Dominic Cooper ("Marvel's Agent Carter") stars as the eponymous cleric Jesse Custer in "Preacher," premiering Sunday, May 22, on AMC. Custer, along with his comrades Tulip (Ruth Negga, "Marvel's Agents of S.H.I.E.L.D.") and Cassidy (Joseph Gilgun, "Misfits"), sets off in search of an audience with God when it's discovered that the Almighty has abandoned his creations. Unfortunately, the mission proves to be just as difficult as it sounds.

'Food Network Star' returns with more delicious drama

By Andrew Warren

TV Media

repare to be star-struck. Twelve accomplished cooks have assembled for the 12th season of "Food Network Star," the titular network's star factory, premiering Sunday, May 22.

Each of the dozen hopefuls has one goal and one goal alone: avoid elimination and land the ultimate prize. And what a prize it is! The winner of "Food Network Star" gets to host his or her own TV show, resulting in instant fame, fortune and culinary recognition.

It's not easy, though. Not only do they have to prove their culinary know-how, but they have to do so beneath the harsh glare of spotlights, under the watchful eye of dozens of cameras and in front of loud and distracted live audiences. In short, they're put through all of the pressures that any TV host has to deal with on a constant basis.

Some freeze up and stumble in the spotlight. Others take to it naturally. For one contestant, from his or her victory in though, this is all old hat.

This season, the traditional 12 potential stars are becoming 13 — a baker's dozen. That

Giada De Laurentiis and Bobby Flay host "Food Network Star"

extra hopeful will be fresh "Comeback Kitchen," a fight that's been raging for the past three weeks. "Comeback Kitchen" brought back seven former "Food Network Star" finalists for a second shot at stardom, with the winner earning that extra 13th spot.

The newcomers won't want to take that extra wannabe lightly: he or she is sure to be riding high after the big "Comeback Kitchen" win, and totally used to the lights, cameras and pressures of starring on TV.

Luckily, two TV pros are on hand to mentor the infant stars and help them each develop their own unique on-screen personality. Bobby Flay and Giada De Laurentiis return this season to coach the contestants, giving them advice and criticism, and helping them deal with the high-pressure competition.

It's just the sort of help that they need with the stakes so high, and with an experienced extra contestant in their midst.

Season 12 of "Food Network Star" premieres Sunday, May 22, on Food Network.

Zoolander 2

After his wife's death, the collapse of the Derek Zoolander Center For Kids Who Can't Read Good, and the loss of custody of his son, the world's most successful male model, Derek Zoolander (Stiller), has retired and now lives alone in extreme upstate New Jersey. But when many of the world's hottest pop stars start turning up dead, investigator Valentina Valencia (Cruz) uncovers a connection between the deaths and the reclusive former model. She tracks down both Zoolander and his friend/rival Hansel (Wilson) and convinces the pair to reunite and help with her investigation. The plot they uncover, though, turns out to be far more sinister and close to home than any of them could have imagined. Director: Ben Stiller. Stars: Ben Stiller, Owen Wilson, Penélope Cruz, Will Ferrell, Kristen Wiig. 2016. 102 min. Comedy.

How to Be Single

Eager to start her new career as a paralegal, Alice (Johnson) puts her relationship with her college boyfriend, Josh (Braun), on hold and moves to New York City. She moves in with her seemingly permanently single sister Meg (Mann), and quickly becomes friends with her hardpartying coworker Robin (Wilson) and a charming bartender named Tom (Holm). As she watches her friends bounce from relationship to relationship, Alice decides that it's time to rekindle her "on hold" relationship with Josh, but things don't go as planned. Director: Christian Ditter. Stars: Dakota Johnson, Rebel Wilson, Leslie Mann, Alison Brie, Anders Holm, Damon Wayans Jr., Nicholas Braun. 2016. 110 min. Come-

Strong

8:00 p.m.

The final teams are set, but one contestant faces a potentially restrictive injury in this new episode. Hosted by professional volleyball player Gabrielle Reece, the unique series follows women on a transformative journey to greater overall strength.

60 Days In

A&E 9:00 p.m.

In this season finale, the seven participants meet for the first time to talk about their experiences on the inside. Things get heated when the women relive a contentious moment, and Robert is confronted for not taking the program seriously.

Million Dollar Listing New York

BRAVO 9:00 p.m.

Fredrik gets wacky and summons the spirit of a dead icon for a new development in NoHo in this new episode. Also, Luis strikes out when he takes aim at a new building, but tries for a rebound by chasing down one of New York's biggest developers.

Showing Roots

LIFE 10:00 p.m.

Two women forge an unlikely friendship in a quest to integrate a small town in this premiere made-for-television movie. Set in 1977, the film follows as they are inspired by the mini-series "Roots" to make a difference.

Hollywood Q&A

By Adam Thomlison TV Media

Q:Why did "Antiques Roadshow" drop Mark L. Walberg?

A: He's still there, he's just in the background. It was part of an overhaul the show did for the new season, in part to attract and secure what one producer called its "next generation of viewers." When the show premiered its 20th season earlier this year, Walberg's face was absent. However, his voice was not. Though he used to serve as the on-air host of the show, since way back in 2002, he now only provides voiceovers at the beginning of each episode.

The reason his role was cut back had nothing to do with him, said executive producer Marsha Bemko, but rather with what they were having him do.

The overhaul included dropping the segments that took place away from the antiques show set, when the show would come to the people instead of the other way around. These "field pieces" weren't popular with the audience, Bemko said in an interview with AVClub. com.

"Although there are some people who like those field segments, we know that, for the most part, our audience would rather see more appraisals. We've made an effort to satisfy that hunger."

That is to say that Walberg's segments were dropped to give the viewer more appraisals per hour — a refocus on the show's core business, in a sense.

But Bemko insisted that there were no plans to further cut Walberg out.

"We've kept Mark as our host. ... He's still on our title sequence credits. He's still very much associated with the show. But he's not on set anymore."

It should be noted that we're talking about the U.S. version of the show. It's a PBS institution—it has frequently been the network's top-rated show since its premiere in 1997. However, it's a youngster compared to the original, British "Antiques Roadshow," which premiered in 1979 and is now airing its 38th season.

ASPIRIN'S NEW CANCER-FIGHTING EFFECT

As many people are well aware, aspirin not only fights pain and inflammation, but it has also been found to prevent cardiovascular disease (lowdose daily aspirin). In addition, researchers have now found that aspirin taken in low doses daily may also help prevent cancer in general, and colorectal cancers in particular. In a study that involved 135,965 individuals, researchers found that those who took 0.5-1.5 standard aspirin tablets a week experienced 3% fewer cancers overall and 15% fewer cancers, and they had a 19% lower risk of developing colorectal cancer. When and colorectal cancer (CRC) considering taking daily lowdose aspirin, patients must weigh its potential benefits against risks, particularly GI tract bleeding. Patients should only take daily aspirin after with consulting physicians.

Aspirin has often been called the "wonder drug." Like any over-the- countermedication, it's important to talk to your doctor about the safety of taking aspirin for other ailments besides the conventional headache. Depending on what other prescription or OTC drugs you're taking, aspirin may be contraindicated in your particular case. For all your prescription and health care needs, please call 978-682-2557. Our pharmacy is located at 292 Prospect

HINT: The U.S. Preventive Services Task Force recently gastrointestinal (GI) tract recommended taking aspirin regularly to stave off cardiovascular disease (CVD)
