Chamber announces March programs to support businesses

The Danville Pittsylvania County Chamber of Commerce has a series of upcoming events scheduled for March, each focused on providing the most current information and developing meaningful connections to help the region's businesses.

On March 3, Hunter Byrnes and Steven Gould of Byrnes Gould Law will present The Rules of COVID-19 Management: Understanding Virginia's Permanent Workplace Health and Safety Standards. The program will focus on Virginia's newly adopted, permanent workplace standards to train and protect employees and develop response plans during the COVID-19 pandemic.

Morning Brew, the Chamber's networking series, will be held virtually on March 17 at 8 a.m. Morning Brew provides access to intentional networking to share a business' message with business and community leaders. The Chamber's newest Innovation Partners, Blue Ridge Fiberboard, Columbia Forest Products and JTI will be highlighted at the event.

On March 24 from 3:30 until 5 p.m., WE Lead: The Impacts of the Pandemic on Women, will feature Jim Bebeau of Danville Pittsylvania Community Services, Renee Haltom of the Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond and Ann Stratton of Smart Beginnings Danville Pittsylvania in a conversation focused on the mental health, economic and professional challenges women have been experiencing since the onset of the COVID-19 pandemic.

Finally, on March 25 at noon, the Chamber will host Chamber 101, which assists members in maximizing the benefits of their Chamber membership to accelerate growth. Designed for new members, Chamber 101 is beneficial as a refresher for seasoned members as well.

Registration for all events will be available at dpchamber.org, by calling 434-836-6990 or by emailing chamber@dpchamber.org.

The Danville Pittsylvania County Chamber of Commerce accelerates business growth by connecting its members to dynamic resources and networks. The Chamber's number one goal is to help area businesses of all sizes to grow and prosper.
