BG youth wins pageant

Six-year-old Olivia Kimmel recently earned the Washington state Miss Princess Queen title at a pageant held Aug. 9-11 in Tacoma by the National American Miss Pageants organization.

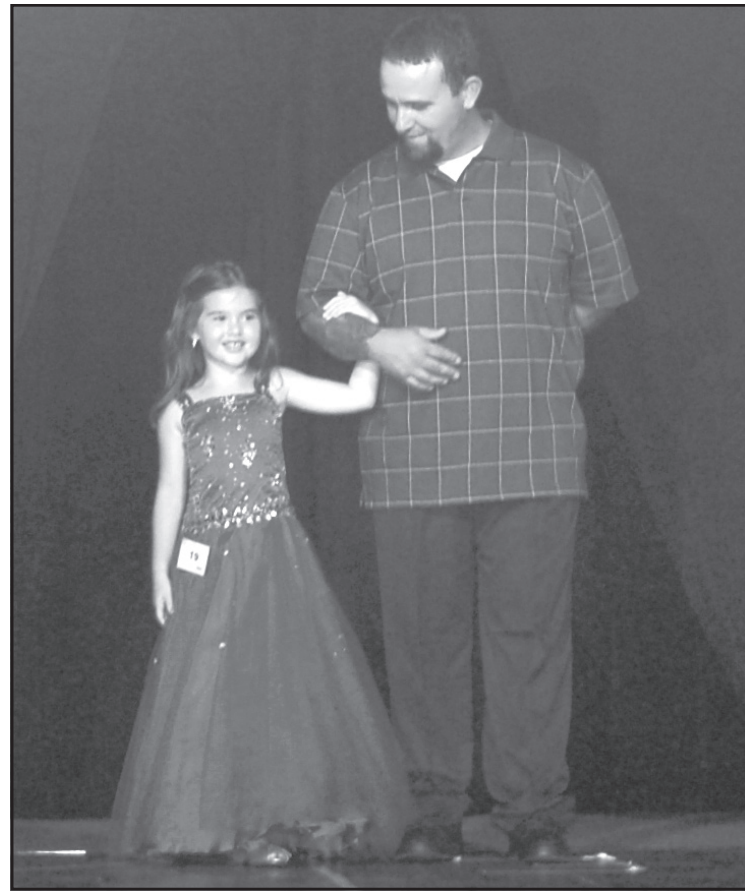

Kimmel will represent Washington at the National Pageant to be held in Anaheim, CA at Disneyland during Thanksgiving Week.

Kimmel will enter the first grade at Captain Strong Elementary School for this school year. The Battle Ground youth is the daughter of Scott and Melissa Kimmel. She has a twin sister Bethany and brothers Taylor, 16, and Wesley, 12.

The win came in Kimmel's first pageant experience. When asked what her favorite part of the pageant was, Olivia said, "When I got to be escorted by my Dad." Kimmel's father Scott had the honor of escorting his daughter during the formal wear portion of the pageant, which did not include swim wear or allow cosmetic makeup according to Olivia's mother Melissa Kimmel.

The National American Miss Pageants is based on inner beauty, as well as poise, presentation, and aims to offer an "All American Spirit" of fun. Emphasis is placed on the importance of gaining self-confidence, learning new skills, learning good attitudes about competition, and setting and achieving personal goals.

Each year, the National American Miss Pageants awards $1.5 million in cash, scholarships and prizes to recognize and assist the development of young women nationwide. Each girl who qualifies for the national pageant has a chance to win a 2012 Ford Mustang Convertible and a portion of the $500,000 in cash and prizes.

As part of the recent pageant, Olivia received an abundance of school supplies and children's books that were brought by fellow participants. She is in the process of distributing them in the Clark County area to organizations and those in need.
