Morgan Davis Alford was known for his integrity, forthrightness, and compassion. He took great pride in mentoring young men who followed his example in entering the law enforcement profession.

Dub Clark answered his life’s calling when he began his career in law enforcement in 1950. He graduated from the Texas Highway Patrol Class #16 that year and was a member of the first Baptist Church of Center following an extended career in law enforcement in 1990. He was a high calling which carried a sacred trust never to be violated.

Dub Clark is survived by his wife, Mary Kay Clark, of Austin; sons, Steve Clark and wife, Helen, of Whitehouse, Bill Clark and wife; Melinda, of Holly Lake Ranch, and Sunny Clark; and grandchildren. She is survived by her two great-grandchildren. Dub Clark is survived by his wife, Mary Kay Clark, of Austin; sons, Steve Clark and wife; Melinda, of Whitehouse, Bill Clark and wife; Melinda, of Holly Lake Ranch, and Sunny Clark; and grandchildren. She is survived by her two great-grandchildren.

Honorariums were given to Jason Clark, Matt Clark, and brother-in-law, William Gengo Gengo.

Honorary pallbearers were Lee McHugh, Jack Lout, Dub Clark was a member of the Church of Christ. He was a wonderful husband and father to his family. He was known for his integrity, forthrightness, and compassion. He was a peace officer serving his community with integrity and a sense of duty.

Dub Clark is survived by his wife, Mary Kay Clark, of Austin; sons, Steve Clark and wife, Helen, of Whitehouse, Bill Clark and wife; Melinda, of Holly Lake Ranch, and Sunny Clark; and grandchildren. She is survived by her two great-grandchildren. Dub Clark is survived by his wife, Mary Kay Clark, of Austin; sons, Steve Clark and wife; Melinda, of Whitehouse, Bill Clark and wife; Melinda, of Holly Lake Ranch, and Sunny Clark; and grandchildren. She is survived by her two great-grandchildren.

Honorariums were given to Jason Clark, Matt Clark, and brother-in-law, William Gengo Gengo.

Honorary pallbearers were Lee McHugh, Jack Lout, Dub Clark was a member of the Church of Christ. He was a wonderful husband and father to his family. He was known for his integrity, forthrightness, and compassion. He was a peace officer serving his community with integrity and a sense of duty.

Dub Clark is survived by his wife, Mary Kay Clark, of Austin; sons, Steve Clark and wife, Helen, of Whitehouse, Bill Clark and wife; Melinda, of Holly Lake Ranch, and Sunny Clark; and grandchildren. She is survived by her two great-grandchildren. Dub Clark is survived by his wife, Mary Kay Clark, of Austin; sons, Steve Clark and wife; Melinda, of Whitehouse, Bill Clark and wife; Melinda, of Holly Lake Ranch, and Sunny Clark; and grandchildren. She is survived by her two great-grandchildren. Dub Clark is survived by his wife, Mary Kay Clark, of Austin; sons, Steve Clark and wife; Melinda, of Whitehouse, Bill Clark and wife; Melinda, of Holly Lake Ranch, and Sunny Clark; and grandchildren. She is survived by her two great-grandchildren.