American Eurythmy Theatre to perform at Sprague

BANDON – “The Passing of King Arthur,” a Eurythmy performance, comes to the Sprague Community Theatre Saturday, Jan. 21.

The American Eurythmy Theatre will present “The Passing of King Arthur,” the culmination of Alfred Lord Tennyson’s epic poem from the “Idylls of the King” through the new movement art of Eurythmy. Guest pianist Alexander Tutunov will accompany the performance with musical pieces interspersed within the poem including works by Brahms, Grieg, Bloch and Vaughan-Williams.

In this dramatic conclusion to the story of King Arthur and the Kn\of brotherhood, leading to a final battle.

This epic poem comes to life on stage through Eurythmy. This is a new art arising out of the genius of Rudolf Steiner, the founder of Anthroposophy or Spiritual Science. Eurythmy gives a new impulse for movement wherein speech and music are made visible through gesture and choreography.

The Eurythmy troupe will perform under the direction of Karen McPherson. They are based in Siskiyou County, Calif., where training in Eurythmy has been offered for over 30 years. The 20 members perform and teach around the world. Many of the Eurythmists performed in last summer’s production of Shakespeare’s “The Tempest” in Bandon.

The performance will begin at 7 p.m. Saturday, Jan. 21. The Sprague is at 1201 11th St. SW in Bandon City Park.

Advanced tickets are available at the Bandon Mercantile or in Coos Bay at So It Goes Coffeehouse. Tickets also will be available at the door: $20 general admission, $10 students and seniors.

For more information, call 541-888-0635 or 530-938-9691.

‘Fiddler on the Roof Jr.’ auditions to be held

BANDON – New Artists Productions founders Dan and Anita Almich will conduct auditions for their spring production, the musical “Fiddler on the Roof Junior” on Sunday and Monday, Jan. 15 and 16, at the Sprague Community Theater. Auditions will be held from 1:30-4 p.m. on Jan. 15; and 6:30-8 p.m. on Jan. 16.

“Fiddler on the Roof” is set in the small Jewish village of Anatevka, Russia, in 1905 and is concerned primarily with the efforts of Tevye, a dairyman, his wife, Golde, and their five daughters to cope with their harsh existence under Tsarist rule. The musical is part of the Broadway Junior Collection of plays designed especially for youth theater.

Youth performers enrolled in grades 3 through 12 are eligible for parts in the play. The two main characters, Tevye and Hodel, have been pre-cast so that the directors could solidify the presentation of the play and, thus, secure the performance rights.

It is important for those wishing to audition to bring their school and activity schedules to the audition as these involvements oftentimes impact the casting of the play.

Auditions will consist of reading lines from the play script and singing to recorded music from the play. The selections “Far From the Home I Love,” “Matchmaker,” and “Anatevka” will be used to characterize vocal range and voice quality. Prior rehearsal to the audition music is not required.

Everyone involved in the play will be asked to participate in the group scenes or choral numbers.

“Fiddler on the Roof Junior” will be presented over two weekends at the Sprague Community Theater on March 31, April 1 and 2 and April 7, 8 and 9.

For more information, contact the Almichs at 541-347-2517.

A reception for the painter John Butler and the South Coast Woodturner's Club will be held Sunday

A reception for the painter John Butler and the South Coast Woodturner's Club will be held from 2-4 p.m. Sunday, Jan. 15, at the Bandon Library Art Gallery, in the Sprague Community Room.

Oil painter John Butler's stunning dreamscapes explore the unconscious, the world of dreams and the inner life. Using familiar elements in unfamiliar ways, his complex images capture the kaleidoscopic nature of time, perception and memory, the many levels of awareness available to us during even the most mundane activities. His canvases shimmer with color and light, opening new vistas of imagination.

Also during January and February, the cases are filled with the finely carved bowls, platters, vases, and magic wands made by the South Coast Woodturner's Club. Its members are artisans who share a love of wood turning.

'Slice of Life' exhibit on display at Professional Center

BANDON – Prizewinning and honored works from the Port of Bandon's 2016 Boardwalk Art Show are now on public display at the Bandon Professional Center through Jan. 27. The Bandon Professional Center is open weekdays during 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and is located at 1010 First Street S.E. in Bandon.

The encore exhibit is a showcase of art on the theme "Slice of Life," illustrating inspiration artists find in the everyday experience. The exhibit features amateur and professional artists living in southwestern Oregon and northern California. Works include painting, mixed-media and 3-dimensional pieces.

The 2016 boardwalk show was curated by Ava Richey and Shawn Tempesta and hosted by the Port of Bandon. Winners were announced in September at the Bandon Cranberry Festival.

For information about the upcoming 2017 show, contact Port of Bandon staff, 541-347-3206.

Art classes for kids at CAM

COOS BAY – If you are looking for art classes for your children then Coos Art Museum's KIDS@CAM Art Express is for children ages 7 to 12 years old. Classes will take place most Saturdays from 10 a.m. to noon starting Jan. 14 and continuing through June 24. Mix and match days based on your child's summer schedule and interests.

Per class fee will be $3 for CAM members and $6 for non-members. All materials will be included.

Each day will have kids looking at a famous piece of art, most of the artists will be historical, but some current, and discussing what makes the piece unique or important, whether it be a specific style, a historical reference, strong use of a specific element of design or an idea. The rest of the time will be spent creating their own art work that is directly related to the piece discussed. Kids will have the chance to explore a wide variety of media from paper cutting to sculpture to painting to collage. All materials will be provided, as well as a nurturing environment that will help grow your child's love and knowledge of art and media.

Publisher reserves the right to refuse or edit any advertisement. All advertising must be in accordance with Oregon laws and in good taste. SOPC reserves the right to reject advertising at its discretion. All unclassified ads are cash with copy. Credit and billing are available to commercial accounts with established credit. Registration opens for Oregon Rural Tourism Studio

COOS COUNTY – Oregon’s Rural Tourism Studio, offered by Travel Oregon, is open for registration. The winter/spring program will focus on the Southern Oregon Coast region, including the communities of Reedsport, Winchester Bay, North Bend, Coos Bay, Charleston, Bandon and the Coquille river valley.

Oregon’s RTS program is a series of tourism development workshops designed to assist rural communities interested in stimulating their local economies through sustainable tourism development, while protecting and enhancing local resources.

As a result of the program, Travel Oregon hopes to see an increase in authentic experiences for travelers throughout the state. In turn, this will strengthen Oregon’s position as a premier tourism destination by enhancing community livability and healthy, local environments.

The RTS professional development program offers hands-on skill-building through eight interactive workshop sessions and networking events held over a four-month period. The program is designed to assist residents and businesses in the Southern Oregon Coast region.

Workshop topics will include Community Tourism Visioning and Planning, Adventure Travel and Outdoor Recreation Networking and Marketing, Culinary and Agritourism Networking and Marketing, Tourism Marketing and Communications, Teaming for Impact and Action, and ending with a Community Celebration Event.

To maximize the impact from the RTS program, it’s recommended that participants attend all workshops and events. Participants who attend at least four of the workshops will receive a certificate of completion from Travel Oregon.

The cost to participate in any one workshop is $5 (and includes lunch), or $20 for all five workshops. All networking events are free. Space is limited and is specifically designed for residents, businesses and organizations operating in the Southern Oregon Coast. For more information, or to register online, go to Industry.TravelOregon.com/SouthernOregonCoast.

For more information, contact local steering committee lead Connie Stopher, executive director of the South Coast Development Council at connie@scd-cinc.org or 541-266-9753.

For general inquiries about the program, contact Elena Vizzini destination development coordinator at Travel Oregon, at 971-717-6204 or Elena@TravelOregon.com.
