

White-nose syndrome in Wisconsin bats spreading

The DNR released findings that found that white-nose syndrome or the fungus that causes it has spread outside of Grant Co., the first county where it was found in the state.

■ Confirmed cases

■ Disease causing fungus found

SOURCE: Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources

State Journal