Family: 911 shooting unjustified

DA, Sheriff's Office claim responding officers followed all proper protocol

By Amy Moss Strong and Tyler Richardson
Bandon Western World

BANDON — The family of a Bandon man who was shot by police on Christmas Day contends the shooting was unjustified.

Charles "Chuck" Wayne Crum, 52, is the older brother of Girly Crum, who is serving a life sentence for killing five people in Bandon in 1997.

"I feel part of the reason this happened is because of who Chuck is related to," said his sister Kathy Crum of Bandon. "It's scary that you can have a health problem and because of your last name get shot because of paranoid cops."

Police fired between 30 and 50 shots after Charles Crum opened his trailer door and allegedly brandished a pellet gun. Crum was grazed by one shot and was hit in the arm with another. He was subsequently arrested.

Charles Crum has not been charged with any crimes in connection with the Dec. 25 shooting.

Police said Crum initially refused treatment for his injuries at Bay Area Hospital, but Kathy Crum said her brother told her he was later treated at Coquille Valley Hospital. He remains in jail on an unrelated charge.

Kathy Crum contends police used excessive force, and the family has consulted a Portland lawyer about the case.

Charles Crum initially called 911 at about 6:15 p.m. that day for an ambulance because he was having chest pains,

'King tides' should roll in today

BANDON — Oregon's coastal residents will experience some of the year's highest tides this week. The high tides, known as "king tides" will occur Jan. 10, 11 and 12.

This week's tides for Bandon are listed on the sports page, A10, of this issue.

King tides are normally occurring events caused by predictable astronomical factors that result in tides that are higher than most high tides. Areas affected by these king tides are susceptible to higher water levels from increased wave heights, winter storms and changes in sea levels.

Similarly high tides were seen last month, on Dec. 12-14 and Nov. 13-15.

Sea level is predicted to rise over the next century. Several areas of the Oregon coast are already vulnerable to high water levels because of their low elevations and proximity to the shore line, according to information on the King Tide website. Rising sea levels means that areas inundated by today's highest tides are expected to be inundated more frequently in the future.

Bandon's population grows by 15

BANDON — The city's population grew last year, but just barely.

According to the preliminary 2012 population estimates from the Portland State University Population Research Center, the July 1, 2012 population estimate for Bandon is 3,100. This represents an increase of 15 people over last year's estimate of 3,085, for an annual growth rate just under one half of one percent, or 0.5 percent.

The 2010 Census count for Bandon showed a population of 3,066 as of April 1, 2010, which was 233 people above the 2000 Census count of 2,833.

The Portland State University Population Research Center was formed in 1956 for the purpose of preparing annual population estimates for

Charged environment

By Amy Moss Strong, Bandon Western World

An electric vehicle charging station is being constructed at Bandon City Hall and should be completed by February. Residents without electric vehicles are allowed to park in the spaces as well, according to the city manager.

Electric station nears completion

BANDON — The city's new electric car charging station, scheduled to be completed by November, is now set to be done by February.

The charging station is a carport structure being constructed over the three northernmost parking spaces in City Hall's parking lot adjacent to U.S. Highway 101. The structure will support an array of solar panels on its roof to generate electric power. The solar panels will be connected to the grid to help offset some of the electric utility costs at City Hall and will feature level 1 and level 2 chargers for charging electric vehicle batteries, with a connection for electric wheelchairs and scooters, according to City Manager Matt Winkel.

The total budget for the project is $97,000. It is being funded by a $67,000 grant from the Bonneville Environmental Foundation, a national nonprofit organization that promotes the development of renewable energy resources. The grant will be matched with $30,000 from the City's Energy Conservation budget. Those funds were already designated for energy conservation and energy efficiency projects.

Bonneville Environmental Foundation received and awarded bids for constructing the project. The carport structure was built by Americorp Construction, Inc. from Bandon. The solar array and charging station are being installed by Sol Coast Consulting and Design from Coos Bay. City electric and public works crews are also helping on the project.

"There are no public electric vehicle charging station on this area of the South Coast, so tourist visitors with electric vehicles can often be precluded from coming to Bandon due to the range of their vehicles," Winkel said. "In addition to accommodating local residents and customers who visit City Hall, the new facility is intended to help promote our tourist businesses by providing a place where electric vehicle owners can charge their vehicle while they are enjoying a meal or shopping."

In addition, by starting with a single installation, the city can obtain experience operating and maintaining this type of facility, Winkel said. Its energy production and usage will be monitored to determine whether it would be cost effective to install solar energy systems and electric vehicle charging stations at other public facilities and additional locations. The Bandon Police Department has acquired two used vehicles that will replace existing vehicles. The pictured two Dodge Chargers each have about 56,000 miles and were purchased by the city of Bandon for $9,500 each from Auto Additions in Portland. The vehicles were previously used by the Woodburn Police Department and came fully equipped minus the radios. Sgt. Larry Lynch and officer James Partee will be driving the vehicles.

Judge dismisses impropriety claim in midwife case

By Tyler Richardson
Bandon Western World

COQUILLE — A Coos County judge shot down attempts by Marcene Rebeck's defense lawyer to have her manslaughter and homicide charges dropped Monday.

Attorney Laura Fine Moro argued the case against the unlicensed Bandon midwife should be dismissed due to an impropriety during a grand jury hearing, as well as confusion over how her client allegedly caused the death of an infant she had delivered.

But Circuit Court Judge Richard Barron upheld the charges of criminal negligent homicide and second-degree manslaughter. Rebeck was indicted on the charges in July 2012.

Fine Moro was unfazed. "No surprises," she said after the hearing.

The hearing was held in a courtroom crowded with lawyers and Rebeck supporters. Rebeck sat quiet for nearly all of the proceedings, but afterward she lingered in the hallway to hug and greet friends.

In her motion to dismiss, Fine Moro said Coos County District Attorney Paul Frasier told a juror that he had invited Rebeck to testify at the hearing, but that she chose not to attend. Fine Moro argued that Frasier created the notion that Rebeck was hiding something.

Frasier said he told the jury that Rebeck was under no obligation to come to the hearing and not to assume anything because of her absence. The judge ruled that Frasier did nothing improper.

In a separate argument, Fine Moro said the state was not specific on how Rebeck allegedly caused the baby's death. She also argued the difference in mindsets between the mainstream medical field and unlicensed midwives would skew the opinions of the state's Howard.

“They learn how to run a show from start to finish,” Howard said. “It is an incredible opportunity for teamwork and meeting challenges. Each year, the seniors and returning juniors naturally step into the roles that the previous year’s seniors left them to fill. It is a joy to watch the development of the speech team members as they gain experience and confidence on the stage.”

Taking the first step — banning plastic bags

C&K Market Inc. has taken a proactive approach to helping the planet by banning plastic bags at all of its stores. Starting Monday, the company will only offer paper or reusable bags at checkout. It's a controversial subject that is difficult to legislate, although Portland, Eugene and Corvallis have successfully done so. But taking such an approach and offering a 5-cent-per-bag incentive for customers to use reusable bags is commendable. See the story in this issue on page A7.

I know I often forget my reusable bags, but I will make more of an effort to put them in the car on my way to the grocery store. It's an easy but important step in controlling the amount of non-recyclables in our landfills and other places where plastic bags often end up, including all around town on our frequent windy days as well as the ocean, where they can do considerable harm to the sensitive ecosystem.

I hope the City Council will consider discussing a initiative for Bandon now that Ray's has led the way.

spent her birthday on Dec. 1 cheering on the Beavs as they posted their record-breaking 77 points against Nicholls State. “I would love for the team or Coach Riley to send her something — anything — acknowledging this very cool coincidence,” Therese wrote. “I was thinking a team photo taken during the Nicholls State game that said Happy 77th Birthday Donna Reilly, signed by some of the team members and Coach Riley.”

Therese went on to explain to Gary Beck of OSU that not only have her parents Jim and Donna Reilly been Beaver football fans since the early 1960s, but Jim Reilly graduated from OSU's

School of Forestry in the early 1960s, Therese herself graduated from OSU in 1979, her husband in 1980, one of her brothers in the late 1980s and her daughter in 2000. “We proudly wear the orange and black and cheer for our Beavs through thick and thin — for over 50 years! I know my mom would be thrilled with an acknowledgment that the Beavs scored 77 points on her 77th birthday.”

As the result of Therese's letter, Coach Riley sent Donna a signed commemorative football.

Residents may know Donna from her work as long-time office manager for Southern Coos Hospital. A sweet lady, Donna definitely deserved such an honor.

Stay tuned on swimming pool

On behalf of the Bandon Community Swimming Pool Development Corporation, I would like to thank all of the donors in 2012 who helped bring the concept of a Bandon community swimming pool that much closer to reality. This year the BCSPDC has raised more than $40,000 from grants and donations from such institutions as the Smart Family Foundation, The Sprague Foundation and Cycle Oregon.

I would also like to thank the residents of Bandon for all of the quarters, dimes, nickels and pennies that totaled more than $1,300 for the year. Most of all, the BCSPDC appreciates the continued words of support that the Bandon community continually expresses toward the project — they are priceless.

With the new year comes new strategies for achieving our goal. Stay tuned to our website at <http://www.bandonpool.com> and Facebook page for updates in the upcoming months.

A soup kitchen in Bandon?

My husband and I have a two-fold question regarding Bandon.

First, is there a need for a soup kitchen in Bandon? Does Bandon have enough people who would benefit from having a place to go once a day to get a hot bowl of soup, some warm bread and a hot cup of coffee or tea, and some milk or juice for the children?

Second, if so, is there a large enough, empty building that a person could set up tables and chairs and a serving counter to set up coffee pots and such, that someone would be willing to donate for such a cause?

If the answer is yes to both questions, could anyone who is interested in helping with this cause, or who knows if we need a soup kitchen in Bandon, email me at gclymer@hotmail.com?

SWCD meeting productive

The 2012 Coos Soil & Water Conservation District annual meeting was held at the OSU Extension Office in Myrtle Point on the evening of Dec. 7. Thirty-six private landowners, county officials and agency representatives enjoyed a dinner catered by Spruce Street Bar & Grill of Myrtle Point with potluck sides.

The annual meeting's “Year in Review” featured projects that have improved agriculture-related water quality in Coos County. The dinner was an opportunity to thank the partners and private cooperators who work with the Coos SWCD to protect and improve the natural resources so important to agriculture and Coos County residents.

The 2012 SWCD Cooperator of the Year was Sandy Jones of Green Acres, who received a plaque. A presentation about her ranch's sediment abatement project showed culverts replaced with bridges.

Also announced: The winners of the 30th annual Guerin Memorial Essay Contest, open to grades seventh through 12th to encourage awareness of natural resource issues among kids.

Essay contest awards were presented by Anne Guerin and Cheryl Griffith, daughters of the late Tom and Dorothy Guerin. A plaque with the first-place winner's name will be displayed at Myrtle Point Junior/Senior High School for the coming year.

The winners were: Ireland Tall Hunter, first place, received $150 and a certificate. Ireland read her essay entitled “Conservation Techniques That Can Be Used To Decrease Soil Erosion In Coos County.”

Kayley Leslie of Myrtle Point, second place, received $125 and a certificate.

Nicole Fossum of North Bend, third place, received $100 and a certificate.

The evening was wrapped up with a presentation by guest speaker George Taylor, unofficial state climatologist for Oregon. Taylor presented oceanic and atmospheric data to demonstrate cyclical weather patterns useful for predicting future trends and information about the three oceanic cycles: Normal, La Nina and El Nino.

Come join the Lions

Facts about the Bandon Lions Club: We believe we are the hardest working service club in the world! Our club was started in Bandon in 1951.

The Bandon Lions held their meetings in the old Barn. The Barn started as the stable for 22 horses the U.S. Coast Guard used to patrol the beach during World War II.

The Lions helped remodel The Barn for meetings and then eventually were instrumental in helping the Sprague Community Theater get built.

We are a world wide service club. Our current club has 22 members. Our club is aging. With members such as Myron Spady at 89 and several more in their 80s, we are asking for new and younger members to help us with our many service projects.

Our club built the Good Neighbors food distribution building, the serving sheds and stage in City Park and our club maintained them for many years.

We have a free Easter egg hunt for the children each year, we sponsor the Boy Scouts and give them a meeting place.

We support the Local Aid Fund, the Bandon High School Speech Team, BRAVO and Caught Being Good at Ocean Crest Elementary School. We give scholarships to graduating Bandon High School seniors. We give funds to Bandon Pacific Christian School.

We also help fund the following: The Barn, U.S. Coast Guard memorial, diabetes awareness, Bandon Feeds the Hungry and Southern Coos Hospital & Health Center.

We also give free eye examinations to all the children in our area. We help with eye examinations and eye glasses for low income individuals in our community.

We welcome visitors and new members. Our address is Bandon Lions Club, P.O. Box 1501, Bandon, OR 97411. We meet every Wednesday at noon at The Barn. You are welcome to come and see what we are about!

Thank you for donations

The students, parents, teachers, staff and school board would like to take this opportunity to sincerely thank Ray's Food Place, Price 'n Pride and Bullards Beach State Park for their continued donations to our precious Christian school. The staff has helped us collect bottles and cans for our students to redeem, as well as contributed several generous gift cards or donated goods for our various fundraisers. Their continued consideration has resulted in our earning several hundred dollars to use for our school and for activities such as field trips that we couldn't otherwise take.

The students and staff signed Christmas cards to show their grateful appreciation, which were mailed to these organizations. If any other groups or businesses wish to donate to our school, please call 541-347-2464, and we will be happy to coordinate with you. We wish all of our sponsors and donors a blessed Christmas and extend best wishes for a happy and prosperous New Year. God bless you, one and all!

This week, complete your kit

For the past several weeks I have been listing items to purchase to complete a 72-hour disaster preparedness kit. As I have mentioned, a 72-hour kit is only a good start. Fourteen days is much better and more if you can manage it. Building an emergency kit does not need to break the bank. Picking up a few extra items now and then will build up over a period of time and before long your pantry is filled with supplies that will carry you through a disaster. But for now the primary plan is to “just do it.”

- Week 7 shopping list:
1. Small tool kit. Include a wrench (slip-joint wrench like Channellocks or water pump pliers) for shutting off utilities, hammer, nails, screwdrivers, screws, duct tape, zip ties and on and on. This is one aspect of the kit that can grow, swell and increase with every trip to the hardware store.
  2. Signal flares.
  3. Insect repellent. While we're on this topic, I have recently read about people using wasp/hornet spray for personal defense. It's less expensive than pepper spray, reaches out at least 20 feet and temporarily incapacitates anyone intent on causing you harm.
  4. Sunscreen.
  5. Granola or dry cereal.
  6. Extra pet food. Also if your pet requires medication, get some extra for them as well. Also don't forget, your pet requires water.
  7. Fire extinguisher. Be sure it carries the ABC rating. If you need training in its use, contact your local fire department.

Tips:
Be sure to include pets in your plan.
When you leave town, take your go-bag along.

DISASTER PREPAREDNESS FOR THE REST OF US

DAVE ROBINSON

Disasters don't always happen while you're at home.

Keep your car's gas tank above a half-tank. You never know when you get that call in the middle of the night to go visit your ailing, wealthy aunt in the hospital. Not a time to be out of gas and none available.

As I have mentioned before, survival is not a kit. Survival is a plan and the kit should be a part of your plan. Keep your kit in a single location, not strewn about the house, some things in one closet, other items in the basement and yet other things stacked in the garage. Try to set aside an area for all your gear and supplies. When the power goes out and things are mildly chaotic at your house, you don't want to be searching in the dark for your stuff.

Make sure the battery powered lantern is the most easily-located item in your inventory. The power seldom goes out during daylight hours. Flashlights, lanterns and other lighting devices are the first things you will want to get operational.

This concludes the seven part series on Building Your Kit. If you missed any of the installments, they will eventually be posted on my blog at www.disaster-prepdave.blogspot.com. You may also email me at disasterprep.dave@gmail.com, I will send you the chapters you missed. Happy prepping!

(Dave Robinson is Bandon's postmaster and has worked for the postal service for 30 years. He has a background in law enforcement, served in the Air Force in Vietnam, worked nine years for the Coos County Sheriff's Department and serves on the Myrtle Point School Board, where he lives.)

In and Around Bandon

'Trees' to open Sunday at SC Hospital

The artists reception for the "Trees" show at Southern Coos Hospital will be held from 1-3 p.m. Sunday, Jan. 13. The show will feature works by some of the finest painters and photographers in the area, including David Castleberry and Robin Jenkins of Coos Bay, Susan Applegate of Yoncalla, Magda Druzdzal of Gold Beach, Lane Hall of Medford, Janne LaValle of Lakeside, Steve and Susan Dimock of Bandon and all the Monday Plein Air Painters who have made "Trees" the subject matter of their paintings all this past summer and fall, according to local artist and show coordinator Victoria Tierney.

The show will also include paintings done by students of Harbor Lights Middle School and Bandon High School (working with Vicki Affatati and Jen Ells) and whatever surprises are contributed by Bandon residents and others from the Southern Oregon area.

"Oregonians have a very special love of trees, and the show will include some photos from the logging days of the old giants, as well as more fanciful meditations on everything from the Garden of Eden to trees as depicted in the Tarot of the Holy Light created by Christine Payne Towler and Michael Dowers," Tierney said.

The music on Sunday Jan. 13 will be provided by two young musicians who have never performed at the SCH art show openings before: Austin Crabtree and Vinnie Dovale. Austin plays guitar and Vinnie plays percussion. Everyone is invited. Refreshments will be provided by the Southern Coos Hospital Auxiliary.

The show will remain on display through March 31. It is sponsored by AVK Arts, a foundation based in Los Angeles whose mission is to promote art in public places.

Claire Lynch Band is next Showcase

Bandon Showcase presents the Grammy-nominated bluegrass Claire Lynch Band at 7:30 p.m., Friday, Jan. 18, at the Sprague Community Theater, 1202 11th St. S.W. in Bandon City Park.

An award-winning country artist and composer, Lynch's musical direction dates back to the days of the Front Porch String Band, offering a seasoned sound that is both unpretentious and richly textured. It's a down-home, front porch sensibility — until you realize that it's a rare front porch to have ever hosted musicians of this caliber.

The band features Jason Thomas on fiddle and mandolin who brings musical versatility and imagination; bassist Mark Schatz, longtime performer with Tim O'Brien and the O'Boys, who has a deft touch and masterful instinct for groove and will perform a little hambone and Appalachian clogging; and young Matt Wingate, who brings a mature improvisational musicality to the band.

Long recognized and praised as a creative force in acoustic music, Lynch is considered a pioneer who continually pushes the boundaries of the bluegrass genre. The current Claire Lynch Band is a powerful juggernaut, a quartet that has the innate ability to perfectly interpret the beauty, subtlety and genre-defying sophistication of Lynch's music. She plays compelling original tunes and has been nominated numerous times as IBMA vocalist of the year. Claire Lynch is a gifted writer and singer with a top-notch band.

Tickets cost $20 for reserved seating and are available by calling 541-347-SHOW (7469), at Bandon Mercantile (541-347-4341) or at the door.

'I Wanna Be a Star!' coming to Sprague

Commemorating 13 years of youth theater activities in Bandon, New Artists Productions will kick-off a very busy year of entertainment and celebration with the ninth annual "I Wanna Be a Star!" variety show. Show dates are Friday, Jan. 25, and Saturday, Jan. 26, at the Sprague Community Theater, 1202 11th St. S.W., in Bandon City Park. Show times are 7 p.m. both nights.

"The audience will again be impressed with the act variety and the talented youth we have in our area," said Anita Almich, who with her husband Dan founded New Artists. "The performers, ranging in age from 5 to 16, reside in Bandon, Coos Bay, Coquille, North Bend and Sixes. They have all worked hard to perfect their acts to make this an awesome show."

Some will perform to pre-recorded music or live accompaniment, some will sing a cappella and others will perform to their own live instrumental accompaniment. The music repertoire includes selections from the Broadway, country, pop and Christian genres. There will also be several dance routines and a reading of an original script accompanied by video.

New Artists Productions' variety shows provide an opportunity for young people to test their wings on the stage before an audience, said Anita Almich. For several performers, it is the first time they are performing, a testament to their desire to be on the stage, doing their own thing.

"Dan and I provide coaching and assistance, but the kids select the material, determine the presentation, choose their costumes and devote the needed practice time. We are simply in awe of the talent and desire of these kids to perform and show their individual interpretations," said Anita Almich.

This year's line-up of performers are Kristina Allen, Ava Buberl, Haley and Talia DeAndrea, Rhianna Dutcher, Sydney Flynn, Michael Guerin, Kyla Harris, Allie Hennick, Luke Johnson, Natalie and Isabella Jones, Nathan Malamud, Ian Stevenson, Cayce Train, David and Natalie Vincent, Daniel Wood and Megan Wood. A dance routine choreographed by Trish Shropshire also will be presented by Olivia Kincaid, Sailor Hutton, Victoria Moehring, Hadassah and Gracie Slater and Kristin Train. In addition to performing, Nicholas Zamora will serve as the show's Master of Ceremonies.

As in previous "I Wanna Be a Star!" variety shows, the grand finale is planned by the Almichs as a tribute to the talents of the performers. This year's act is "Laugh-In," with jokes and stories imitating the 1970s show.

Tickets, priced at $5 for all patrons, are available at Bandon True Value Hardware and at the Sprague Theater before each performance. For further information about the show or New Artists, call the Almichs at 541-347-2517.

A snack bar will also be available before each show and during intermission to help benefit future activities of the New Artists Productions program.

Author Night features journalist

Bob Welch is the guest speaker for Author Night at 7 p.m. Monday, Jan. 21, at the Bandon Public Library.

Welch is a speaker, author, award-winning columnist and teacher who has served as an adjunct professor of journalism at the University of Oregon in Eugene.

The focus of his talk will be his three new books which hit the shelves in late 2012 — "Fifty-Two Little Lessons from It's a Wonderful Life" (Nashville);

Thomas Nelson); "Resolve: From WWII Bataan, the Story of a Soldier, a Flag, and a Promise Kept" (New York: Penguin's Berkley Books); and "Cascade Summer: My Adventure on Oregon's Pacific Crest Trail" (Eugene: AO Creative).

Additionally, Welch has authored a dozen more books and, since 1999, nearly 2,000 columns for The (Eugene) Register-Guard. He has twice won the National Society of Newspaper Columnists' highest award for writing. He has won dozens of other journalism awards, including the 2010 and 2011 Oregon Newspaper Publishers Association's "Best Writing" awards. Other honors include the Seattle Times C.B. Blethen Award for Distinguished Feature Writing. Articles of Welch's have been published in more than a dozen books, including seven in the popular "Chicken Soup for the Soul" series. In addition, he has had articles published in such magazines as Los Angeles Times Magazine, Reader's Digest, Sports Illustrated and Runner's World. More information about Welch can be found at www.bobwelch.net.

"Join us to hear the trials and triumphs of this most eclectic author," said a spokeswoman.

There is no cost to attend, and refreshments will be served. The event is sponsored by Bandon Library Friends and Foundation.

St. John hosts Recovery Service

A Recovery Service will be held at 5:30 p.m. Sunday, Jan. 13, at St. John Episcopal Church, 795 Franklin Ave., using Taize music and meditation.

The liturgy for this service was developed by the Recovery Ministries of the Episcopal Church. Incorporated into the service are AA prayers and parts of the Twelve Steps.

"The liturgy is not only beautiful, but it is deeply comforting and healing for everyone whether they are associated with a Twelve Step Recovery Program or not," said a church spokeswoman. "Most people are recovering from something (or someone)."

The format for the Jan. 13 recovery service will be in the form of a Taize Service. The Taize community — an ecumenical religious order — developed this type of worship in France, using simple melodies and chants in a meditative way. Prayers and readings are interspersed with the meditative music. The service will end with a Eucharist.

St. John Recovery Service is held the second Sunday of each month at 5:30 p.m. For information call 541-347-2152.

Rogue Federal CU takes over Chetco

BANDON — Chetco Federal Credit Union is now Rogue Federal Credit Union.

On Dec. 28, the National Credit Union Administration announced that they have selected Rogue Federal Credit Union to purchase and assume Chetco Federal Credit Union's five Oregon branches and memberships. Coast Central Credit Union has agreed to purchase and assume the Crescent City Branch and California memberships. The new ownership took place Jan. 2.

The NCUA placed Chetco into conservatorship on Sept. 23, 2011 in order to protect the financial stability and safe-and-sound operations of the credit union, according to a press release from RFCU. The NCUA has been working to find a solution that was in the best interest for Chetco's members.

Rogue Federal is looking forward to serving its new members and the South Coast communities, the release stated. Rogue Federal recognizes that the Chetco staff has remained committed during uncertain times and will be offering all Oregon Chetco employees positions moving forward.

Dances of Universal Peace on Friday

BANDON — Dances of Universal Peace will be held at 6:30 p.m. Friday, Jan. 11, at Unity of Bandon. Various spiritual traditions of the world are honored and celebrated through singing and dancing.

"The words and music are beautiful and the steps simple," Haruna said. "The dances are suitable for all ages and levels of participation and all are welcome to attend."

Also at Unity, a 10-week class on Basic Metaphysics will be held on Sunday mornings starting at 9:30 a.m. Jan. 13. The class will be based on Paul Hasselbeck's book, "Heart-centered Metaphysics." Included in the discussion will be topics such as prayer and meditation, consciousness, self-knowledge, spiritual evolution, divine will and divine guidance.

All are welcome to attend. The class will be facilitated by Haruna.

Unity of Bandon is located on U.S. Highway 101 South, one mile south of 11th Street. For more information call 541-347-4696.

Plastic bags no more at Ray's Tides

Beginning Monday, Jan. 14, C&K Market's four retail banners — Ray's Food Place, Shop Smart, C&K Market and Lo Buck$ — will no longer offer customers the choice of plastic bags at checkout.

This change is in response to the company's renewed commitment to be a leader in their market areas when it comes to responsible, sustainable practices regarding plastic bag waste, according to a press release from C&K.

"C&K company stores will now have two options to offer customers: Free paper bags or 99-cent reusable bags, both 100 percent reusable and recyclable," said C&K Market Inc. CEO Greg Sandeno. "Customers can also take advantage of the 5 cent bag refund for bringing in their own bags to use.

"By making this change, we hope to make a positive impact on each local and regional community we serve," explained Sandeno.

By using reusable bags or even paper bags twice a week for two years customers will replace more than 400 plastic bags, according to Worldwatch, an environmental research group. Americans throw away about 100 billion plastic bags annually and it takes more than 1,000 years for a non-recyclable plastic bag to break down in a landfill, according to the group.

As incentive to get customers on board, each Ray's Food Place location will participate in a gift card drawing. Customers can win a $25 Ray's gift card simply by using their reusable bags, which includes reusing paper bags. Cashiers will distribute qualifying customers a raffle ticket for each reusable bag used during a transaction. At the end of each week through Valentine's Day each Ray's store will draw one $25 gift card winner.

For more information about C&K Market Inc., visit www.ckmarket.com.

Tides

Understanding and documenting the extent of especially high tide events is becoming a popular way to highlight the need to prepare for the effects of future climate conditions. The King Tide photo project will generate information that can be used by coastal communities to develop plans to reduce vulnerability to rising sea levels.

Several groups in Oregon, including the CoastWatch program of the Oregon Shores Conservation Coalition and Surfrider are participating in the King Tide Photo Initiative, an international project designed to involve volunteers in documenting areas inundated by the highest tides that occur each year. Volunteers are being asked to help build a visual record by taking photos of areas inundated by these high water events and then adding the photo to a king tide photo website. Everyone is welcome to participate, they just need to pick a place, click a photo and share it on Flickr.

Good king tide photos will show water levels adjacent to a fixed feature like a piling, seawall or bridge abutment. Including fixed features will allow actual water levels to be documented and tracked over time. Good photos also must include the location, the date and time the photo was taken and the viewer's direction for each picture. Two photos taken from the same spot, one during the king tide and the other at a typical high tide, are also very effective in highlighting these water events.

For more information, contact Cinamon Moffett, NOAA Coastal Fellow, at Oregon Coastal Management Program in Newport, 541-574-4514 or cinamon.moffett@state.or.us.

Electric

mation kiosk will be installed in the City Hall lobby and the data from the facility will be available on the Internet for the public and students at Bandon schools to learn more about solar energy and electric vehicles.

Winkel said the spot was chosen because it has the best solar access in the parking lot. Being close to City Hall also means a shorter distance for the electricity to travel getting to the grid and constructing it over existing pavement will not cause negative impacts on drainage.

"Locating it next to the existing handicapped parking space could also be convenient for travelers who are transporting a battery-powered handi-capped scooter that needs to be charged," Winkel said.

The electric charging stations parking spaces can be used by anyone who visits City Hall, not only for electric car owners.

"The two spaces will now also be available for anybody who needs to charge their electric vehicle, but will not be reserved specifically for that purpose," Winkel said. "Although people who want to use the charger may occasionally have to wait a few minutes for one of those two spaces by become vacant, it is not anticipated that this would cause a significant inconvenience since these three parking spaces are generally only used by short-term visitors to City Hall."

City and Comspan employees will continue to be precluded from using the three spaces.

Construction was expected to be complete by the end of November, but weather, permitting and technical delays were encountered. It is now hoped that the project will be completed and functioning by the end of February.

Rebeck

expert witnesses.

"We want the state to articulate the specific causation as to why the baby died," she said in court.

The state alleges Rebeck caused the infant's death in 2011 by providing substandard care in multiple ways after the infant was born.

Another point of contention at the hearing was whether Barron would allow a video recording of the birth to be shown during the trial. Fine Moro called Susan Trezona, a certified mid-wife of 36 years who has delivered over 3,000 babies, to testify on the video's relevance.

Trezona, who said she reviewed the video and records associated with the case, said Rebeck's care after the infant was born was anything but substandard. She testified that Rebeck took the necessary steps to ensure the infant was healthy, including monitoring its heart rate and sucking out the meconium, the baby's first intestinal waste.

"The infant shows symptoms of a totally healthy baby in the video," she said.

Moro Fine said the video was prejudicial against Rebeck. Seeing the baby being born, while knowing the child would die days later, would cause the jurors to react emotionally rather than making an educated decision, she argued.

"We don't know what caused the death of that baby," she said in court.

Frasier argued the video is relevant because it shows the care Rebeck provided after the birth.

"The issue that needs to be decided is what did Ms. Rebeck do after the birth," he said. "The video shows what she did and didn't do."

Barron ultimately sided with Frasier, allowing the video to be shown at the trial. The trial date, which was originally scheduled for early February, will be rescheduled for sometime in May, due to the unavailability of expert witnesses on both sides.

Frasier would not comment on whether he has offered Rebeck a plea deal in hopes of avoiding a trial. Rebeck will appear in court today to set a trial date.

City Council meeting dates set for the year

Each December the City Council sets the dates for their meetings during the subsequent year. At their Dec. 3 meeting, the City Council set the following dates for regular City Council meetings in 2013: Jan. 14, Feb. 4, March 4, April 1, May 6, June 3, July 1, Aug. 5, Sept. 9, Oct. 7, Nov. 4 and Dec. 2.

Special City Council meeting dates will be set if and when they become necessary throughout the year.

Thank You Bandon for Bringing the Washed Ashore Exhibit to Town!

This winter more than 75 generous Bandon businesses and dozens of individuals contributed to a massive fund-raising drive to bring the entire Washed Ashore Art Exhibit of marine debris sculptures home to be displayed in Bandon.

Holiday Gift Basket sales, a benefit with live music and individual donations and grants have all added up to success. The Washed Ashore exhibit is currently in San Diego County and will be heading north to Bandon later this month, thanks to everyone's help.

Washed Ashore is a non-profit organization whose mission is to use the power of the arts to change consumer habits and to save the oceans from plastic pollution. And with your help we are not only doing that, but also keeping Bandon's beaches free of debris.

Since 2010 we have been building sculptures with the help of hundreds of local volunteers, tourists, school groups, Americorps participants and many others. These sculptures are built from marine debris, depicting the very sea life that is threatened by plastic pollution.

The 17 exhibit pieces created in our workshop at Art 101 have travelled to 8 different locations in Oregon and California, but they have never been exhibited in total in Bandon. So now the time has come.

The sculptures and artwork will soon be displayed for the delight of tourists, visitors and our wonderful local population who have all helped to make it happen.

Stay tuned for the time, date, and place when you'll start seeing a gathering of giant sea animals right here in Bandon!

For those of you who would like to volunteer and help us build our next sculptures we will restart our free workshops shortly. Keep an eye on this space and on our website for details. February will be a busy month in our workshops in Bandon and Coos Bay. Come join us, stay warm and have fun this winter while helping us build new giant sea creatures. With everyone's help we will be keeping our beaches clean as the Japanese Tsunami Debris begins to reach our shores.

Meanwhile to learn more about us, please visit "The Washed Ashore Project" on Facebook and our website <http://www.washedashore.org>

Shoot for Two

Bandon's Riley Wahl goes up for a shot during the game against Coquille Tuesday night. Wahl led Bandon with 13 points and also had five steals, but Coquille edged the Tigers 44-41.

"Somehow, we have to find a way to be more effective on offense. Fundamentally, it's about finishing the play."

— Bandon coach Ken Nice

Poor shooting hampers boys in loss to Red Devils

By John Gunther
Bandon Western World

COQUILLE — Bandon's boys basketball team has just one win and nine losses this year, but the Tigers may have hit a low point Tuesday.

Coquille scored the final 23 points in a 39-12 win over the visiting Tigers.

Logan Shea scored all of Bandon's points, including back-to-back 3-pointers in the second quarter that briefly cut Coquille's lead to 16-12. But the Tigers didn't score in the final 21 minutes of the game.

"I'm not happy with our performance," Bandon coach Ken Nice said. "We're a lot better than that."

The Tigers had been competitive in some recent losses, but they couldn't get anything going on offense Tuesday, outside of Shea hitting all five of his shots in the first half.

"Somehow, we have to find a way to be more effective on offense," Nice said. "Fundamentally, it's about finishing the play. Coquille is good at finishing."

Bandon's first game of the new year was not a sign of the team's progress, Nice said.

Bandon had nearly as many turnovers (20) as shot attempts (24). The Tigers managed just 17 rebounds, to 37 for the Red Devils, and Bandon wasn't able to contain Coquille post Larry Bowen, who had 15 points.

The Tigers are capable of shooting well and have shown that at times.

They'll need that to have any success. The league schedule continues with a game at Glide on Friday, and then another trip to an improved Myrtle Point squad on Tuesday.

"We are better," Nice said. "We'll keep working at it."

Tigers come up short at Coquille

By John Gunther
Bandon Western World

COQUILLE — Bandon's girls basketball team is ready to contend for a spot in the state playoffs.

The Tigers showed that on Tuesday, even though they came out on the losing side of a 44-41 game at Coquille.

The Tigers stayed close to the Red Devils even though they got off to a bad start — trailing by 10 points after the first quarter — and had a poor shooting night.

Though the loss was disappointing, the team also can use it as a confidence boost, senior Riley Wahl said.

"We're in the games this year," she said. "We've never beaten Coquille."

Before Tuesday, they had never lost a game to the Red Devils by fewer than 15 points during the career of any current player.

Wahl had 13 points, freshman Raelyn Freitag added 12, and Hailey Iverson scored 11 as Bandon recovered from the slow start to take a 26-22 halftime lead. Coquille went in front for good late in the third quarter, but Bandon almost rallied from a seven-point deficit in the final 90 seconds, with a bucket by Iverson and a three-point play by Wahl. Freitag had a potential game-tying 3-pointer just before the buzzer, but the heavily guarded shot came up short.

The close loss was part of a strong start to a season in which the Tigers have shown great promise.

Playoff structure

The top team from among Bandon, Coquille and Glide will reach the Class 3A playoffs. If that team is in the top 16 of the final Oregon School Activities Association power rankings, they will get a home game for a spot in the state tournament at Coos Bay.

Key Dates (and scores):

Jan. 4: Coquille 48, Glide 36
Jan. 8: Coquille 44, Bandon 41
Jan. 11: Bandon at Glide
Jan. 15: Coquille at Glide
Jan. 22: Coquille at Bandon
Jan. 25: Glide at Bandon
Feb. 1: Glide at Coquille
Feb. 8: Bandon at Coquille
Feb. 12: Bandon at Glide

Current rankings and records:

No. 9 Bandon (5-5)
No. 12 Coquille (10-4)
No. 27 Glide (10-4)

"I'm so excited," said Wahl. The addition of senior Claire Ledig, who didn't play the past few seasons, has been a big boost.

"She's a rebounder," Wahl said.

"She's so fast," Iverson added.

Meanwhile, Freitag and fellow freshman Toni Hall have given the Tigers two more valuable pieces under first-year coach Amanda Duey.

The entire team has come together under Duey's coaching, Wahl said.

"Amanda has done so much for us," she said. "She's really great."

Tuesday's close game showed Bandon's potential, but to get the league's lone Class 3A playoff spot, the Tigers will need to turn that potential into wins against both Coquille and Glide, the other Class 3A school.

The Red Devils already also have a win over Glide, while Bandon gets its first shot at the Wildcats Friday — on Glide's court. The teams play each other three times in all.

Bandon entered Tuesday's game with a 5-4 record, including close losses to both Gold Beach and St. Mary's, one of the state's top Class 3A teams. Duey had high hopes against the Red Devils.

"I look forward to the next two times we see them," she said. "That was definitely not the start I expected to have."

She said the Tigers showed heart coming back from the early deficit, and played like they are capable while outscoring the Red Devils 21-7 in the second quarter. But they need to put the entire package together for the big upcoming games, starting Friday at Glide.

"We need to keep our composure," she said.

Following Friday's game, the Tigers visit Myrtle Point on Tuesday before a stretch of five straight home games, including contests with both Coquille (Jan. 22) and Glide (Jan. 25). Those games will go a long way toward determining if Bandon reaches the playoffs.

Stare down

Bandon's Logan Shea stares down Coquille's Matt Miranda during their game in Coquille on Tuesday night. Shea scored all of Bandon's points in the win.

Bradley Lake boat launch officially opens this week

Local lakes: This coming Monday, Jan. 14, at 10 a.m. ODFW will hold a grand opening at the new boat launch at Bradley Lake here in Bandon.

There will be a ribbon cutting ceremony with an acknowledgement to all the partners involved with the project. The lake will then be stocked with 800 trophy size trout that have been held at the Bandon Fish Hatchery. The public is invited to attend so don't forget to bring your fishing gear.

Local rivals: Winter steelhead fishing has slowed up on the Chetco River in Brookings due to the low and clear river conditions. Look for fishing to pick back up with the forecasted rain this week.

Steelhead fishing has been very good on the lower Rogue River. Bank anglers have been doing well fishing from Huntley and Canfield gravel bars.

Plunking Spinglos in hot pink and watermelon colors have been producing strikes. Driftboaters are having success pulling gold colored Hot Shots and Kill KwickFish.

Winter steelhead fishing was good last week on the Sixes River. Remember Chinook salmon fishing closed Dec. 31 on the Sixes, and all fish are to be released.

Fishing for winter steelhead has been slow on the Elk River, but should pick back up after the next good rain event.

Chinook salmon fishing remains open on the Elk River through March 31.

Starting last week, steelhead anglers in the Coos, Coquille and Ten Mile basins are now able to retain one additional adipose fin-clipped steelhead per day for a total aggregate of three adult fish harvested daily.

A few nice steelhead are being caught on the north and south forks of the Coquille River. As river levels drop, look for the fish to hold up in the lower portions of the river until the next good rain. Lyman from The Bite's On Tackle Shop in Empire told me that fishing has been good on the Millicoma River despite the low and clear conditions last weekend. He said he heard of three fish taken in the 17-pound range.

Look for winter steelhead fishing to continue to improve over the next few weeks on the South Coast.

ODFW has posted a wanted poster for information leading to the arrest and conviction of whomever is responsible for the recent introduction of small mouth bass in the Coquille Basin. The illegal introduction of species into our waters has been identified as the single largest issue fishery managers face in our nation.

Anyone with information about the incident should call the Tip Hotline at 800-452-7888. You can remain anonymous and still collect a reward up to $3,300.

Shellfish: The crabbing effort in Coos Bay has been slow, but for those who ventured out on the bay found that crabbing has remained very good. Last weekend we received reports of three boats catching their limits of Dungeness in the lower bay. Crabbing from the Charleston docks has been slow for Dungeness crab, but fair to good for red rock crab.

Winter is a great time of year to harvest local shellfish. Clamming is excellent during low tides near Charleston, off Cape Arago Highway and Clam Island. The week is a p.m. series of minus tides for those interested in bay clamming.
