From the Editor

The merry, merry month of May

May has always been one of my favorite months.

Yours too?

Not surprising. There are many things to like about the month of May.

My affinity for it is probably a holdover from childhood, because that was when school adjourned for summer vacation. Still is, in fact, and I suspect I'm not the only member of the not-as-young-as-we-used-to-be generation who feels a bit wistful every year come May.

Here in central Alabama, May is the month when warm weather finally settles in to stay for the season, which means time to get back out on and around the lake with more regularity.

It's the month of such great traditions as NASCAR action at the Talladega Superspeedway, the Indianapolis 500, the Kentucky Derby and the Cannes Film Festival. It's also the month of some observances you might not be as aware of. For example: Save the Rhino Day (May 1), National Teachers Day (May 2), Intergalactic Star Wars Day (May 4), International Tuba Day (May 5), Root Canal Appreciation Day (May 11), National Escargot Day (May 24) and International Hug Your Cat Day (May 30).

Many events of historic and cultural significance took place during May.

It was in May (of 1607) that the Virginia Company settled Jamestown. It was in May (of 1796) that Dr. Edward Jenner developed the smallpox vaccine. In 1869, Leland Stanford drove the golden spike connecting the Central Pacific and Union Pacific rail lines, completing the First Transcontinental Railroad. In 1927, Charles Lindbergh completed the first transatlantic flight. Five years later, Amelia Earhart became the first woman to do so. In 1937, the Golden Gate Bridge opened. In 1954, the U.S. Supreme Court declared racial segregation of public schools illegal. In 1961, Alan Shepard blasted skyward to become the first American in space. In 1969, Crosby, Stills & Nash released their debut album. In 1994, Nelson Mandela was inaugurated as the first president of South Africa.

Here at Lakeside Living, May marks the start of our 11th year of publication as a magazine, as well as the beginning of our new thematic approach to telling the stories of Logan Martin Lake. Since May is when the events season starts gearing up in earnest, this issue's theme explores events and activities taking place on the lake and in lakeside communities this summer. We've got the scoop about LakeFest, the Riverside Poker Run, Summer Lights on the Lake, the Pell City Block Party and much more.

As always, thank you for joining us, and we look forward to seeing you at some of these events.

CALENDAR KEY

Fishing Condition: This is the overall rating for the whole day, based upon our formula:

Best ■ Good ■ Fair ■ Poor ■

Best Time: This column lists the best time of the day when, according to our formula, fish will be biting: MORNING; EVENING.

Preparation of your catch for eating is called cleaning the catch, and there are two different ways to clean fish.

Filleting involves cutting the edible part of the fish away from the inedible part, leaving no bones. Dressing implies taking off parts that cannot be eaten, and most bones are left with the edible portion. Some fish have to be scaled with a knife or a spoon. Catfish have a skin that must be removed.

Once fish are cleaned, they should be frozen immediately or prepared within 3 days. Frozen fish may develop freezer burn unless they are tightly wrapped or they are frozen in water. When freezing fish in water, use just enough to cover the fish. Plastic freezer bags work well for fillets, if they can be sealed without leaking.

Fish may be cooked by baking, boiling, broiling, frying, grilling, microwaving, and poaching. Three preparation methods are also preserving methods: canning, pickling and smoking. When cooked, fish should be white and flaky, not dry and brittle. Some species cook more quickly than others. Thicker pieces of fish take longer than thinner. Trial and error is the best way to learn to cook fish.

LakeFest is the perfect occasion to see and test drive the latest watercraft models, enjoy fun activities and try out the newest fishing gear.

said Eric Housh, a member of the Logan Martin Charity Foundation, which organizes the event. "We have been blessed to have great community support, and each year we get more and more people wanting to attend, new vendors wanting to be involved and returning vendors wanting to become sponsors."

Those who attend this year's event can expect to see what Housh described as "some really cool new things" alongside traditional LakeFest attractions.

"The big news this year is that due to increased support from the public and our sponsors and vendors, we will be giving away a pontoon boat," he said. "And that's not a gimmick. It's 100 percent legit."

Every LakeFest attendee will receive one complimentary entry in a drawing for a 2017 Sun Tracker Boat Bass Buggy DLX 16, currently on display at Town & Country Ford in Pell City. Additional entries can be purchased at the sweepstakes tent. The drawing is scheduled for 8 p.m. May 20, and the winner must be present to receive the prize.

"This is really exciting for us," Housh said. "The 16-foot Bass Buggy is fully-rigged and lake-ready, and somebody who comes to LakeFest will be taking it home."

Returning to the event this year is a children's area.

"We had one in the early days, but for a while the venue wasn't ideal for it," Housh said. "Now with extra parking and the attraction of the splash pad, we're bringing it back with a bunch of kid-friendly rides, bouncy houses and things of that nature. LakeFest has always been family-oriented, and between the playground area, the splash pad, and our kids' area, the young ones will have plenty to do at Lakeside Park that weekend."

Attendees have "always loved the food at LakeFest," he continued, "but we have been getting some requests for more options. We're accommodating those requests this year by adding some diversity and extra choices to our traditional favorites that we think will be well-received."

Live music will be performed throughout the festival by such crowd-favorite acts as the Matt Bennett Band, Deputy 5 and local singer-songwriter Susannah Seales.

The traditional fireworks show in honor of residents at Pell City's Col. Robert L. Howard Veterans Home is set to begin at 8 p.m.

Annual poker run supports the beautification of lakeside community

Written by Kelli Tipton
Photographed by Tucker Webb

Members of Riverside Beautification Organization have seriously increased the charm factor of their small town on the Coosa River.

Thanks to community involvement in several fundraisers, especially the Riverside Poker Run, the group was able to purchase new signage for the city, and members recently planted roses, petunias, azaleas and other plants around City Hall, the post office and Riverside Landing.

"We began in 2006 as a group of ladies interested in starting a recycling program in Riverside – which we did – and from there we have grown to 27 members, including both men and women," said RBO president Lisa Boyd. "We want to raise community awareness of beautification and recycling. We bought our city welcome sign, our sign to Riverside Landing, the sign in front of City Hall and we've added lighting and made some other improvements to the town."

The organization was incorporated in 2009 with the purpose of implementing environmental awareness, preserving the natural beauty of Riverside and developing landscaping within the town. RBO uses proceeds from fundraisers and individual donations to accomplish these goals.

The group's biggest fundraiser is the Riverside Poker Run, planned for June 17. Last year's event had 217 participants, and as many, or more, is hoped for this year.

"We have seven docks and a mystery dock, and we decorate them with a theme, and we have giveaways at each dock," Boyd said. "For a couple of years, my dock has had a Mardi Gras theme, and when people pull up in their boat, we throw Mardi Gras beads to them. We have a lot of families who do the poker run, and we try to have popsicles and other stuff at each dock so the kids will have something to do.

"We also have another game in addition to just drawing a card at each dock. We have poker chips with numbers on them in the packet you get when you register. There is a prize at each dock and a bucket. If you want to win that prize, you put a poker chip in the bucket, and if your chip is drawn, you win the prize."

A map to participating docks is also included in each registration packet. "It doesn't take that long to go to each dock, but we do try to cover from one end of Riverside to the other, as much as possible, so that people who participate can see our shoreline," said member Sandra Jessup, who encouraged pre-registration. "That way, people can just leave from their own dock on Saturday morning and start the poker run," she said.

RBO also cooperates with Riverside Fire Department every year to host a fall festival. They rent out tables for crafters to display their wares at the festival. "We work with the fire department, usually around Halloween, to have the festival with activities for the children. There is a hayride and games where they can win candy and prizes, and an arts and crafts sale featuring a variety of items from hand-made jewelry and scarves to local honey and baked goods," said member Teresa Hammond.

Group members said they are thankful for the community support they receive, and they enjoy giving back to Riverside residents. "We have a yearly Christmas tree lighting event, and the community comes out for hot dogs and Santa Claus. It's a time of fellowship and a chance to get to know your neighbors," said member Martha Howard.

Future projects for RBO include planting bushes and shrubs in the town's park and walking trail. "As the town has grown and improved, we've tried to support it," Boyd said. "It's a work in progress."

The 9th Annual Riverside Poker Run

When: 10 a.m.-2 p.m. Saturday, June 17.

Where: Riverside Landing, Depot Street, just off Highway 78.

*F*rom community festivals to bass tournaments to a rodeo, there's plenty to choose from and plan for as you contemplate what to do this summer around the lake. The following list doesn't attempt to be comprehensive, but it serves to highlight the range of events Logan Martin has to offer.

Blue Eye Creek Festival
9 a.m.-10 p.m. Saturday, May 13

Hosted by the Lincoln Parks and Recreation Department, the third annual festival returns with a youth fishing derby, arts and crafts, food vendors, auto show, corn hole tournament and children's area. Entertainment will be provided by Broken, The Sunsets, Who Shot Lizzy, Susannah Seales and Mother May I.

For more information, call 205-763-1006.

RENEW OUR RIVERS KEEPS LOGAN MARTIN CLEAN

Photographed
by Bob Crisp

May is the month when things start happening on the lake, but it's the Renew Our Rivers cleanup campaign in March that gets the lakeside shorelines ready for their warm weather splendor and increased activity. Spearheaded by the Logan Martin Lake Protection Association and Alabama Power Company, the cleanup is conducted by volunteers, who have removed tons of trash from the lake in recent years. Here's a look at some of the faces who were on hand to get the lake looking ship-shape during this year's event.

When Steven and Heather Allen were looking for a home, they had three criteria: it had to be in Waters Edge subdivision, it had to offer a lot of privacy and it had to have an open floor plan.

A spacious lakeside home met their standards, and from their first walk-through, they knew it would be a perfect fit for them. With more than 6,000 square feet of living area, four bedrooms, four bathrooms, a den and two full kitchens, the Allens' home accommodates their family's active lifestyle.

"One thing that was very important for us was the neighborhood," Heather said. "We wanted to be in this particular neighborhood. My in-laws live here, and we were over here all the time anyway, and we love it."

"You have total privacy here," Steven added. "This home was built for a large family that is involved with one another, which we are, and it had room for us to grow in. It had the staples and the bones we needed and everything that it didn't have, we knew we could make the appropriate changes."

The Allens have two children, Tripp and Ava Kate, and are expecting their third child, Jett. Tripp and Ava Kate are homeschooled.

"We knew we wanted to homeschool our children," Steven said. "We wanted the freedom to travel on a whim. I am in the private aviation business, and we need the freedom to pack up and go. Another reason we decided to homeschool is because we want to know what our children are being taught, and we enjoy being with them." They use a curriculum that includes Charlotte Mason's Christian-based lessons.

Heather decorated most of their home with light, airy, neutral colors and kid-friendly furnishings. A long leather couch faces the fireplace in the main living room. "It's the first piece of furniture we put in here," she said. "Everything has to be functional, and leather is a good choice when you have kids and pets. We have four dogs, and they do get on the couch." A sturdy trunk serves as a coffee table, and mirrored end tables and candle holders reflect sunlight from outside.

They recently converted a screened-in porch into a home office for Steven, and he enjoys working from home when he can. "You can't beat sitting at home in your office, surrounded by woods and wildlife," he said. "Being able to sit here and see your boat on the lake, it's perfect."

LAKESIDE THEATER GROUP PERFORMS

'Sister Act'

CEPA spring season concludes with the return of the Pell City Players

Written by Laci Braswell
Photographed by Tucker Webb

A show-stopping performance of "Sister Act" by the Pell City Players will conclude the spring season at the Pell City Center for Education and Performing Arts (CEPA).

Based on the 1992 film, the musical comedy will be presented by an accomplished cast of local actors at 7 p.m. Friday and Saturday, May 12 and 13, with a matinee performance at 2 p.m. Sunday, May 14.

"We have such a talented cast for this production, which includes multiple musical numbers," said Kathy McCoy, director of the Pell City Players. "I just want to thank the church for letting us rehearse here. It has really helped practices come alive."

The church she referred to is Unity Baptist Church in Pell City, where the community theater group has gathered multiple times per week to rehearse. McCoy said the Players was founded in 2006 and have performed drama, comedy and musicals on the CEPA and other stages in the more than a decade since.

The group's inaugural production was "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof" in March 2007. Other notable productions have included "Nightfall with Edgar Allan Poe" and

"Dearly Departed."

"We competed at the Alabama Community Theatre Conference in Wetumpka last October," McCoy said. "We won best ensemble among other recognitions, and I'm so proud of their hard work."

Each year, Players awards a scholarship to a senior at Pell City High School.

"We want to continue to provide an outlet for our community, especially our youth," McCoy said. "It is the group's goal is to bring good theatre to the Pell City community and beyond."

Joaquin Guzman, a member of the Players who is serving as assistant director of "Sister Act," said the group is open to new members.

"We welcome anyone who is interested in becoming a Pell City Player," he said. "You don't have to live in Pell City to participate. The group has always done an excellent job at casting for their productions. We don't play favorites, and we award roles to the actors best suited for the needed characters."

The stage production of "Sister Act" is adapted from the successful film that starred Whoopi Goldberg and prompted the sequel, "Sister Act 2: Back in the Habit." It tells the story of lounge singer Deloris Van Cartier, who is placed into a convent for protection after witnessing a murder.

Tickets for the Players' production are $20 for adults and $10 for students. VIP tickets are available for $40 each. To order, call the CEPA box office at 205-332-1961 or visit www.pellcitycepa.com.

"Please come support your community theatre, which is composed of your neighbors and friends," McCoy said.

Courtney Castleberry has a deep-seated love for the Gateway to Logan Martin Lake.

"I was born and raised in Pell City, I graduated from Pell City High School, and all my family is here," she said. "I love it because everywhere you go, you see somebody you know. Even though we're growing, Pell City hasn't lost its small-town feel."

As the Pell City Chamber of Commerce's new executive assistant, Castleberry enjoys that her work affords opportunity to closely observe the city's growth as it happens, which she discussed during a sunny spring afternoon by the water.

Pell City's potential: "I've always thought Pell City had great potential, and I'm glad to be a part of a team of great people who are working to support and promote Pell City. I want Pell City to be the best it can be, and it's great that we have the lake here. It's an asset that sets us apart from surrounding

Fun on the lake: "Growing up, every summer was spent on the lake with family and friends. You never know who you'll see on the lake. That's why I love going out to Pirate Island. You can be there with your boat tied up next to people you don't know and quickly become friends with them."

How she describes herself: "Outgoing. Eager to learn and embrace change. Working at the chamber has especially opened my eyes to change. A lot of people fear change without even giving it a chance, but without change, we can't grow. If you really embrace change, most of the time it will surprise you how much you will actually enjoy it. I always say change for the right reason – to improve – is good. Whether you're an individual or a community, you have to take risks in order to be more successful and grow."

The value of a positive attitude: "I think it is important to wake up every day and count our blessings. On the way to school every morning, I tell my daughter, 'Today is a good day to have a good day.' I am a firm believer that life is what you make it. Having a positive attitude can be contagious. Not only will it make a difference in your day, but it can also have an impact on those around you."

Something an acquaintance might be surprised to learn about her: "I'm not afraid to be adventurous. Growing up, I had a 4-wheeler, and we'd go mud riding all the time. I'm not afraid to get dirty, but looking at me, someone might not think there's a little bit of a tomboy in me."

The food she could eat every day: "Sushi."

The food she hopes she never eats again: "Raw oysters. I'll try anything once, but I'll never try that again."

We take the time to fill all your needs.

FRIDAY 5th

FIRST FRIDAY WEBINAR SERIES

The fourth installment in the All Bugs Good and Bad series about Alabama insects begins at 2 p.m. Dr. Thomas Mather will conduct the discussion about ticks. The series is sponsored by the Alabama Cooperative Extension Service. For more information about the webinar – including how to connect – visit www.articles.extension.org/webpages/73368.

SATURDAY 6th

BASS TOURNAMENT

Logan Martin Lake plays host to the Pride of the South Central Division Tournament, which launches from D&S Marina at safe daylight, returning for the weigh-in at 3 p.m. The entry fee is $110 per boat. For more information, call 205-281-7299.

THE MARVELOUS WONDERETTES

The musical comedy opens at 7 p.m. at Talladega's Historic Ritz Theatre. A homage to the 1950s and 1960s, the show uses pop songs from the era in telling the story of The Wonderettes, four singers with dreams as big as their crinoline skirts. Tickets are $18 for adults and $12 for students. For more information, call 256-315-0000.

GRASSROOTS DAY

A.J. Powers Memorial Lodge in Winterboro plays hosts to the annual community festival from 8 a.m.-3 p.m. The lodge is located next to Winterboro School. The event ("a fun day for the whole family," according to organizers) will include an antique car show, vendors, food, and entertainment.

MONDAY 29th

BASS TOURNAMENT

The 2017 Solo Head-Hunters series returns to Logan Martin Lake, launching from Clear Creek at safe light. The team tournament requires a $120 entry fee, including big fish payback. The weigh-in is scheduled for 2 p.m. This is a qualifying tournament for the season-ending final competition on Dec. 17. For more information, call 256-589-5377.

Luxury at Lake Pointe

Written by Buddy Roberts
Photographed by Bob Crisp

Offering a spectacular view of the lake, the property at 75 Willow Drive in Lincoln is perfect for indoor and outdoor entertaining.

The 4-bedroom, 3.5-bath home in Lake Pointe subdivision features expansive decks that are perfect for enjoying the serene lakeside setting. Inside, an upstairs bonus room is designed to be a home theater. Other entertaining amenities include a wet bar and wine cellar.

The home also boasts a full basement, large sliding barn doors, barn wood beams, dark hardwoods, stained concrete, tile and carpet flooring, stainless steel appliances, a large soaker tub in the master bath, vaulted ceilings in the great room and 9-foot ceilings throughout.

Extras include oil-rubbed bronze light fixtures, board and batten wainscoting, recessed lights, soft close drawers, granite countertops and a storm shelter. A community pool and boat launch are available to residents.

The property lists at $689,900. For more information, call Nicole Anderson Walters of Lake Homes Realty at 205-985-2991.

Talladega agent is excited about real estate

Written by Kelli Tiptin
Photographed by Buddy Roberts

As her retirement from Alabama Institute for Deaf and Blind drew near, Donna Roberts decided to pursue a license in real estate.

She retired from AIDB six years ago, and joined Porter & Porter Company in Talladega as a full-time agent the following year. "It wasn't a difficult transition," she said. "I worked in sales at AIDB, so I knew how to sell."

But selling property isn't the only thing that excites her about working in real estate. Watching couples from other states choose to live in Talladega and raise their families is also exciting.

"In the past year, I have seen several people move to Talladega from other states. One couple was from Chattanooga, Tennessee. The man just fell in love with the Silk Stocking District. He loved the historic homes. They decided to live here in Talladega, and he commutes to work in Sylacauga."

The Silk Stocking District in Talladega is just one of many places she shows prospective residents while telling them about such local attractions like Cheaha Mountain and Talladega Superspeedway. "I also take them to Point Aquarius to show them homes on the lake. I take them to Lincoln, Riverside ... any area we can drive to in a day's time," she said.

Roberts is one of three real estate agents at Porter & Porter Company available on Saturdays. "We are now open on Saturday until 1 p.m., which is good for people who work and can't get to the office during the week. Sometimes, when the weather is pretty on the weekend, people will just be out riding and looking, and they will give us a call about a listing they like."

She is also experienced in selling foreclosed properties. "There are some good deals out there right now, especially with foreclosed properties. A foreclosed home could be one way for a first-time home buyer to get a great deal."
