Seven Reasons to plan for a memorial in advance

- No one likes to think about his own death, but failure to do so makes it more difficult on the bereaved family.
- Choosing a family memorial is a joint decision. Why should someone be forced to make it alone?
- The worst time to make a financial commitment is when there has been a death in the family.
- 4. By planning in advance, you protect your family from harassing telephone calls and high pressure sales tactics from some eager salespeople.

- Advance planning assures that your insurance will be used for the needs of your loved ones.
- Advanced planning assures a memorial of the quality you desire.
- 7. There is no such thing as an "unexpected death."

 The time to act is now.
