

If adding a lean-to onto a building, make sure the side wall is high enough for the addition to maintain the slope of the existing roof and still have adequate height at the eaves for air flow and equipment passage.