David Furr and Louisa Jacobson in "The Gilded Age"

Operatic opposition: HBO period drama lifts curtain on Season 2

Whether first heard as a quippy one-liner from famous New York humorist Fran Lebowitz ("Pretend It's a City") or read in Esther Crain's book "The Gilded Age in New York, 1870–1910," there is little doubt you've heard about New York City's penchant for change. Per Crain's aforementioned book, released in 2016 and available through most major booksellers, "the most common observation about New York is that it never stops evolving."

This is especially true in the HBO series "The Gilded Age," premiering Season 2 on its home network and the Max streaming service Sunday, Oct. 29. Starring Carrie Coon ("Gone Girl," 2014), Cynthia Nixon ("Sex and the City") and Christine Baranski ("Mamma Mia!," 2008) as some of New York's finest wealthy gossips, the series follows a group of business moguls and socialites as they work hard to make a name for themselves and build an empire in New York City during the turn of the 20th century.

Coon stars as Bertha Russell, a "new money heiress" who caused some major waves in Season 1 alongside her husband, railroad tycoon George Russell (Morgan Spector, "The Plot Against America"), and her fellow socialite Mrs. Caroline Astor (Donna Murphy, "The Nanny Diaries," 2007), the leader of aristocratic social society called The Four Hundred. With her own societal standing foremost in her sights, Bertha often stirs up more trouble than is necessary to get what she wants.

Also to blame for her fair bit of trouble is Marian Brook (new talent Louisa Jacobson), who fell on hard times when her father died in the series premiere and began Season 1 by moving into her estranged aunts' house for a bit of a lifestyle makeover in the Big Apple. Marian's aunts, Ada Brook (Nixon) and Agnes Van Rhijn (Baranski), both belong to the old-money world and thus have very particular views on how things should be done among New York's finest. While Marian does her best to please her aunts, she has also learned that not everyone subscribes to her family's conservative school of thought.

Returning alongside Coon, Murphy, Jacobson, Nixon and Baranski for Season 2 is Denée Benton ("UnREAL"), who plays highly motivated writer Peggy Scott, who moved from Pennsylvania to New York City with Marian. Despite holding down a job as Agnes' secretary, Peggy is of respectable societal standing herself and has come to enjoy the company of her old friend in a new city. She also enjoys testing the boundaries set in place by those in high-up positions, often complicating matters for herself and those closest to her.

Headed into the show's second season, the Primetime Emmy-winning series follows more of the petticoat-clad drama that comes along with Gilded-era expansion. This time, according to the official HBO trailer, it seems that the bulk of the hullabaloo centers on the world of the operatic arts. More specifically, it likely revolves around the 1886 closing of the Metropolitan Opera House.

"Jurassic Park" still brings the thrills

BY JAY BOBBIN

Though the week of Halloween is a good time for anything that generates scares, "Jurassic Park" is an all-purpose, year-round thrill ride.

As it nears the end of its 30th-anniversary year, the Steven Spielberg-directed blockbuster is streaming on Peacock, along with several of its sequels. It remains just as exciting as it was when audiences first sampled it three decades ago, with Michael Crichton's best seller about cloned creatures from the prehistoric age providing an ideal basis for Spielberg and company to pour on the visual and emotional excitement.

It's interesting to note that Spielberg also was working on "Schindler's List" at the time he was filming "Jurassic Park," and the clear diversity and ultimate triumphs of those two projects stand as testimony to his celebrated skill and breadth as a filmmaker. The method he uses in "Jurassic Park" to warm viewers up for the eventual appearance of the dinosaurs recalls his slow and steady pace in bringing the shark into view in the smash that really put him on Hollywood's map, "Jaws."

Richard Attenborough plays a businessman who wants the island where the "Jurassic" creatures roam certified safe, following a fatal mishap, so he summons three scientists (Sam Neill, Laura Dern, Jeff Goldblum) to the site to assess it. One of the greatest looks of wonder in screen history can be found on Dern's face, followed by Neill's, as their characters get their first sightings of beings long considered extinct – with John Williams' majestic music adding extra punch to the moment.

Ariana Richards, Sam Neill and Joseph Mazzello in "Jurassic Park"

“Invincible” - Season 2 (Nov. 3)

Based on the groundbreaking comic book by Robert Kirkman, Cory Walker, and Ryan Ottley, the story revolves around 18-year-old Mark Grayson (voiced by Steven Yeun), who's just like every other guy his age — except his father is (or was) the most powerful superhero on the planet. Still reeling from Nolan's (J.K. Simmons) betrayal in Season One, Mark struggles to rebuild his life as he faces a host of new threats, all while battling his greatest fear — that he might become his father without even knowing it.

“Dr. No” (Available Now)

James Bond 007 (Sean Connery) is Britain's top agent, and is on an exciting mission to solve the mysterious murder of a fellow agent. The task sends him to Jamaica, where he joins forces with Quarrel (John Kitzmiller) and a loyal C.I.A. Agent, Felix Leiter (Jack Lord). While dodging tarantulas, “fire breathing dragons” and a trio of assassins, known as “the three blind mice,” Bond meets up with the beautiful Honey Ryder (Ursula Andress) and goes face to face with the evil Dr. No (Joseph Wiseman).
