NEW MEXICO

For 80 years, the Better Business Bureau serving New Mexico and southwest Colorado has been more than a name — it's been a trusted neighbor, an advocate for ethical business practices and a champion for consumer confidence.

What began in 1945, as a small but mighty effort to promote marketplace integrity, has grown into a powerful force for accountability, transparency and trust in our local economy.

Through generations of change — from handshake deals to digital storefronts — the BBB has remained a reliable guide for consumers and a trusted partner to businesses that choose to lead with ethics. Whether helping someone resolve a complaint, spotlighting honest businesses, or educating the public on scams and fraud, the mission has always been the same: build a better, more trustworthy marketplace.

As the BBB celebrates this milestone year, it's doing more than reflecting on the past. It's recognizing businesses that continue to embody those same values today and lighting the way for the next generation of ethical leadership.

This year, the BBB is proud to launch the inaugural Golden Torch Awards, spotlighting accredited businesses that have demonstrated more than five decades of unwavering commitment to ethics, service and community. These are organizations that have become cornerstones in New Mexico — trusted names that families and neighbors have relied on for generations. With each interaction, they've raised the bar, proving that doing the right thing is good business.

Also being recognized, is a new generation of business owners and innovators through the Ignite Award for Entrepreneurship. The award honors businesses and organizations that have been operating for at least six months but not more than five years. These entrepreneurs are showing what's possible when purpose, passion and community values drive business forward.

In tribute to leadership and service, the Brian Baca Memorial Award will be presented to a veteran-owned business that exemplifies character, culture and community. Named in honor of former BBB president and Army National Guard veteran Brian Baca, the award reflects his legacy of integrity and the vital role veterans play in strengthening our local economy.

As the BBB looks to the future, this 80th anniversary is more than a celebration — it's a recommitment to the principles that build lasting trust between businesses and the people they serve. These awards are a powerful reminder that ethical businesses aren't just surviving — they're leading the way.

David Swope

GALLES CHEVROLET

Established 1940, Accredited 1972

Cori and Jamie Galles – Co-Owners (Fifth Generation Owners)

Galleschevy.com

The Galles family has been an integral part of transportation in New Mexico since Nicholas Galles arrived in the territory via the Santa Fe Trail and set up business as a wagon maker in the mid-1800s. The family's leading role in the state's emerging automotive industry was cemented in 1908, when H.L. Galles, Sr., founded Galles Motor Company, eventually selling the first 11 cars in the New Mexico Territory, and laying the foundation for what is now the oldest and largest family automotive business in the state.

In 1933, Galles Motor Company purchased the Cadillac, Oldsmobile and Chevrolet franchises. With H.L. Galles Jr. at the helm, the company quickly grew as a major employer in New Mexico, with dealerships in Albuquerque, Silver City and Santa Fe as well as in Phoenix and Portland, Oregon. As the chairman of Galles Motor Company until his death in 2007, H.L. Galles, Jr. was also a recognized force on the national automotive industry scene and served as president of the National Auto Dealers Association in Washington, D.C.

More than 100 years after its inception, Galles Motor Company is a fifth generation family business with Rick Galles at the helm as president and CEO. In addition to its flagship dealership, Galles Chevrolet, which remains New Mexico's largest family owned and operated dealership, Galles Motor Company also lays claim to a 24 year history in professional motorsports. During this period, Rick Galles led his team to 21 IndyCar wins, an IndyCar World Series Championship in 1990, and an Indianapolis 500 win in 1992.

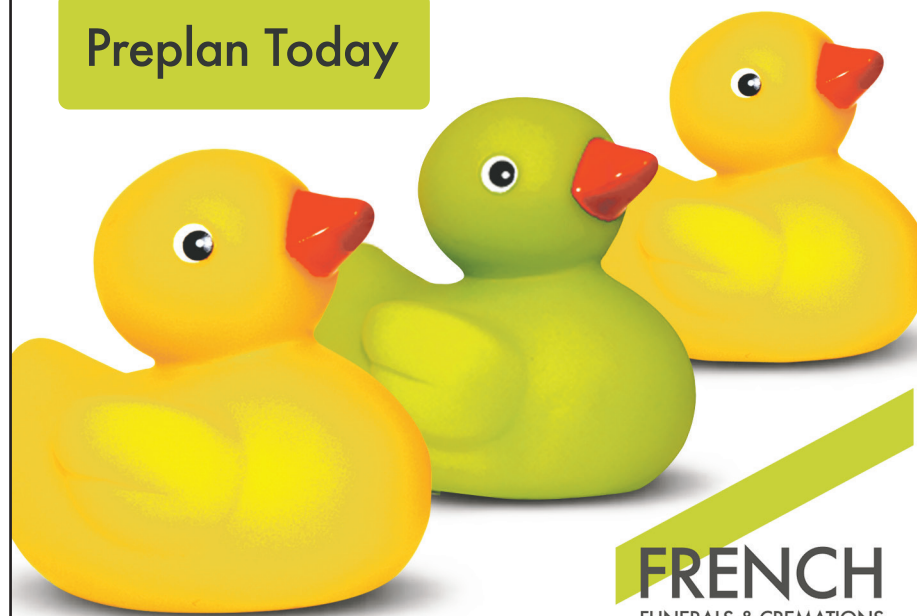

The team's driver roster has included Al Unser, Jr., Danny Sullivan, Bobby Rahal, Geoff Brabham, Davey Hamilton, Adrian Fernandez and many more.

In 2012, in recognition of leading his team to a historical six wins at the Long Beach Grand Prix, Rick was honored by his peers with an induction into the Long Beach Grand Prix Motorsports Hall of Fame. His medallion joined those of 14 previous inductees.

The Galles family began serving New Mexico in 1908. Today, Galles Chevrolet is the largest Chevrolet dealership in New Mexico and the only locally owned and family operated Chevy dealer in Albuquerque. Galles Chevrolet has over 150 employees that are dedicated to offering the highest level of customer service so its patrons can "Experience the Galles difference."

LOVELACE HEALTH SYSTEMS

Established 1922, Accredited 1968

Michael Kueker – Interim CEO

Lovelace.com

The history of Lovelace Health System begins in the 1880s, when missionaries and philanthropists from the Midwest extended their mission of caring to Albuquerque. In 1901, they built the city's first hospital and a year later, they opened a sanitarium to care for the growing ranks of tuberculosis patients seeking health in the high, dry air of Albuquerque.

In 1912, a young doctor named William Randolph Lovelace moved his frontier practice to the city. Before long he was renowned for his skill as a surgeon and his extraordinary compassion for his patients. Joined by Dr. Edgar T. Lassetter and eventually by other physicians, Dr. Lovelace modeled his pioneering group practice, the Lovelace Clinic, after Minnesota's respected Mayo Clinic.

World War II changed life in unimaginable ways, spurring technological, social and economic growth in the American West — and demanding a new vision for the delivery of health care. With medicine rapidly advancing, ace pilot and decorated veteran Dr. William Randolph "Randy" Lovelace II followed in his uncle's footsteps, joining the Lovelace Clinic in 1946. He had already made a name for himself in the field of aviation medicine. As a fellow in surgery at the Mayo Clinic, he worked on the development of the BLB mask, which delivered oxygen to aviators flying at high altitudes. In fact, the "L" in BLB stands for Lovelace.

In the late 1950s, at the height of the Cold War, a new federal agency called NASA announced its first major undertaking: Project Mercury, which would launch the first national manned space capsule into orbit around the earth. Rigorous testing at Lovelace Medical Center narrowed the field to a handful of men who would be known to history as the Mercury 7.

Today, Lovelace Health System is recognized as a force for economic vitality in New Mexico. Leading change has always been part of the Lovelace mission. Today, the Lovelace passion for change, innovation and caring lives on in its commitment to advanced medical technology, patient convenience and high-quality health care.

HOUSE OF COVERS

Established 1972, Accredited 1975

Jacob Schlessingner – President (Second Generation Family Owner – Nephew)

Houseofcovers.com

Located in the historic Nob Hill district of Albuquerque on old Route 66, House of Covers has helped New Mexicans and vehicle owners across the Southwest maintain their automotive investments and seriously improve their rides.

It started with Hector Gongora in 1972. After 26 years in the military as a warrant officer, Gongora was not going to let his organizational skills go to waste. He and a partner, who had experience in upholstery and trim, started their new auto upholstery shop from scratch and built House of Covers.

Steve Gongora crafted exceptional interiors. As a super talent and committed car guy, he served as president and lead craftsman at House of Covers for close to 40 years. He built and managed a highly skilled staff of craftspeople and technicians.

Now retired, Steve Gongora will tell you that House of Covers "will always be a family business." He and his wife, Rita, welcomed new customers with a warm smile and a super-focused level of expertise. Steve and Rita turned House of Covers into the region's "go-to" auto upholstery shop.

Craftsman and artisan Jake Schlessinger, nephew to Steve Gongora, believes that beautiful automotive interiors are all about the details and that the details can only happen "one stitch at a time."

In addition to his 20 years of expertise as an apprentice to Hector and Steve Gongora, Schlessinger brought a level of sensitivity and significant acumen to the family business as the shop manager.

Now, as president and lead craftsman, Schlessinger drives excellent communication and a culture of accountability at House of Covers. With the support of his wife, Gabbie, who has deep expertise in customer care and process, the couple is committed to building upon the legacy of House of Covers while nurturing their vision for the future of the family business.

OUTSTANDING MERIT: AMERICAN HOME HONORED WITH GOLDEN TORCH AWARD

American Home (AFC Acquisition Corp.), is a true New Mexico success story and business that has been Better Business Bureau accredited since 1968. With more than half a century of consistent dedication to doing business the right way, American Home represents everything the BBB hopes to elevate and celebrate.

American Home will be recognized with the Golden Torch Award at the Better Business Bureau Serving New Mexico and Southwest Colorado's 80th Anniversary Awards Gala on July 23. The award is given to longtime, accredited businesses that exemplify decades of ethical leadership, community service and consumer trust.

Rooted in Integrity Since 1936

American Home has been a trusted name in furniture retail since 1936, when the company first began offering families across New Mexico with affordable, quality home furnishings. Today, it remains one of the region's most well-known and well-loved local businesses; not just for its impressive showroom and product lines, but for the values that have guided it across generations.

Robert Ramer, vice president of Human Resources at American Home and standing chairman of the BBB board of directors, recently sat down with David Swope, BBB president and CEO, to reflect on American Home's legacy and its longstanding relationship with the BBB.

"We've been BBB accredited since 1968," Ramer shared. "And for us, it's not just a seal, it's a statement. It tells our customers that we're committed to fairness, service and accountability."

Moving Forward Without Losing Sight of the Past

This year has been a landmark for American Home. After more than five decades at their previous location on Carlisle Boulevard in Albuquerque, the company moved farther south on Carlisle into a revitalized space, which formerly housed Kmart, just off of Interstate 40. The process took nearly nine months and the new store officially opened with a grand celebration in February 2024.

"It was a long process, but it turned out really well," Ramer said. "We had simply outgrown the old space. And, unfortunately, the increase in crime in that corridor made it necessary for us to look elsewhere. This new location, right next to Whole Foods, has been a great move for us."

While the new showroom offers fresh energy and improved amenities, Ramer emphasized that the heart of the company remains unchanged.

"We pride ourselves on offering not just a great product, but great service. That's what defines who we are," he said.

A+ Rated and Customer-Focused

American Home has maintained an A+ rating with the BBB for decades, a feat that reflects its ability to adapt while still honoring its customers and employees.

"We all make mistakes sometimes," Ramer said. "But what matters is how we respond. Our team is trained to listen, to care and to fix things when they go wrong. Being accredited with the BBB holds us accountable to those values and we welcome that."

As an executive leader within the company, Ramer sees the BBB partnership as a resource not only for consumers but for businesses themselves.

"When people are deciding where to shop, they're looking for more than a deal," he said. "They want trust. Being part of the BBB lets us showcase our reputation, our transparency and our care for the people we serve."

A New Chapter as BBB Board Chairman

Beyond his role at American Home, Ramer has served on the BBB's board of directors since 2017. Starting in September 2024, he began a new chapter as chairman of the board, leading the organization into its 80th year of community impact.

"I look forward to contributing in whatever ways I can," he said. "As board members, our role is to offer guidance and to support the BBB's mission of trust in the marketplace. I'm excited to be a part of that."

Honoring Longevity and Leadership

The Golden Torch Award is meant to honor rare businesses that have sustained excellence and trust with the BBB in New Mexico for over 50 years. Twelve outstanding companies will be presented with the award at the Better Business Bureau's 80th Anniversary Awards Gala on Wednesday, July 23, at Santa Ana Star Casino Hotel.

American Home is not only a recipient, it's a model, according to Swope. As American Home continues to grow and evolve, one thing remains constant — a deep-rooted commitment to treating people with dignity and doing business with integrity.

"Very few businesses can claim decades of accreditation, A+ service and active leadership in ethical business practices," Swope said. "American Home has shown what it means to lead by example. We're proud to honor them as one of our 12 Golden Torch recipients this year."

The celebration is hosted in partnership with the Southwest Community Empowerment Foundation and will benefit economic empowerment initiatives and community outreach programs across New Mexico and southwest Colorado.

CELEBRATING EXCELLENCE:

BBB'S IGNITE AWARD AND BRIAN BACA MEMORIAL AWARD HONOR ETHICAL LEADERS IN BUSINESS

WRITTEN BY SPENCER HILL

As part of its 80th Anniversary Awards Gala on Wednesday, July 23, the Better Business Bureau Serving New Mexico and Southwest Colorado will honor standout businesses with two new major award recognitions that embody the BBB's core values of trust, leadership and community. The two award categories will be the Ignite Award for Entrepreneurship and the Brian Baca Memorial Award.

The honors are more than just a short recognition. They aim to highlight organizations that are shaping the future of business through integrity, culture and service for decades to come.

Igniting the Future: Celebrating Purposeful Entrepreneurship

Five recipients will be recognized with the Ignite Award for Entrepreneurship during the gala. The award is dedicated to recognizing emerging businesses whose leaders have shown a profound commitment to leading with purpose. While many awards focus on profitability or scale, the Ignite Award celebrates a deeper measure of success: character, culture and community impact.

To be eligible, businesses must be in operation for at least six months, but no longer than five years, and reside within the BBB's 43-county service area within New Mexico and southwest Colorado. The businesses do not need to be BBB accredited, but they must be in good standing with the bureau and free of any ongoing investigations or government actions.

The best entrepreneurs are those who are "teachable and open to growing with ideas," according to the BBB. This award looks for leaders who embrace feedback, nurture internal growth and uphold transparency, not just in public relations, but in every decision made behind the scenes.

Equally important is culture. Nominees for the Ignite Award don't just run businesses, they build organizations with a true purpose. They start companies to serve a mission, not just a market, and make deliberate choices about who they partner with and why.

The third pillar, community, is equally essential. Entrepreneurs considered for the Ignite Award must demonstrate a commitment to giving back through supporting causes, mentoring others and treating competitors as peers rather than rivals. These honorees understand that their success is deeply rooted in the community around them and choose to reinvest in the people who helped them rise.

"The Ignite Awards are really meant to lift up the kind of entrepreneurship that reflects the BBB's values of integrity and service," said Spencer Hill, business development manager for the BBB Serving New Mexico and Southwest Colorado. "These are the leaders who will define the next 80 years of ethical business."

Honoring a Legacy: The Brian Baca Memorial Award

While the Ignite Award offers an opportunity to shine a light on rising stars, the Brian Baca Memorial Award commemorates legacy and service, specifically the enduring leadership of veteran-owned businesses.

Named in honor of former BBB president and CEO Brian Baca, this singular award recognizes a business that is majority veteran-owned and operates with the same values that Baca championed throughout his career: ethics, trust and service above self.

Veterans bring a unique perspective to the business world — discipline, accountability, leadership and a deep-rooted sense of purpose. The Brian Baca Memorial Award celebrates how these values carry over into commercial success and community impact. Nominees must be accredited with the BBB and based in New Mexico or one of the 10 counties the bureau serves in southwest Colorado. Just like the Ignite Award, these businesses must meet BBB's ethical standards and hold at least a B rating, free from ongoing legal issues or unresolved complaints.

Award criteria centers around the BBB's "Four C's."

- Character: Ethical leadership starts at the top. This award honors business owners who lead with transparency, humility and principle.

- Culture: From hiring to customer service, the organization must demonstrate a positive and ethical internal culture.

- Customers: The business must prioritize the experience, satisfaction and trust of its clients or customers.

- Community: The business must contribute meaningfully to its community, whether through volunteer work, mentorship, donations, or outreach.

"Brian Baca dedicated a large portion of his life to improving marketplace trust and community service, largely through processes that he brought over from his over 30 years of military experience as a retired Colonel from the New Mexico Army National Guard," Hill said. "It is only fitting that this award carries his name and honors veterans who continue to serve, this time through ethical business practices in the state that Brian called home."

Honorees to Be Announced at the 80th Anniversary Gala

Both the Ignite and Brian Baca Memorial Award winners will be formally announced at the Better Business Bureau's 80th Anniversary Awards Gala at Santa Ana Star Casino Hotel on Santa Ana Pueblo. The gala will feature a plated dinner, a red-carpet arrival experience, guest speakers, cultural performances and the official awards presentation.

The entire celebration is hosted in partnership with the Southwest Community Empowerment Foundation and proceeds will benefit educational and economic empowerment programs across the state.

Award finalists and their guests will be invited to attend the gala and take part in what is expected to be one of the most impactful business events of the year.

For more information or to apply for these honors, contact Spencer Hill at shill@bbbsw.org or call 505-346-5105.

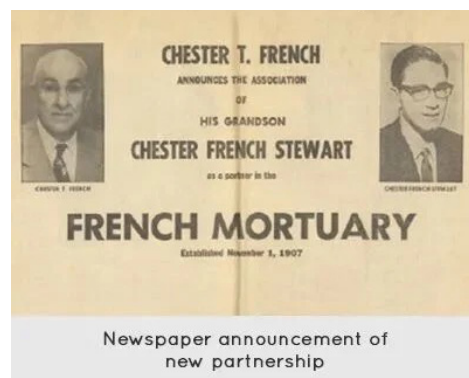

In an age when public trust in businesses is more critical than ever, the Ignite and Brian Baca Memorial Awards serve as powerful reminders that leadership, ethics and heart still define success.

FRENCH FUNERALS & CREMATIONS CELEBRATES MORE THAN 50 YEARS OF ACCREDITATION WITH THE BETTER BUSINESS BUREAU

WRITTEN BY ANDRES TRUJILLO

Eighty years of building trust in the community is an exciting milestone for the Better Business Bureau Serving New Mexico and Southwest Colorado. What is even more exciting is a local business being accredited with the BBB for more than 50 years, which shows building trust between businesses and customers is critical to the success of any business.

CEO Tom Antram and Alice Brousseau, vice president and chief financial officer of French Funerals & Cremations spoke with Andres Trujillo, BBB business development liaison, about business success, community action and the importance of being involved with the BBB.

Andres Trujillo: We are excited to be celebrating 80 years of trust with French Funerals and Cremations. To start, give us a brief scope of what French Funerals & Cremations is, how long you've been here in New Mexico and why you guys have been able to be successful in business this long?

Tom Antram: Our company was founded in 1907 by Mr. French, Chester T. French and he created a wonderful legacy that we are trying to live up to today in our community.

Trujillo: How did each of you get started with French?

Alice Brousseau: I've been with French for eight years and I love being here. I've actually been in accounting positions throughout my life in privately owned companies throughout New Mexico. I started with public accounting, moved to a local credit union, then I was at a wholesale fuel distributor, which is the opposite of what we do here at French in every aspect possible. And then I moved to French eight years ago and knew that this was the place for me.

Antram: So I started with French as a college student 33 years ago. I actually lived above the funeral home on University Boulevard. My wife and I answered phones at night and could live there for free. So as a college student, it was a great opportunity. And I had the honor and privilege of working alongside Chester French Stewart and his brother Bob Stewart, who are the grandsons of Mr. French. I was mentored by them throughout my career and have had the opportunity to quite frankly do everything in our company except drive a backhoe.

Trujillo: Why should a business be accredited with the Better Business Bureau?

Brousseau: I think a business should be accredited with the Better Business Bureau because it really sets you above all other businesses within the community. It means that your business practices have been vetted as well as integrous, and that a business works with the consumers to ensure that you have a business that is serving both you and the community.

Trujillo: What are some new things that are happening with French?

Antram: We have a lot of new projects in the queue right now. Obviously, French has been known for being a progressive funeral home in our profession for decades. We're working on a few items like increasing our life celebration services that we offer for families. We have unique offerings that are one of a kind in the state of New Mexico that no other funeral home can offer. And so we feel very good about that. We're expanding some of our locations and doing some remodeling to help better serve the community. And part of that is having reception spaces at each of our facilities so families can have a service, move to a reception area and not have to go home. So there are many different areas that we look at to continue meeting the community needs for the services that they want.

Trujillo: French Funerals & Cremations is also one of our Golden Torch Award recipients at the BBB 80th anniversary event. I know that you guys have been around even longer than the BBB here, but what does that mean to each of you to be able to receive that award and to have been with BBB for that long?

Brousseau: I think it's remarkable to be within the community for 50, and in our case 118 years. I think that shows that we work hand in hand and always have to make sure that we have the best business practices out there as well as work with other organizations to ensure that the community knows that.

Trujillo: What does it mean to you to be accredited for that long and then continue to be such a stakeholder in New Mexico?

Antram: For us as a company, when you think about the Better Business Bureau celebrating 80 years, it is a huge honor and privilege for the community because the BBB is "THE" community advocacy group. The BBB provides a way to say, "Do I wanna do business with this company? Are they legitimate? Have they been around for a while? How do they respond to people?" And for us, that's all part of the equation celebrating 50 years as members of the BBB. It shows that we are continually looking at our community, thinking about every family that walks through our doors in a unique way to celebrate and honor their loved one. And we wanna continue thinking that way and giving back through our community service through the Better Business Bureau. I think that means so much to the community to see the standard that the BBB upholds and that we're part of that.

Trujillo: Where can people find more information about French Funerals & Cremations?

Antram: Obviously, the BBB website is a great place to start. But to connect with us, you can certainly go online and go to our website frenchfunerals.com. You can also look through a plethora of information that's on YouTube. Look up French Funerals and you'll find a lot of helpful information about funeral planning. We are constantly on social media through our Facebook, LinkedIn and Instagram. See the community events that we're hosting. We're always having pre-planning events, we have at least two of those a month. So please check us out online and find other resources to connect with us over the next number of years.

A FAMILY LEGACY:

GOODRICH ROOFING CELEBRATES NEARLY 80 YEARS OF SERVICE IN NEW MEXICO

WRITTEN BY SPENCER HILL

In a business landscape that's constantly evolving, Goodrich Roofing has stood the test of time. Founded in 1946, this family-owned company has become a cornerstone of the community, offering residential and commercial roofing solutions with a reputation built on trust, quality and service.

Nick and Johnny Sanchez, the father-son duo behind Goodrich Roofing, looked back at the company's history, its commitment to ethical business practices and its long-standing accreditation with the Better Business Bureau.

A Roof with Roots

"Goodrich Roofing was started in 1946 by Mr. Goodrich," said Nick Sanchez. "My father purchased the company from Mr. Blue, who had bought it from Mr. Goodrich's widow back in 1960. Since then, we've done every type of roof you can imagine — commercial, residential, you name it — and we love what we do."

For nearly eight decades, the Sanchez family has continued the company's tradition of excellence. Its success is due in large part to the family's values: honesty, hard work and a deep connection to the New Mexico community, Nick said.

Building Trust, One Shingle at a Time

For Johnny, being a Better Business Bureau accredited business is more than just a badge — it's a partnership grounded in shared values.

"Being accredited with the BBB means we're building trust with the community," he said. "It also provides a reliable platform to interface with customers. In any business, problems can arise. The BBB helps us resolve those issues productively and keep doing what we do best."

Nick added, "We chose to become accredited because the BBB represents values that matter — communication, integrity and being dependable. That's who we are too."

Family Business, Community Impact

When asked what they love most about their work, both Nick and Johnny agreed — it's all about the people.

"We love working with homeowners and local business owners," Johnny said. "Taking on challenging projects and seeing them through to completion is incredibly rewarding. Plus, I get to work with my dad, which is just awesome."

They proudly emphasize the importance of their work.

"We like to say we protect your home, your business and everything inside. The roof is the most important part of your home," Johnny noted.

Looking Ahead to 80 Years

With Goodrich Roofing's 80th anniversary on the horizon, the Sanchez family is reflecting on their roots and their future.

"I'm incredibly lucky," Johnny said. "Very few people get to work side-by-side with their parent in a successful family business. My dad has taught me so much and it really means the world to me."

Advice for Other Businesses

Nick believes accreditation is a key step for businesses looking to strengthen their credibility and community connection.

"Being accredited reinforces what every great business should prioritize — honesty, integrity and deep roots in the community," he said. "It's about building something that lasts."

He added, "Everyone has problems — in life and in business. It's how you deal with those problems that matters. The BBB has been an incredible local resource in helping us do just that."

Nick has advice for anyone in need of a roof.

"If you're considering a new roof, ask your neighbors," he said. "If we've worked with them, I'm confident they'll have good things to say. Word of mouth is still the best advertising there is."

Getting in touch with Goodrich Roofing is easy.

"Come visit us! We're right by La Cumbre brewery and the old Frank's Supply building near Comanche and Carlisle," Johnny said. "Or visit us online at goodrichroofing.com. We're on Facebook, Instagram and we just launched a TikTok too."

ACHIEVING A MILESTONE:

BETTER BUSINESS BUREAU COMMEMORATES 80 YEARS OF SERVICE IN NM, SOUTHERN COLORADO

This year, the Better Business Bureau Serving New Mexico and Southwest Colorado celebrates 80 years of operation.

The BBB is excited to celebrate 80 years of trust with a celebration on July 22-23 at Santa Ana Casino Hotel. The commemorative event includes a VIP cocktail party, golf fundraiser and an awards gala.

Allen Prince, 2026 chairman elect of the BBB board of directors, spoke with Spencer Hill, BBB business development manager, about the 80 year milestone and the success of his company as an accredited business.

Spencer Hill: Can you give a little bit of the history behind Motorcycle Performance Headquarters and how you got started with the business?

Allen Prince: Well, the business started back when I was still flying. I was a corporate pilot and I had to do something else because we didn't fly all the time. I started working on motorcycles, which was my passion. I loved working on motorcycles. I decided when I retired, I've got to do something else because for one, my wife probably doesn't want me to stay at home, and I wanted to keep myself busy and do something that keeps me young. I started Motorcycle Performance Headquarters.

Hill: Wow, starting out a business is tough while trying to find your way with resources. How did you get started with the BBB?

Prince: I really didn't know where to go, and so, one of the best things I did was go to the local college. I thought maybe I'll start there and see if they have something going on to help a small business owner. I went there and they helped. But one of the key things they said was, 'You know you might look at the BBB to see if they can help you out also.' I ended up doing that and that was one of the best things that I did because the BBB had so much information for a small business. Where to go, what to do, how to help you with taxes and there was tons of information. So, I joined.

Hill: The BBB does indeed have so many resources for businesses in our community. Give an example of how you've seen the BBB help.

Prince: They came to the shop, looked around and said, 'This is a really nice shop here, and this is what we're going to do, and this is what we can do for you.' Well, I really didn't know what the Better Business Bureau was, but I was going to join anyway because they already helped me a bunch.

Hill: Why should businesses become accredited with the BBB?

Prince: If you have a reputable business, you need to be in the BBB, especially if you're honest, you're trustworthy and you're helping your customers. Being a small business, my customers are the very most important thing there. My employees are very important also, but it's the customers because they come in and they want to be able to trust somebody to have the best service done on their motorcycles.

Hill: What have you seen that has given you confidence that the BBB has been an asset to you and your business?

Prince: A great thing about being accredited with the BBB is that potential customers can go on a page and look at the BBB to see that Motorcycle Performance Headquarters is A+ rated and so you know my business is doing well. This lets my customers know we are open and ready to take care of their needs. When someone looks at some of the other motorcycle shops, they might not see that. And, we're proud to have been accredited now since December 31, 2006.

Hill: Not only that, but you've also taken it to the next step and you've joined the BBB board of directors. You're now the vice chairman and you're looking to be the chairman elect next year. What does it mean to you to be able to be more developed within the Better Business Bureau?

Prince: Looking at that, I saw that I wanted to be a part of this community and help everybody, especially up in Farmington into southwest Colorado. I wanted to be up there representing the BBB so if somebody needed something, they could call me to help their small business. I wanted to be part of this. I want to help give back to my community which has given to me.

Hill: The consumer is a critical component to building trust with a business. How does the BBB help connect the consumer with a business like yours?

Prince: It helps the consumer with not only scam prevention but gives someone an idea of which companies they want to go with and even ask for quotes. You know that's really cool that you can be able to do something like that.

Hill: For somebody that has a small business in an area that doesn't have the population that maybe Albuquerque or Las Cruces does, how is the BBB a huge help for those types of businesses in small communities?

Prince: I feel the BBB brings everybody together and if you're part of the BBB, you pretty much know all those companies in those towns like in Farmington. But it really works out well because like I said, you see the businesses come and go all the time. And sometimes those businesses that come and go are not the best businesses to go with. The BBB brings it to where you can take a look and see this business has been in your service area for this long and so that helps a whole bunch.

Hill: If you want to learn more about the BBB's 80th Anniversary, you can go to bbb.org. Make sure that your location is set in New Mexico or southwest Colorado.

FAQs about the BBB®

Do you know what the BBB actually does?

Consumer FAQs

What is the Better Business Bureau (BBB)?

For more than 100 years, the BBB has been helping people find businesses, brands, and charities they can trust. BBB Accredited Businesses support the mission and vision of BBB, and their dues and contributions allow BBB to offer its information and services to consumers at no charge. The BBB is not affiliated with any governmental agency.

What is BBB's rating system?

BBB ratings represent the BBB's opinion of how the business will likely interact with its customers. The BBB rating is based on information BBB is able to obtain about the business and is significantly influenced by complaints received from the public. BBB seeks and uses information directly from businesses and public data sources.

What services does the BBB offer to consumers?

The BBB offers consumer education, dispute resolution, scam investigations and tips, business profiles and more.

How can I report a scam to the BBB?

Alert the public about your experience with a scam by completing a report with BBB Scam Tracker at BBB.org/scamtracker

What can BBB do to stop rip-offs and scams?

Although BBB does not have legal and policing powers, we alert the public about marketplace fraud through alerts on scams. BBB works closely with local, state and federal law enforcement agencies, providing them with valuable information on potential frauds. We are often the first organization to know about a developing scam and alert authorities and the public.

FAQs for Businesses

What are the benefits of BBB Accreditation for my business?

With your Accreditation, you will receive increased consumer trust, use of the BBB seal in your marketing, access to enhanced dispute resolution services, a dedicated business profile on the BBB website, enhanced online visibility, and marketing, webinars, etc.

What is a BBB Business Profile?

A BBB Business Profile is a dedicated page on the BBB website that provides information about your business, including contact details, customer reviews, complaints, your BBB rating, licensing details, company start and incorporation dates, products and services, and more. It helps consumers learn about your business and can enhance your online presence and credibility.

Can I use the BBB Seal in my marketing materials?

Accredited Businesses are permitted to use the BBB Seal in their marketing materials, both online and offline. The Seal must be used according to BBB Guidelines, which outlines proper usage to avoid misleading consumers.

Does BBB offer mediation services?

Yes, the BBB offers several dispute resolution (DR) services to help resolve marketplace disputes without going to court. These services are informal, user-friendly, and often quicker and less expensive than formal legal options.

How can my business become BBB Accredited?

Apply for accreditation by completing an application on our website, by phone, or in our office. Your application will be reviewed to ensure your business adheres to BBB's Standards for Trust.
