The season's biggest battle comes to a head in the two-part season 6 finale of "Once Upon a Time," airing Sunday, May 14, on ABC. The show that brings beloved fairy-tale characters to life wraps up many of its storylines this season, as Emma (Jennifer Morrison, "House") battles the Black Fairy (Jaime Murray, "Defiance"), and Henry (Jared S. Gilmore, "Mad Men") finishes the final chapter of his book.

Season finale of 'Once Upon a Time' wraps up storylines

By Mary Fournier TV Media

he finale is here, and the season's biggest battle comes to a head in the two-part season 6 finale of "Once Upon a Time," airing Sunday, May 14, on ABC. The show that brings beloved fairytale characters to life is set to wrap up the season in a big way.

"O.U.A.T." has shown us the lives of some of our favorite fairy-tale characters, including Ariel, Mulan and Jasmine, in stories that differ greatly from the versions we know and love. This season has been a roller-coaster ride for the citizens of Story-brooke. From love to loss, happiness to sadness, everyone is dealing with something, but nothing can prepare them for what's coming.

At the start of the current season, Emma (Jennifer Morrison, "House") began having visions and tremors — premonitions of her impending death. In a recurring vision, she fights with a cloaked figure who steals her sword and murders her. Central to the majority of the season is Emma's fear of her fate and, along with her friends and family, she tries to figure out who this mysterious hooded person is, and why he or she wants to kill her.

Emma didn't have to look far, as Rumplestiltskin (Robert Carlyle, "Trainspotting," 1996) and Belle's (Emilie de Ravin, "Lost") son Gideon (Giles Matthey, "The Duel," 2016), has now been revealed as the one who wants to kill her. A complex storyline sees the baby aducted by the nefarious Black Fairy (Jaime Murray, "Defiance"), who also happens to be Rumple's mother. When Gideon returns full-grown, thanks to some tricks of time, it's discovered that Emma factors into his plan to kill his abductor, the Black Fairy.

While Emma's battle with Gideon takes some unexpected twists and turns, the sudden arrival of the Black Fairy signals the beginning of the real, climactic final battle. And that's where we find ourselves as the much-anticipated two-part finale premieres.

Season 6 is an end in more ways than one, as show creators Edward Kitsis and Adam Horowitz — who have both also written episodes of "Lost," among other successful series — said the season marks the end of the main storyline that has been the central focus of the entire series, regardless of whether the show is renewed for a seventh season. As Henry (Jared S. Gilmore, "Mad Men") finishes the last chapter of the book, some of the show's major storylines wrap up, and some characters prepare to depart the series.

Jaime Murray as seen in "Once Upon a Time"

Josh Dallas ("Thor," 2011), who plays Prince Charming and Emma's father, told Entertainment Weekly that the finale is "all about the final battle, the final battle that Emma is clearly involved with, and it's life or death."

Morrison expressed the same sentiments, saying: "They're realizing that they're at the end of the book. They're like, 'What does that mean, the end of the book mean a happy ending? Does the end of the book mean she dies?'"

Whatever happens, Emma has her loved ones by her side, including Snow White (Ginnifer Goodwin, "He's Just Not That Into You," 2009), her mother; Regina (Lana Parrilla, "Miami Medical"), her one-time enemy turned friend; Henry, her son; and Captain Hook (Colin O'Donoghue, "The Rite," 2011), her fiancé.

Whether the show follows a typical fairy-tale ending or not, a seventh season should point the series in a new direction. ABC entertainment president Channing Dungey told EW that season 7 could offer "a springboard to a new narrative standpoint. ...
[That] doesn't necessarily mean that we're not bringing the cast back, it's just: How do you kind of hit the reset button?"

Morrison, Parrilla, O'Donoghue and Carlyle are currently in negotiations for a new season, but nothing is confirmed. While on "The Drop-In With Will Malnati," Morrison said: "We're just kind of waiting now to see if the network decides to continue with the show — and if they do continue with the show, if they are going to rework it to be something else, or if they're going to invite people to stay. It's really complicated."

Though the finale is so close, there are still multiple questions that need to be answered, and stories that must be wrapped up—it could be tough to tie everything up if this does happen to be the final season. Rest assured though, Dungey says: "If and when we decide to end it, we want to do it the right way, and really give the fans the ending they deserve."

"O.U.A.T" was a hit when it first aired in 2011, earning the best ratings out of any new show that premiered that season. Ratings for the show have been on a bit of a decline, however, with comments from fans and critics alike insisting the show should end due to repetitive storylines and character plots that already seem to be finished. Despite this, the show still maintains a steady viewership.

Don't miss the big, two-part season finale of "Once Upon a Time" when it airs Sunday, May 14, on ABC.

The Voice

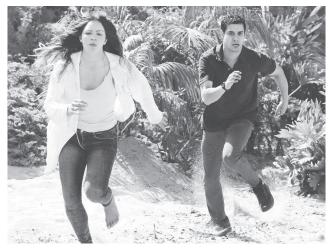

3 8:00 p.m.

The top eight vocalists take the stage to sing for the coaches in this live semifinal performance round. Gwen Stefani, Adam Levine, Alicia Keys and Blake Shelton mentor talented young singers in this reality TV competition series.

Man With a Plan

4 8:30 p.m.

When Don's (Kevin Nealon) newborn grandson comes to visit, Adam (Matt LeBlanc) and Andi (Liza Snyder) consider having another baby in this season finale. A contractor stays home with the kids when his wife goes back to work in this comedy.

Katharine McPhee and Elyes Gabel in "Scorpion"

Southern Charm

BRAVO 9:00 p.m.

Kathryn considers getting back together with the father of her children in this new episode. Also, Patricia encourages Landon and Thomas to get a little closer. Following yet another blow up, Craig and Naomie attempt to reconcile.

Scorpion

4 10:00 p.m.

Tensions run high when the team crash lands on a desert island in this season finale. After three weeks, they must find a way to overcome their relationship issues with each other so they can work together to get off the island.

Flip this: Farmers' markets are center stage in new Cooking Channel competition

Jeff Mahin hosts "Farmers' Market Flip"

Bv Andrew Warren

armers' markets are popping up everywhere these days, and with good reason:They're a fantastic way to get the freshest possible ingredients, not to mention that meeting the people who've actually grown and raised the foods just makes produce seem that much tastier in the end. Plus, they're just a great way to get outdoors and spend a morning in a thriving, friendly atmosphere.

The pros love farmers' markets, too, and Cooking Channel has put together a fun little competition to find out which chefs can best honor the local ingredients that are unique to every market. "Farmers' Market Flip" premiered last month, and currently airs Thursday evenings on the culinary channel.

In each episode, the youthful chef Jeff Mahin swings by a different farmers' market, where he meets up with two teams of culinary professionals to see which, over the course of a day.

can best please the market's discerning patrons.

In this week's episode, airing Thursday, May 18, Mahin is in Channel Islands, California, where he meets up with chefs Michele Ragussis and Penny Davidi, who are eager to challenge chefs Ben Diaz and Hugo Miranda. First up is the Flavor of the Market challenge, where the chefs take the market's signature local product and transform it into something entirely new — and sinfully delicious.

In Channel Islands, that local favorite is strawberries: specifically, strawberry shortcake and funnel cake. After transforming the sweets into exciting new dishes, the chefs move on to the Feed the Market challenge.

The stakes are much higher here. After a 20-minute shopping spree, the teams each put together a pop-up kitchen, where they have an hour to prepare dishes that hungry shoppers get to enjoy — and judge.

For the chefs competing in the seaside Channel Islands, it's no surprise that the full bounty of the sea is available right on the very docks that the local fishers use. Their dishes have to highlight this oh-so-fresh seafood and wow the locals, with the team that pleases the most palates winning a $5,000 check.

Catch the new episode of 'Farmers' Market Flip," airing Thursday, May 18, on Cooking Channel.

The Space Between Us

While en route to Mars, an astronaut (Montgomery) learns that she is pregnant, and soon gives birth to the first human born on the red planet. Sadly, she dies during childbirth. The child, Gardner (Butterfield), grows up in the small colony with only 14 other people, and after turning 16, he finds a video of his mother with a man he's convinced is his father. He secretly stows away aboard a ship headed to Earth, intending to both find the man he believes is his dad and to meet a girl (Robertson) that he's met online. As he finds out, though, growing up on Mars hasn't prepared him for the radically different conditions found on Earth, both physical and social. Director: Peter Chelsom. Stars: Gary Oldman, Asa Butterfield, Janet Montgomery, Britt Robertson, Scott Takeda. 2017. 120 min. Adventure.

xXx: Return of Xander Cage

After a team of operatives led by Xiang (Yen) steals a device capable of weaponizing orbiting satellites, operative Xander Cage (Diesel), who faked his own death in the previous installment of this franchise, springs back into action to recover it. After paying a visit to his old friend Ainsley (Corfield) for a helping hand, he traces Xiang and the device to the Philippines. But when he and his old team stage a raid to recover the device, Xander discovers that there are far more layers to this conspiracy than he originally thought. Director: D.J. Caruso. Stars: Vin Diesel, Donnie Yen, Hermione Corfield, Samuel L. Jackson, Deepika Padukone, Kris Wu. 2017. 107 min.

Shots Fired

23 8:00 p.m.

Lieut. Breeland (Stephen Moyer) and Sheriff Platt (Will Platt) find themselves the subjects of intense scrutiny after a shocking discovery is made about the Auxiliary Deputy program in this new episode. Meanwhile, potential culprits come forward.

Criminal Minds: Beyond Borders 9:00 p.m.

When a woman is murdered while on a yoga retreat in Nepal, the IRT searches for the killer in this new episode. The case marks Monty's (Tyler James Williams) first international mission with the team. Charisma Carpenter guest stars.

Alana De La Garza stars in "Criminal Minds: Beyond Borders"

Storage Wars

A&E 9:30 p.m.

Mary finds her inner voice thanks to her latest locker in this new episode. Also, Kenny wants to clothe America. Brandi and Jarrod get a leg up on the competition. Later, Ivy gambles on a party locker and Rene gets some advice.

Chicago P.D.

10:00 p.m.

In this season finale, Lindsay (Sophia Bush) must figure out how to help her mother, Bunny (Markie Post), who has been implicated in a murder case. Things get even worse when a group of high school students OD on drugs that could be connected to the case.

Supernatural

63 8:00 p.m.

Sam (Jared Padalecki) and Dean (Jensen Ackles) must rely entirely on each other when they're caught in a dangerous situation in this new episode. Elsewhere, the conflict between the American Hunters and the British Hunters reaches a critical point.

The Amazing Race

49:00 p.m.

The remaining teams continue their epic race around the world in this new episode of the reality TV competition series. Host Phil Keoghan guides the teams through challenges at each destination as they compete for $1 million.

Jensen Ackles stars in "Supernatural"

The Blacklist

9:00 p.m.

Red (James Spader) searches for the high-end thief (Aldis Hodge) Mr. Kaplan (Susan Blommaert) sent on a mysterious assignment in the first part of this season finale. Also, Agent Gale (Enrique Murciano) continues his investigation into the task force.

Dark Net

sноw 10:00 p.m.

This new episode takes a look at one of the negative aspects of the internet as filmmakers explore online communities. Offline, communities where residents share a collective purpose are vital to society, online communities sometimes foster lies and hate.

Hollywood Q&A

By Adam Thomlison TV Media

Q: "Notting Hill" is probably one of my favorite movies of all time. Can you tell me who played Hugh Grant's single friend, and where I recognize him from?

A: Hugh Grant's friend Bernie, referred to at one point in the film as "the worst stockbroker in the whole world" after he loses his job, is played by Hugh Bonneville, who is probably best known today for being a little more financially secure in "Downton Abbey."

He played Robert Crawley, the Earl of Grantham, in all six seasons of the smash-hit PBS/ ITV series. That's been by far his biggest role, but it's had a lot of competition: Bonneville has his name, almost all in his native Britain. Though you'd have to be a bit of an anglophile to know most of them, there are a few that are familiar over here.

His somewhat stodgy demeanour, honed by years of playing an earl in "Downton Abbey," helped him land another of his most notable parts, playing the patriarch of the more than 100 acting credits to Brown family, whose fairly quiet life is thrown into chaos by the arrival of a homeless and danger-prone bear in the 2014 family film "Paddington." He'll be repeating the role in the aptly named "Paddington 2," due out early next year.

He's also known to North American audiences for his recent turn on the oddball ABC fantasy-comedy series "Galavant." He played the pirate king in a couple of episodes of the cultishly beloved, but now canceled, series.

Despite all of his success, he'd probably be gratified to hear that you singled him out from among "Notting Hill's" impressive cast. The film, released in 1999, features both Julia Roberts and Hugh Grant at the height of their very lofty careers. It also features modern-great Welsh character actor Rhys Ifans, and Tim McInnerney, one of the stars of the beloved British sitcom "Blackadder."

According to a new survey that just came out, 44 percent of people would rather take a longer flight that costs more than fly United Airlines. When they heard this, American Airlines said: "Done and done."

Scientists are now claiming that every hour spent running increases your lifespan by seven hours. In other words, a majority of Americans died three years ago.

Several days ago, President Trump said an aircraft carrier was heading toward North Korea. It's an American aircraft carrier, but it turns out it's actually been sailing in the opposite direction. This is the aircraft carrier called the USS Metaphor.

In New York, a Southwest Airlines pilot was arrested for having a loaded gun hidden in his carry-on bag. The pilot was fired from Southwest and immediately hired by United.

Well you guys, today was the deadline to file your taxes. I guess Trump got some good news this year: he got to write off the first 100 days of his presidency as a total

Trump just gave an interview where he appeared to confuse Kim Jong Un with his father, Kim Jong II. It got worse when Trump was like, "Which one's married to Kanye?" That's a different Kim all together.

Hey, I wanna say congrats to Serena Williams! She just announced that she's expecting a baby, which means she won the Australian Open while she was pregnant. Then the baby said: "So, do I get a doubles trophy, orrr ..."

Chelsea Clinton recently said that when her mom travelled, she would leave her a note for every day she was gone. Though every day the note just read, "Keep an eve on your father."

Some documents just came out that show which companies gave money to Trump's inauguration, and it turns out UPS was one of the biggest donors. People were like: "Great, now can you teach him how to deliver?"

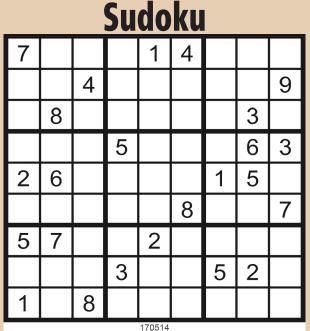

The Late Show With Stephen Colbert

The official White House Snapchat account sent out a snap featuring a bunch of kids gathered around "Secretary of 'Educatuon' Betsy DeVos." It's like Betsy DeVos always says: "There's no 'I' in 'education' ... the way I spell it."

Trump also weighed in on tomorrow's special election in Georgia, saying: "The super liberal Democrat in the Georgia 'congressioal' race tomorrow wants to protect criminals, allow illegal immigration and raise taxes!" That's right, "congressioal." Someone's being tutored by Betsy DeVos!

Huge election last night in Georgia's 6th District. It was an unusual election. It was what's called a "jungle primary," because, like every election this year, it will probably end in madness and cannibalism.

Fill in the grid so that every row, every column, and every 3x3 box contains the digits 1 through 9. Solution on page 8.

This morning was the annual White House Easter Egg Roll. There was an appearance by that very special visitor, someone who only shows up to the White House once a year: Melania Trump.

It was a great time, and apparently the Easter egg hunt is still going on. Because Trump hides those Easter eggs as well as he hides his tax returns.

Big news from my home country, Great Britain: The prime minister, Theresa May, surprised everyone by calling for an early election on June 8, even though it wasn't supposed to happen until 2020. She's fed up with all the political fighting, so she's asking for another election right away. To which Americans replied, "Wait, we can do that?"

A high school boy in Georgia got the local police to help him stage a drug bust in order to ask a girl to prom. The cops questioned both of them about a fake bag of marijuana, then eventually gave the girl a note with a request to go to prom. The police say they loved helping the two with the prom-posal, and look forward to seeing them together on prom night when they arrest them for underage drinking.
