Relay for Life — These boots were made for walking

By MANDY COLOSIMO
mdolino.C@gmail.com

There is a song, sung by Tim McGraw, titled “Live Like You Were Dying.” The lyrics begin to tell the story of a father who is ill, and continue about a son who uses every moment he has left in his own life to live like he was dying. McGraw’s (father died) he had cancer. It only makes sense to reflect on this song as an introduction to a week-end event that touches so many lives. Eight teams will begin their journey in the 2022 American Cancer Society, McKean County Relay for Life with a western theme and event logo, “Let’s Corale Cancer.”

For anyone not familiar with the event, the Relay for Life is an all year round national event to raise money to help find cures for cancer.

Italian Festival. Enjoy delicious slices of Italian favorites, music, games, fun for the kids, and so much more. Also in Bradford this weekend is the McKean County Relay for Life. This annual fundraiser takes place on Saturday from 10:30 a.m. to well after the 9:45 p.m. closing ceremony. Parking should not be much of an issue with both events going on at the same time in the same vicinity.

“Today, in Bradford, there is no charge on metered streets,” said City of Bradford City Administrator Chita Luccio. There is also no charge for weekends (Saturday and Sunday) as a general policy.

Italian-American Stan Pecora provided a few remarks during the opening ceremony at 5:30 Thursday night on Festival Way in Bradford, for the beginning of the Festa Italiana. The festival is scheduled to run through Saturday evening, and will close with a wonderful fireworks display at 10:15 p.m. To see more photos see page A-10.

Today’s Weather:
Expect patches of fog before 8 a.m. today, with otherwise sunny skies and a high near 74 degrees. For tonight’s forecast see A-10.

Events taking place in the region over the weekend

By MANDY COLOSIMO
mdolino.c@gmail.com

Italian-American Stan Pecora provided a few remarks during the opening ceremony at 5:30 Thursday night on Festival Way in Bradford, for the beginning of the Festa Italiana. The festival is scheduled to run through Saturday evening, and will close with a wonderful fireworks display at 10:15 p.m. To see more photos see page A-10.

Maybe it’s because of the last supermoon of the year, or because the Lion’s Gate opened recently, or maybe it has something to do with the forecasted solar flares — whatever the reason the question still remains, why is the area so busy this weekend?

If looking for something to do, one might be overwhelmed with the choices presented. Beginning in Bradford, Friday and Saturday, from 11 a.m to 1 a.m., is the Italian Festival. Enjoy delicious slices of Italian favorites, music, games, fun for the kids, and so much more. Also in Bradford this weekend is the McKean County Relay for Life. This annual fundraiser takes place on Saturday from 10:30 a.m. to well after the 9:45 p.m. closing ceremony. Parking should not be much of an issue with both events going on at the same time in the same vicinity.

“Today, in Bradford, there is no charge on metered streets,” said City of Bradford City Administrator Chita Luccio. There is also no charge for weekends (Saturday and Sunday) as a general policy.

Today’s Weather:
Expect patches of fog before 8 a.m. today, with otherwise sunny skies and a high near 74 degrees. For tonight’s forecast see A-10.

Events taking place in the region over the weekend

By MANDY COLOSIMO
mdolino.c@gmail.com

Italian-American Stan Pecora provided a few remarks during the opening ceremony at 5:30 Thursday night on Festival Way in Bradford, for the beginning of the Festa Italiana. The festival is scheduled to run through Saturday evening, and will close with a wonderful fireworks display at 10:15 p.m. To see more photos see page A-10.

Maybe it’s because of the last supermoon of the year, or because the Lion’s Gate opened recently, or maybe it has something to do with the forecasted solar flares — whatever the reason the question still remains, why is the area so busy this weekend?

If looking for something to do, one might be overwhelmed with the choices presented. Beginning in Bradford, Friday and Saturday, from 11 a.m to 1 a.m., is the Italian Festival. Enjoy delicious slices of Italian favorites, music, games, fun for the kids, and so much more. Also in Bradford this weekend is the McKean County Relay for Life. This annual fundraiser takes place on Saturday from 10:30 a.m. to well after the 9:45 p.m. closing ceremony. Parking should not be much of an issue with both events going on at the same time in the same vicinity.

“Today, in Bradford, there is no charge on metered streets,” said City of Bradford City Administrator Chita Luccio. There is also no charge for weekends (Saturday and Sunday) as a general policy.

Today’s Weather:
Expect patches of fog before 8 a.m. today, with otherwise sunny skies and a high near 74 degrees. For tonight’s forecast see A-10.

Events taking place in the region over the weekend

By MANDY COLOSIMO
mdolino.c@gmail.com

Italian-American Stan Pecora provided a few remarks during the opening ceremony at 5:30 Thursday night on Festival Way in Bradford, for the beginning of the Festa Italiana. The festival is scheduled to run through Saturday evening, and will close with a wonderful fireworks display at 10:15 p.m. To see more photos see page A-10.

Maybe it’s because of the last supermoon of the year, or because the Lion’s Gate opened recently, or maybe it has something to do with the forecasted solar flares — whatever the reason the question still remains, why is the area so busy this weekend?

If looking for something to do, one might be overwhelmed with the choices presented. Beginning in Bradford, Friday and Saturday, from 11 a.m to 1 a.m., is the Italian Festival. Enjoy delicious slices of Italian favorites, music, games, fun for the kids, and so much more. Also in Bradford this weekend is the McKean County Relay for Life. This annual fundraiser takes place on Saturday from 10:30 a.m. to well after the 9:45 p.m. closing ceremony. Parking should not be much of an issue with both events going on at the same time in the same vicinity.

“Today, in Bradford, there is no charge on metered streets,” said City of Bradford City Administrator Chita Luccio. There is also no charge for weekends (Saturday and Sunday) as a general policy.

Today’s Weather:
Expect patches of fog before 8 a.m. today, with otherwise sunny skies and a high near 74 degrees. For tonight’s forecast see A-10.

Events taking place in the region over the weekend

By MANDY COLOSIMO
mdolino.c@gmail.com

Italian-American Stan Pecora provided a few remarks during the opening ceremony at 5:30 Thursday night on Festival Way in Bradford, for the beginning of the Festa Italiana. The festival is scheduled to run through Saturday evening, and will close with a wonderful fireworks display at 10:15 p.m. To see more photos see page A-10.

Maybe it’s because of the last supermoon of the year, or because the Lion’s Gate opened recently, or maybe it has something to do with the forecasted solar flares — whatever the reason the question still remains, why is the area so busy this weekend?

If looking for something to do, one might be overwhelmed with the choices presented. Beginning in Bradford, Friday and Saturday, from 11 a.m to 1 a.m., is the Italian Festival. Enjoy delicious slices of Italian favorites, music, games, fun for the kids, and so much more. Also in Bradford this weekend is the McKean County Relay for Life. This annual fundraiser takes place on Saturday from 10:30 a.m. to well after the 9:45 p.m. closing ceremony. Parking should not be much of an issue with both events going on at the same time in the same vicinity.

“Today, in Bradford, there is no charge on metered streets,” said City of Bradford City Administrator Chita Luccio. There is also no charge for weekends (Saturday and Sunday) as a general policy.

Today’s Weather:
Expect patches of fog before 8 a.m. today, with otherwise sunny skies and a high near 74 degrees. For tonight’s forecast see A-10.