

Jackson Family Center

PHASE 1

Low-rise residential units. Gary Mayor Rudy Clay was reluctant to clarify whether this entails condominiums, time shares or other residences.

Michael Jackson Performing Center and Concert Hall with the Michael Jackson Memorial Pavilion

Enclosed pedestrian concourse

Jackson Family Museum and Cultural Center

Jackson Family Conference Center

Hotel complex, including cinema, retail and dining

Parking

Little Calumet River

Elevated light rail

LAND TRANSFER: The Jackson Family Foundation has assumed ownership of land between Grant Street and Broadway, Borman Expressway and 35th Avenue. This includes Gleason Park, the Gleason Park golf course and Gilroy Stadium. There are no reports of any land owned by Indiana University Northwest being involved in the transfer.

Phase 1 plans call for landscaping and other aesthetic upgrades on the entire site and an “eco-designed world class golf course.”

Area of detail

LITTLE CALUMET RIVER LEVEES: The renderings distributed by the Jackson foundation depict the center built within the confines of levees built to curb flooding along the Little Calumet River. This area saw significant flooding in 2008.

