When trimming a household budget, premium cable is an easy expense to cut. Hold on to your HBO, though.

Its "Mildred Pierce" miniseries, premiering March 27 and spread out over three Sundays, is worth it.

Kate Winslet turns in a sublime performance as Mildred, a complex, fiercely independent woman. Over the span of a decade during the Great Depression, she endures divorce, a horrific tragedy and financial blows. Shrewd and a hard worker, she quickly climbs from slinging hash to owning a

Based on the same character that won Joan Crawford an Oscar for her Mildred in 1946, this is not a remake. Rather it's an unflinching account of James M. Cain's novel of the operatic love Mildred has for her daughter, Veda (Morgan Turner as a girl and Evan Rachel Wood as a young adult).

Winslet is raw and utterly believable.

"There were some real struggles," Winslet says one night from Paris, where she's shooting "Carnage." "I would sit in the back of the car and say, 'I can't. I can't. I don't know how I am going to do this scene this day,' just because I knew what I was facing."

Yet for 16 weeks she did, and she's in practically every scene of the 5 1/2-hour miniseries. Though set in the 1930s – and looking completely spot-on from drainboards to cars – this saga could easily play out today.

"In 2008, when I read the book, the financial markets were tumbling," director and co-writer Todd Haynes says, noting the similarities between that era and this one. "By the end of the year, we were talking about how we would break it (a film) up into parts."

As he worked, he envisioned only Winslet in the role. "I couldn't get it out of my head," he says.

The rest of the cast is equally impressive. Recent Academy Award winner Melissa Leo plays Lucy, Mildred's neighbor and confidante. Mare Winningham as Ida, a waitress who befriends Mildred, and Hope Davis as the mother of one of Veda's flings are exceptional.

Mildred's husband and the father of her children, Bert (Brian F. O'Byrne), suffers the effects of the Depression and finds comfort in someone else's arms.

Then there is Monty, whom Guy Pearce ("The King's Speech") inhabits. Rich and entitled, Monty meets Mildred when he's her last customer as a waitress. Their affair starts immediately.

He's an effete, highly cultured layabout; she's a blue-collar, middlebrow go-getter. In bed, they're perfectly matched.

editors'choice CBS's madcap 'Chaos' pits spy versus spy

In a pivotal moment of the Friday, April 1, premiere of CBS' "Chaos," CIA agent Rick Martinez eats a live scorpion.

Surrounded by machete and gun wielding rebels, in the middle of a desert, he's putting them on notice that he's crazy tough. And he earns the respect of his fellow agents on this unsanctioned mission.

When actor Freddy Rodriguez eats an actual scorpion, the audience knows this is a crazy ride. The playful Rat Pack music, the Office of Disruptive Services and the nagging suspicion that the real CIA could be this disorganized contribute to the fun.

Rodriguez's character is an earnest, smart, diligent man. On his first day as a spy, his department is eliminated. He can't take no for an answer, and he's so perfect for the job that his boss, H.J. Higgins (Kurtwood Smith), appoints him to Clandestine Administration and Oversight Services (CHAOS).

It's a division of spies spying on spies, and Martinez becomes the newbie among a smart aleck trio. Michael Dorset (Eric Close, "Without a Trace"), a psychologist turned operative, is the boss. Billy Collins (James Murray) is a Scot, decommissioned from the British Secret Service. Casey Malick (Tim Blake Nelson) looks like a mild mannered accountant but is insanely tough.

"It's like 'The Four Musketeers' sprinkled with a little 'Get Smart' sprinkled with a little bit of 'M*A*Ŝ*H' with a little bit of Coen brothers esque humor, maybe," Rodriguez says. "I can't compare it to anything on TV."

America's Next Great Restaurant 7 p.m. on NBC

Think small! That's the challenge the contestants must meet in this new episode: creating miniature versions of their restaurants for an event called Dine LA, where they'll attempt to impress designers and foodies. The event's patrons will vote for their favorites, but it's up to judges Bobby Flay, Curtis Stone, Steve Ells and Lorena Garcia to decide who stays in the competition.

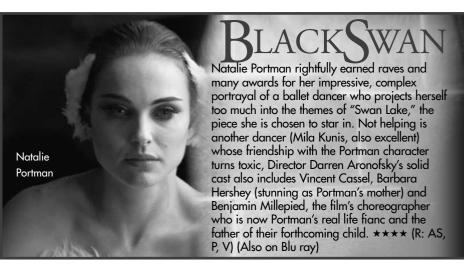

CSI: Miami 9 p.m. on CBS

Once again, a member of Caine's (David Caruso) team is in personal peril, as an escaped prisoner takes Natalia (Eva La Rue) hostage. As long as she can be rescued safely, this might work in the team's favor, as her abductor tells her some secrets about the crimes he's committed. Emily Procter, Rex Linn and Jonathan Togo also star in the new episode "About Face."

Breakout Kings 9 p.m., 10 p.m. on A&E

As Ray (Domenick Lombardozzi) and the team search for an escaped pedophile, they're also on alert to make sure he doesn't molest any more children. Their search takes them to the school where he used to work — and which his victims attend — as well as putting them in contact with his estranged family. Erica (Serinda Swan) is determined to spend some time with her own child on her birthday in the new

"TANGLED"

For its 50th animated feature, Disney puts clever twists on the familiar tale of Rapunzel, with Mandy Moore voicing the heroine whose very lengthy hair makes her the captive of a villainess (voice of stage veteran Donna Murphy) wanting to harness its magical power. Zachary Levi speaks the words of a thief who invades the tower where Rapunzel is held, then teams with her to escape. DVD extras: alternate opening sequences.  (PG: V) (Also on Blu ray)

"FAIR GAME"

The true story of Valerie Plame – outed as a CIA agent by a journalist after her ex ambassador husband, Joseph Wilson, criticized what he considered the too quick invasion of Iraq - is recounted by director Doug Liman ("The Bourne Identity") in this well acted drama. Naomi Watts and Sean Penn, who worked together previously in "21 Grams," are reteamed as the couple. DVD extra: audio commentary by the real Plame and Wilson. $\star\star\star$ (PG 13: P) (Also on Blu ray)

Walton Goggins

"I watch 'Boardwalk Empire' like it's going out of style. It's awesome, really. It's so well thought out and so precise. '30 Rock,' don't miss an episode. It's brilliant. It's still great. And 'Modern Family,' met a lot of those guys. That's a wonderful show. And I'm glad that 'Parks and Recreation' is back on. It's good."

Matthew Perry

"I watch a ton of the British 'The Office,' 'I'm Alan Partridge.' I watch 'Modern Family," 'Lost.' I go online to watch."

Judy Greer "My most recent obsession is probably 'Eastbound & Down.' I also love 'Mad Men' and

'30 Rock.' Oh, and I have all the seasons of 'The Mary Tyler Moore Show' on DVD, and I watch them obsessively."

bestof... REMAKES OF MOVIES

BY JAY BOBBIN

"I Want to Live" (1983) Lindsay
Wagner bravely tackled Susan Hayward's
Oscar-winning role in the true story of a convicted robbery accomplice.

"Stagecoach" (1986) The durable premise of assorted travelers united in the Old West made a solid vehicle for country music comrades Johnny Cash, Kris Kristofferson and Willie Nelson.

"The Defiant Ones" (1986) The escaped-convict roles that were iconic for Tony Curtis and Sidney Poitier later forced Robert Urich and Carl Weathers to step up their acting games admirably.

"Shadow of a Doubt" (1991) Now one of television's top heroes on "NCIS," Mark Harmon made a chilling villain as a visiting relative with dark secrets in this update of the Hitchcock classic.

"Gypsy" (1993) Bette Midler, belting out classic show tunes as Mama Rose, ensured this home-screen remake would be worth attention.

"In Cold Blood" (1996) In what was quite a turnaround from his "ER" good-guy image, Anthony Edwards teamed with Eric Roberts to play killers who preyed upon an innocent Midwestern family in this adaptation of Truman Capote's fact-based novel.

"The Shining" (1997) In ABC's miniseries of the Stephen King thriller, Steven Weber had several extra hours to play out the apparent possession of the isolated inn caretaker memorably portrayed the first time by Jack Nicholson.

"Rear Window" (1998) James Stewart's earlier big-screen role suited Christopher Reeve's condition at the time, as the former "Superman" played a paralyzed man who thinks he's seen a murder.

"The Taking of Pelham One Two Three" (1998) Between the two theatrical versions of the subway-hijack melodrama, this effective television version boasted a great cast including future series stars
Vincent D'Onofrio, Donnie Wahlberg and Lorraine Bracco.

"The Wool Cap" (2004) William H. Macy ("Shameless") superbly updated Jackie Gleason's much-earlier "Gigot" role, a mute maintenance man who becomes an abandoned girl's guardian.

"The Poseidon Adventure" (2005)
Updated special effects and plotting made this remake of the overturned-ocean-liner saga worth checking out.

celebrityscoop lan Anthony Dale OFTHE EVENT ON NBC

On "The Event," airing Mondays on NBC, Ian Anthony Dale plays CIA agent Simon Lee, who is hiding his identity as part of a group of aliens who crashed on Earth decades before. Interestingly, Dale, whose mother is of Japanese descent, played Davis Lee on an NBC drama called "The Surface."

"It seems to be following me in the NBC family," says Dale. "I'll take it for now." According to Dale, Lee is going to see some action in the episode that airs this week and the one that airs two weeks from this Monday.

"You know what," he says, "when we return for the second half of the season, I'm going to get a good deal of action, so I've actually been looking forward to that. I've got some really cool action stuff coming up in episode 14, and then it's looking like 16 will be pretty action packed. I'm certainly waiting for it. I'd love to do that stuff."

If he had his dream movie role, Dale would get plenty of action.

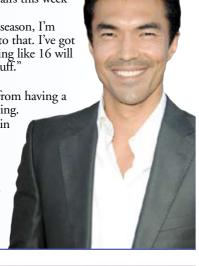

"I'd love to play James Bond," he says. "I know we're quite a ways off from having a half Japanese James Bond, but I'd certainly love to throw my hat in the ring.

"I'm sure I have a better chance of getting into a Bond film as the villain at some point in my career. I'll take that."

On the prospect of having to grow a mustache to play a villain, Dale says, "I'll grow a mustache. I'm actually looking for an excuse to grow a mustache for a job. It's a little hard, because I wind up looking like an Asian Tom Selleck. People don't really know how to place me. I certainly would like to rock one for a role.

"(Sideburns) will definitely have to be fake, because I can't grow sideburns myself, unfortunately."

celebrityq&a Marlee Matlin OF THE T CELEBRITY APPRENTICE

Q: When the offer to be part of "The Celebrity Apprentice" came your way, were you satisfied with the stage that your acting career was at?

A: (Answers relayed by Matlin's longtime interpreter, Jack Jason) | still find myself having to knock on doors. I can't just sit back and wait. That's not my style. I have much more ambition than ever, and I'm not getting any younger. Thank goodness things have changed. There's a new generation that isn't familiar with me, and they're willing to give me a chance.

Q: Since you also competed on ABC's "Dancing

With the Stars," is it safe to assume you're a reality show fan?

A: Most people wouldn't have thought that a deaf person could dance. That was my reason for doing that show; I wanted to show that I really could do something else. I have a sense of rhythm, and I can do anything I set my mind to.

"Mob scene" has an extra meaning now. The concept of flash mobs – large groups that celebrate via elaborate, secretly planned song and dance routines, whether at weddings or in shopping malls – gets a spotlight in "Mobbed," a new Fox special airing Thursday, March 31.

Actor comedian Howie Mandel is the host of the show and also one of its creators and executive producers. The result echoes the effect of Mandel's past "Deal or No Deal" game show work, as he advises people on catching others by surprise.

"I've been a fan of them for years now," Mandel says of flash mobs. "I spend hours, maybe too many, on YouTube. My funny bone is always tickled by whatever happens in the real world that is unexpected. I was fascinated by how many of these there were; even those that weren't that inventive were getting hits in the millions"

For "Mobbed," Mandel amped up the idea: "We needed a reason for doing a flash mob, and that was to deliver a message. What if you had a secret you wanted to tell somebody? That you want to marry someone? That you want to fire someone? That you're pregnant? Employ us to put that message together, and we will deliver it and watch the reaction."

Someone who's staged a flash mob is Elaine Hume Peake, news director of WTEN TV in Albany, N.Y. She did it last month for her husband Christopher's 65th birthday, with the crowd rendering Bobby Darin's standard "Beyond the Sea."

"This happened because I saw a piece on (ABC's) 'Good Morning America,'" says Peake about a report on a wedding related flash mob at Boston's Prudential Center. "I had tears in my eyes. You have to choreograph a certain part of this, then you just have to let it happen. The spontaneous part makes it beautiful."

The outcome is on YouTube as "Flash Mob Wilton Mall," and Peake advises, "Know your audience." Her spouse was open to the idea, as were many others.

"It makes people happy," she notes. "I saw the smiles, and people were like, 'Wow! What is this?' It's fun when you walk into something you don't expect."

Ice Age: Dawn of the Dinosaurs

4:15 p.m. on HBO

The third comedy-adventure in the animated series returns Ray Romano, Denis Leary and John Leguizamo to the voice cast as prehistoric animal friends. Sid needs more than a little help from his friends when his actions incur the wrath of a tyrannosaurus rex, but they have concerns of their own, some of which involve matters of the heart. Queen Latifah also supplies a character voice again.

Masterpiece Classic 8 p.m. on NET1

Filled with unexpected humor and romance, this adaptation of John Buchan's World War I adventure novel "The 39 Steps," which Alfred Hitchcock turned into a memorable 1935 movie thriller, follows the fortunes of Richard Hannay (Rupert Penry-Jones), a mining engineer who gets caught up in a conspiracy after a British spy is found dead in his apartment.

MONDAY

10 a.m. on SHOW

Vanessa Hudgens aims to move beyond her "High School Musical" image, and largely succeeds, in this familiar-feeling but enjoyable comedy-drama. A school newcomer (Gaelan Connell) inspires a novice rock band to shoot for big things ... particularly the championship in a showdown of amateur music groups. Hudgens plays the guitarist who appeals to the fellow, her group's new manager.

WEDNESDAY

Starstruck

7 p.m. on DISN

In this music-filled movie, hot young pop star Christopher (Sterling Knight) meets unassuming Midwestern girl Jessica (Danielle Campbell). Chris has everything — fame, money, a career — or so it seems. Playing tour guide, he shows Jessica the sights in Hollywood, then denies knowing her when their picture winds up in a gossip magazine. Chris must decide what is more important — being true to himself or being a star.

SATURDAY

Tarzan, the Ape Man 11 a.m. on TCM

He's no George of the Jungle, but he can swing a vine with the best of 'em in this 1932 adventure. Johnny Weissmuller stars as the man who is raised by an ape and forced into human interaction

SUNDAY

Grease

6 p.m. on FAM

John Travolta trades his "Saturday Night Fever" disco duds for slicked-back hair and a leather jacket in this 1978 film version of the Broadway musical. He plays a tough 1950s high-school student who is reunited with the shy Australian exchange student he met the previous summer. Songs include "You're the One That I Want"

Minute to Win It 7 p.m. on NBC

A Michigan woman takes a shot at the grand prize in the new episode "Million Dollar Redemption Part 1." Her first challenge is called "Floatacious" and involves balancing a tower of empty soda cans on a plate that's floating in a bowl of water. Can you say, "Easier said than done"?

Modern Family 8 p.m. on ABC

In a clever riff on Alfred Hitch-cock's "Strangers on a Train," Claire (Julie Bowen) agrees to try to stop Cam from wearing inappropriate clothing if Mitchell can talk Phil out of delivering a comedy shtick-riddled speech at a real estate agents banquet. Haley tries to teach Alex how to be cool in "Strangers on a Treadmill."

Mr. Sunshine 8:31 p.m. on ABC

Alice (Andrea Anders) asks Ben (Matthew Perry) for an assistant, and she isn't exactly thrilled with the one he chooses: Roman. Soon, though, she's surprised at how well they relate. Crystal wants to use the Sunshine Center for a friend's funeral. Alonzo makes a confession about his past in the new episode "The Assistant."

Off the Map 9 p.m. on ABC

Proving ground for Delany

TV shows, especially comedies, sometimes have a signature phrase that may be slightly amusing until it's repeated so often it's annoying.

Rarely, though, do dramas come out with a line that's memorable. ABC's "Body of Proof," premiering Tuesday, March 29, has one that reverberates, even months after the initial viewing. The pilot was originally shown to critics last summer, then the network held the series in reserve.

Still that line haunts.

It happens when Dr. Megan Hunt (Dana Delany) talks about one of the two seismic events in her life – losing custody of her daughter.

Hunt explains to her work partner, Peter Dunlop (Nicholas Bishop), that her exhusband was awarded full custody "because a man who works for 18 hours a day is a good provider, and a woman who does the same is an absentee mother."

"A lot of women are reacting to it," Delany says of that line. "We all know someone (in this scenario). Men say why does she have to be a know-it-all? No, she's smart; I don't feel she's a b...."

Hunt's other seismic event was, literally, a train wreck of an accident. The pilot does a great job of showing how she came to be where she is.

Highly educated, successful and doing the intricate work of a neurosurgeon, Hunt was arguing with her ex-husband on the phone while driving. It was a typical argument of dividing responsibilities between parents.

After the accident, Hunt thought she was recovered. Yet when she returned to the operating room, her hands went numb. Hunt killed a patient on the operating table. Her career as a neurosurgeon was over.

Still, she could apply her experience and education, so she became a medical examiner.

"I lost my child to my career, then I lost my career to that damned accident," Hunt says.

To help inform the character, Delany met with two female physicians at the top of their fields, a neurosurgeon and a medical examiner. She even attended an autopsy.

"I was more nervous going in because of what people said to me," Delany says. "The guy was naked. I looked at him sideways. He had these bright blue eyes. And I thought, 'Did I date him?' Then I realized, no. He was a transient. It says something about your taste."

She didn't flinch as she watched the incision into the cranium.

"Once they pull the face down, he stops being a person," Delany says.

This sort of research helps Delany as Dr. Hunt look believable while examining corpses. She picks up many clues, though, from the living.

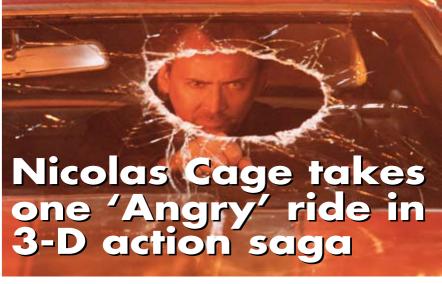

movie review

What is one to make of "Drive Angry"? Either that it's the latest move by Nicolas Cage to take himself as far away from Oscar-considered work as possible, or that he is perfectly content to stay immersed in genre-saluting exploitation movies ... even delving into the world of 3-D now.

Certainly, "Drive Angry" is right up Cage's alley when you think about the kinds of pictures he's been making lately. Here, he plays a man who escapes from hell – very literally – to avenge the murder of his daughter, slain so a satanic cult leader (Billy Burke, "Twilight") could get his hands on the Cage character's granddaughter for a ritualistic sacrifice.

Cage is out to stop that sacrifice, and he does indeed drive angry to reach the child in time, accompanied by a fugitive waitress (Amber Heard) and pursued by an emissary from Hades (William Fichtner) who's been dispatched to bring him back.

"Drive Angry" offers its share of fun if taken on the same level as "Grindhouse," which also had a good time poking knowing fun at a certain kind of movie. And as it goes along, you become increasingly convinced that Cage knew just what he was doing by climbing on board. He's actually carving out a singular career as someone who has an Oscar and is reinventing himself as an icon in an action-movie subcategory.

The truth is that Cage was doing this kind of thing long ago in such pictures as "The Rock" and "Con Air," which may have had impressive costars and big budgets but were escapist action fare at heart. Cage has stayed true to that path, and it's sort of admirable.

Which is not to make any pretense that "Drive Angry" is anything more than it is. It uses the 3-D in some cheap and obvious ways, but it also seems to revel in that, as does Cage in playing yet another short-fused loner with a wild streak.

Putting him in a film that has "Angry" in the title is a no-brainer. So is the movie, for the most part, but it also delivers exactly the kind of kicks it wants to.

"Transformers"

Transformers 7 p.m. on ABC

The long-popular toys come to life, and quite effectively, in action-specialist director Michael Bay's "Armageddon") loud and flashy fantasy-adventure. The Autobots and the Decepticons, rival robot factions from another planet, make Earth their battleground while fighting for an object that will give its holders ultimate power. Shia LaBeouf and Megan Fox play a young couple caught in the melee.
