SAVAGE SMILES

Over the past 24 years, Dr. Robert Savage, DDS—of Savage Smiles Dentistry—has earned quite an unusual reputation when it comes dentistry. Noted for his top-quality dentistry, state-of-the-art equipment and for staying apprised of the latest developments, Dr. Savage is even better known for how he treats his patients.

"You could say I'm 'savagely' committed to making people smile, even while working to make a great smile for them," Dr. Savage said.

Indeed, he's figured out how to put some fun into the experience of going to the dentist.

"I'm very casual, conservative and family-oriented," said the East Valley dentist. "I have fun, and I like to see people smile."

Yet, it's no laughing matter when it comes to the full-service, top-of-the-line care his patients receive. "We offer everything—from preventative to restorative—including sealant, fillings, hybrid dentures; we do teeth whitening, a fair amount of implants, veneers and what some people call cosmetic dentistry."

"To me," he laughed, "any kind of dentistry is cosmetic. I expect all of my work to look good and help my patients maintain their beautiful smiles."

He said, over the past 24 years, his patient-base has grown through word of mouth, and, "We're still going strong. Our patients are loyal, and we're excited to continue to provide them—and those they refer—with the same quality service and care we've always shown."

He said, "Another thing our patients love is that we are not high pressure at all."

"I believe the problems didn't happen in a day, so it's going to take more than a day to fix things. My patients are not bombarded when they come in," he said. "I believe in building the relationship first and doing what they need rather than leading with what I need."

He said high tech equipment makes the process even easier. For example, he said, his office is equipped with intraoral cameras, which allow patients to see inside their own mouths.

"We show them pictures, and we can then make joint decisions and come up with a plan," he said.

A father of three teenagers, Dr. Savage has created a family-friendly atmosphere, where "we start patients as young as three."

Currently practicing at Ray and Cooper, Dr. Savage plans to open his brand new office in the East Valley in the near future.

"We're excited about that as well and the chance to continue to provide excellent care and to work with—and smile with—our fabulous East Valley patients."

No "one-size-fits-all" when it comes to treating eating disorders at Remuda Ranch

In its better than two decades of operation, Remuda Ranch has served more than 10,000 patients. And, yet, one tenet still holds true after all this time: there is no one-size-fits-all approach to treating eating disorders.

Every case is unique, and every individual needs her own care. That's the approach at Remuda Ranch, with comprehensive, individualized eating disorder treatment available based on medical stabilization, nutritional rebalancing and cutting edge therapeutic techniques.

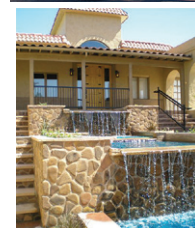

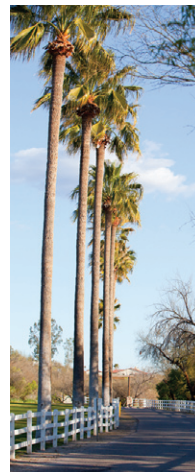

Offering inpatient and transitional recovery services in and around the greater Valley region – including the ranch-like campus for women in Wickenburg, 65 miles northwest of Phoenix – Remuda Ranch is renowned for helping author inspirational stories of recovery for those with anorexia, bulimia, binge eating disorder, obesity and EDNOS (or "Eating Disorders Not Otherwise Specified").

Voluntary chapel and spiritual integration is available during treatment, as is experiential programming like horseback riding, horse handling, art and music therapy, nature walks, pool time, and a confidence-building ropes course. In addition to reducing eating disorder symptoms and behaviors, it's the Remuda Ranch goal to see every patient restore relationships with family and friends, renew interest in school or work and return to a productive and healthy daily life.

"Through our bio-psycho-social-spiritual treatment approach and clinical excellence," the Remuda Ranch website explains, "patients find the strength to confront their problems, learn the tools and skills to overcome their disorder, then enter recovery."

Healing... Serene... Confidential.

In the tranquility of the high desert with deep blue skies by day and thousands of stars by night, you will find a sense of healing and spirituality.
