Mike MacAdam's take

I like Immortalised in the National Museum of Racing Hall of Fame, and wouldn't mind getting anything in the neighborhood of his morning-line odds of 8-1, either. He's 3-1-0 from four starts at the mile distance, and his nemesis Alpyland isn't in this race. In a very evenly matched group, Touch of Fire looks like the lone speed and makes sense in the second spot off his close fourth in the Belmont Derby, and I'll pick Glavine third after he closed ground at each point of call before just missing in the Saranac. Arizona Territory rounds out the superfecta for Chad Brown, who has won this race seven times.
