Klum, Cannon Talk About Talent on NBC Competition Series

Candace Havens FYI Television, Inc.

Contortionists, acrobats, magicians and 9-year-old Rubik's Cube masters, these are the people who make "America's Got Talent," airing Tuesday at 7 p.m. on NBC, different from any other competition reality series. Judges Howard Stern, Heidi Klum, Mel B. and Howie Mandel are never bored by the variety of acts that appear on the show.

This is supermodel Klum's second season as a judge on the competition series. While she's vocal on the show about her likes and dislikes, she remembers how tough it was to audition for things. "I sit there and I try to be always open-minded and give everyone a fair chance," says Klum. "People don't always do that in the business. When I would go to casting, I have memories of where people sometimes go through your book that you've been working on for a whole year – your picture book – and people just rush through it. Sometimes they don't even look up to you to see you and they hand the book back to you and go, 'Okay, next.' And sometimes people don't really give you a fair chance and you're always disappointed when people, kind of, treat you in a certain way.

"So I always try to remember that when people come on to the stage – to give everyone a fair shot. I know that these people are nervous. They've been waiting in line for hours. So I don't take that lightly. I don't just buzz in the first two seconds. I always want to see why are they here."

One of Klum's favorite acts was an unusual one. "I think he was 92-years-old, this gentlemen who pulled a car with his teeth with his brother, his girlfriend, and, I think, his sister in the car," Klum says. "So he pulled three grown-ups in this car by his teeth, which was absolutely incredible. Literally, Howard and myself and Mel and Howie, we got up and tried to pull this car with these people in it with our hands, so we were all tugging on this rope, trying to get this car to even move, and we could not move this car.

"But this gentlemen, this 90-somewhat-old gentleman, you know, he put this mouthpiece in his mouth and it was attached to the rope that we all tried to pull. And he just got on his knees and he pulled this car with these people in it, which was unbelievable. And I couldn't believe how strong this man was because we all couldn't pull the car."

As the host, Cannon must keep the show running and deal with awkward moments. He has a great deal of respect for the contestants and does his best to put them at ease. "I always empathize and sympathize with the acts, just as a performer," Cannon says. "When you think about the amount of courage that it takes - just to even step on a stage like that, regardless of what talent it is, what you believe you can do as a performer, it takes so much guts to get out there. So that's kind of why I'm usually the cheerleader. I'm the motivator, just kind of rooting, just saying, 'Hey, the fact that you even attempted it and have made it this far - I'm impressed. I salute you.

(I-r) Howie Mandel, Mel B., Howard Stern, Heidi Klum and Nick Cannon star on "America's Got Talent," airing Tuesday at 7 p.m. on NBC.

I'm connecting with you as an artist. So however you plan to express yourself out there in those 90 seconds, I'm here to support you."

That is unless the performer is sticking a sword down his or her throat. "I come from a place where I try to embrace everything, but I can't – I'm not really a fan of the side show act because I've got a weak stomach," Cannon says. "Anytime people are like inflicting pain on themselves or that crazy stuff, or like swallowing swords, putting staples in their face, I can't really – you've seen my reaction if you watch this show. I can't look at it. I just close my eyes and look the other way.

"And then the ones that are my favorite, obviously, are always the young people. I just have a soft spot in my heart for the kids that come on the show and I think this season, season nine, we probably have more young people that have come out that are just extraordinarily talented. And it's really probably one of the standout things from the season where you see all these young people doing all these things. And then I was conflicted at one time because we actually had a young person swallowing swords, so I loved her and hated her at the same time," he laughs.

THIS WEEK'S BEST BETS

FRIDAY CMT Crossroads

CMT. 9 p.m.

Grammy-winning country star Kacey Musgraves takes the stage with pop sensation Katy Perry for an all-new edition. Marking the 50th episode of the longest-running music series of the network, the one-hour program has the two stars swapping lyrics and anecdotes during exclusive collaborations of their biggest hits, including Perry's "Roar" and "Teenage Dream" and Musgraves' "Follow Your Arrow" and "Merry Go 'Round." For the first time in the series history, this all-new episode of "CMT Crossroads" will air across multiple channels including VH1, MTV, MTV Hits and Palladia.

SATURDAY 2014 U.S. Open Championship: Third Round

NBC, 11 a.m.

Bubba Watson won the first major championship of the year when he claimed his second title at The Masters, and now Watson will be Musgraves among those vying for > the championship, and NBC will have third-round coverage from Pinehurst Resort & Country Club in Pinehurst, North Carolina. Pinehurst No. 2 was designed by Donald Ross, who said the course was the fairest test of championship golf he had ever designed. The course has hosted more championships than any course in the United States. It is renowned for its undulating greens and for providing the best golfers in the world with strategic choices. Europeans have won the U.S. Open three of the last four years, including Justin Rose from England last year.

SUNDAY Believe

NBC, 8 p.m.

Fueled by anger, Dani (Mia Vallet) turns her powers toward destroying Orchestra and Bo (Johnny Sequoyah), prompting Skouras (Kyle MacLachlan) to ask Winter (Delroy Lindo) for aid on the season finale. Bo soon pulls Tate (Jake McLaughlin) back into danger despite their plans to make a fresh start on their own after he has intense visions of Dani.

MONDAY 2014 FIFA World Cup

ESPN, 4:30 p.m.

Michael Bradley and the United States Men's National Team hope to get a measure of revenge and start off on the right foot when they face Ghana. In 2006, Ghana kept the United States winless in the first round with a 2-1 victory, and the U.S. finished last in Group E. In 2010, Asamoah Gyan scored a goal in extra time, leading Ghana to a 2-1 victory in the round of 16. U.S. coach Jurgen Klinsmann has been stressing the importance of getting a win over Ghana in order for the United States to have a successful run in the World Cup this year. Bradley is making his second appearance in the World Cup for the United States, scoring a goal in a 2-2 draw with Slovenia in 2010.

MONDAY Louie

FX, 9 p.m.

Louie (Louis C.K.) finally goes out on a date with Pamela (Pamela Adlon). After spending many hours with her at the park as their children played together and he harbored deeper feelings for her, Louie at last has a chance for his unrequited love to blossom into something more

TUESDAY

The Night Shift

NBC, 9:01 p.m.

While the emergency room is flooded with patients from an annual Alamo reenactment, T.C. (Eoin Macken), Jordan (Jill Flint) and Kenny (J.R. Lemon) try to help a critically wounded patient with amnesia who is wearing a bracelet indicating that he declines medical treatment. While Jordan and Ragosa (Freddy Rodriquez) bicker about the moral implications of treating their patient, Drew (Brendan Fehr) tries to keep a wounded soldier alive miles away from help, Ragosa takes something that turns out to be quite different from aspirin and the staff mocks Topher (Ken Leung) over a sensitive operation.

WEDNESDAY Hawaii Five-0

CBS, 7 p.m.

McGarrett (Alex O'Loughlin) and the Five-0 team investigate the murder of a realestate agent whose body was found in the walls of one of his listings. Meanwhile, Danny (Scott Caan) is thrown when his mother comes to Oahu with some shocking news.

THURSDAY

American Restoration

History, 9:31 p.m.

Rick Dale works to restore a broken-down 1976 Evel Knievel Junior Roadmaster bicycle to its former glory. After convincing his BMX stunt rider client to perform a daredevil feat in exchange for a discount on the project, Rick gets to work on the challenging transformation. Later, the crew gets their hands on a vintage Mighty Mack Crane Game.

Second Season of 'Graceland' is Intense

Candace Havens FYI Television, Inc.

The house is in turmoil on "Graceland," airing Wednesday at 9:01 p.m. on USA. The show, which is loosely based on true events, follows the lives of six undercover agents living together in a house on a California beach. It is their sanctuary and the only place they can find peace from their dangerous undercover lives. At the end of last season, Mike (Aaron Tveit) saved the lives of Charlie (Vanessa Ferlito) Paul (Daniel Sunjata) after they were brutally attacked by a serial killer.

Mike went off to Washington, D.C., but now he's back in the house running point on a new mission against a drug cartel. To say life is tense for the residents of the safe house is an understatement. Everyone is used to Paul being the boss in the house. He was the go-to guy, but not anymore. The orders have come from higher up, and for now Mike is in charge. There's also the fact the drug cartel wants some of them dead.

After their shared trauma. Charlie and Paul are drawn to each other. "It was really intense when we ended the season," says Ferlito. "I think Charlie is traumatized. I know I was. I'm kind of a method actor so everything she was and is feeling, I was, too. There's such a range of emotions, because she's torn about her feelings for this man she's in love with. The whole time last season she thought he was the bad guy, and then she found out he wasn't. Of course, we know he really is. Her intuition and gut were always right. Everything was right. But somehow he proved her wrong because Briggs is slick and gets out of everything. Now they're going back at it. They're sort of soul mates, but they are damaged. And the job doesn't help. They're kindred spirits. I think she's in love with him, but guilt plays a big part in their relationship. It's complex the feelings they have."

Charlie's bravado from the first season is gone. "Last season she was so confident. but now she's a little reluctant to take on a case. She's feeling insecure. This man she loved - she wanted to bury him. She wanted to put him in jail. And he proved her wrong. She's having trouble figuring out how she could have been so wrong about him, and at the same time she's in love with him. She also loves her job, but she's a little unsure of her skills as an agent."

Briggs is worried the tape of him killing someone is still out there, and he has no idea who has it. The murder was an accident, but Briggs covered it up. Dale (Brandon Jay McLaren), Paige (Serinda Swan) and Joe (Manny Montana), the other residents of the house, aren't sure what to think about all the changes.

"We're used to having Briggs run the house," Ferlito says. "It's awkward for everyone, but Briggs and Charlie have both kind of taken a step back. Still, it's tense. Briggs doesn't really have a choice in the matter because the orders for Mike to be in charge come from D.C., and there's not a lot he can do about it. But I'll say this: Mike shouldn't get too comfortable being in charge. That is not going to last for the next five seasons," she laughs.

The house must come together if they're going to fight the Solano drug cartel. Nester Serrano plays the brutal leader of the cartel. He's the kind of guy who hangs the heads of his enemies off of bridges in his community to prove a point. When Charlie does decide to venture out to see what the evil genius Amber (Brit Morgan) is about, she doesn't like what she discovers. "Yes, these are some very bad people," Ferlito says. "And things get crazy. That's all I'm saying."

The show is based on real agents. Ferlito and her fellow cast members had a chance to talk with them. "You wouldn't believe the way these people have to live," she says. "It's one thing to play a character, but these people have to do this as a part of their lives. It has to be so tough. Some of the stories they told would just shock you. They go deep, deep undercover. They see a lot of stuff no one should have to see. There was this one agent – I don't know how she does it. She has kids. She's deep undercover doing all this crazy stuff, and then she has to go home to her babies. Her ex is really supportive when she has to be away for a while. I don't know how she does it. It's a calling what they do, and no one knows about it. They really are heroes."

Daniel Sunjata and Aaron Tveit's characters relationships are making things tense in the house on "Graceland," airing Wednesday at 9:01 p.m. on USA.

SOAP OPERA REVIEW

THE BOLD AND THE BEAUTIFUL

Hope made a definitive decision about which Spencer brother was for her. Wyatt blamed his mom for the downward spiral his life had taken lately. Quinn then turned around and pointed the finger at Liam. Maya appeared almost jealous of Aly and Oliver's relationship. Rick sealed Quinn's fate as an employee at Forrester Creations. Hope was honest with Liam about the day she spent with his brother at the cabin up at Big Bear. Carter warned Maya not to leak the recording she made of Oliver. Quinn begged Hope not to punish Wyatt for the things that she had done as his mother. Wait to See: Brooke learns of Ridge's fate. Hope is reunited with someone from her past. Quinn's luck changes for the better.

Karla Mosley stars as "Maya" on "The Bold and The Beautiful."

DAYS OF OUR LIVES

Julian instructed Jordan on their next move. Duke and Anna argued about the mob. Later in the day, both Anna and Jordan found themselves in a predicament. Ric's supporters and detractors plotted for and against him. Britt was infuriated when she saw Nikolas and Elizabeth sharing a tender moment. Silas must make a decision on whether to come clean. Anna informed Ric about some new evidence in his case. TJ surprised Rafe, who was partaking in some illicit activities. Shots rang out at the PCPD. Levi and Maxie bickered over their different philosophies in life. Sam started to look into the cause of Sabrina and Patrick's crash. Anna had a new plan to bring down the mob. Wait to See: The judge makes a ruling involving Maxie's baby. Anna warns Alexis to watch herself around Julian. Tracy comes up with a new scheme.

GENERAL HOSPITAL

Ric's supporters and detractors plotted for and against him. Britt was infuriated when she saw Nikolas and Elizabeth sharing a tender moment. Silas must make a decision on whether to come clean. Anna informed Ric about some new evidence in his case. TJ surprised Rafe, who was partaking in some illicit activities. Shots rang out at the PCPD. Levi and Maxie bickered over their different philosophies in life. Sam started to look into the cause of Sabrina and Patrick's crash. Anna had a new plan to bring down the mob. Wait to See: The judge makes a ruling involving Maxie's baby. Anna warns Alexis to watch herself around Julian. Tracy comes up with a new scheme.

THE YOUNG AND THE RESTLESS

Nikki gave Kelly the cold shoulder when Jack introduced her as his girlfriend. Victoria insisted to Billy that she wanted to go to her doctor's appointment alone. Chelsea informed Billy that Stitch's ex-wife was residing in Australia. Sharon offered Mariah a job at The Underground. A mysterious figure watched Billy hold baby Connor. Summer tried to persuade Austin to stay in Genoa City. Christine insisted to Lauren that she wanted to have Paul's baby. Lily told her father that his relationship with Hilary was confusing for Moses. Anita wondered if a romance was brewing between her daughter and Billy. Sharon accused Nick of wanting to run Mariah out of town. Neil asked Hilary if she was uncomfortable with their age difference. Wait to See: Father Todd tries to mediate a crisis. Nikki recalls a significant moment from her past. Victoria receives some troubling news.

There's a story behind every smile.

Tell us your story...

Regional gave my son his beautiful smile back. After breaking his front tooth off on the school monkey bars he was embarrassed to smile. Look at the great job they did. Always pleased!!
