Did you know?

Did you know that the first mass produced toothbrush was developed in 1780, and used the hair from cow tails?

It's true! William Addis came up with the idea while in prison, using the know-how of the Chinese, who had toothbrushes way back in the 1500's. The brushes were made of stiff cow hair and bones. Soon toothbrushes were made using other materials, like hog bristles!

We've come a long way! With excellent dental care from Dr. Strong, you will protect your teeth, look great, and feel even better. With dental implants, you can now keep your smile for a lifetime! We're here to help!

Quilts and photography show opens at Southern Coos

"Something Old, Something New, Something Borrowed, Something Blue," is the name of the new show of quilts and photography that opens at Southern Coos Hospital & Health Center Sunday, July 13, with a reception for the public from 1-3 p.m.

The show features quilts by members of the Bandon Quilter's Guild, imported quilts on loan from The Gypsy Wagon and quilts by family members of employees at the hospital.

The photographs include a series by Tammy Housego, which she has been working on for seven years that celebrates couples who have been married for many years (hence the name of the overall show); photographs taken by Bandon High School students in the classes of Martha Kemple; and photographs on the theme of old/new/borrowed/blue by Janis Cedras Ayers. Ayers is a newcomer to Bandon, having moved here just a year ago, but no newcomer to photography; she worked for seven years with singer/songwriter Paul Simon, touring with his Graceland Tour, photographing and documenting his travels around the world. Ayers is also a poet, and these photos attest to her poetic eye. This will be the first exhibit of her photography in Coos County, and will include a sculpture by her husband Ken Ayers, whose works have been shown at SWOCC and the Coos Art Museum, as well as galleries on the East Coast.

Mark Tierney and Robin Rauch will provide music for the opening (they both sing and play guitar) and refreshments will be provided by the Southern Coos Hospital Auxiliary. A vintage crazy-quilt offered by Caroline Halfwassen will be at the hospital for one day only on Sunday, July 13. All are welcome to make bids. The high school photographs will be on display through August. All the other works will remain on display until the end of September.

Summer Opry begins with boot scootin'

Little Theatre on the Bay is ready to present their Summer Opry performances with amazing local talent. The first and third weekends in July are Country Opry. The first opry is set to begin at 7 p.m. Saturday, July 12, and if you miss Saturday night's performance you can catch a Sunday matinee at 2 p.m. Sunday, July 13. More Country Opry is at the same times Saturday, July 26, and Sunday, July 27. On July 19-20 it's Rock and Roll Opry and Aug. 2 and 3 will be the Director's Choice Opry. Little Theatre on the Bay is located at 2100 Sherman Ave. in North Bend. Tickets for all performances are $13 and available online at <http://tob.net>.
