UNINVITED GUEST — Last Wednesday, an elderly driver lost control of his white pickup truck on Joor Road, careened about 100 yards across and open field, and plowed into Dematology Associates office at 10880 Joor Road. The driver was reportedly uninjured and did not require hospitalization. Central Police Department, Sheriff's office, EMS, and Central Fire units were on the scene.

As Mayor Begins Second Full Year, He Tells Where City Has Been, Is Going

CENTRAL — Central Mayor David Barrow has presented the following report as his State of the City of Central for 2020:

STATE OF THE CITY

By Mayor David Barrow

It is hard to believe that it has already been over a year since taking office. The positive comments from citizens are appreciated, and we truly live in a great city. This summer will mark 15 years since Central was incorporated. We have come a long way in those 15 years to make Central a better community.

I look forward to the future of Central and continuing to serve the public. In the past year, many topics have been addressed. With 66 square miles of coverage and nearly 28,000 citizens to represent, there will always be many wants and needs. We can't address them

CENTRAL — When the American Farmhouse restaurant opened on Hooper Road in 2013, few could have anticipated the tragedies that would befall the friendly, family-run business. Like so many Central residents, Cristal and Charles Hebert lost their home in the flood of Aug. 13, 2016. But they also lost their restaurant when American

Farmhouse flooded. The couple went to work to salvage what they could and were ready to reopen in late September of that year. Before reopening they took a trip to visit friends in North Carolina. On the way back, Charles was killed in a tragic automobile accident, and Cristal was badly injured. In the
