For the week of April 9 - 15, 2017

The zany cops from New York's 99th precinct return to take a bite out of crime in the Big Apple in a new episode of "Brooklyn Nine-Nine," airing Tuesday, April 11, on Fox. Andre Braugher ("Homicide: Life on the Street") stars as the no-nonsense Capt. Holt, while Andy Samberg ("Saturday Night Live") plays Det. Jake Peralta, a light-hearted cop who somehow manages to nab bad guys despite his laid-back approach.

Fans anxiously await return of 'Brooklyn Nine-Nine'

By Kyla Brewer TV Media

hows about police officers have been a staple of the prime-time landscape for many years, and they seem to be back with a vengeance lately. While cop dramas are once again in vogue, one hit series takes a look at the lighter side of police work.

Andy Samberg ("Saturday Night Live") returns as Det. Jake Peralta in the midseason premiere of "Brooklyn Nine-Nine," airing Tuesday, April 11, on Fox. Peralta and his colleagues at the NYPD's fictional 99th precinct solve crimes with a healthy dose of humor in the Golden Globe-winning sitcom, which has been on hiatus since Jan. 1, an episode that ended with a cliffhanger and left fans anxious for more.

The fate of series regular Chelsea Peretti's ("Kroll Show") character Gina Linetti hangs in the balance since (spoiler alert!) she was hit by a bus in the most recent episode, and fans are concerned that the show may lose one of its beloved regulars. In an interview with the Hollywood Reporter shortly after the episode aired, co-creator and showrunner Daniel Goor ("Parks and Recreation") weighed in on whether Gina will survive.

"I think another valid question is: did the bus survive? Either way, audiences will see Chelsea again — she is a force of nature and one of the greatest comic minds out there."

In a real-life plot twist, Peretti revealed earlier this year (though well after the bus episode aired) that she's pregnant, and many fans speculate that her pending maternity leave is the driving force behind her character's bus-related trauma. Getting ready to step into firsttime parenthood is no small thing, and Peretti and her husband, comedian and filmmaker Jordan Peele ("Key & Peele"), have been receiving a lot of good will from "Brooklyn Nine-Nine" fans. We're all hoping that Gina will recuperate and return to the Nine-Nine in all her fabulous glory, but even if she doesn't, the rich tapestry of characters that make the comedy one of the highest-rated shows on broadcast television is reason enough to tune in.

Andre Braugher as seen in "Brooklyn Nine-Nine"

Samberg won a Golden Globe in 2014 for his role as Peralta, who is endearing, despite the fact that he doesn't always take his job seriously. His antics often frustrate other members of the team, especially his uber-serious boss, Capt. Ray Holt, played by fan favorite Andre Braugher, Before "Brooklvn Nine-Nine," Braugher was best known for his work in another cop show, the much more serious "Homicide: Life on the Street," which earned him an Emmy in 1998. So far, his role as Holt has netted him three consecutive Emmy nominations.

Former NFLer-turned-actor Terry Crews ("Everybody Hates Chris") portrays Holt's second in command, Sqt. Terry Jeffords, the vogurt-loving father of three girls. Peralta's new girlfriend is none other than his by-the-book colleague Amy Santiago (Melissa Fumero, "Gossip Girl"), who, until relatively recently, was annoyed by Peralta's on-duty shenanigans. Joe Lo Truglio ("The State") plays Det, Charles Boyle, Peralta's BFF, and mysterious, nononsense cop Rosa Diaz (Stephanie Beatriz, "Modern Family") serves as Peralta's partner. Joel McKinnon Miller ("Big Love") and Dirk Blocker ("Baa Baa Black Sheep") round out the cast as veteran detectives Scully and Hitchcock, respectively.

Described as "Police Academy" (1984) meets "The Office," "Brooklyn Nine-Nine" has broad appeal for anyone looking to lighten up the work week. It also helps that the series has an impressive history of rounding up high-profile guest stars, and the remainder of season 4 is no exception. Viewers can expect to see film actress Gina Gershon ("Showgirls," 1995) as the leader of an elite NYPD unit who inspires a competition between Peralta and Diaz. Other season 4 guest stars include NFL player Marshawn Lynch, Eric Roberts ("Runaway Train," 1985), Jim O'Heir ("Parks and Recreation"), Nathan Fillion ("Castle") and Greg Germann ("Ally McBeal").

Past "Brooklyn Nine-Nine" guests have included TV legend Rhea Perlman ("Cheers"), Zooey Deschanel ("New Girl"), Bill Hader ("Saturday Night Live"), Katey Sagal ("Sons of Anarchy"), Nick Cannon ("America's Got Talent") and even famed astrophysicist Neil deGrasse Tyson.

The show has been popular since its very first season, garnering an 88 percent approval rating on review aggregator Rotten Tomatoes, which ranked the second season even higher than the first, with an impressive 100 percent. While last season clocked in at 90 percent, season 4 was back up to 100 percent as of press time. It's been so popular with TV viewers, the show has even expanded into other areas. "Brooklyn Nine-Nine" left its mark on the world of apps when, in 2015, production company Universal teamed up with RED Games to launch a puzzle game called Kwazy Cupcakes, inspired by a game featured in the series. For superfans not satisfied with the addictive app and reruns on Netflix, the midseason premiere continues the fun that began in September. Discover what happens to Gina and find out how the gang at the NYPD's 99th precinct is faring when "Brooklyn Nine-Nine" returns Tuesday, April 11, on Fox.

A cry for help: Food Network, Yelp team up to help struggling restaurants

By Andrew Warren TV Media

nether it's Google reviews, feedback on Zomato or opinions on OpenTable. it's easy to find other diners' thoughts about pretty much any restaurant you're eyeing for breakfast, lunch, dinner or an inbetween meal. From the restaurant's perspective, a couple of good reviews can be a boon to business — but on the flip side, even one bad one can spell doom.

Food Network's newest host is on the job to help out eateries that have been receiving unflattering feedback online. Monti Carlo's new show "Help My Yelp," which, as you may have guessed from its title, teams up with Internet review site Yelp, premieres Monday, April 10.

Sharp-eyed foodies may remember Carlo as one of the competitors from the third season of Fox's "MasterChef." She may not have won the competition, but that hasn't put the brakes on her culinary career far from it. Now a successful restaurant consultant, in "Help My Yelp," she puts that experience to work helping chefs and busi-less-than-stellar online reputations.

Before she visits a restaurant, though, Carlo secretly sends in members of Yelp's Elite Squad (a group of experienced and well-regarded reviewers) to scout out the situation and report back. Once she's armed with their unbiased reviews, along with footage from hidden cameras set up in the kitchen, Carlo heads into the business with a plan to turn all of those one-star reviews into fouror five-star ones.

She's got the cooking skills to liven up the kitchen's offerings and the restaurant experience to troubleshoot problems that she identifies. She has to work guickly, though, as a fresh batch of Yelp Elite Squad members is on its way soon, and the feedback really could make or break a struggling business.

The restaurant consultant genre is a popular one, even if it is currently lacking a big-ticket show. Gordon Ramsay's "Kitchen Nightmares" wrapped up its seven-year run on Fox in 2014, and Food Network's own "Restaurant: Impossible" with Robert Irvine ended last year.

The genre is Monti Carlo's for the taking, it seems. "Help My Yelp" premieres Monday, April 10, on Food Network.

Hidden Figures

This Oscar-nominated film tells the dramatic true story of the groundbreaking mathematicians that history overlooked: the black women who calculated the Mercury space program flight trajectories and helped send the first American to space. When mathematician Katherine (Henson) is assigned to the task force dedicated to sending the first man into space, she discovers that not only is she the only black woman on the team, but that the building she's been assigned to doesn't even have a bathroom that she's permitted to use. Despite the hurdles she and other women like her face, Katherine earns the respect of other task force members with some notable exceptions ----as she proves herself to be a valuable member of the team.

Director: Theodore Melfi. Stars: Taraji P. Henson, Octavia Spencer, Janelle Monáe, Kevin Costner, Jim Parsons, Kirsten Dunst. 2016. 127 min. Biography.

Hollywood Q&A

By Adam Thomlison TV Media

Q: I saw a screenshot of Whoopi Goldberg with an animatronic dinosaur. Was she in a kids show or something?

A: Fortunately for her, it wasn't a whole show, just a single movie — a disastrous one she didn't want to do in the first place.

The story — as told by the very reputable Los Angeles Times, among other sources goes that Goldberg made a verbal contract to appear in "Theodore Rex," but later tried to back out of it (perhaps after realizing she'd agreed to star opposite an animatronic dinosaur in a buddy-cop movie). The producers took her to court, and a subsequent out-of-court settlement meant she basically had to make for theatrical release, but that's the movie against her will.

There's a reason you don't remember this particular chapter in her career. New Line Cinema. which produced the film, said that after a "disappointing" test run in a few cities, it decided to release the film straight to video instead. It was released in 1995. "No one likes to be told that their child isn't beautiful enough

a fact of life," said New Line marketing boss Mitch Goldman at the time. "In the end, the prints and advertising investment for a theatrical run seemed greater than the box office promise."

Though forgettable as a Whoopi Goldberg picture, it did make it into the history books, albeit for unflattering reasons. It was the most expensive film ever to go straight to video, and the first one to be nominated for a Golden Raspberry Award. The Razzies are given to the worst movies and actors of the year (Goldberg received the nod for worst actress, but lost to Demi Moore).

It's hard to figure out who to blame when a movie goes bad like this, but it's worth noting that it was both written and directed by Jonathan R. Betuel, who'd done some film and TV work in the '80s but never worked again after "Theodore Rex."

The Ten Commandments

6 9 7:00 p.m.

In what has become an Easter tradition, ABC presents one of the greatest films ever made. Starring Charlton Heston, the film was based on the Holy Scriptures and follows Moses' life from his birth to receiving the Ten Commandments on Mt. Sinai and beyond.

Training Day

④ 9:00 p.m.

Frank (Bill Paxton) is forced to confront his past as the son of an outlaw as he searches for a father-and-son crime team in this new episode. Bill Paxton's son, James Paxton, guest stars as part of the father-son duo.

Jacob Lofland as seen in "The Son"

The Son

амс 9:00 р.....

Eli McCullough (Pierce Brosnan) strives to keep his family's cattle business strong during the Bandit Wars of South Texas in this new episode. The drama also follows the story of a young Eli (Jacob Lofland), who was kidnapped by a tribe of Comanches.

Saturday Night Live

③ 11:30 p.m.

Jimmy Fallon returns to his old stomping grounds as he takes the stage to host this special new episode, which will be broadcast live across the nation. This marks the first time the iconic sketch comedy series will air at the same time in all time zones.

President Trump says he's planning to travel less to other countries than previous presidents. The idea was first suggested to him by other countries.

This week, President Trump will meet with a Saudi prince. The man born into immense wealth with multiple wives and an exotic head covering says he can't wait to meet the Saudi prince.

Everyone's OK, but over the weekend, off the coast of Florida, a Carnival Cruise ship almost hit two jet-skiers. Today, the captain of the ship apologized and said, "I'll get them next time."

The creators of "Game of Thrones" just announced that the show's final season will only be six episodes. instead of 10. That's when you know things are crazy on "Game of Thrones," when even the EPISODES are getting killed off.

Well you guys, last night was the big finale of "The Bachelor!" And Nick wound up getting engaged to Vanessa, a teacher from Canada. Nick didn't PLAN on marrying Vanessa, but after seeing the GOP healthcare plan, moving to Canada was the logical decision.

I saw that the New York Jets tried to get free agent

Dont'a Hightower over the weekend by giving him cupcakes and wishing him a Happy Birthday on every TV in the building. Hightower says it was nice, but it only counts if they say it on Facebook.

The Late Show With Stephen Colbert

The GOP's healthcare plan came out last week and, so far, it's popular with everyone ... except doctors, hospitals, the insurance industry, patients, the elderly, Democrats, Republicans and - what's the word? mortals. Yeah. These mortals, they need so much care.

This afternoon, the Congressional Budget Office released its official analysis of the GOP's healthcare bill and found that 24 million Americans will lose coverage under the plan. But keep in mind, that's 24 million people by 2026. And without health insurance, a lot of those people won't live that long anyway.

The Late Late Show With James Corden

White House Press Secretary Sean Spicer announced vesterday that Donald Trump would be donating his presidential salary to a charity at the end of the vear. Credit where credit is due: Trump is getting pretty creative in the ways he's refusing to pay his taxes.

Jimmy Kimmel Live

Nick, as you know, was on "Bachelor in Paradise" he was runner-up twice on "The Bachelorette," and now he is "The Bachelor." If this one doesn't work out, we're going to take Nick to the vet and have him neutered.

The president specifically said he does not plan to fill out a [March Madness] bracket. Instead, he's going to wait until the tournament is over, then have Kellyanne Conway tell everyone he had them all right.

Almost everyone has a problem with [the proposed Republican healthcare] bill. It's the least popular bill since Cosby.

On Twitter vesterday, Rachel Maddow wrote that she had [Trump's] tax returns, and would be revealing them on-air. And, of course, everyone went nuts. This is how crazy he's made us: we're rushing to our TVs, screaming: "Quick! Rachel Maddow's about to show a 1040 form!"
