Grammy-nominated Quattrosound is an innovative acoustic-based ensemble that skillfully blurs the lines of music genre boundaries.

Thursday, Nov. 17: William Florian – An upbeat, musical journey of America's greatest songs of the 1960s including songs by William Florian, former lead singer of the famous New Christy Minstrels. In addition, enjoy the music made famous by Peter Paul & Mary, John Denver, Pete Seeger, and The Mamas & The Papas.

Tuesday, Feb. 14, 2017: Artrageous – Artrageous is an interactive art and music experience. Giant artworks jump to life with amazing speed, unveiling larger-than-life icons and masterpieces in just moments. All the while there is constant activity on stage, attracting your attention and delighting your senses with energy, spirit and action.

Thursday, March 16, 2017: Global Voices United - Women of the World – Women of the World is a microcosm of the world, bringing women musicians from across the globe onto a common platform to collaborate and create. Not only sharing of music, Women of the World also celebrates the differences in ideologies and cultural tenets that exist in the daily lives of women all over the world.

Thursday, May 25, 2017, Mike Strickland, pianist – Mike Strickland, pianist, is known for his exceptional musicianship and arrangements, his virtuosic technique, and his unmatched ability to connect with the audience on a personal level. His music outreach, mentoring programs, and master classes are always enjoyed by up-and-coming artists in the communities where he concertizes.

Tuna canning workshop set for Sept. 10

MYRTLE POINT – Tuna season is here, and it's time to make sure you and your equipment are ready to can up the harvest. The Master Food Preservers of Coos County, volunteers with the Oregon State University Extension Service, will hold a tuna canning workshop on Saturday, Sept. 10. It will be held at the OSU Extension Office, 631 Alder St, in Myrtle Point.

This hands-on workshop provides newbie canners with all the information they need on how to properly prepare and preserve the catch. Experienced canners will also benefit as they ensure they are up-to-date on the proper methods and times required. Participants are encouraged to bring their canners for a full inspection, particularly those using dial gauges as it is recommended those be checked each year.

Space is limited, so call now to sign up - 541-572-5263, ext. 25292. The workshop will be held from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., and the cost is $15. Participants may wish to bring a sack lunch or snack.

They will receive a jar of delicious canned tuna to take home.

Cheers to 70 years of the Cranberry Festival

BANDON – Cheers to 70 years of the Bandon Cranberry Festival! The longest running festival on the Oregon Coast boasts seven decades of family fun with a parade, festival market, street dance and more. Join the festivities Sept. 9, 10 and 11.

Take a walk down memory lane at the Saturday morning parade, with a revival of past festival themes. Cranberry cooks compete for a culinary crown in the Queen of the Kitchen food fair, while hungry festival goers dive into the cranberry eating contest to win prizes. Farmers and artisans strut their stuff at Cranberry City and the Festival Market. The popular street dance returns Saturday evening with featured performer Morgan Alexander.

Events are staged in Old Town, the Port of Bandon waterfront, Sprague Community Theater and City Park, and Bandon High School. Get the full list of festival events at bandon.com/cranberry-festival. Or, visit the Bandon Visitor Center, open daily in Old Town Bandon.

Entries sought for Cranberry Food Fair

BANDON – Cranberries grown on the southern Oregon coast have inspired local cooks and chefs for generations. Deep red and tart with a hint of sweetness, they deliver a tongue-teasing surprise to everything from sauces to side dishes and entrées.

Local cooks are invited to whip up their best cranberry concoction and enter the Queen of the Kitchen contest in Bandon's 70th annual Cranberry Festival. The 2016 Cranberry Festival Food Fair is set for Sept. 9 and 10, at the Old Town Marketplace in Bandon.

Competition was steep in 2015, according to Food Fair organizer Ann Patrick.

“The quality of the entries was outstanding,” said Patrick.

Submissions ranged from traditional baked goods to starters with a spicy kick: Judges from the Oregon Coast Culinary Institute sampled each dish, and Shawna Sebree was crowned Queen for her Cranberry-Serrano Cream Puff appetizer.

Contestants compete for the crown in three categories, Queen of the Kitchen, best overall; Jr. Queen of the Kitchen, youth age 10 and younger; or Aspiring Chef, age 11 to 18 years. Food submissions and registration forms should be delivered between 10 a.m.-noon on Friday, Sept. 9, at the Old Town Marketplace, 250 First St. SW in Bandon. Judging will be from noon-2 p.m. and winners will be notified at 2 p.m. Winners are expected to attend coronation, where they will be crowned.

The Queen or King of the Kitchen also is asked to ride in the parade on Saturday morning.
