Beaufort Cooks party to kick off 55th Old Homes Tour and Antique Show

3 • this week

5/28/15 - 6/3/15

Look for great food, fun and art at the annual kickoff party that ushers in the Beaufort Old Homes Tour and Antiques Show weekend.

This year's kickoff event for the 55th annual tour – one of the Top 20 events in the Southeast for June – is called “Beaufort Cooks, Fresh from the Market” featuring recipes from the “Beaufort Cooks” cookbook series. It's set from 4:30 to 6:30 p.m. Saturday, June 6, at the Beaufort Historic Site.

At the same time, kickoff guests can head over to the Mattie King Davis Art Gallery for the art opening for Claiborne Duncan Gregory Jr., the featured artist for this year's tour.

Tickets are $30 for the kickoff party, and the art gallery is free for viewing.

Kickoff party guests will be treated to recipes from the Beaufort Cooks cookbook series using local ingredients fresh from the Olde Beaufort Farmers' Market, which opens each Saturday on the courthouse grounds.

Recipes in Beaufort Cooks are from local inns, bed and breakfasts and restaurants. Men Who Cook, Volume 2, is a compilation of dishes from the men of Beaufort.

The newest volume, Beaufort Parties, Volume 3, will feature recipes for entertaining at parties that are unique to Beaufort, such as porch parties, creek cruising parties and cookouts at the Rachel Carson Nature Reserve.

Local residents and chefs who entertain with Southern hospitality using the bounty of ingredients from local farms and waterways have made contributed to this latest book, which guests will be sure to appreciate. The BHA offers these books for $10 each.

This special kickoff event is held each year as a way to thank the homeowners who open their homes and gardens to make the tour possible.

After enjoying the recipes, kickoff party participants can check out Mr. Gregory's art. His love of Beaufort combined with his talent and choice of subject matter make him a good choice as the showcased artist for the event, according to the BHA.

Mr. Gregory is noted for his landscape, marine and animal subjects. He works principally in oils. His historical paintings evoke the time and place of the subject, placing the observer solidly in the past.

Beaufort's rich maritime history not only provides Mr. Gregory with lots of subject matter to paint, but it also connects him to his own past as a

• 4 Three ways given to personalize party treats

this week

5/28/15 - 6/3/15

From “just-because” gatherings to birthday blowouts and major holidays, you’ll have everything you need to personalize your party with these quick party tricks.

Decorate with color

Color adds a pop of personality to any party. Kick it up a notch with a customized color palette that matches your unique party theme. Use the new Wilton Color Right Color System to take the guesswork out of coloring icing, fondant, cake batter and other treats. You can easily mix the colors you need to coordinate sweet treats to match your party decor.

Unlike traditional food coloring, the Wilton Color Right performance color system includes eight bottles of ultra-concentrated base color and precise QuickCount color formulas to make mixing and matching color a piece of cake.

QuickCount color formulas show you drop by drop how to whip up precise shades of color to match unique party decor, logos and themed character cakes. Plus, new color formulas are added to www.Wilton.com and you can create custom colors.

Another impressive, yet easy, decorating trick is a three-color icing swirl, which is easy to achieve using the new Color Swirl Tri-Color Coupler. It’s quick, easy and looks professional.

Bake with flavor

Just like color, you can mix and match flavor to bake delicious flavor-infused treats. The Wilton Treatology Flavor System makes it easy to infuse treats with unexpected yet perfectly paired flavors, like these Fruity Cereal Pinwheel Cookies.

Follow easy drop-by-drop QuickCount flavor recipes to make unique flavor-infused desserts, like Horchata Cupcakes and Coconut Creme Brulee Cookies and 30 more unique recipes. Use individual flavor concentrates such as Champagne, Sweet Meyer Lemon, Fresh Basil, Warm Cinnamon Graham, Juicy Peach, Salted Caramel, Creamy Vanilla Custard and Toasted Coconut to infuse icing, filling and cake batter with unique tastes, or combine them to create your own unique flavor combinations.

Display your way

Now that your treats are personalized for the party, it’s time to show them off. The Display Your Way Cupcake Stand is fit for any occasion. The fillable core is perfect for incorporating fun party details like ribbon, candy and even matching napkins. The adjustable treat tower serves five to 25 cupcakes, so you can display the perfect number of treats for your guests.

Similarly, the Display Your Way cake stand has a customizable center compartment that makes it fun and easy to match your party from top to bottom. Fill the center compartment with unique details like graduation tassels, photographs or other unique party elements. Use the clear side sleeve to fit a ribbon or craft paper around the side.

From graduations, birthdays and anniversaries to major holidays and other celebrations, each occasion calls for something special. With these handy party tips and tools, you’ll always be prepared, making it easier than ever to personalize your party.

Find more party-worthy recipes and decorating tricks at www.Wilton.com.

Simple swirls

For an easy way to make impressive cupcakes topped with a two- or three-color swirl, there’s a new tool to help make less mess and create more consistent results.

Wilton’s Color Swirl Tri-Color Coupler joins two or three decorating bags using flat-sided coupler pieces that connect, creating a flush seam with a snug fit, allowing you to use up to three colors to create cleaner, more defined multi-color icing swirls.

To learn how to add this sweet and colorful concept to your next party, visit the Wilton Blog at www.wilton.com/blog.

Fruity cereal pinwheel cookies

Makes about 3 ½ dozen cookies.

3 cups all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon salt

½ teaspoon baking powder
1 cup (2 sticks) butter, softened
1 cup granulated sugar
1 egg
¾ teaspoon Wilton Treatology Sweet Meyer Lemon Flavor Concentrate
1 drop Wilton Pink Color Right Performance Color
¼ teaspoon Wilton Treatology Fresh Basil Flavor Concentrate
1 drop Wilton Blue Color Right Performance Color
4 drops Wilton Yellow Color Right Performance Color
In large bowl, stir together flour, salt and baking powder.
In separate large bowl, beat butter and sugar with electric mixer until light and fluffy, about 2 minutes. Add egg; beat well. Add flour mixture and beat on low until just combined.

Divide dough in half. Return half of dough to mixing bowl. Beat in Sweet Meyer Lemon Flavor and Pink Color Right Color. Return remaining half of dough to clean mixing bowl; beat in Fresh Basil Flavor and Blue and Yellow Color Right Colors.

On parchment paper, roll dough into two 14-by-12-inch rectangles, about 1/8-inch thick. Lightly brush basil dough with water. Place lemon dough onto basil dough; peel away parchment. Gently roll dough with rolling pin and trim uneven edges with sharp knife. Using parchment, roll dough into very tight log. Wrap in plastic wrap and refrigerate 3 hours or overnight.

Heat oven to 350°F.
Slice logs into 1/4-inch slices. Space two inches apart on parchment-lined cookie sheet.

Bake 14-16 minutes, or until edges of cookies are dry. Cool on pan 5 minutes on cooling grid. Remove from pan; cool completely on grid.

Note: You can vary food colors in dough for different cookie color combinations.

Review: Blythe Danner plays a 70-something widow open to romance in ‘I’ll See You in My Dreams’

BY LINDSEY BAHR
ASSOCIATED PRESS

Loneliness is hard to capture on film. An audience can be told about it and shown snippets of it, but the highs and lows of filmed melodrama seldom truly reflect a condition that far too many people know all too well.

“I’ll See You in My Dreams” – a light comedy/drama about a widow figuring out what to do with her time turns out to be an elegant, funny and engaging portrait of a woman reluctantly re-entering the dating world in her 70s.

Initially Carol (Blythe Danner), the protagonist, lives a contented life alone. She’s been a widowed for nearly 20 years, but has just lost another companion – her dog.

She plays cards with sassy friends (June Squibb, Rhea Perlman and Mary Kay Place), but for the most part is alone in her expansive, beige Los Angeles home.

She gardens, watches television and drinks white wine to pass the time. By allowing the audience to experience vicariously the ordinariness of Carol’s life, we can empathize with her solitude.

For years, Carol had never seriously considered dating and remarriage, though her friends remind her it’s not for lack of interest on the part of others. But after the loss of her dog, Carol is jolted out of her malaise by Lloyd (Martin Starr), the 30-something man who arrives to clean her pool.

When she asks if he thought she was dead, he replies, “You don’t look that old.” The charm of their meeting and their burgeoning friendship hint at new possibilities for Carol.

While she’s shopping in the vitamin aisle at a grocery store, a handsome stranger (Sam Elliott) walks up to Carol with a cigar dangling from his mouth. “You don’t need all that – you’re just right the way you are,” he tells her.

It’s the kind of flirting that helps persuade Carol it’s time to consider love again. She samples speed dating, has cackling heart-to-hearts talks with her friends and sings karaoke in a hip Los Angeles dive bar with Lloyd.

Much of the delight of “I’ll See You In My Dreams” comes from the details – like the one when Bill (Elliott) asks her to lunch as she walks by his car in the middle of a parking lot. The driver waiting in the car behind him is poised to honk if the conversation doesn’t end quickly. After a bit of banter, Bill asks for Carol’s phone number. “I’ll remember it,” he promises.

Writer-director Brett Haley hasn’t done anything revolutionary with this refined, sweet film, but the world he creates feels authentic and comfortably lived in.

Wesley to perform ‘Hooked Up’

BY MELISSA JONES
NEWS-TIMES

The Big Rock Blue Marlin Tournament recently announced its official song, “Hooked Up,” by country musician James Wesley who will perform the song during a free concert Saturday, May 30, at Big Rock Landing, 710 Evans St., Morehead City.

The concert time will be announced later on the tournament Facebook page.

Big Rock’s major sponsor, Calcutta, recently partnered with the Broken Bow recording artist to produce the single “Hooked Up” and its accompanying music video.

The video will be featured at select sites during tournament events held from Friday, June 5 through Saturday, June 13, as well as at the official tournament weigh station during Saturday’s performance.

“Hooked Up” tells a story of anglers chasing blue marlin, through the eyes of the marlin, during the tournament hosted in the legendary fishing spot off the coast of Morehead City. For Mr. Wesley, who is an avid fisherman, the song was a perfect fit.

The song is available for download on iTunes and offered at www.thebigrock.com and www.calcuttafishing.com where listeners can hear lyrics that cleverly detail what a blue marlin might be thinking while tournament anglers are in pursuit, all an effort to get fans pumped for the 57th annual event.

A portion of the song downloads will benefit Big Rock

JAMES WESLEY

Blue Marlin Tournament charities and the American Sport Fishing Association’s Keep America Fishing Foundation.

“When I’m not busy touring, I enjoy being outdoors and spending time fishing with my family,” Mr. Wesley said.

“I’ve never actually landed a blue marlin at the Big Rock, but it is a longtime dream of mine. And when I do, you can bet I’ll be wearing Calcutta.”

“Partnering with James Wesley and ‘Hooked Up’ is a perfect fit for Calcutta,” said Dave Martin, division president of Fishing/Camping/Marine at Big Rock Sports, the company behind the popular tournament.

“In addition to being the major sponsor of the Big Rock Blue Marlin Tournament, Calcutta is the premier brand for the coastal lifestyle,” he added.

Additional upcoming Big Rock Blue Marlin Tournament events open to the public include:

- 6-9 p.m. Friday, June 5, 18th annual Keli Wagner Big Rock Lady Angler Event held at the Crystal Coast Civic Center, Morehead City.

The event will include a best-dressed contest, heavy hors d’oeuvres, beer and open bar, with entertainment by Beaufort Blues Project. Catering will be provided by local favorite, Fat Fellas BBQ & Grille of Newport. Tickets are $25 and available in advance at the tournament headquarters or at the door. Proceeds will benefit Carteret General Hospital’s Cancer Center.

- 7-11 p.m. Saturday, June 6, Captain’s Party at Crystal Coast Civic Center, Morehead City. Tickets cost $65 and will feature entertainment by Right On.
- 6-9 p.m. Sunday, June 7, Pig Pickin,’ at The Boathouse

Second Aim for the Cure melanoma event set for May 30

BY ANNA HARVEY
NEWS-TIMES

The second Aim for the Cure Melanoma 5K event will be held Saturday, May 30, in Cape Carteret and organizers are hoping to raise even more research money and awareness about skin cancer than last year.

Nicolle Johnson, a melanoma survivor who started the area event, said the first year the fun run and walk in Cape Carteret raised over $8,000 for melanoma research.

Each participant is encouraged to raise at least $50 for melanoma awareness and research.

The walk starts at the Cape Carteret Aquatic and Wellness Center, 300 Taylor Notion Road. Registration starts at 8 a.m., and Mayor Dave Fowler will host the opening ceremony at 9 a.m. in recognition of those who have had melanoma.

Ms. Johnson was pregnant with her second child in 2010 when she noticed a new mole on the back of her left leg. She said although “it didn’t look crazy, big or black, it was new.”

At the time, she was just two weeks away from her son’s scheduled birth date.

“With much personal concern, I showed the mole to many loved ones,” she said. “My husband, my mom, my primary M.D. and my OB/GYN,” referring to her doctor and obstetrics and gynecology physician. “The pencil-sized mole continued to press on my mind.”

Runners participate in the first melanoma walk in 2014. This year’s walk will be held on Saturday, May 30. (Contributed photo)

With a week left until her son’s birth, she decided to find a dermatologist and called numerous facilities hoping for an immediate opening. She was finally able to reach Dr.

Naomi Simon, a dermatologist in Mooresville, who was able to see her the very next day on July 9, 2010.

She diagnosed the mole as benign. A few days later when Ms. Johnson was in labor, Dr. Simon called her and told her the mole was confirmed melanoma.

Soon after, Ms. Johnson gave birth to her son and was discharged early from the hospital to meet the oncologist for her cancer treatment plan. Over the next week she underwent lymph node mapping and two cancer surgeries.

She was left with a 10-inch scar on her left leg, and other sizable scars where lymph nodes were taken out and a skin graft was taken.

She currently has no evidence of the disease and has full body scans every six months with her dermatologist.

“This is my story and why I am so passionate about melanoma awareness, and why I am so thankful to spend another day with my two children and to spread skin protection awareness,” she said.

Although Mrs. Johnson was impressed with the amount of money raised through last year’s event, she believes there is more to the day than fundraising.

“To me, it’s more about raising melanoma awareness and that’s why the event is free,” she said in reference to the free skin screenings that will be available through the Dermatology Associates of Coastal Carolina, which will send two dermatologists for skin screenings from 8 a.m. to noon this year.

She said she holds the awareness event in May, because it is recognized as Melanoma and Skin Cancer Awareness Month.

There will be a number of other draws to the morning event, including music by Now and Then from 9-11 a.m., a raffle and silent auction with items from local businesses, free blood pressure checks and free children safety and finger printing from Woodman of the World.

There will also be a bounce house for children, free swimming for participants at the aquatic center and the opportunity to throw slime on a participant or walk organizer.

Those who wish to contribute to the event but cannot complete the fun 5K can eat at Quiznos sub sandwich restaurant in Cape Carteret, where 10 percent of sales that day will be donated to the cause.

For more information, visit capecarteret2015.aimatmelanoma.org or email Ms. Johnson at Nicolle.Johnson@hotmail.com.

“Lights, Camera, CURE” Relay for Life event this weekend

BY ANNA HARVEY
NEWS-TIMES

Alison Styron will be among the hundreds of people at Relay for Life later this week at West Carteret High School, aiming to find a cure for cancer, support those who have fought the deadly battle and raise awareness and funds.

“I relay to honor those we have lost and those who continue to fight – and to find a cure,” said Ms. Styron. “I have had the pleasure of meeting cancer survivors, but I have also experienced children saying goodbye to parents way too soon.”

This year’s theme for the event Friday and Saturday is “Lights, Camera, CURE,” and participants are encouraged to dress like a celebrity or movie character. Various events and themed laps throughout the night will support the theme, including “Broadway Baby” and the “Purple Carpet.”

As of presstime, 320 participants in 23 teams had raised $41,306 toward the cause.

Last year the area event raised at least $82,000 for the American Cancer Society. This money goes toward cancer research and provides funds to help support the cancer patients and their support system as they sometimes spend weeks or months away from home receiving treatment.

This will be Ms. Styron’s second year participating in Relay for Life of Carteret County, but she is in the top three individual fundraisers and is passionate about the cause. She has lost a grandfather, great-grandfather, an uncle and friends to cancer.

“The American Cancer Society and its continued effort to find a cure is definitely a worthy cause and by participating in the Relay for Life you are supporting that effort,” she said. “Relay for Life allows people to come together from all backgrounds and diverse experiences. Everyone has a story and the relay can be a part of the healing process or a joyful symbol of survival.”

She formed the Crystal Coast Cure Warriors team last year and will be joined by family and friends as they take turns circling the track at West Carteret for the all night event.

She described her first Relay last year as a truly moving experience.

“Watching the survivors lap was absolutely touching and it was wonderful to be able to cheer them on,” she said. “In addition, the luminary ceremony with the honor (and) memorial slide show was incredibly beautiful.”

The opening ceremony will be held at 6 p.m. Friday, May 29, immediately followed by the survivor’s lap, where those who have defeated cancer – some of them, numerous times – will take a victory march around the track as the other participants cheer them along.

The 18-hour event aims to bring a community together in support of those who have fought cancer. It helps raise awareness and money for the cause, while providing a fun, interactive way to make a difference.

The biggest fundraiser for the Crystal Coast Cure

Warriors both last year and this year was their “Core Sound Cancer Crawl,” an extended run through Down East. Last year, Ms. Styron ran 32 miles from Beaufort to Cedar Island alongside family and friends who joined at various points along the way.

This year, they ran 28 miles from Harkers Island to Davis.

Carteret writers honors area authors who took awards in competition

North Carolina writers and their friends met in Morehead City on Tuesday, May 12, to hear the results of Carteret Writers' 24th annual writing contest. As expected, the majority of entries came from North Carolina writers. Eight authors from Carteret County and two from Onslow County took home awards.

Carteret County first-place winners were Michael Moore of Morehead City in poetry for "Waiting" and Krisan Murphy of Ocean in children's literature for "Honest Andy." Third-place awards went to two Morehead City authors, Kasey Ballou in poetry for "The Mindless Fog Unseen" and Diane Lambright Berry in children's literature for "Trapped in a Closet."

Honorable mentions in fiction were awarded to Janet Hartman of Beaufort for "Paul and Miriam" and Steve Peters of Cape Carteret for chapter one of "The Return of Sandra Love." Emerald Isle resident Elton Matheson received honorable mention in flash fiction for "The Chainsaw Incident." Carolyn Cockrell of Cape Carteret took honorable mention in poetry for "Naked and Bare."

From Onslow County, Deborah Doolittle of Jacksonville captured third place in fiction with "Madison Avenue" and honorable mention in flash fiction for "To Boldly Dream." Carol Hartsoe of Hubert won an honorable mention in nonfiction with "Hog Killings and Chicken Murders."

Listed in order of first through third place plus honorable mention in each category, the winners were:

Poetry: Michael Moore, Morehead City; Katherine Wolfe, Goldsboro; Kasey Ballou, Morehead City, Evie Chang Henderson, Oriental; Carolyn Cockrell, Cape Carteret.

Flash Fiction: Tara Kipnees, South Orange, N.J.; Rebecca Duncan, Trent Woods; Ingrid Jendrzejewski, Vincennes, Ind.; Elton Matheson, Emerald Isle; and Deborah Doolittle, Jacksonville.

Nonfiction: Britney Taylor, New Bern; Michael Hassler, Garner; Paul Fein, Agawam, Mass.; Britney Taylor, New Bern; Carol Hartsoe, Hubert.

Children's Literature: Krisan Murphy, Ocean; Dana Young, Anthony, Kan.; Diane Lambright Berry, Morehead City; Nancy Pocklington, New Bern.

Fiction: Tom Lewis, New Bern (first and second); Deborah Doolittle, Jacksonville; Janet Hartman, Beaufort; Steve Peters, Cape Carteret.

First-place winners each received $100. Second and third place winners received $50 and $25 respectively. All winners and honorable mentions also received certificates. Manuscripts that placed in the contest will be published in Carteret Writers' 2014 literary journal, Shoal.

Dona Anastasi-Styron judged

the Children's Literature category. She holds a master's in reading curriculum and instruction for grades kindergarten through 12, taught creative writing and senior English and worked for Pearson Publishing Company. She is also the past president of the Crystal Coast Reading Council and a retired reading specialist. At the N.C. Reading Association, Ms. Anastasi-Styron served as area director and chairperson of their Young Author Project.

Poetry judge Michael White has won numerous awards for his poetry. He has authored four collections of poetry and a memoir, Travels in Vermeer, and has published widely in respected periodicals, including The Paris Review, The New Republic, The Kenyon Review, Ploughshares, Western Humanities Review, and the Best American Poetry. Mr. White teaches poetry and is presently chair of the Creative Writing department at UNC-Wilmington.

Jim Dautremont, the fiction judge, has a versatile background that includes a law degree and advanced degrees in engineering. As a professor of writing at East Carolina University, he counseled students to view each project as an opportunity to create a work of art.

Nonfiction judge Susan Ketchin has served as visiting assistant professor of creative writing at N.C. State University, and fiction editor at both Algonquin Books and Southern Exposure Magazine. She has taught "Religion in Fiction of the American South" and creative writing at Duke University's Center for Documentary Studies and creative nonfiction at Meredith College.

The winners in Flash Fiction were chosen by Ashley Hogan, who has taught composition and creative writing at Meredith College since 2001.

As part of her work in the department of English, Ms. Hogan is director of Focusing on Form, a summer writing workshop for women, and also teaches and directs the Meredith College Young Writers' Camp.

Founded in 1983, Carteret Writers is a nonprofit organization dedicated to cultivating camaraderie between writers and promoting the art of writing. Besides monthly meetings held on the second Tuesday of the month, smaller genre critique meetings are available to members.

Quilters' Guild announces winners in quilt show judging

"Y'all come back now, ya' hear," were the final words May 16 as Karen Zaenker, president of the Crystal Coast Quilters' Guild, announced the final awards to bring to a close the 2015 Southern Hospitality Quilt Show at the Crystal Coast Civic Center in Morehead City.

The two-day event May 15 and 16 drew a record number of 750 attendees and offered a host of artistic inspirations for everyone young and old.

A variety of styles and methods showed the viewers how each quilter becomes an artist exploring colors and textures. The quilter's palette is their "stash" of colorful fabrics and threads, and their paintbrush is their quilting stitches.

Judging for the show was done by Scott Murkin, a National Quilt Association certified quilt judge and hospice physician from North Carolina who has judged throughout the country, including at American Quilter's Society, National Quilt Association and International Quilt Association events.

Steve Bronfield of Ridgefield, Conn., was the winner of the award-winning quilt, Pineapple Sherbet, that was made by guild members and raffled off.

Cash awards were sponsored by various businesses and went to the following top entries:

BEST OF SHOW, sponsored by the Morehead City UPS Store and the Crystal Coast Quilters' Guild, was awarded to Lynn Peck-Collins, from New Bern, for her bed quilt, Christmas Medallion.

JUDGE'S CHOICE, sponsored by the Crystal Coast Quilters' Guild, went to Bonnie Sturdevant, from Emerald Isle, for her bed quilt, Beach Music.

BEST MACHINE QUILTING, sponsored by Genuinely Jules of Sneads Ferry, was awarded to Eileen Williams, from Cedar Point, for her innovative art quilt, Waiting for the Master's Hand.

BEST HAND QUILTING, sponsored by The Cartwright House Bed & Breakfast of Oriental, went to Linda Inabnit, from Macedonia, Ill., for her large wall-hanging quilt, Not

Quite a Charm.

BEST PIECING, sponsored by The Tidewater Gallery of Swansboro, went to Margaret Reiswig, of Oriental, for her large duet quilt, Mariners Compass.

BEST APPLIQUE, sponsored by The Cartwright House Bed & Breakfast of Oriental, went to Pinky Porter, from Morehead City, for her small duet quilt, Birds & Bounty.

ARTS COUNCIL OF CARTERET COUNTY MERIT AWARD FOR INNOVATIVE ART IN QUILTING, sponsored by the Arts Council of Carteret County, went to Happy Ewbank and Carol Stens, of Morehead City, for their small duet quilt, Just Because...

VIEWERS' CHOICE, sponsored by the N.C. Aquarium at Pine Knoll Shores, went to Evelene Gallardo, from Smyrna, for her large duet quilt, State Birds and Flowers.

Proceeds from this show and other events held throughout the year are used to support community charitable projects like Kids' Quilts, where guild members make quilts that are donated to Caroline's House, part of the Carteret County Domestic Violence Program, and Hero Quilts, which are made for the Naval Hospital at Camp Lejeune to be given to wounded service men and women as a token of appreciation for their sacrifice.

In addition to the cash awards, ribbons for first, second, third and honorable mention were awarded in 13 categories.

SUDOKU

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

Southern Living plants come to Tryon Palace gardens

Around 50 new shrubs, perennials and other plants from the Southern Living Plant Collection will be introduced at no cost to Tryon Palace gardens this May.

Plants from the Southern Living Plant Collection are featured at Tryon Palace and many other sites, including the National Arboretum in Washington, D.C.

Started in 2008, the Southern Living Plant Collection was designed to solve landscape challenges in Southern gardens.

This May, Tryon Palace received around 15 different varieties of Southern Living Plant Collection trees, shrubs and perennials, including the Jessica Ruffles Camellia, Empress of China Dogwood, Amistad Salvia, Joy of Living Celebration Daylily, Illumination Apricot Digiplexis and more.

Tryon Palace's Gardens staff is now busy planting most of the shrubs in the Wilderness Garden, and the perennials in areas like the Kellenberger and Dot Tyler gardens, for visitors to enjoy this season and many years to come.

For more information about the gardens at Tryon Palace, call 252-639-3500 or visit www.tryonpalace.org.

N.C. Symphony to offer free concert in Jacksonville

The N.C. Symphony will give a free outdoor concert at 7 p.m. Sunday, June 7, in Riverwalk Crossing Park in Jacksonville.

Symphony Associate Conductor David Glover will lead the orchestra in "Concerts in Your Community: Your Favorite Light Classics." In the event of inclement weather, the performance will take place at Jacksonville High School.

Concertgoers can enjoy the early summer evening accompanied by Edvard Grieg's "Suite No. 1" from "Peer Gynt, Op. 46," the overture to "The Marriage of Figaro" by Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart, Franz Liszt's "Hungarian Rhapsody," the overture to the "Barber of Seville" by Gioachino Rossini, and much more. The performance is part of the symphony's summer "Concerts in Your Community," free concerts presented throughout the state. Riverwalk Crossing Park is at 421 Court St. in Jacksonville.

Concert sponsors are Marine Federal Credit Union, Onslow Memorial Hospital, Mine Safety Appliance Co. and Onslow

County Tourism. Concert supporters are Marine Chevrolet Cadillac, Platinum Corral, Modern Exterminating Company, First Bank and Dr. and Mrs. Timothy Edwards. The media partner is the Jacksonville Daily News.

Founded in 1932, the N.C. Symphony gives more than 200 performances annually to adults and school children in more than 50 North Carolina counties. An entity of the N.C. Department of Cultural Resources, the orchestra employs 66 professional musicians, under the artistic leadership of music director and conductor Grant Llewellyn, resident conductor William Henry Curry and associate conductor David Glover.

Headquartered in downtown Raleigh's Meymandi Concert Hall at the Duke Energy Center for the Performing Arts and an outdoor summer venue at Booth Amphitheatre in Cary, the symphony performs about 60 concerts annually in the Raleigh, Durham, Chapel Hill and Cary metropolitan area. It holds regular concert series in Fayetteville,

New Bern, Southern Pines and Wilmington as well as individual concerts in many other North Carolina communities throughout the year. It conducts one of the most extensive education programs of any U.S. orchestra.

Concertgoers will be able to hear a number of classical songs including:

- Rossini's Overture to "Il barbiere di Siviglia" (The Barber of Seville)
- Grieg's "Suite No. 1" from "Peer Gynt, Op. 46"
  - I. "Morning Mood"
  - II. "Ase's Death"
  - III. "Anitra's Dance"
  - IV. "In the Hall of the Mountain King"
- Sibelius' "Valse Triste, Op. 44"
- Chabrier's "España"
- Mozart's Overture to "Le nozze di Figaro, K. 492" (The Marriage of Figaro)
- Liszt's "Hungarian Rhapsody No. 2 in C minor"
- Delius' "La Calinda" from "Koanga"
- Tchaikovsky's "Marche Slave, Op. 31"

A 2000 C5 Corvette has been donated to the Crystal Coast Hospice House to raise money for the facility. The car will be raffled off from now until October. (Contributed photo)

Donated Corvette to benefit SECU Crystal Coast Hospice House

Linwood and Trudy Parker of Parker Boats presented a mint condition 2000 Corvette to Crystal Coast Hospice House to kick off a summer-long raffle campaign.

Monies raised from ticket sales will be used to keep the state-of-the-art facility in good condition. The facility opened July 1, 2013.

"We are so excited about this campaign," said Tommy Bennett, chairman of Crystal Coast Hospice House Board of Directors.

"Besides raising awareness about the Hospice House, monies raised will help continue our mission, to provide an inpatient Hospice Home to our service region and ensure exceptional care management and perpetual funding for facilities, services, programs and future expansion," he said.

"We are grateful to everyone who is making this great effort possible," he continued.

The 2000 C5 Coupe Corvette made its public debut at the Crystal Coast Boat Show May 16-17 on the Morehead City waterfront.

The silver six-speed with red leather interior, heads up display and other options was the hit of the show.

The car is in excellent condition being it has been kept in a humidity-controlled garage.

The odometer reads 6,150 miles.

Raffle tickets cost $5 each, and the winning ticket will be drawn on Monday, Oct. 5.

"We felt it was important to set the raffle price so that anyone could have a chance at winning this American classic," said Bennette Hooper, assistant director of the CCHH.

The car will be at various locations throughout the summer and early fall.

Check CCHH's Facebook page for up-to-date times and locations to see the car and purchase tickets.

Tickets can also be purchased at www.CCHNC.org.

Located at 100 Big Rock Weigh in Newport, SECU Crystal Coast Hospice House is the only inpatient hospice facility for residents of Carteret, Craven, Onslow, Jones and Pamlico counties.

The hospice house provides a warm and supportive environment for terminally ill hospice patients who are referred to inpatient care and for their loved ones who wish to be by their side.

For information on the hospice house or the Corvette raffle, call 808-2224.

KATHLEEN R. BOYKIN, FNP-BC to Crystal Coast Family Practice

We are pleased to announce the addition of Kathleen Boykin, FNP-BC to our healthcare team, effective May 11, 2015. Kathleen is a Board Certified Family Nurse Practitioner with 17 years experience in Family Medicine. She received her Masters in Science of Nursing as well as her undergraduate degree, Bachelor in Science of Nursing, from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. She is also a Certified Diabetes Instructor. Kathleen and her husband have had a second home in Pine Knoll Shores for the last ten years, so she is already very familiar with our community.

As we welcome Kathleen to our practice family, we bid farewell to Jessica Martinez, PA-C. Jessica and family are moving out of the country due to her husband's military transfer. Our commitment to providing continuity of care for all our patients is a top priority, and we feel the addition of Kathleen enables us to continue to meet the healthcare needs of our patients. We value the trust our patients have put in us to provide them with quality healthcare and hope to continue that relationship for many years to come.

You may call for an appointment in our Morehead City office at (252) 726-8414, press 2 for scheduling. We participate with most major insurance carriers and are participating providers with Medicare and Tricare.

RELAY | FROM PAGE 9

"We incorporated an honor walking lap around Horseshoe Road in Davis and had family and friends join us. It was awesome," she said of the experience.

"My sister, Teresa, inspired me to start running two years ago and I thought this would be a great way to raise funds," she said. "Many gracious donors have supported us by pledging per mile or simply donating."

Relay for Life is open to the public to join. Anyone who wishes to contribute can donate to an existing team, form their own team or attend the event to watch and purchase food.

"In addition to honoring those affected by cancer, you can also enjoy food, fun and entertainment," said Ms. Styron. "Whether you show up and walk a lap or tough it out the whole night, it is a memorable, rewarding experience."

On Friday night, a wide variety of food will be sold including hot dogs, hamburgers, pizza, Chick-fil-A, taco salad and baked ziti.

For breakfast, there will be coffee, breakfast casseroles, pancakes, sausage, juice and other items available for purchase.

Teams will also be selling raffle tickets for a flat screen TV, crafts and gift baskets as a way to continue raising money throughout the night.

For more information about Relay for Life, or to donate online, visit relay.acsevents.org and search for "Carteret County."
