Building on the Dorsey legacy

By Sherry Kughn

Gerry D'Alessandro bought Dorsey's Super Market in Oxford in 2015 after hearing from the longtime grocery namesake, Sherrell Dorsey, wanted to retire.

He is happy to have made the decision, and he appreciates the outstanding customer support, the manager Robin Jordan, and the entire staff.

D'Alessandro is a longtime grocery man, having worked as a teenager with his father and uncle at Fourth Avenue Supermarket in Bessemer, a store he once co-owned until he bought out his family members. Since then, he has also acquired Fresh Value stores in Pell City and Bessemer, and Trussville.

"I am humbled and honored to receive the People's Choice award," D'Alessandro said. "Robin and the team are here day-to-day executing and focusing on customer service."

He said the Dorsey team strives to keep prices low while also selling great fresh meats and produce. In addition to the first-place award, the meat department of Dorsey's received a second-place finish in the Best Meats category, and the produce department received third place in Best Produce.

Jordan worked at the Leeds store for four-and-a-half years, rising to assistant manager. It was then that D'Alessandro offered her the management position at Dorsey's only a little more than three months ago.

"I love this place," she said. "It is small and personal. I get to talk to the customers, and this is a family-friendly place. The staff is awesome, and we are nothing without the people who work here."

Both agreed that the award reflects on customer loyalty.

"We put our customers first," D'Alessandro said.

The store is at 601 Main Street in Oxford.

Dorsey's 831-5510 Jerry D'alessandro, owner. Robin Jordan manager 205-577-8832

Best Doctor, Edwin Keel: Best Emergency Care facility, Keel and Associates

Dr. Edwin Keel's office, Keel and Associates, won first place in Best Emergency Care Facility and first place in the Best Doctor category.

"It's an honor that the patients expressed their thoughts," he said. "It's a big honor." Dr. Keel is a Tennessee native who grew up in Ephesus, Ga., which is only about an hour from Oxford. He graduated in 1986 from the Medical College of Georgia in Augusta. After practicing as a Board-Certified Emergency Room physician in the Birmingham area, he relocated to Annsiton in 1993 to work in the ER at RMC. After 5 years, Dr. Keel decided to open a practice in Oxford. Keel and Associates is a family practice and urgent care office located at 1612 Highway 78 East.

He appreciates his office staff, and his nurse practitioners, Janie McBurnett and Shelby Spurling. "They are all doing a great job," he said.

He also thanked his wife, Connie, who manages the office. She is a registered nurse, but now takes care of all aspects of the business.

The couple has two children, Mya, 16, and Sean, 13. Mya is considering becoming a veterinarian, and Sean hasn't begun thinking about a career.

"We have been in Oxford since 1993 and thoroughly enjoy living here," he said. "It is very convenient and a great location in this state. We were here before the hotels and the Exchange and have seen a lot of progress."

Office hours for Keel and Associates are from 7 a.m. - 7 p.m. Monday through Saturday and accepting new patients.

Dr. Keel moved to Oxford in 1993 and loves the location in the state.

Floors to Go best flooring company

By Sherry Kughn

Owner Ted Gregerson is honored that Floors to Go was voted Best Carpet/ Flooring Dealer in the flooring category.

"We must be doing something right," he said. "It seems like our referral business is good because we feel that we treat customers the way we want to be treated. We always take care of them if they have a problem. In the long run, that pays off."

Gregerson started working for a carpet store after graduating from Southside High School in Gadsden. He worked for six years installing flooring and then moved up the ladder at a local store until he became manager. Then, about 12 years later, he decided to open his own flooring business.

"This is all I have ever done," Gregerson said, "and, for me, it has turned out well."

Gregerson, who has been married to his wife Tammy for 28 years, said he appreciates his staff at Floors to Go, which operates under the management of Ben Lasslett.

"We have long-term employees who treat the business like it is their own," Gregerson said. "They exceed expectations, and I am proud of their team spirit."

Another reason for success is that the company carries a wide variety of flooring coverings, such as hardwood, tile, laminate, carpet, and vinyl. They also install tiled showers and tubs and install countertops made from natural and other materials.

He added, "We always try to stay up-to-date on the latest in the flooring market and hope to continue to build our customer base by providing an awesome customer experience."

Murphy thanks staff, customers

By Sherry Kughn

Dara Murphy had two epiphanies related to her career: Once, when a package of beads she had ordered arrived in the mail, her heart started racing. She knew then that she should resume her love of making jewelry.

Also, years later, after she had achieved success as a jewelry maker, she met a homeless woman named Rosa Lee. Murphy engaged with a particular woman that the rest of the world had overlooked. She knew then she would build her jewelry-making business around helping both her customers and those in need.

Rosa Lee Botique has now been on Anniston's Noble Street since October, 2017. It sales both jewelry and women's trendiest clothes. Murphy was thrilled recently when she learned that her customers voted her Best Boutique and also voted her jewelry business second in the Best Jewelry category.

"It is an honor to be acknowledged by the entire community," Murphy said. "The award gives me more incentive to keep going and growing." Murphy worked for a local jewelry-making business in 1991, Katrina's. She dabbled in making her own jewelry until 1999 when she had that first epiphany after a lapse of time not making jewelry. Later, she opened Dara's in the back of Alexander's at Noble shops. The new boutique is now at the former Think Toys building at 909 Noble St.

Murphy credits her staff with honoring her customers the way she was taught when she worked for the late Frances Couch of Couch's Jewelers.

"I still use her ideology every single day," Murphy said. "A five-dollar customer is equal to a five-thousand-dollar customer."

Murphy is growing thanks to through her customers service, good prices, and her Thursday evening Facebook show. She and co-worker Ashlyn Giles display their merchandise, engage with viewers, and raise money for charity by giving portions of the sales on a rotating basis to a variety of organizations.

"We raised almost ten thousand dollars when the Jacksonville tornado came along," she said. "I wanted to help students who had no home."

Visit Dara Murphy on Facebook.

Dara Murphy appears on her own Facebook video show on Thursday evenings. Her boutique, Rosa Lee, is located on Noble Street in Anniston.

Pickette's: Best Produce Market

By Sherry Kughn

Jim Pickette said selling produce is "in his blood." He was pleased that his two produce markets were chosen best in the category by the People's Choice polls.

"We cut up and carry on with our customers," he said. "We like to greet them, and we like hearing that they like our produce."

Pickette has two feed and pet stores in addition to his two markets. In 2017, when longtime market owner Steve Burney sold B&B Produce, Pickette bought it and reopened it in April. Now he has businesses at 3200 McClellan Blvd., 1822 Highway 78, and on South Quintard.

During the interview, Pickette displayed a photograph of himself as a teen-ager working at what was once Langley's Market on Alabama 21. After graduating from Jacksonville High School, he went into military service with the Alabama National Guard for six years. In 1973, he also began working for Franklin Box and Crate in the Oxana area of Oxford. After 1976, he worked for Bill Love's IGA in Oxford for 18 years, "doing whatever needed to be done." Eventually, he rose to the position of store manager.

He co-owned the former Lea and Mike's grocery store before he starting his own grocery store in Munford. Then he opened two feed-and-pet businesses called Pickette's, one in Anniston and one in Oxford. In 2003, he added a produce stand on the side of the Anniston location.

Pickette drives early each morning to Birmingham to get the best produce he can find. Upon return, he rests a bit and then checks on his stores until late afternoon, putting in 15-18 hours a day.

"I will have plants this fall at the markets," Pickette said, "and I am adding a line of cast aluminum figures."

Jim Pickette has made friends with farmers throughout the state who grow the vegetables and fruits he displays in his two markets.

Parnell Insurance wins 'Best Insurance Company' award

By Laci Braswell

Allen Parnell Jr. and his staff at Parnell Insurance have won the "Best Insurance Company," award.

"I would like to thank everyone that voted for us," President of Parnell Insurance Allen Parnell Jr. said. "We really appreciate it. It's an honor to win. We have a very experienced staff," he said. Several members of our staff have been with us for almost 20 years. We take pride in getting to know our customers, and how we can best serve them."

The company was established in 1990, in Athens, Ga.

In 1993, Allen moved the agency to Oxford to be closer to his loved ones.

"We represent several 'A' rated insurance companies," Parnell said. "We handle just about every kind of insurance, except for health insurance."

Parnell also wanted to thank his staff for their dedication.

"Right now, we have 12 employees specializing in all areas of the insurance business," Parnell said. "We couldn't do what we do without their hard work.

We also make sure to always return phone calls."

In 2005, the company opened a second location in Tallapoosa, Ga.

The local Parnell Insurance is at 400 Snow Street in Oxford.

Hours of operation are Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m.

For more information, call 256-831-8887.

Allen Parnell is on the left and his son, Ty Parnell, is on the right. They are proud the company was first in Best Insurance Agency.

The Rocket awarded Best Lunch and Best Burger

By Laci Braswell

The Rocket, a beloved restaurant in Jacksonville received multiple honors in this year's "People's Choice Awards."

This year, it received the "Best Lunch," and "Best Burger," awards.

"We wouldn't be here without the continued support from the community," owner of The Rocket Gary Marbut said. "We have a staff of 16, and several employees have been with us for over 20 years."

The Rocket has been in business since 1958. The Marbuts have owned the business for several decades.

Gary, along with his wife Patsy and son Justin manage the restaurant.

"Everything is fresh and cooked to order," Marbut said. "We come in each morning and start prepping the restaurant and preparing the meat."

Menu items include a variety of comfort food items including burgers, barbecue, salads, sandwiches -- and more.

"I've worked here since I was a kid," Marbut said. "I have several family members in the food business. It's just something I grew up around."

Marbut said the restaurant has a dedicated customer base across the Calhoun County area.

"Our customers are very loyal and have been great to us," Marbut said. "Some of them dine with us multiple times a week. We are proud to support our local community."

The Rocket is at 1508 Pelham Road South in Jacksonville

The Rocket is open Monday through Thursday from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m.; Friday and Saturday from 10 a.m. until 10 p.m.; and Sunday from 11 a.m. until 9 p.m.

For more information, call 256-435-6516.

Son, Justin Marbut, left, and his mother, Patsy Marbut, manage The Rocket. Gary, right, works alongside his family members to run the business for the past several decades.

Bolton Chiropractic Center five-time winner

By Sherry Kughn

People's Choice awards have recognized the Bolton Chiropractic Center as Best Chiropractor in 2012, 2013, 2014, 2017, and now 2018.

"This is very exciting," owner Tony Bolton said. "This is about my entire staff. They genuinely care about our patients."

His office manager has been with him for 20 years, one assistant for 16 years, and a third for six years. Chiropractor, Chris Law, joined the practice in 2012.

Bolton is a local man who is the team chiropractor for Oxford High School athletics. He was raised in Oxford and graduated from Jacksonville State University in 1992. From there, he graduated in 1996 from Life College in Marietta, Ga., which is now a university. He came back that same year to his hometown to start his practice, which is located at 1401 Hillyer Robinson Parkway.

"I got into chiropractic after seeing my mother, Sybil, have severe migraines that nothing seemed to help," he said. "My dad finally told her to go to a chiropractor, and that helped. That got my attention."

Bolton is the son of Coy Bolston, a longtime Anniston businessman in the heating and cooling business. He is the husband of Kim Bolton, a teacher at Oxford Elementary School. Their daughters are Danielle and Anna, both students at Auburn University.

"I have been blessed," Bolton said. "I have been here almost twenty-two years. I enjoy what I do and enjoy seeing people get out of pain and live healthier."

He said returning to serve the people of Calhoun County was a natural fit for him since he wanted to remain close to family and friends.

Tony Bolton returned to his hometown, Oxford, to establish his chiropractic practice as soon as he graduated from Life College in Marietta, Ga., in 1996.

CHRISTIAN CORNER MEATS

More than a meat store!

Thanks for voting us #1 Butcher Shop!

We want to also thank our "team" for their outstanding efforts in the recent months. Each one has worked willingly with one goal and like minds to serve you - our customers and friends. Truly this team has amazed us with their unselfish determination to get the job done well.

Christian Corner Meats is not your normal grocery store. We want to do different well. What makes us different? We don't want to be the biggest store that sells meat, we want to be the best. Here is how:

1) We sell a superior beef. There's Angus. Then there's the Certified Angus Beef® brand. In 2015, we were licensed to sell Certified Angus Beef®. We have never been sorry. Superior beef - still competitively priced.

2) We smoke our own meats. We are passionate about our smoking. We sell chopped BBQ, whole butts, ribs, brisket and bologna. Hams and turkeys are holiday favorites.

3) We offer many items other grocery stores do not offer. Take a step back in time to eat Schoolhouse Pizzas or Stop Sign Pizzas, or those wonderful Crisпитos. We have those items for you here.

Serving you is indeed our pleasure!
