HELENA—A new television ad by Democratic congressional candidate Dennis McDonald began running Tuesday and attacks Rep. Denny Rehberg, the Republican incumbent.

The ad shows a mock television game show. Here is the transcript:

Host: “Welcome back. And now, Carrie Newton, it is time for the final question. If you get this correct, you will win $1 million. Which one of the actual scenarios involving Congressman Denny Rehberg’s questionable behavior while in office is considered to be the dumbest?”
(Audience laughs)

“A. When he fell off his horse reportedly drunk in Kazakhstan on a state visit.

“B. When he sued the Billings Fire Department after they risked their lives putting out a fire on his property.

“C. Driving fast on Flathead Lake in a speedboat, in the dark, with a drunk driver crashing on the rocks. (Audience laughs.)

“Or, D, all of the above.”

Contestant Newton: “Is this guy really our congressman? (Audience laughs.) Wow. I’m going to have to go with D, all of the above. Final answer.”

Host: “D is correct. (Audience cheers.) Congratulations. You have won $1 million.”

Host: “Final answer. Vote Dennis McDonald for Congress.”

McDonald: “I’m Dennis McDonald and I approved this message.”
