JACK JOHNSON SENTENCED TO GO TO PRISON

Black Pugilist Gets Year but Will File an Appeal.

$1000 FINE IS ALSO PART OF SENTENCE

CHICAGO, Ill., June 4.—Jack Johnson, the negro heavyweight champion, on Wednesday was sentenced to one year and one day in the state penitentiary at Joliet and fined $1,000 for violation of the Mann white slave act. Sentence was pronounced on Johnson after Federal Judge Carpenter had denied a motion for a new trial, made by counsel for the negro. Johnson obtained two weeks' time in which to prepare a writ of error, and the bond for $30,000, on which he has been at liberty since his conviction, was allowed to stand.

Prepared For Resistance.—Half a dozen deputy United States marshals, who had grouped themselves about Johnson in anticipation of resistance when the prison sentence was given, left the room when Judge Carpenter announced that the fighter could continue temporarily at liberty. The sentence to the state penitentiary is the result of a recent order from Washington that all persons convicted in the federal court in this district should be sent to the state prison, owing to the crowded condition of the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kas.

Declares For Fight.—Johnson left the courtroom, declaring that he would not give up his fight for liberty and that if the writ of error were denied, he would make further appeals.

The arguments for a new trial came up as a surprise late Wednesday afternoon. The case had not been set previously, and the proceedings begun with the unexpected appearance in the courtroom of Johnson and his lawyer.

"It has been hard to determine what punishment should be meted out in this case," said Judge Carpenter. "We have had many cases where violations of the Mann act have been punished with a fine only. We have had other cases where defendants have been sentenced to one or two years in the penitentiary.

Circumstances are Aggravating.—"The circumstances in this case have been aggravating. The life of the defendant, by his own admissions, has not been a moral one. The defendant is one of the best known men of his race and his example has been far reaching.

"The sentence shall be that the defendant shall be confined a year and a day in the Joliet penitentiary and that he shall be fined $1,000."

The court denied a request of counsel for Johnson that the negro be allowed to serve the term in the city bridewell instead of the state's prison.

THE WISCONSIN IDEA TOLD BY PRES. VAN HISE

In Special Article Head of University Gives His Views

MEANS EDUCATION OF BOARDER SCOPE

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., June 5.—"The Wisconsin Idea" is explained by President Charles R. Van Hise of the University of Wisconsin in a special article in the public ledger this morning. The Wisconsin idea, President Van Hise says, is a purpose, not a definite achievement or series of achievements.

"In government, the Wisconsin idea demands that for political science the emphasis shall pass from the word 'political' to the word 'science,'" declares Dr. Van Hise. "Therefore, before constructive legislation is attempted, so far as possible, all the facts related to a subject are gathered and considered, including exhaustive investigations regarding the practices of other states and nations. By this procedure the enactment of laws passes from the empirical methods obtaining in the past to the scientific stage. Under this method we have as reason a probability for success in a new attempt in political science as in other sciences.

"This view of legislation has resulted in making our first advance step in Wisconsin, government by experts. The development of government by experts, combined with the attempt broadly to carry knowledge to the people through extension, before the introduction of the initiative and referendum, show the essentially sane and conservative character of the Wisconsin movement. From our point of view, the initiative, the referendum, and the recall are the last instead of the first steps in the reconstructed government of the twentieth century.

Wisconsin Idea of Property.—"The Wisconsin idea of property is that no one has possession for himself alone—that each is a trustee to the nation for the property entrusted to his care. This principle is applied alike to the man who holds forty acres of land and to the man who has great wealth. This doctrine has been expressed in state laws in many ways, but perhaps no more comprehensively than by the simple conservation law, enacted two years ago, making it a misdemeanor unnecessarily to waste or willfully to destroy a natural resource."

PUBLICATION OF MARRIAGE BANS IS FAVORED BY FOND DU LAC DIOCESE OF EPISCOPAL CHURCH

Bishop Weller Endorses Resolution Adopted by Fond du Lac Meeting—Says Canon of Marriage, Not Divorce, is Needed

Through a resolution introduced by Rev. A. C. Chapman, pastor of St. Peter's church, Ripon, the Fond du Lac diocese of the Episcopal church, in council assembled at Fond du Lac yesterday, went on record in establishing the publication of marriage bans in the various churches of the diocese, as provided for in the rubric embraced in the sacrament of matrimony in the church prayer book.

The resolution, which was adopted by the clergy and laity, met with the emphatic approval of Rt. Rev. R. H. Weller, who addressing the council relative to the matter during the discussion declared: "It is not a canon of divorce that is needed to curb the divorce evil, but a canon of marriage." In the emphatic, convincing manner that is so characteristic of the Fond du Lac prelate when discussing a matter in which he is deeply interested, he denounced the divorces eviled and declared that the church should emulate the example of the Wisconsin legislature in relation to the five day period required by the state between the issuance of a marriage license and the ceremony.

A resolution introduced by Dr. B. T. Rogers calling for the establishment of a home for needy children in the diocese was referred to a special committee for investigation and report at the next council.

(By Associated Press.)

EPSOM, June 5.—Miss Emily Wilding Davison, a suffragette, was seriously injured today by King George's horse Anmer at the Derby here. The horse was rounding Tattenham corner, when the woman rushed to the course and clutched the reins. The horse fell and trampled her. At midnight the woman was still unconscious, and the doctors said her condition was critical.

Jones, the jockey who was riding Anmer, was unable to disentangle himself from the stirrups, and fell to the ground. He was badly injured and had to be attended by a surgeon.

King is a Spectator.—King George, Queen Mary, and a large assembly of royalties were witnesses of these exciting incidents, which caused something like consternation among the immense crowds.

Apparently a New Monarch.—"His Majesty, King of Australia," was the address of a letter sent by a school girl in England to her teachers. The letter was received at Sydney, and the girl is now in New South Wales chief of the school.

Can't Take the Picture Seriously.—The picture of a man holding a large fish does not necessarily prove that he is telling the truth. Photographers nowadays are too expert in grafting the picture of a fish taken at close range onto the end of a line held by a man whose picture was taken at a considerable distance.

The Carl Schurz monument on Morningside Heights, New York, was dedicated in the presence of Civil war veterans who served him in the army, including Lieut. Gen. Nelson A. Miles and Gen. Horace Porter, local German societies, regiments from the local National guard and regulars from nearby forts. Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, represented Germany at the dedication.
