Artwork on display at Western Carteret Library

From a scene at Central Park, to sandy dunes, a scene of serenity and a lazy afternoon, the artwork at Western Carteret Library has something for everyone to enjoy.

The artwork is presented by students of the Mixed Media Art class, instructed by David Parker.

The six-week course is offered through Carteret Community College's Corporate and Community Education Program.

Participants range from beginners to experienced artists, and work is done with diverse media such as, acrylic and oil painting, pencil and pastel drawing, and watercolors.

The class meets Thursday mornings at Western Carteret Library. The art is currently on display in the library foyer through Thursday, June 30.

Cruisin' to the Cape set for this weekend

BY BRAD RICH

NEWS-TIMES

Cruisin' to the Cape, a festival at MacDaddy's amusement facility in Cape Carteret, will kick off Friday, June 3, and continue through Saturday, June 4.

The festival will run from 4-9 p.m. on Friday and from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. on Saturday.

The event will include a giant car show, as it has for the past six years it has been sponsored by MacDaddy's, but this year, with the town as a partner, it has expanded to include amusement rides, including a Ferris wheel, plus food and drink vendors, arts and crafts and music.

The town has contributed $4,000. Funds raised beyond that are to be used for the planned Cape Carteret Trail, a bike and pedestrian path that will run along Highway 58, Taylor Notion Road and Highway 24.

The festival area generally will be between MacDaddy's and Ribeyes, a restaurant near the intersection of Highway 24 and Highway 58.

There should be plenty of parking in a grassy area so festivalgoers won't need to park in the Lowes Foods lot, which is nearby.

The town, MacDaddy's and another partner, Beasley Media, are touting the car show as the premier in Eastern North Carolina and are expecting hundreds of vehicles, old and new, of all makes and models. Lots of prizes will be awarded.

The entry fee for the car show is $20, and it will start at 9 a.m. on Saturday. It's free for spectators.

The festival is being billed as the kickoff to summer, and organizers hope at least 1,500 people will attend this year and make it a popular, annual growing event that will boost local businesses.

Other sponsors include Molly Maid, Coastal Beverage Co., Miller Beer and Pepsi.

Bands at the event will include Machine Gun, Snack Cracker, Keelhaul Down and Naked Knees. There will also be deejays and karaoke.

Another popular activity will be knockerball, in which participants run around a field in giant, clear bubbles. In addition, MacDaddy's has bowling, miniature golf, go-carts and arcade games.

For more information about the entire event, go to the "Cruisin' to the Cape" Facebook page.

Review: 'Alice Through the Looking Glass,' a curiously uninspired sequel

BY LINDSEY BAHR

ASSOCIATED PRESS

Like its 2010 predecessor "Alice in Wonderland," the new "Alice Through the Looking Glass" owes very little to Lewis Carroll.

And if you're thinking the six-year gap between films and the absence of Tim Burton as director might have allowed for a return to more of the gleeful absurdity of Mr. Carroll's originals, well they haven't.

Screenwriter Linda Woolverton ("Beauty and the Beast") again moves away from the source material in favor of something more linear — a story about Alice (Mia Wasikowska) searching for the family of the Mad Hatter (Johnny Depp).

This time, we meet Alice when she is again faced with the prospect of losing her independence. Last time, she was fleeing a marriage proposal. This time, her livelihood — as a sea captain, a good one — is in jeopardy.

So when her life in the real world turns frustrating, she steps through a mirror and is transported back to Underland, where her old friends want her to fix another problem, the Hatter.

This nightmarish character — who now has combed hair, a sicklier pallor, a grown-up wardrobe and a more pronounced lisp — is suffering from a life-threatening case of depression, which came on when he discovered an object that makes him think his family is alive.

Alice tries to be a noble friend by taking on Time to get to the bottom of what happened on the day the Red Queen (Helena Bonham Carter) unleashed her Jabberwocky on their village.

Time — who is part clock, part man and sounds a lot like Werner Herzog — is played by Sasha Baron Cohen. The sequences with him and his little steampunk companions are actually high points in the film, since they allow Bobin to get out from under Mr. Burton's suffocating precedents.

Time talks a big game, and he can determine when someone's time has elapsed. But he's dependent on a larger-than-life clock that, in turn, is powered by a time-travel machine.

So Alice steals this machine to careen into the past and attempt to correct the original sins of Underland, even after learning that her actions might trigger a catastrophe.

If all this sounds intriguing, on the screen it becomes less compelling as it goes along. While Mr. Depp descends into grating ghoulishness, the acting of the other returning characters remains much the same as before. Ms. Bonham Carter and Anne Hathaway (the White Queen) do more of their scenery-chewing shticks. And the Underland creatures look increasingly dated, because Mr. Burton's CGI renderings from six years ago have been reused.

Some of the visuals are truly inspired, however, including a landscape of glimmering pocket watches suspended in air. But many of the set pieces are overly elaborate, including the one where Alice must walk across the enormous hands of a ticking clock to get inside Time's headquarters.

Excitement and wonder are tough to conjure when the Mad Hatter is consumed with daddy issues but nonchalant about everything else, and when scientific explanations for the oddities of Underland suggest things here were once boringly ordinary.

That's a shame, since the Alice stories could be so wonderful on the big screen. Maybe it's time for Disney to scrap all this and start again.

"Alice Through the Looking Glass" is rated PG for fantasy action and peril and some language. One and a half stars out of four.

ROASTED LEMON-GARLIC CHICKEN

Prep Time: 20 minutes

Cook Time: 1 hour 40 minutes

Yield: 4 servings

Chicken:

Crisco Olive Oil No-Stick Cooking Spray

1 tablespoon Crisco Pure Olive Oil or Crisco Light Tasting Olive Oil

½ teaspoon oregano

1 teaspoon minced garlic

1 (4 to 5 pound) whole chicken, rinsed with neck and giblets removed

Salt and pepper

GRAVY

½ cup cold water

¼ cup milk

1 (0.87 to 1.2 ounces) package chicken gravy mix

½ teaspoon oregano

1 teaspoon minced garlic

1½ teaspoons fresh lemon juice

Heat oven to 400 degrees. Spray a shallow roasting pan with rack with no-stick cooking spray.

Mix oil, oregano and garlic. Brush mixture over entire chicken. Season chicken liberally with salt and pepper. Place in prepared pan, breast side down; let stand 30 minutes. Turn chicken breast side up.

Roast 65 to 70 minutes, basting occasionally. Chicken is done when meat thermometer registers 170 degrees or when juices run clear when thickest part of thigh is pricked. Transfer chicken to carving board; tent with aluminum foil. Allow to rest 10 minutes.

Skim grease from the pan drippings. Place ¼ cup skimmed pan drippings into small saucepan. Add water, milk, gravy mix, oregano, garlic and lemon juice to pan. Cook, stirring constantly until gravy thickens.

Carve chicken. Place on serving platter. Serve with warm lemon-garlic gravy.

LAVENDER OLIVE OIL CAKE WITH HONEYED RICOTTA

Prep Time: 20 minutes

Cook Time: 55 minutes

Yield: 8 to 10 servings

Pillsbury Baking Spray with Flour

1¾ cups Pillsbury BEST All Purpose Flour

1½ teaspoons baking powder

½ teaspoon kosher salt

1 cup sugar

1 tablespoon finely grated orange peel

1 tablespoon culinary lavender, crushed, plus additional 1 to 2 tablespoons for garnish

¼ teaspoon freshly ground black pepper

2/3 cup plain yogurt

3 large eggs

2/3 cup Crisco Pure Olive Oil

1 teaspoon vanilla extract

¾ cup heavy cream

3 tablespoons honey

¾ cup ricotta cheese, at room temperature

Heat oven to 350 degrees. Spray a 9-by-5-inch loaf pan generously with baking spray; set aside.

Combine flour, baking powder and salt in a small bowl. Whisk together sugar, orange peel, lavender and pepper in a large mixing bowl until evenly distributed. Add yogurt, eggs and olive oil; continue whisking until smooth. Whisk in vanilla. Add flour mixture and gently whisk in until just combined. Scrape batter into prepared pan.

Bake 55 minutes or until a toothpick inserted in center comes out clean. Cool in pan 5 minutes; remove from pan and cool completely.

Whip cream with an electric mixer until soft peaks form. Add honey and continue to whip until stiff. Add ricotta cheese, a dollop at a time, and beat until fluffy. Slice cake. Top slices with honeyed ricotta and sprinkle with lavender.

MEDITERRANEAN LINGUINE WITH BASIL AND TOMATOES

Prep Time: 10 minutes

Cook Time: 15 minutes

Yield: 8 servings

1 1-pound box linguine pasta

1 tablespoon salt, or to taste

½ cup Crisco 100 percent Extra Virgin Olive Oil

2 pints grape tomatoes (4 cups), cut in half

1 tablespoon minced garlic

2 tablespoons red wine vinegar

1 teaspoon crushed red pepper flakes

Salt and pepper to taste

18 to 20 basil leaves, cut in thin strips

¾ cup grated Parmesan cheese, plus additional for garnish

Heat 6 quarts water to boiling. Add pasta and salt. Cook for the minimum recommended time on package directions. While pasta cooks, prepare sauce.

Heat olive oil in large skillet on medium heat. Add tomatoes and garlic. Cook and stir 2 minutes or until tomatoes are soft. Remove from heat. Stir in vinegar and pepper flakes.

Drain cooked pasta. Add to skillet. Cook and stir 1 minute or until pasta is coated and hot. Remove from heat. Season with salt and pepper. Stir in basil and cheese. Serve with additional cheese, if desired.

Atlantic Beach will present the annual Movies at the Circle summer movie series starting Wednesday, June 8. Family-friendly movies like "Inside Out," shown here, will play through Wednesday, Aug. 10. The movies all begin at dusk and are free to attend. (AP photo)

Lineup announced for summer movie series

The popular summer event, Movies at the Circle are set to begin.

This year, movies are held on various Wednesdays throughout the summer and start roughly around 8:30 p.m. at the Atlantic Beach circle.

Movies are free and open to the public.

The lineup is:

- June 8: "Planes." In this film, a crop dusting plane with a fear of heights dreams of competing in an around-the-world race.
- June 15: "Field of Dreams." During this classic film, a farmer, who is hearing voices in his head, builds a baseball diamond in his fields.
- June 22: "Honey I Shrunk the Kids." In this family-friendly film, a scientist father shrinks his daughter and her friends to the size of insects.

- June 29: "The Wizard of Oz." This movie, inspired by the classic Frank L. Baum novel, tells the story of Dorothy Gale's adventures in the magical land of Oz.
- July 6: "The Goonies." In order to save their home from foreclosure, a group of misfits set out to find a pirate treasure.

• July 6: "Jaws." In this classic horror film, a great white shark terrorizes a small island community.

• July 13: "Soul Surfer." This movie is inspired by a true story. Surfer Bethany Hamilton loses her arm after a shark attack, learns to overcome her fears and returns to the water.

• July 20: "Frozen." In this fan favorite, Queen Elsa accidentally uses her powers to turn things to ice to curse her home in an indefinite winter. Her sister, Anna, teams up with a mountain man, his reindeer and a snowman to save the day.

• July 27: "Up." When told he has to move to a retirement home, Carl Fredrickson sets out to Paradise Falls in his home equipped with balloons, unknowingly bringing along a stowaway.

• Aug. 3: "Inside Out." After a young girl moves across the country with her parents, her emotions conflict how to navigate her new life.

• Aug. 10: "Zootopia." In a city of animals, a rookie bunny cop and a con artist fox must work together to uncover a conspiracy.

SUDOKU

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

One-day exhibit to come to Tryon

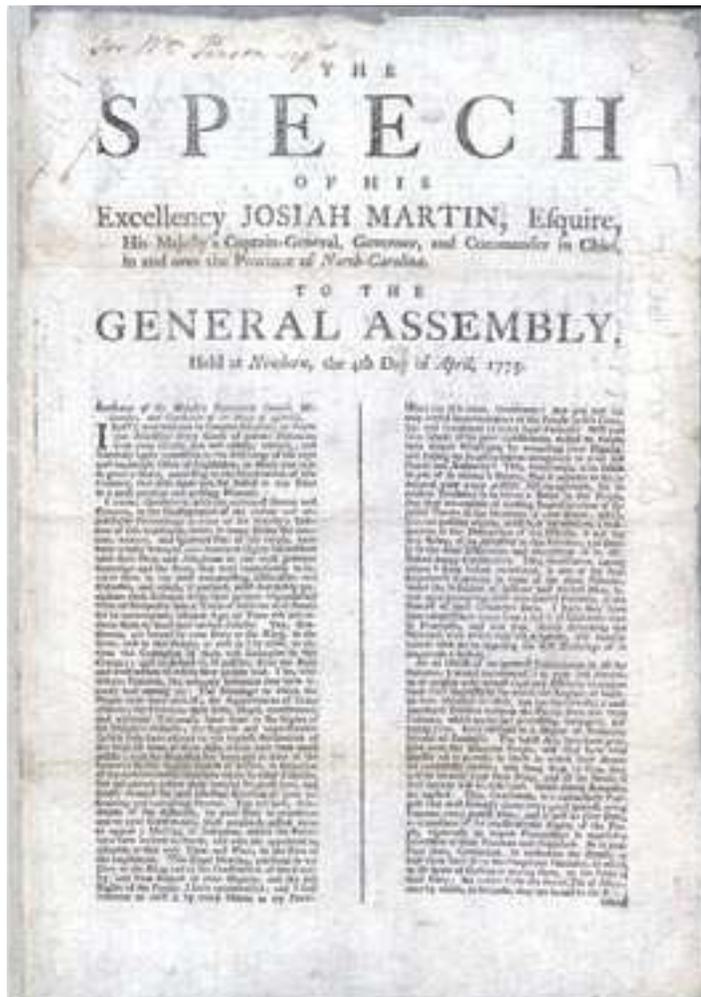

A collection of documents on revolutionary politics in North Carolina will be on display in Mattocks Hall inside the North Carolina History Center, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday, June 4.

The collection of documents is on loan from the State Archives of North Carolina.

One of the documents on display is a speech royal governor Josiah Martin gave to the N.C. General Assembly in April 1775. Gov. Martin, who lived at

Federation seeks volunteers for wetland planting

On Sunday, June 5, the N.C. Coastal Federation will be working with volunteers to plant a newly restored salt marsh and infiltration area in front of the Cape Carteret Baptist and Presbyterian churches in Cape Carteret.

The planting will complete a wetland restoration project that was designed to slow, capture and filter polluted storm water runoff from neighboring development, including Highway 24 and surrounding shopping centers, before it has a chance to enter Deer Creek and Bogue Sound.

The project presentation and planting will begin at 12:30 p.m.

The previously existing ponds have been transformed into a salt marsh and an infiltration wetland to help improve the water quality of Deer Creek.

The project highlights a partnership between the N.C. Coastal Federation, the town of Cape Carteret, Cape Carteret Baptist Church and Cape Carteret Presbyterian Church.

The wetland restoration was designed by Kris Bass Engineering and constructed by Backwater Environmental Inc. with assistance from Thomas Simpson Construction. The West Carteret Water Corporation also assisted with the project.

Volunteers, as well as those who are interested in learning more about the project but are unable to participate in the planting, should register at www.nccoast.org.

Volunteers should wear closed toe shoes, and clothes that can get wet and muddy.

Old Homes Tour weekend starts with Kickoff Party

The Beaufort Old Homes & Gardens Tour and Antique Show & Sale weekend will be ushered in with great food, fun and art at the annual Kickoff Party.

The party is from 5:30-7:30 p.m. Saturday, June 4, at the Beaufort Historic Site and will be held in conjunction with the art opening for Bunny Matthews, this year's Old Homes & Gardens Tour featured artist.

Ms. Matthews' artwork will be showcased on all the publicity for the Old Homes & Gardens Tour and Antique Show & Sale weekend and will remain in the Mattie King Gallery from June to July.

Her love of nature combined with her childhood spent on the coast make her the perfect choice as the showcased artist for the event.

Ms. Matthews majored in art at Rollins College in Winter Park, Fla., and served on the board of Arts Together.

She taught art privately and in public schools for 25 years while raising her family. A childhood spent sailing, shelling and fishing at the Outer Banks reflects in her work, as well as a passion for nature and family.

Ms. Matthews uses oil, acrylic, watercolor and pen and ink to tell stories with each piece. Her work is represented in both corporate collections and private homes throughout the United States, England and Australia.

Her paintings include portraits, houses, animals and landscapes.

The Kickoff Party is held each year as a way to thank the homeowners who open their homes and gardens and make the tour possible.

Kickoff Party guests will be treated to recipes from the Beaufort Cooks cookbook series full of recipes from local residents.

These include Beaufort Cooks featuring recipes from local inns, beds and breakfasts and restaurants, Men Who Cook, Volume 2, a compilation of dishes from the men of Beaufort, and Beaufort

Parties, Volume 3.

The newest volume will feature recipes for entertaining at parties that are unique to Beaufort, such as porch parties, creek cruising parties and cookouts at the Rachel Carson Reserve.

Local residents and chefs who entertain with Southern hospitality using the bounty of ingredients from local farms and waterways have contributed to this latest book, which guests will be sure to appreciate.

In addition to all the food, several bartenders from area restaurants, as well as local "celebrity" bartenders will be showcasing their drink recipes from the Beaufort Parties cookbook.

The dates of the Old Homes Tour are Friday-Saturday, June 24-25, and the Antique Show & Sale will be held Friday-Sunday, June 24-26.

Tickets to the event are $30 and can be purchased by calling 252-728-5225 or online at www.beauforthistoricsite.org.

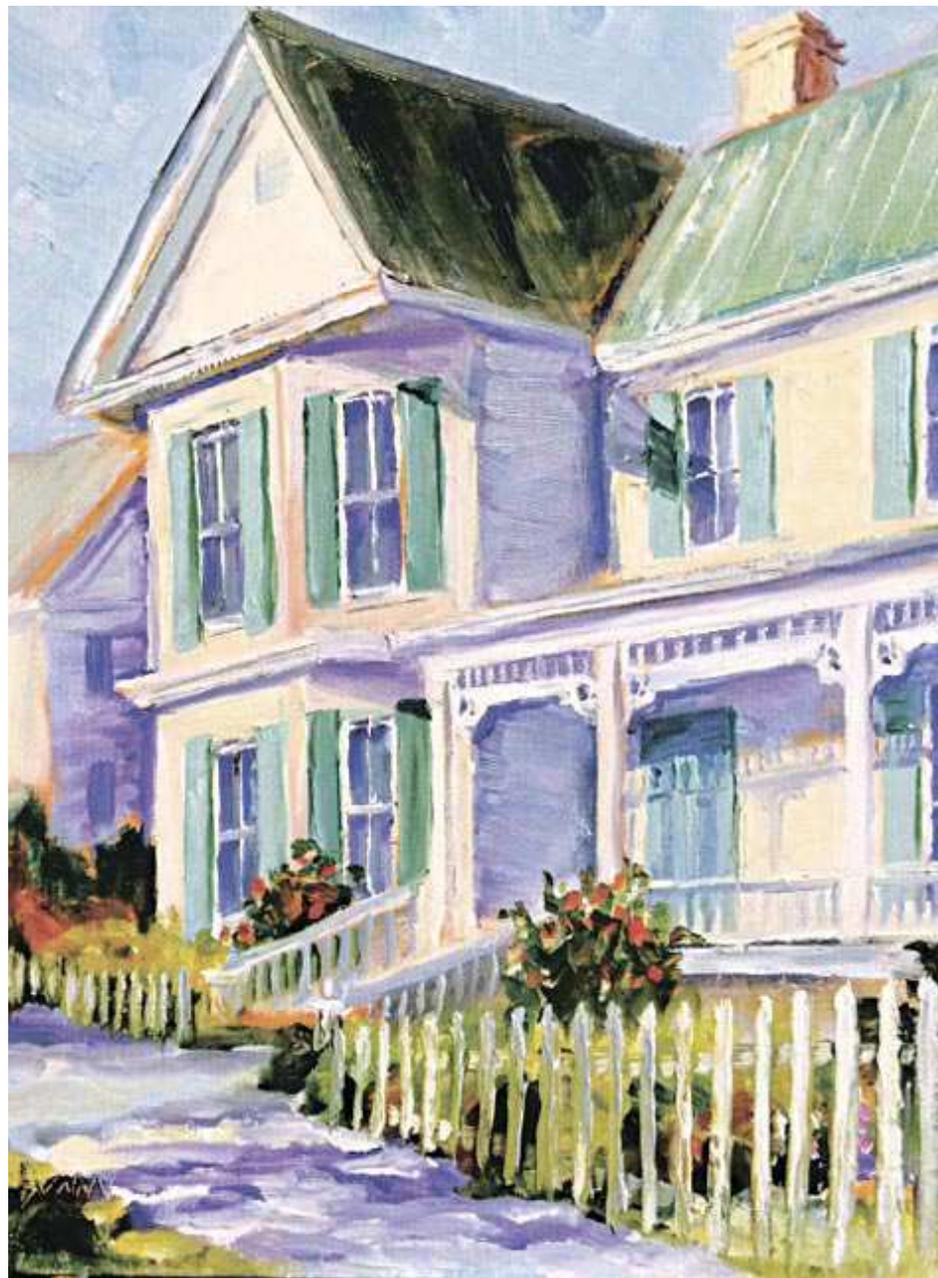

Combination tickets for the Kickoff Party, the Old Homes & Gardens Tour and the Antiques Show & Sale are also available at discounted prices.

Combination tickets for the Old Homes Tour, the Antique Show & Sale and the Kickoff Party are $45.

Tickets for the tour are $24 in advance and $25 the days of the event. Tickets for the Antique Show & Sale are $8, and are good for all three days of the show.

Funds raised from the event go directly to help the Beaufort Historic Site with ongoing educational programs, as well as the maintenance needs of the 14 buildings on the Historic Site grounds.

For more information on the Kickoff Party or the 56th annual Old Homes & Gardens Tour and Antiques Show & Sale, contact the Beaufort Historical Association at 252-728-5225, stop by the Beaufort Historic Site at 130 Turner St. or visit www.beauforthistoricsite.org.

Bunny Matthews is the Old Homes & Gardens Tour featured artist. Her work, like this painting, will be featured during the tour's official Kickoff Party, which is from 5:30-7:30 p.m. Saturday, June 4, at the Beaufort Historic Site. (Bunny Matthews art)

Tryon Palace until May 1775, was attempting to convince the general assembly not to take part in any Colonial resistance to British economic and political policies.

Another document is a letter from Continental Congress delegates of North Carolina, dated Aug. 7, 1776, requesting a delivery of gunpowder to the residents of Western North Carolina to fight Native Americans in the area.

Archivists from the State Archives of North Carolina will also be on hand to talk with visitors about these documents on display during this special one-day exhibit.
