ACCOUNT EXECUTIVES

Century Group Newspapers is looking to hire account executives to represent our newspapers to the local business community. Account Executives work with local merchants and businesses in developing marketing plans for their business, sell advertising that gets them results and represent the newspaper at local community business related functions and events.

No newspaper sales experience required. Some sales experience preferred (not required). Willing to train. This is a great starter job for those looking to get into the marketing field. Must have good driving record, car and insurance.

We pay mileage allowance, offer a good health care insurance plan, and other benefits.

Be a leader in the business community. Work for the local newspaper!
