Bandon midwife Marcene Rebeck leaves the courtroom in July after her arraignment on charges related to the death of an infant. Rebeck accepted a plea deal May 16 that would require her to become licensed to practice as a midwife.

Midwife takes plea

Bandon Western World

COQUILLE — Bandon midwife Marcene Rebeck has pleaded guilty to recklessly endangering another person resulting from her care of a mother and baby in 2011.

As an unlicensed midwife who has delivered babies on the South Coast for the past 31 years, Rebeck had been retained by the family to assist in the birth of the baby. The baby died several days later.

Rebeck received a five-year deferred sentence May 16 as part of her plea agreement with the state.

And although in Oregon a midwife isn't required to be licensed, Rebeck agreed to become licensed as part of the plea deal.

The plea deal dismissed Rebeck's charges of second-degree

Bill holds hope for Bandon dredging

Bandon Western World

The U.S. Senate passed a water resources bill last week that includes an amendment to pay for maintenance and dredging in small Oregon ports, including Bandon.

The amendment, sponsored by Sen. Ron Wyden, D-Ore., was included in the Water Resources Development Act. The bill, which was passed May 15, will now head to the House.

The amendment, one of several in the bill important to Oregonians, directs the Army Corps of Engineers to use money left over from maintenance of high-use, deep-draft ports and the Great Lakes Navigation System for moderate- and low-use port projects that have not been maintained in the preceding six years.

"Ports up and down the Oregon Coast, both big and small, are the engines that drive the economic health of coastal communities," Wyden said. "I want to ensure that Oregon's smaller ports are taken care of and get the

City allocates state dollars

Awards: Youth center, historical society top Bandon recipients list

The city of Bandon has for the last several years annually contributed most of its State Revenue Sharing funds to various local community service organizations rather than allocating it for general operating purposes.

Each year, community groups attend a city budget meeting and present their requests. The money comes from the state of Oregon, and is a share of the state liquor revenues which is annually distributed to municipalities. However, most municipalities use the money for their general funds, according to City Manager Matt Winkel.

It is anticipated that a total of $25,025 will again be available for allocation. Following the public hearing last month at which the city of Bandon Budget Committee recommended to pass the budget, the following allocations Bandon community service organizations were made:

- BRAVO (Bandon Readers and Volunteers Organization): $2,000
- Dial-A-Ride — Coos County Area Transit: $3,500
- EAT (Everyone At Table) Meals Program: $1,000
- Go Native Project — Bandon High School: $2,500
- Greater Bandon Association (Main Street Program): $2,500
- Historical Society: $3,500
- Lion's Club Fourth of July celebration: $1,000
- Neighbor to Neighbor Dispute Resolution Service: $500
- RSVP (Retired Senior Volunteer Program): $1,000
- Senior Nutrition Program: $3,500
- Women's Safety & Resource Center: $525
- Youth Center: $3,500

A public hearing to consider the city's proposed fiscal year 2013-2014 budget total is set for 7 p.m. Monday, June 3. The total proposed budget is $23.4 million, which is 5.6 percent more than the prior fiscal year budget.

Blessing of the Fleet is Saturday

The Port of Bandon invites the community and visitors to the annual Blessing of the Fleet at 1 p.m., Saturday, May 25, in the boat launch parking lot at the Fishermen's Memorial.

Local clergy will officiate the service, bagpiper Richard Lang will perform and the U.S. Coast Guard will then lay flowers on the Coquille River bar in conjunction with Bandon's VFW Post 3440, which will provide a gun salute on the South Jetty.

Loved ones who have been lost at sea and those in the military who gave their lives for the country will be honored. A blessing for those men and women currently serving and veterans who have returned from war or served in any capacity is planned as well. The blessing also will include those who fish the seas and those who

BandonPrepares seeks volunteers

A disaster is an emergency so vast that most people will have to fend for themselves and neighbors will have to help neighbors. Along the southern Oregon Coast, a disaster could take many forms, most particularly a significant earthquake or tsunami.
A small group of local residents joined together to form BandonPrepares to work with people who live in the greater Bandon area to encourage and coordinate disaster preparedness in cooperation with the city and the Bandon Rural Fire Protection District.
The City Council contributed $1,000 toward the cost of incorporating and applying to the IRS for tax exempt (501(c)(3)) status, and designated BandonPrepares as the official body responsible for overseeing the community's emergency preparedness activities.

The Board of Directors established by the Articles of Incorporation have met several times at the Bandon Rural Fire Protection District Station just south of the city, elected officers and started to organize.
BandonPrepares is asking residents to contact them if they are interested in participating in the emergency preparedness program. For more information, visit the BandonPrepares website at www.banprep.org and click on the "contact us" link on the homepage. Those interested will have the opportunity to indicate what role appeals to them: Map Your Neighborhood leader, Community Emergency Response Team member, board of directors member, webmaster, etc., or to ask questions about what is involved in any role.

Shirley Nadine (Cook) Rowell

Aug. 23, 1932 - May 18, 2013
A memorial service will be held for Shirley Nadine (Cook) Rowell, 80, of Gresham, formerly of Bandon at 2 p.m. Saturday, June 8, at the Open Bible Christian Center in Riddle.
Shirley was born Aug. 23, 1932, in Scio, to Dale and Ethel Cook. She passed away peacefully May 18, 2013, after a four-month battle with cancer in her son's home in Gresham.
She grew up in the Lebanon area. In September 1948 she married Abe Augustus Rowell and moved to Bandon in 1951. The family moved to Bear Creek where they owned and operated a small dairy farm and shipped their milk to the Bandon Cheese factory. They sold the farm in 1989 and moved into town where Abe built their retirement home across from the Bandon High School Track.
Shirley loved to work in her yard and flower garden. She was known for her green thumb and being the "lady who mowed the lawn at the Bandon High School track." She loved keeping things neat and orderly. She did beautiful embroidery work and loved to bake for her family. Her family remembers her for her great pancakes and biscuits! Mom had a quiet faith in God and generally showed her love for God through her actions toward others. She had a big heart and didn't like seeing anyone suffer and therefore gave generously to orphans, the hungry and homeless. Shirley attended the Bandon Assembly of God Church for most of her years in Bandon.

Shirley is survived by her son, Ron Rowell and wife, Connie of Gresham; daughter, Susan (Rowell) Causey and husband, Don of Riddle; daughter, Debbie (Rowell) Smith and husband, Lon of Gardnerville, Nev.; son, Keith Rowell of Bandon; and son, Loren Rowell and wife, Jennea of Gresham; 12 grandchildren, DaWayne Rowell, Becky Bush, Scott Rowell, Dan Rowell, Carrie Corvinus, Andrew Causey, Nathan Causey, Sarah Rollins, Charity McQuain, Tyler Smith, Chelsea Rowell and Jared Rowell; 21 great-grandchildren; and her sisters, Wilma Minyen of San Pablo, Calif., and Arlene Cook.
She was preceded in death by her father and mother, Dale and Ethel Cook; husband Abe Rowell in 2003; brothers, Leroy Cook and Charles Reister; and sisters, Donna Crandall Darlene Smith.
What a great lady! Her children and grandchildren rise up and call her "Blessed."

Letters

What does the theme mean?

When Gina Dearth called me a while back to tell me that the Port of Bandon was celebrating its 100th birthday this year, and to ask if that could be the theme for this summer's art show on the Bandon boardwalk, I said sure. But when Trudy (down at the port) asked me to make up a poster inviting artists to paint panels for the show, I realized I didn't really have a very clear idea of what the Port of Bandon means. So I spent quite a while last Friday down at the port offices, looking at slides from their archives and talking to both Gina and Trudy, and I think I need to revise my description of what this show is really all about.

First of all, I'd like to revise the name. Instead of "100 Years on the Waterfront" let's think of it as "100 Years on the Coquille River."

The Port of Bandon doesn't just refer to the boat basin — it has to do with anything that refers to life along the river, now or in the past 100 years. That could mean cows grazing on the bottomlands by the river, high waves on the Bandon jetties, lazy day fishing boats up by Riverton, or the old days along the river when there were four shipyards down in Prosper turning out big ships that sailed back and forth to San Francisco. It could mean U.S. Coast Guard rescue teams, paddle-wheel boats on the river, or the remains of the old ferry under Bullards bridge.

It could mean portraits of George Bennett, who blocked an early proposal for a canal that would have made the Coquille River much less important; or even a portrait of our current port director, one of only two women in the country serving in that post!

It could mean logs floating down the river, or men with fishing boats awash with hundreds and hundreds of fresh-caught salmon. Or just a great picnic day where the river meets the sea.

I also went and got a copy of Reg Pullen and Robin Miller's new book, which is filled with great photos and very informative captions about the history of Bandon, any one of which might be great inspiration for your paintings. So get out your paints and brushes and let's put together a great show to celebrate one century of life along the Coquille River. The boards are available at the port (in the former Coast Guard Building down on First Street) or at Art-by-the-Sea Gallery.

Hope you painters and history buffs out there will be part of the show!

Indecision 2013

Over the last six years, the Bandon Community Swimming Pool Development Corporation has leased school property on 11th Street across from the high school track/football field. Over time, the property has become known as the "home" for the future Bandon swimming pool. With the help of the public and private donations, the BCSPDC is proud to have raised more than $430,000.

Unfortunately, the lack of votes needed to create a Bandon Swimming Pool Recreation District last November forced the BCSPDC to reevaluate goals and decide what would be the next logical step toward progress. It was decided in December 2012 that a request would be made to the Bandon School District to sell the formerly leased property, which would allow for renewed grant writing and fundraising efforts.

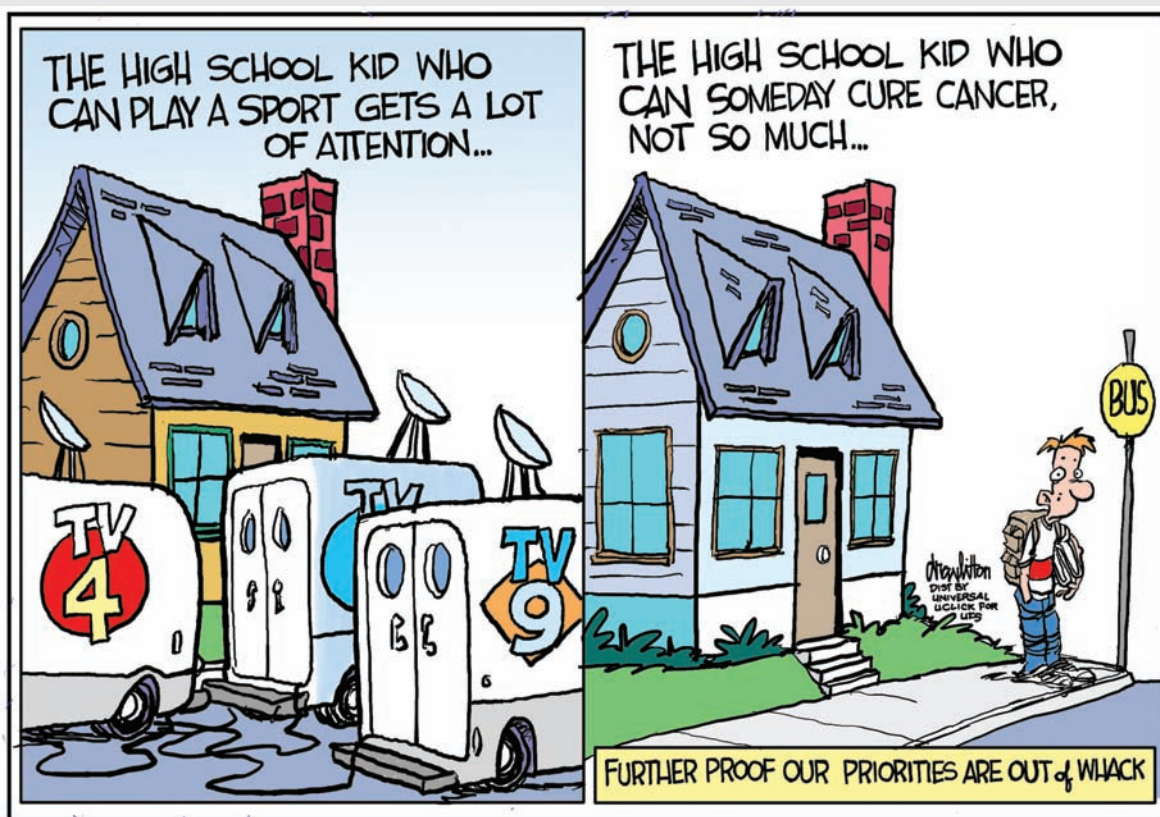

Since December of last year, the BCSPDC has waited patiently for a decision. On Monday, May 18, the Bandon School Board was asked to decide whether or not to sell the property, a simple yes or no. Unfortunately, the board's answer was to do nothing. While a motion to proceed with selling the property was made, no board member would second the motion, or even revise or reword a new motion. It was explained to the BCSPDC that a motion not to sell wouldn't even be considered, as it would look negative in the press. In short, after eight months the BCSPDC was left with nothing.

Therefore, it is with great sadness that the BCSPDC will no longer actively engage in leasing or purchasing property owned by the Bandon School District. The Bandon School Board's inability to move forward with a simple yes/no decision will no longer restrict the ongoing actions or development of the Bandon community swimming pool.

It is important that the BCSPDC respect those who have donated and supported the mission of a Bandon swimming pool, and the children that would most benefit from the project, by pursuing another "home" for the Bandon swimming pool in order to move the project forward.

The BCSPDC would like to thank those members of the Bandon School Board who have actively worked toward resolving the ongoing standstill: Wayne Robbins, Misty Berry and Troy Russell. Their help has been greatly appreciated through these difficult times.

Take responsibility for damage

The week of May 12 started off with a disappointment at the Bandon Community Youth Center. I discovered early Sunday morning that our sports court donor sign in the parking lot had been damaged. This sign has been in place for years to recognize the donors who contributed to the outside sports court.

Odd, I thought, since it was fine when I had driven by Saturday evening about 7:30 p.m. Now 12 hours later, it was broken into pieces. On Monday, as I was getting help to take down the remaining pieces, I kept wondering what had happened. There was no note or phone call or message of explanation. Our parking lot was full during the Bandon High School prom Saturday night, and I can only assume someone backed into the sign during this event. Breaking the post in two places, cracking the wooden frame and having an end fall down would be hard to miss, so I am not of the opinion that someone didn't know when they hit it.

Trust me, spending money from our budget on repairs is not one of my favorite things. As the director of one youth organization in our community, I am more discouraged to think that this incident is a reminder that we have not been fully successful in instilling the value of being responsible for your actions. Accidents can and do happen. What disappoints me most is that no one had the courage or the courtesy to call or drop by and take responsibility for the incident.

I truly support the school district's "We are a Positive Behavior Support School" message. When I first assumed my position here at the Youth Center, I had Be Safe, Be Responsible, Be Respectful added to our center's wall as an indication of our support of the school message and our similar expectations and goals for youth.

It's been a week and I am still feeling discouraged about the lack of accountability. If someone else is feeling the same way, give me a call and simply say, "Sorry, I hit your sign and let's find a way to get it fixed." We will probably both feel better!

Public awareness is needed

We are writing to alert you to the ongoing outbreak of pertussis (whooping cough) in the school population in Bandon, the numbers of which prompted a public health notification to be sent out over a month ago to all parents urging them to get boosters for children ages 10 and up whose childhood immunity has waned. Unfortunately, at least one and probably more previously vaccinated children may have contracted the disease despite this measure, because it takes 14 days to induce immunity and the immunization does nothing for active infection.

There are many coughing children at the schools whose parents may be unaware their child has whooping cough because in vaccinated children the characteristic whoop is not present and the symptoms are much milder.

Nevertheless, untested and untreated, the child then can greatly endanger a non-immune infant. According to the Public Health Department, Bandon has the highest incidence of vaccination exemptions in Coos County. This high incidence of unvaccinated children means that pertussis has an inroad in our schools. The number of children in Bandon who have contracted the illness along with the untested coughing population at school is high enough to warrant a serious public awareness campaign by your newspaper. The hope is that said campaign would first protect infants but also induce adults to vaccinate their children and get adult boosters for themselves.

We were asked to contact you by one of the school principals. If awareness is not raised, infants in our community could be put at serious risk and some may die. Whooping cough used to be one of the great killers of infants before immunizations became available. Washington state had its largest outbreak in 2012 in 50 years and the deaths of infants from this preventable disease in our nation recently is a scandal. The CDC reported more than 41,000 cases of whooping cough in the United States in 2012, including 18 deaths, which is the highest number of cases in any one year in the U.S. since 1955. Most of the deaths were in children younger than 1 year old.

Thank you for your attention to this letter. We hope you will investigate this further.

Successful food drive

This is a big thank you to all those who filled the yellow bags in the recent Letter Carriers Food Drive. Bandon's needy will benefit greatly from the more than 1,800 pounds of food that were contributed. The collection was divided equally between Good Neighbors and the Restoration Worship Center.

This show of compassion for those who depend upon the distribution of food bags or boxes from these local pantries is another reason to be proud of our Bandon community.

Ten foundational principles

This week's column begins a series of my 10 Foundational Principles of Disaster Preparedness. Call them core values, immutable truths or life rules. I feel one must develop their own personal "prepper philosophy" so there will be some direction and structure in your planning. Although mine are a work in progress, here they are:

1. Prepare before the disaster happens. I am always mildly amused and somewhat bewildered by the ones who run to the store either at the last minute or after the fact. That's a bit like having a fender bender then calling your insurance man to buy some coverage. In my observations of situations such as Katrina and Sandy, I see people who had plenty of advance warning still getting caught empty-handed. The chaos, frustration and desperation that characterizes the unprepared can all be avoided by simply planning ahead. Your family is worth it. A biblical proverb says, "A prudent person foresees danger and takes precautions. The simpleton goes on blindly and suffers the consequences." (Proverbs 22:3, New Living Translation). Plan ahead.

2. Avoid ready-made kits. There are literally thousands of ready-made kits available for purchase. Almost every disaster preparedness blog (except mine) has a kit for sale. I think some of them are pretty well thought out and actually very cool.

However, there is a certain satisfaction in building your own, choosing quality components and actually designing the kit for your specific needs in your specific neighborhood. The person that lives miles out in the hills will have different needs than the person who lives right in town. Some families have babies and their kit will require diapers and anti-rash ointment. Others will have "seasoned citizens" in the household and their needs are unique to their circumstance. Check out the ready-mades to get ideas on what you might need, but make your own list, then fill it to your satisfaction.

3. Have a plan "B" and a plan "C." Every experienced battle commander knows his plan is perfect until the fighting begins. Most plans unravel somewhat once they're tested. This is a huge flaw I see in the National Geographic Channel's "Doomsday Preppers." Every featured group I have seen prepares for a specific disaster scenario. Just imagine how disappointed they'd be if they prepared for a nuclear attack and got hit with a coronal mass ejection (solar storm) instead. Now I am convinced if you live in hurricane country, then plan for a hurricane, but have two or more different evacuation routes. Prepare two or more retreat locations, just in case. If you live along the Oregon Coast, plan for an earthquake-tsunami episode, but always have a plan B. Your first escape route may be blocked with debris or a bridge may be impassable. Make alternate plans.

Next week we'll continue with my 10 Basic Principles. As always, send your comments and questions to disasterprep.dave@gmail.com. Previous columns can be found on my blog at www.disasterprep.dave.blogspot.com.

The annual Boardwalk to Beach Run will be held Saturday, May 25, and registration is now under way. Race-day registration will be held at 9 a.m. near the Port of Bandon's covered picnic shelter on the boardwalk in Old Town. The run starts at 10 a.m. and goes along the beach and back, with a variety of distances.

Registration is $15, and includes a T-shirt and snacks, or $5 without the T-shirt. Stop at any of the fitness businesses in town and pick up a registration form or call Tricia Hutton at 541-347-6512 or 541-260-3337 to have a form delivered.

Proceeds from the race benefit the Parent-Teacher Fellowship at Bandon Pacific Christian School and helps pay for field trips and other student events.

Free yoga on Wednesdays

A free yoga class is being offered at Unity of Bandon on Wednesdays at 9:30 a.m. Facilitator Dorothy Tharsing's intention in offering the class is allowing the space for folks to gain balance, stretch and strengthen their bodies in a gentle environment. All levels of participation and ability are welcome.

A guided meditation follows the class at 11 a.m. and all are welcome. Unity of Bandon is located on U.S. Highway 101 South, one mile south of 11th Street. Call 541-347-4696 for more information.

Single parent dinner offered

St. John Episcopal Church will be hosting another free Single Parent Dinner for parents and their children at 6 p.m. Friday, May 31. The church is located at 795 Franklin (corner of Franklin and Eighth) in Bandon.

The program will be presented by counselor Marty Burkett on "Self-Esteem and Taking Healthy Risks." She is using the work of Brene Brown in her presentation. There will be a cartoon video for the children. The menu is take-out pizza. Reservations are requested so organizers know how much pizza to order. Reservations can be made by calling 541-347-2152 (leave a message with name, phone number and number attending) or email stjohns@mycomspan.com with the same information.

"This is a no-strings-attached ministry for single parents in the community," said the Rev. Beth Hoffmann. "We seek to provide support for this population through educational programming and a night out with a good dinner!"

May library art

The May show at the Bandon Public Library features Dan and Anita Almich with "The World in Photography" in the Gallery and "Telling Stories with Collage," the artwork of Donna Cox, Susan Lehman and dorothea tortilla in the display cases.

Photographs by Dan and Anita Almich map their travels locally and around the world through colorful images that depict life through a photographer's eye.

Longtime photographers, the Almichs have progressed through the media of film, slides, and finally to digital. Retirement has allowed the family to travel and enjoy the natural beauty of the U.S. as well as many cultures of the world.

Dan and Anita moved to Bandon in 1989 with their two sons Daniel and Michael to enjoy the tranquility and beauty of the South Coast. Although busy with building their home and volunteer work, the family enjoyed traveling during the summer months and school vacations. There were many cruises taken and cross country road trips while the boys were attending Bandon schools.

Busy with their youth theater program, New Artists Productions, time does not always allow for extended trips, but whenever time does allow, they pack up their gear and hit the road. There is always some place or someone exciting or interesting to be investigated through the lens of a camera.

Although only a handful of their collection of thousands of photos will line the library gallery walls, "A World in Photography" brings forward the colors, smells, and highlights of their travels.

Mixed media artists Donna Cox, dorothea tortilla and Susan Lehman's show features altered books, collaged three-dimensional objects and artist-made books. All three artists reside in Bandon and have actively been a part of the arts community, involved in showing their three distinctive styles at local venues.

The library is located at 1204 11th St. S.W. in City Park and the show will run through May 31.

Bandon Feeds golf tourney

The five food assistance programs in Bandon have joined together again as Bandon Feeds the Hungry for another major fundraiser as they find that families in Bandon continue to need food assistance beyond what they are currently able to provide. A golf tournament will be held beginning with a shotgun start at 9 a.m. Saturday, June 1, at Bandon

Crossings. It's not too late to sign up as a team or individual with entry fees of $360 per four-person team ($90 per individual). Credit card entries can be taken over the phone by calling Bandon Crossings Golf Shop at 541-347-3232.

Lots of prizes will be awarded. Be sure to bring a non-perishable food item and be eligible for a drawing for a door prize, with winners to be announced after the tournament. Bandon's new Cranberry Court will be in attendance, McFarlin's Restaurant will be furnishing a barbecue lunch and Chris Powell of Bandon Baking Co. will furnish desserts. Hole sponsorships include Bain Insurance, Bandon Bill's Grill-Tony's Pizza, Begin Agains, Cardas Audio, Green Genes Smoothies, Honda World, Hwy Deli, Shindler's Health Mart Pharmacy and Umpqua Bank.

Bandon Crossings will donate $5 to Bandon Feeds the Hungry for every paid 18-hole green fee for games played between May 25 and May 31. Go to www.bandoncrossings.com to print your $5 voucher.

To become a hole sponsor, play at the tournament, donate a prize or for more information, contact Lyn Silverman at 541-347-1585 or email bandonlyn@yahoo.com.

Call to artists for summer show

Help celebrate the Port of Bandon's 100th birthday by creating a painting for this summer's art show on the Bandon Boardwalk. New art sign boards, 18 x 24 inches, are now available at Art By The Sea Gallery at the Continuum Building in Old Town, 541-347-5355 and at the Port of Bandon office, 541-347-3206.

This summer's theme is "100 Years on the Coquille River." Those interested in submitting a painting can check out the photographs at the Bandon Historical Society Museum or in the windows of the Coast Guard building for ideas, or can interpret the theme their own way, through images of fish and fishermen; seals and seagulls; fishing boats; tall ships; the idea of 100 or of 100 years; Bandon; Bandon history. The paintings are due Monday, July 1, and visitors to the boardwalk will have all summer to vote for their favorites. A juror will pick prize-winners as well. Cash prizes will be awarded during the Cranberry Festival when the port buries its time capsule.

Vicki Affatati will once again be working with the students at Harbor Lights Middle School to create the student portion of the show.

The exhibit is being sponsored by the Port of Bandon and AVK Arts, a foundation whose mission is to promote art in public places. Bandon True Value Hardware and Bandon Supply have once again helped with supplies for the school part of the project.

Bandon Golf for Health Classic

The sixth annual Bandon Golf for Health Classic will raise about $20,000 to help buy the most modern equipment for patient care at Bandon's 19-bed Southern Coos Hospital. The event is the single largest fundraiser annually for the Southern Coos Health Foundation, and is now one of the most popular golf tournaments on the South Coast, according to tournament chairman John Ohanesian of Bandon.

The 4-person, team best-ball scramble is scheduled for Saturday, July 20, at Bandon Crossings Golf Course, five miles south of Bandon on U.S. Highway 101. On Friday evening, July 19, a sponsors appreciation party (open to the public), kicks things off at Bandon Face Rock Golf Course, starting with a 4:30 p.m. just-for-fun, mini-horserace golf event, and followed by the party featuring great food, a silent auction and an awards presentation honoring the sponsors that help make this golf fundraiser so successful.

Before the 11 a.m. shotgun start Saturday, players can enjoy a continental breakfast catered by Coastal Mist. They can challenge the infamously tough putting contest course, where a $3 per round trip attempt could win them $100 in cash. They also can try their luck at the all new snag golf event, or just hit the range to warm up. The tournament awards prizes for the top three teams and for men's and women's long drives and KP's. A hole in one on any par 3 is awarded, with $25,000 on No. 14.

Afterwards, golfers can enjoy food by Pete's Famous BBQ. The prize awards, raffle drawings and some enticing live auction items follow. As the grand finale, one player will have a go at the $1 million shot. For more details, to sign up or become a sponsor, visit the tournament's website at bandongolfclassic.org. You also can call Melody at Southern Coos Health Foundation, 541 329-1040 or email foundation@southerncoos.org.

Open house at Roaring Sea Arts

From 1-4 p.m. Sunday, May 26, musicians, poets, artists and friendly people will gather for another "last Sunday of the month" Open House at Roaring Sea Arts in Port Orford.

Besides the usual sounds of the Kammeroque ensemble, Luke Kachelein of Bandon, who used to be a regular member, now a student at Vassar, will provide additional music. His brother Strider and the other three members of the ensemble may be joined by other musicians, poets, writers and artists who are always invited.

"We welcome all, whether participants or audience, so on Sunday, May 26, from 1 to 4 p.m., please join us to enjoy sharing sights and sounds, and pot-luck snacks," said hostess Donna Roselius. Refreshments are provided.

For further information about treats of all kinds (edible, musical, artistic), call Donna at 541-332-4444 or Suzanne at 541-332-0540.

The entrance to the Roselius home, where Roaring Sea Studio is located, is the driveway shared with the Sea Crest Motel on U.S. Highway 101 just south of Port Orford. Turn left from the end and park at the first house (No. 40). Park along the main driveway, or in neighboring driveways, wherever there is room. The Lincolns, neighbors at the cul-de-sac, allow parking on the right hand side of their driveway.

BBQ, Blues and Brews at The Mill

The Mill Casino-Hotel will present its second annual BBQ, Blues & Brews on the Bay on May 24-26.

The highlight of the event is a Kansas City Barbecue Society-sanctioned barbecue contest sponsored by Green Mountain Grills and Marshfield Bargain House. Starting Saturday at noon, more than 25 BBQ competitors will be serving 2-ounce samples for $1.

Live music will be performed by Coup d'Bop, The Vipers and Soulpie.

On Saturday and Sunday, beer lovers can sample 21 regional craft beers for $10 per guest. All proceeds from the samples will go to the Bay Area Chamber of Commerce and the Coos Historical & Maritime Museum.

Also on Saturday, Hill Meats will sponsor hot dog eating contest. The first round begins at 1:30 p.m. with a competition for firemen, followed by rounds for police officers, local media — including World reporter George Artsitas — and the general public. The winners of each of round will advance to the final round that begins at 3:30 p.m. Prizes will be awarded to the top three places.

Sunday at noon, after slaving away all night over their smokers, competitors will begin turning over their delectable edibles to the KCBS-sanctioned judges. New to the competition this year is a fifth category — Rancher's Reserve Beef Cut Top Sirloin. BBQ, Blues and Brews on the Bay is one of 10 competitions around the country chosen to participate in a Points Race in this category. At the end of the year, the team with the most points will win an additional $5,000 from Rancher's Reserve.

Also new to the event, Jim Monihan Mac 'n' Cheese Challenge. In honor of the late BBQ aficionado, competitors will turn over their best cheesy creation to a panel of celebrity judges for cash prizes. Mac 'n' cheese samples will be available 2:30-3:30 p.m. Sunday for a dollar each.

The event will conclude at 4 p.m. Sunday when the judges will announce the winners and award a total of over $7,000 in prize money.

State offices close for holiday

much-needed maintenance and dredging that is critical to their community's survival."

The amendment, co-sponsored by Senator Jeff Merkley, D-Ore., was included in the Water Resources Development Act that now goes to the House. The Oregon ports potentially benefiting from the Wyden amendment include Brookings Harbor, Gold Beach, Port Orford, Bandon, Coos Bay and Charleston Boat Harbor, Umpqua, Siuslaw, Toledo, Newport, Depoe Bay and Garibaldi.

The Senate version of the water resources bill provides $1.6 billion in vital funding to address navigation infrastructure needs over the long-term. The increased funding is critical to ensuring that Oregon's smaller ports receive much needed dredging and maintenance.

Other South Coast-related amendments in the Senate-passed bill include:

- Water Infrastructure Financing and Innovation Act: Senator Merkley's pilot program to provide low-interest loans for flood control projects and drinking/wastewater treatment facilities.

- State-based watershed planning: Involves the states in watershed planning decisions that will help better target limited federal dollars and technical assistance to where it is most needed and eliminate duplicative efforts.

- Rural community flood protection act: Helps rural communities that cannot afford to have their levees certified and are facing increases in flood insurance premiums due to the lack of the certification.

- Section 214 permanence: Allows the Army Corps of Engineers to accept funds from non-federal public entities, like ports, to hire additional regulatory staff to expedite the permitting process.

- Dam optimization: Provides clearer authority to the Army Corps of Engineers to identify unrealized benefits from the existing water infrastructure by updating and optimizing operations of existing dams.

rate remains unchanged at 46 cents per $1,000 of assessed valuation. The local option street levy remained unchanged at 85 cents per $1,000 assessed valuation, and 50 cents per $1,000 assessed valuation was levied for general obligation bond repayments.

No retail electric rate increases are included in the proposed budget, although a rate increase might be necessary later this fiscal year since Bonneville Power Administration is projecting a wholesale rate increase of approximately 7.3 percent on Oct. 1, according to Winkel.

No water or sewer rate increases are proposed for the upcoming fiscal year, although a water rate increase is projected next year and sewer rate increases will eventually be necessary to cover future sewer system operation and maintenance cost increases.

Copies of the proposed budgets are available for viewing and copying at City Hall. The budget message outlining the major features and projects proposed for the upcoming fiscal year can be accessed on the city website at www.ci.bandon.or.us.

manslaughter and negligent homicide. If convicted, the negligent homicide charge could've netted her a mandatory 75-month prison sentence.

"This is obviously a unique case, one of which the court has never seen," Judge Richard L. Barron said.

Recklessly endangering another person is classified as a Class A misdemeanor.

Rebeck also has agreed to maintain her license in good standing once obtained and while working to obtain her license, has agreed to only assist in the birth of a baby while under the direct and personally present direction of a properly licensed direct entry midwife or certified nurse midwife. She also has been ordered to pay any financial obligations as ordered by the court.

Rebeck's attorney Laura Fine Moro contends that discrimination led to the charges in the first place.

"We usually do not bring criminal charges against health care providers for their judgment calls in the inexact matter of providing health care," Moro said. "In this case, it is clear that criminal charges were brought against Ms. Rebeck for perceived mistakes only because, as an unlicensed midwife, there was no governing board to sanction her."

Coos County District Attorney R. Paul Frasier defended his decision to pursue charges against Rebeck.

"It has been alleged by some that I personally have animosity toward midwives in general," Frasier said in a press release. "One recent accusation has been made that myself or 'the government' is trying to force all women to have their babies in hospitals. Those statements are untrue.

"I firmly believe that a woman has the right to make all decisions when it comes to the birth of her child. A woman has an absolute right to give birth at home with the assistance of a midwife. At the same time, the woman also has the right to competent advice and action regardless of who she chooses to assist in the birth of her baby."

Frasier went on to say that the case was not about midwives or home births, but rather about the death of a baby girl that, according to medical experts, "was totally preventable."

"This case was about a family that needlessly lost a child," Frasier wrote. "In all of the publicity and political posturing that has occurred, we need to remember the true victim in this case."

Frasier attached to the press release a victim statement written by Bethany Reed of Bandon, the mother of the baby who died. Read the statement online at www.theworldlink.com/bandon.

Outside the courthouse, Rebeck collapsed in tears into the arms of one of her supporters but declined comment to the press.

Moro said now Rebeck can get back to work.

"By taking this offer, Ms. Rebeck ensures her family and community that she will not go to prison and that she will continue to be present to provide the ongoing services and support all have come to rely upon."

Her next court date is May 15, 2018.

Unfortunately, some capital credits refund checks issued in 2008 were never cashed. That's why we're looking for you. Please call 1 (866) 305-1278 if your name appears on the list, you are legally authorized to claim one of these checks, you have the current address of someone on this list or the member on this list is deceased and you are an heir. ## Tigers have strong day at district track meet

By John Gunther
Bandon Western World

Bandon's track and field team is sending several athletes to this week's state meet in Eugene.

The Tigers finished fourth for boys and fifth for girls in the district meet at Lakeview on Friday and Saturday.

The state meet starts today at Hayward Field and concludes Friday.

Bandon senior Justin Angove was a double-winner and qualified for state in three events.

He won his specialty, the 300-meter hurdles, easily beating his top rival, Seth Gretz of Rogue River, along the way. Angove's time of 40.17 was one of his slower efforts, but still more than .7 seconds faster the Gretz.

Angove also won the 400 meters in 51.99 seconds and took second in the 200 meters.

He is passing on the 400 at state and instead will focus on the hurdles, where he is seeded first, and the 200, where he is the No. 4 seed.

Marcus Hardman placed second in the 100 at district and is seeded seventh for state.

JJ England placed second in the javelin and will compete in that event at state.

Both overcame a lot to qualify, Haga said.

Hardman has been battling shin splints and issues with the arches of his feet all season.

"As soon as he is done competing at state, he is going to have rehab on his ankles and feet so he can be stronger," Haga said.

England, meanwhile, missed several weeks of practice with pneumonia and bronchitis.

Still, he had a personal best throw of 141-3 in the meet, and has been consistently throwing over 150 in practice this week.

"For him to come back and throw that, we are just happy and pleased with him," Haga said.

For the girls, two Tigers won district titles, though only one will get to compete at state.

Freshman Toni Hall won the high jump for Bandon.

Senior teammate Claire Ledig set a lifetime best while winning the long jump with a leap of 16 feet, 5 inches. But Ledig, who has battled injuries all season, pulled a hamstring muscle during the final of the 200 meters and now won't be able to compete in the state meet.

After qualifying for state all three years of high school, not to mention competing in the North American finals of the Hershey Track Meet when she was younger, the injury was devastating for Ledig, Haga said.

That was both a heart-breaking and heart-warming moment at the meet, Haga said.

"For every single kid on the Bandon track team to come out of the stairs and rally around her and support her — there wasn't a dry eye on the team," Haga said.

Hannah Smith qualified for state in two events, taking second in the 100 meters and an amazingly tight triple jump final. Winner Shelby Thompson of Glide, Smith and Halona Jackson of Illinois Valley were separated by just a half-inch in the final standings.

"The triple jump is her baby," said Haga. "She practiced and practiced and practiced."

The event is coached by Sharon's son, Sean, who won the state title in the triple jump when he competed for Bandon.

Bandon's freshman distance runners also both advanced to state, with Sarah Cutler taking second in the 1,500 and Aida Santoro taking second in the 3,000.

"I call them my freshman beauties," Sharon Haga said of Cutler, Santoro and Hall. "They're like the sweetest girls in the freshman class. The freshman class is a great class, but these girls stand out. They're just super nice people."

This is the first year all six state meets are at Hayward Field.

"My kids are thrilled to be running at Hayward Field," Haga said. "Especially Justin Angove and Marcus Hardman. They know the history of it."

"They are so excited to be going, and so humble. For me as a coach, it makes me so proud of them."

Today's first day includes preliminaries and half the field events for Class 3A, 2A and 1A. The larger schools hold their preliminaries Friday morning, while the smaller schools will have their running finals and the rest of the field events Friday afternoon and evening.

Admission is $10 for adults and $5 for students each day.

The Tigers had a number of other placers at the district meet.

For the boys, Hardman was fourth in the 200 and Shannon Forty was eighth in the 400. The quartet of Angove, Hardman, Mitchell Brown and Trae Dyer took third in the 4x100 relay, while the group of Forty, Hardman, Maison, Menser and Colton Jennings was fourth in the 4x400 relay.

Big jump

Claire Ledig set a personal best while winning the long jump at the district meet.

Menser placed sixth in the javelin and Alex Killough was sixth in the long jump.

For Bandon's girls, Smith was seventh in the 200 and Hall was fifth in the high hurdles. In the throwing events, Alana Hultin was sixth and Kristina Knox eighth in the shot put, Kady Valentine was fifth in the discus, and Haley Freitag was eighth in the javelin. Riley Wahl placed third in the high jump.

Golf tourney for BHS football

The Bandon High school football team will be holding its fourth annual golf scramble on Saturday, May 25, at Bandon Crossings golf course.

Food will be served, prizes given out and a raffle will be held after the tournament. All entry fees will be tax deductible and will include a season pass to all BHS home football games for the 2013 season.

Trout season opens on rivers and streams Saturday

Local lakes: Warmer water temperatures are making it difficult for bank anglers trying to catch rainbow trout. The recently stocked trout are moving out into deeper and cooler water. Bank anglers will have better success fishing early mornings or evenings when the sun is off the water. Boat anglers trolling have the option of fishing different depths until they locate fish. The warmer lake temperatures are helping largemouth bass anglers hook some nice fish. Anglers fishing Tenmile Lakes last weekend hooked bass on Zoom Baby Brush Hogs as well as Senko plastic worms.

John from Ringo's Lakeside Marina told me that not all the bass are on their spawning beds and anglers are catching bass in a variety of depths.

Fishing for yellow perch in some of the dune lakes has been decent. Most of the perch reported have been small, so anglers have been sorting out the bigger fish to keep. Bluegills and black crappie are becoming more active with the warmer water temperatures. Bradley Lake in Bandon has a small population of black crappie and a few nice largemouth bass.

Crappie tend to be close to shore near down timber which they use for cover. A small jig tipped with a piece of night crawler can be very effective.

Local rivers: This Saturday is opening day for trout fishing in local rivers and streams including tide water and bays. Anglers are restricted to the use of artificial flies and lures in streams above tide water. With the local rivers and streams in low and clear conditions anglers will want to focus their efforts near the mouths of deeper pools. Trout will also be more active in early mornings and evenings.

Anglers fishing the lower Rogue River for spring Chinook are reporting lots of salmon pulling, and on the move, but very few takers due to the low and clear river conditions. Salmon were also on the move this weekend on the Umpqua River. One guide boat reported catching four Chinook on Saturday and three on Sunday near the low water bridge. A change in water temperature, and a let up of moss flow is said to have helped spring salmon fishermen last weekend on the Umpqua.

About a dozen drift boats were anchored up near Sawyer Rapids shad fishing last weekend. Anglers are reporting catches of 50 to 60 shad per outing on the main stem of the Umpqua. We have not received any reports of shad taken on the Coos River. A few shad were caught on the upper Coquille River last weekend by drift boats anchored above the town of Coquille.

Pacific ocean: Fishing for Pacific halibut was decent for sport boats that made it out to the Bandon High Spot last Friday and Saturday. Ken and Wayne Butler have been running halibut and bottomfish trips out of Bandon this spring because of the favorable ocean conditions. On a recent bottomfish trip passengers caught a variety of local bottomfish including ling cod, tiger rock fish, quillback, vermilion and yellowtail rock fish. For more info on upcoming halibut dates or a great bottomfish trip, call Prowler Charters at 541-347-1900.

Area shellfish: A few nice hard shelled Dungeness crab are still being caught off of Webers Pier in Bandon. Crabbers are sorting through lots of female and undersized males. A series of very low minus tides should have plenty of clammers out on local beaches and bays this Memorial Day weekend. Don't forget the Port of Bandon's Marine Swap Meet and Blessing of the Fleet in the harbor this weekend.

Note: ODFW angler education instructor Jay Chojnacki will host a class on spinner making tomorrow from 6-8 p.m. in the Port of Bandon's picnic shelter on the boardwalk.

Tony Roszkowski owns and operates Port O' Call — TonysCrab Shack.com — on the Bandon waterfront. Many South Coast anglers rely on his fish and shellfish reports. Hear more from Tony on 'Oregon Outdoors' Thursdays on KWRO 6130 AM. Email us your report at tonyscrabshack7@gmail.com. You can follow Tony's fishing and shellfish reports on Facebook.com/tonyscrabshack.
