THE EVENING SENTINEL

NAZIS PRESS AGAINST MAGINOT LINE

Germans Gain Foothold Across Meuse River, But France Insists Famed System Of Forts Has Not Been Impaired

Allies Fighting Off Heavy German Attack On 100-Mile Front From Border of Holland

By United Press
France—Battle of the Meuse rages on French soil along 100-mile front. Germans claim to have broken the Maginot Line below Sedan, but French insist line is intact. French admit Germans have crossed Meuse at three points, one in France near Sedan and two in Belgium to miles from French frontier.

Belgium—Allies fighting off heavy German attacks on 100-mile defense line running from the Dutch border north of Antwerp, past Brussels and Namur and down to the Meuse. The Germans, pressing hard, claim to have taken two forts of the Namur region. The Allies hold Brussels.

The Netherlands—Dutch surrender three-fourths of country, holding only Zealand District as bulwark to protect Belgium, Antwerp. Germans enter the Hague, capital of Holland. Dutch fire on Dutch and military supplies to keep Germans from getting them.

Germany—German sources predict heavy air raids on England from Dutch air bases, of which they hold 10, within less than 100 miles flying distance of England.

Great Britain—British "Minute Men" police stations, registering as guards and sharpshooters to pick off German parachute troops.

Italy—Anti-Allied manifestations continue, apparently with Premier Benito Mussolini's approval. Observers predict Italy will be in war soon.

The Balkans—Hungary hears that Slovakia has mobilized and claims frontier. Hungary already partly mobilized. Many Rumanian troops recalled from leave. Press speculations on whether Italy, Germany and Rumania will join three-cornered effort to divide up the Balkans.

The French press now three times of French troops across a frontier line to the German in the Meuse River from Sedan.

Big Test Tonight
A terrific battle was waged at night and before daylight. French troops were ordered to attack German positions along the 100-mile front. The battle was the most serious since the Meuse River was crossed.

A German tank was seen through the heavy Maginot fortifications they could break quickly, were and slightly behind with Belgium and one of the Allied armies were from their own.

After the troops were driven from their positions, the German army and army officers, reformed the German troops.

General Weyersmann, head of the German army, said that the German army was now in a position to attack the Allied armies.
