New members inducted into Pi Gamma Mu

Five new members recently were inducted into the chapter of Pi Gamma Mu, International Honor Society in Social Science, at West Virginia Wesleyan College.

New members are: Cassie Clark, a senior psychology major from Buckhannon; Tyler McWheter, a junior environmental studies and economic major from Weston; Chris Brench, a junior criminal justice and sociology major from Last Creek; and Isaiah Spalding, a junior psychology and political science major from Lumber. Also, Liberty students take part in poster contest

In celebration of Earth Day on April 22, Liberty High School’s environmental studies students competed in a poster contest sponsored by the school’s Science Club.

Students created colorful and creative posters about environmental science and social science topics. The winners were awarded certificates and cash prizes. The winners were: Karla Godfrey, senior, for an award-winning poster on ‘Our Daily Bread’; Deloris Wilson, senior, for her poster titled ‘Tulip Day.’ A blessing was given to the Mustard Seed for the food pantry. Members met March 27 to make Earth Day cards for the Goldsboro Circle Nursing Home and Sunbonnets Sunbonnets set a date for the Mother-Daughter Banquet April 23 and Celebration of Friendship. The door prize was won by Bobbi Boes. Members attending were Cassie Clark, deaf, Deloris Wilson and 387 volunteer members.
