

VANUATU DAILY POST

THE NEWS YOU TRUST

DAILYPOST.VU

Paris Shopping

DUTY FREE - DUTY PAID

PERFUMES - COSMETICS - SKIN CARE
WINE - SPIRITS - TOBACCO - CONFECTIONERY
TRAVEL ACCESSORIES - SUNGLASSES

DOWNTOWN - INTERNATIONAL AIRPORT

LINI HIGHWAY, PORT VILA
PARISHOP@VANUATU.COM.VU
WWW.DUTYFREEVANUATU.COM

"SINCE 1978"

more data for less

Opt in to MY Digicel App or dial *555#

download the app now

Available on the App Store + Get it on Google play mydigicel.digicelgroup.com

Terms and conditions apply.

1000 MB for 200VT

valid for 2hrs

4G+

Digicel

Sanma Chiefs Demand Respect From Evacuees

...want better planning for future incidents

By Fern Napwatt

THE CHIEFS OF SANMA ARE calling on Ambae evacuees to respect the custom governance of Sanma Province.

That is one of the resolutions of a meeting that took place on Tuesday, hosted by the Malvatumauri Council of Chiefs with all chiefs from different area councils of Sanma and the Minister of Justice, Ronald Warsal, as the government representative at the Sanma Chiefs Nakamal on Santo.

The meeting was purposefully to discuss the movement of the people of Ambae to Santo as victims of the Lombenben volcano and to work out resolutions according to the observations of the people of Sanma Province.

One of the resolutions of the meeting requested the chiefs of the Sanma area councils to consult with their people and make a presentation of the views of the people to the Minister of Justice, Mr Warsal.

The people of Ambae were also present to witness the five resolutions made by the chiefs of Sanma.

The first resolution reached was the acceptance of the people of Ambae by the people of Santo during and after the State of Emergency on the condition that the people of Ambae respect the existing custom governance system of the areas in which they are residing including off-shore islands.

The people of Ambae must negotiate with the right custom land owner if they wish to acquire land according to the law and custom. All area councils of Sanma must be aware of the movement of Ambaens in the residing areas.

The same condition is also applicable to victims of any future disaster that consider relocating to Santo.

The Chiefs of Sanma have called on the government to ensure more infrastructure development in Sanma to enable access to government services and the government to start negotiating to acquire land to cater for future disaster relocation if there is a need.

□ Story continues on page 2

>> Story on Page 2

Malapoa College Extension officially opens

Prime Minister Charlot Salwai symbolically receiving the keys to the new Malapoa College buildings from Ambassador of China to Vanuatu, Zhou Haicheng.

Photo: Hilaire Bule/Government PRO

Gov't targets 50% outstanding revenue collection by December

READ THE FULL REPORT BY GODWIN LIGO

→ PAGE 2

Penama Day theme to focus on worship

→ PAGE 3

Strengthening disaster management in schools

→ PAGE 5

Melanesian Airlines Cup nekis manis

→ PAGE 14

Vanuatu Head Coach position up for grabs

→ PAGE 15