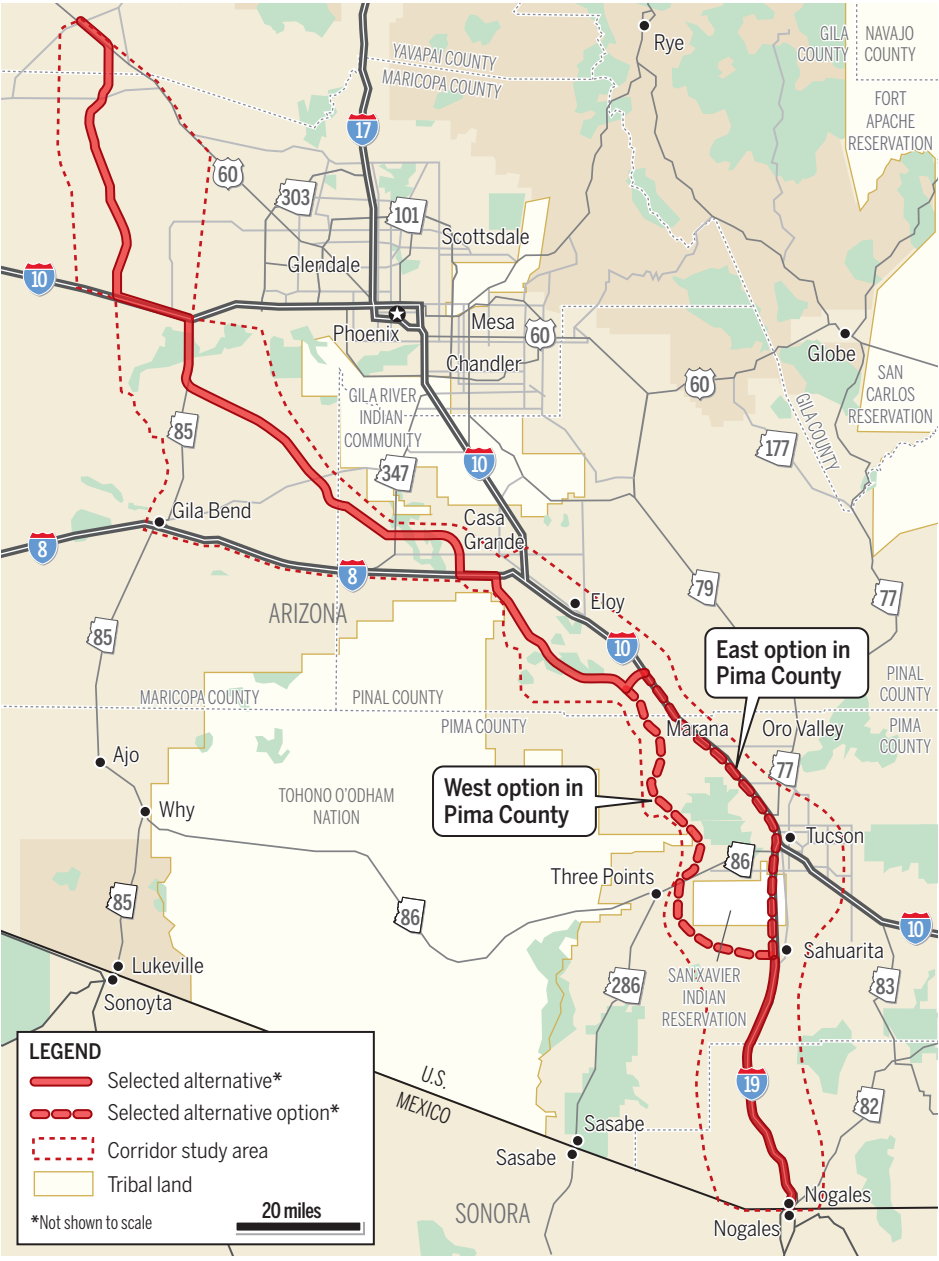
I-11 corridor legal fight

A judge should dismiss a lawsuit trying to stop development of the proposed highway project that would stretch from Nogales to Wickenburg, federal and state officials have told a judge in a new court filing. Further, the legal challenge filed by conservation groups is premature because the project is still in the early stages of development, they say.



SOURCE: Arizona Department of Transportation

ARIZONA DAILY STAR