

*Goodbyes hurt the most when the story isn't finished
I do not understand why you had to go
You were loved so much more than you will ever know
Life changed forever that day you went away
My heart still physically aches for you everyday
You always used to tell me
You remembered our first kiss
I now spend my life trying to remember that last one Miss and Love you Joe*
