the animals were so cute, and Megan was so sweet, I'd do it all again. Grumpy Cat is in about 98 percent of the movie," he says of the feline. "But we worked with the Henson Company to create stunt puppets for when she needs to fly through the air. There are things in this movie you can't do with a real cat."

This may be a comedy, but every Christmas movie needs certain elements to make it work. "It needs a miracle," says Interian. "I think it needs heart and an element of family. When I think about my favorite Christmas movies, whether it's 'A Christmas Story' or, more recently, 'Elf,' they have those elements. Even if it's irreverent, which 'Grumpy Cat' is, it's grounded in the fact that it has heart."

TRIVIA CHAIN

Thanksgiving Movies

1. This 1994 live-action Disney film tells the true story of the Patuxet tribesman who escaped enslavement by English settlers to make peace with the Pilgrims for the first Thanksgiving celebration.
2. A high-strung executive's trip home for Thanksgiving is made all the more disastrous by the overly talkative (and clumsy) shower curtain ring salesman who becomes his unwanted travel companion.
3. In this Oscar-winning 1992 drama, a prep school student takes a job over the Thanksgiving weekend looking after a blind and cantankerous retired Army officer.
4. This counterculture comedy classic of 1969 was adapted from the lengthy 1967 folk song composed and performed by the songwriter appearing as himself.

5. This popular 1993 comedy explores the culture clash of a flamboyant California party animal who accompanies his new college friend to her South Dakota farm over Thanksgiving break.

6. In this caper film, the Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade serves as cover for a crew of co-workers intent on robbing the financier who stole their pension funds with a Ponzi scheme.

7. A comic actor takes on the dual role of a successful ad executive who is irritated by the Thanksgiving visit of his annoying "identical" twin sister in this comedy.

Netflix is making a series based on the "Lemony Snicket" books. I was in a "Lemony Snicket" movie they made back in 2004. I was a person of indeterminate gender. I can't remember who I played in the movie, but I was a person of indeterminate gender.

Now that the midterm elections are over, President Obama has invited congressional leaders from both parties to a meeting at the White House tomorrow. When asked if he's nervous, Obama said, "Oh, I'm not going to be there. I just invited them over. They can figure it out themselves."

What a day. It's 53 and gloomy - like President Obama.

I was backstage, we hadn't even started the show, and I heard FOX News officially declare that it's too close to call this a show.

The drummer for rock band AC/DC has been charged with attempting to have two people killed by hit men. Authorities say the drummer would've done it himself, but his last hit was over 20 years ago.
