DR. SEAN M. BIDIC

LOCAL SURGEON AMONG THOSE INITIATED INTO AMERICAN COLLEGE OF SURGEONS

The Congress attended by 14,426 included 8,940 physicians and is the largest organization of surgeons. The fellowship is founded on ethical fitness and professional proficiency. It originated in 1913 and was based on raising the standards of surgical practices and improving the care of the surgical patient.

Sean M. Bidic, MD, FAAP, FACS, was born and raised in Rosenhayn, N.J. He was among the 1,189 initiated from around the world who became Fellows of the American College of Surgeons (ASC), during convocation ceremonies at the college's 94th annual Clinical Congress in San Francisco.

Dr. Bidic received his medical degree in 1996 from Columbia University and is currently practicing at the University of Texas Southwestern Medical Center, located in Dallas, Texas, where he is Assistant Professor and Director of Hand Surgery Fellowship. In 2006 Dr. Bidic attained board certification from the American Board of Plastic Surgeons. He has strong professional interest in Hand, Reconstructive and Cosmetic Surgery, and holds membership in other professional societies, including American Society of Plastic Surgeons, American Association of Hand Surgeons, American Society for Surgery of the Hand, American Society of Reconstructive Microsurgery, and American Society of Aesthetic Plastic Surgeons.

Sean is married to Gretchen and has three children, Emma, 8, Leyna, 4, and Jackson, 4 months. He is the son of Christine and Reiner Bidic of Rosenhayn. He graduated from Deerfield Twp. Elementary School, and is a 1988 graduate of Cumberland Regional High School.
