The Harvard study confirmed when Dr. Snodderly measured the "macular pigment density," or "thickness" of the macula in volunteers who were as young as 20/20 vision.

"Taken together, the clinical evidence suggests that the macular pigment may play a significant role in retinal disease by reducing damage that occurs as a result of oxidative stress," Dr. Cohen further said.

What Other Doctors are Saying

"Doctors like Dr. Adam Cohen, of Boca Raton, Florida, are saying ClearSight Advanced is the only safe, affordable, and reliable way to restore failing eyesight," says Dr. Cohen.

The Harvard study found that people age 60 and over with higher macular pigment density had eyesight that was just as good as that of younger people.

Impressive Clinical Effects

The active ingredient in ClearSight Advanced is a naturally occurring compound called lutein. The macula is made from this vital nutrient, so it's required for 20/20 vision.

This breakthrough discovery was confirmed when Dr. Scott measured the "macular pigment density" or "thickness" of the macula in volunteers as young as 24 and as old as 94.

The Harvard study found that people age 60 and over with higher macular pigment density had eyesight that was just as good as that of younger people.

Impressive Clinical Effects

Published in the world's top medical journals like the Journal of the American Medical Association (JAMA) and Investigative Ophthalmology & Visual Science, the Harvard results were stunning.

The results show ClearSight Advanced helps aging seniors with these troubling symptoms:

- Faded colors
- Poor night vision
- Blurry vision
- Distortions
- Spots and floaters
- Double vision
- Trouble reading
- Faded colors
- Poor night vision
- Eye fatigue
- Barrel shapes
- Difficulty adjusting to changes in light

There is no miracle cure for vision loss, but ClearSight Advanced is the only safe, affordable, and reliable way to restore failing eyesight.

Volunteers who were over the age of 85 were impressed with their new vision.

"Together, this is the best for good for more than just reading an eye chart."
