

American Prairie Reserve

The American Prairie Reserve has bought about 90,000 acres of private ranchland and leased another nearly 300,000 acres of public grassland adjacent to the C.M. Russell National Wildlife Refuge along the Missouri River in north-central Montana.

