New cop in town

Ella Maisy Purvis (“A Kind of Spark”) returns as the titular character in “Patience,” premiering its second season in North America Sunday, June 14, on PBS. Having premiered a week earlier on PBS Passport and PBS Masterpiece, the eight-episode second installment follows Patience as she “searches for her mother” and “faces challenges in love and loss” while also adjusting to a new team lead. Jessica Hynes (“Miss Austen”) joins the cast this season as DI Frankie Monroe.

Solving crimes with 'Patience'

Detective series launches sophomore season

By Dana Simpson
TV Media

From quaint English towns to sprawling American cities, a police detective's job is rarely simple. And while avid TV viewers will already be familiar with the procedural process — arrive on scene, gather evidence, narrow the suspect pool, conduct interviews and interrogations and, finally, catch the criminal — every so often an unusual case presents itself with very little evidence and no suspects to question. In those instances, arguably even more than in others, it's important to have patience.

"Patience," the Channel 4 series named for its neurodivergent lead character Patience Evans (Ella Maisy Purvis, "A Kind of Spark"), premieres its second season in North America Sunday, June 14, on PBS. Having premiered a week earlier on the PBS Passport and PBS Masterpiece streaming services, the eight-episode second installment of the series follows Patience as she "searches for her mother" and "faces challenges in love and loss" while also adjusting to new member on the team.

Jessica Hynes ("Miss Austen") joins the cast this season as DI Frankie Monroe, a replacement for Laura Fraser's ("Breaking Bad") DI Bea Metcalf, the hard-working detective who initially brought Patience out of the Criminal Records Office and into the field, where she could exercise her keen mind and help the squad solve a series of mysterious deaths in England's Yorkshire County. According to PBS's Season 2 press release, Patience and Monroe's "differences spark tension, but they must learn to work as a team" if they are going to work together at all.

Season 1 cases included a locked-door mystery involving a crime writer, a woman found dead in the dinosaur exhibit at a popular York museum, a body gone missing from the morgue and a possible case of eco terrorism. And while Season 2 premieres with a supernatural bent that is uncharacteristic of "Patience," Maria Bruno Ruiz,

Jessica Hynes in "Patience"

PBS's vice president of program content strategy and scheduling, assures audiences that the series will continue to lean into all the elements viewers loved in the first season, while also evolving the series as a whole.

"Audiences connected with 'Patience' in its first season, and we're excited to bring the mystery back for another chapter," said Bruno Ruiz in a press statement. "With new cases, new characters and deeper emotional stakes, Season 2 builds on what viewers loved while expanding the world of the show."

Returning to "Patience" alongside Purvis are Nathan Welsh ("The Ledge," 2022) as

DS Jake Hunter, a well-meaning police officer and workplace big brother figure to Patience; Mark Benton ("Anna and the Apocalypse," 2017) as DCI Calvin Baxter, the team's stable, often fatherly leader; Adrian Rawlins ("Harry Potter and the Deathly Hallows: Part 2," 2011) as Douglas Gilmour, Patience's godfather and the man who legally raised her following the death of her biological father; Tom Lewis ("Gentleman Jack") as Elliot Scott, a young co-worker of Patience's for whom she has a growing fondness; Ali Ariaie ("The Great") as DC Will Akbari, a keen-eyed young detective at the precinct; and Liza Sadovy ("The Rumour") as Dr. Loretta Parsons, the lead forensics expert in York.

As for how the relationships are changing headed into Season 2, Monroe's arrival has definitely disturbed the smooth waters created and maintained by Metcalf's calm and encouraging leadership style. But as Monroe settles into the job and the detectives adapt to what is newly expected of them, Patience and Elliot grow ever closer.

"They start [Season 2] in that messy middle space we all know and love; where you're not 'just friends' anymore but neither of you is brave enough to name it," said Lewis, as reported by RadioTimes in January. "It's that classic dance — too much care to step back, too much fear to step forward. ... It's awkward in the gentlest, most British way, and beautifully human."

"Patience" is an English adaptation of the French-Belgian co-production "Astrid et Raphaëlle," also known as "Astrid" and "Astrid: Murder in Paris," which debuted on the France 2 network in April 2019. Still an ongoing series as of writing, "Astrid et Raphaëlle" follows 30-year-old autistic woman Astrid Nielsen (Sara Mortensen, "Blast," 2021), who works as an archivist for Paris's judicial police. Astrid's life changes forever, though, when she meets Comandante Raphaëlle Coste (Lola Dewaere, "Mademoiselle Holmes"), an investigator on the police force, who takes Astrid under her wing as they exchange intricate and overlooked case insights for social and behavioral assistance.

Season 7 of "Astrid et Raphaëlle" has already begun filming in France, while "Patience" has been renewed for a third season on BBC's Channel 4, the latter indicating that at least one more season is likely on PBS in North America.

For now, don't miss the second season of "Patience" when it premieres Sunday, June 14, on PBS. The series is also available now to stream via PBS Passport and PBS Masterpiece.

Best bets this week

Saturday

It Ends With Us

FX (30) 7:00 p.m.

Colleen Hoover's novel comes to life in this 2024 drama. Blake Lively stars as Lily Bloom, who falls for charming neurosurgeon Ryle (Justin Baldoni). But after they move in together, Lily starts seeing a violent side of the man she thought she knew.

The Jealous Bride

LIFE (36) 8:00 p.m.

When a woman from her fiancé's (Michael Xavier) past makes a sudden return, bride-to-be Meg's (Amber Stevens West) rising jealousy causes her to fall into a dangerous psychological spiral that tests her control, faith and everything she cares about.

Sunday

Patience

WGBH (2) WENH (11) 8:00 p.m.

A photographer found dead with a stake through the heart demands a rational explanation. Patience Evans (Ella Maisy Purvis) is determined to find one, even as her prickly new boss DI Frankie Monroe (Jessica Hynes) ruffles feathers.

The Food That Built America

HIST (66) 10:05 p.m.

A keen-eyed immigrant, a candy mogul, and two pasta-making brothers reinvent rice for America's kitchens by making it faster, easier, and impossible to resist. But it'll take a massive global conflict, and a battle of innovations, to turn rice into riches.

Monday

BBQ Brawl

FOOD (40) 9:00 p.m.

The legendary music scene of Austin, Texas, sets the stage as team captains Bobby Flay, Maneet Chauhan and Brooke Williamson push their Brawlers to hit all the right notes. The challenge: create BBQ feasts inspired by the city's iconic music and culture.

Bring Me the Beauties

HBO (301) 9:00 p.m.

The group splinters and eventually dwindles in North Carolina; as 1999 approaches, Hoyt grows skeptical and escapes to California where he grapples with the shame and regret of recruiting others while hurting his own family, as he reconnects and reflects on his experiences with former members.

Little Singles

TLC (38) 9:00 p.m.

John, Stephanie and Sammy became fast friends after meeting at a little people convention. Now, the trio is ready to take on the Palm Springs, Calif., dating scene, where they meet and mingle with charismatic singles like Krista and JJ.

Tuesday

In the City

BRAVO (57) 8:00 p.m.

Amanda Batula, Kyle Cooke, Lindsay Hubbard and their fellow "Summer House" stars head into a new chapter and a new season as they return to their lives in NYC. Together, they navigate the ups and downs of marriage, separation, parenthood and more.

Chopped Castaways

FOOD (40) 9:00 p.m.

The stakes are waist-deep and getting tricky. The remaining island-stranded chefs wade into the lagoon to secure some protein before crafting something spectacular using only what the island provides. Then, two finishers face an intense Gauntlet showdown.

Wednesday

Brilliant Minds

WBTS (10) 8:00 p.m.

Some say doctors make the worst patients. Dr. Oliver Wolf (Zachary Quinto) might agree. This latest episode finds Wolf adjusting to a new reality after being admitted as a patient at Hudson Oaks. Will Bronx General be able to survive without him?

Million Dollar Nannies

FREE (26) 8:30 p.m.

VIP families, big money and a dream nanny agency in Ibiza await in this series premiere. But fierce competition, personal drama and a scandal from the past threaten to derail a group of elite nannies before the summer season even gets properly started.

Las Culturistas Culture Awards

BRAVO (57) 9:00 p.m.

Anything can happen and probably will. Matt Rogers and Bowen Yang return to host this fifth annual award show that celebrates pop culture's biggest and most delightfully obscure moments with comedy, live performances and celebrity chaos.

Thursday

Trivial Pursuit

WLVI (12) 9:00 p.m.

A pair of college professors chase wedges across six categories — Geography, Entertainment, History, Arts & Literature, Science and Sports — during this new episode. A $20,000 jackpot awaits the one to answer enough to reach the center.

FIFA World Cup

WFXT (13) 9:00 p.m.

Mexico and Korea Republic clash in Group A of the 2026 FIFA World Cup, broadcasting live from Mexico's Guadalajara Stadium. National pride, home-continent pressure and a fierce desire to advance make this game more than a routine group-stage match.

Friday

Zillow Gone Wild

HGTV (32) 9:30 p.m.

Jack McBrayer pokes around a Brooklyn, N.Y., brownstone with some serious character before checking in on a wild property from a previous season. Later, he heads to Reunion, Fla., for a tour of a gloriously themed home with David Bromstad.

Dateline NBC

WBTS (10) 10:00 p.m.

NBC's top journalists discuss world events, breaking news and true crime stories from ongoing investigations to confounding cold cases. This award-winning series continues to be hosted by its dedicated anchor, Lester Holt.

Late laughs

The Tonight Show Starring Jimmy Fallon

I saw that Target is trying to win back customers by opening baby boutiques in hundreds of their stores. Yeah, they want to attract some of these snobbier infants who think they're too good for the baby section at Walmart.

I heard about a recent Southwest Airlines flight that had to make an emergency landing after its windshield cracked. Yeah, it's never good when your co-pilot is the Flex Seal guy.

Jimmy Kimmel Live!

We are transmitting this signal from our home planet in a galaxy not so far away, Hollywood, where on what is presumably the most profitable day of the year for the hardworking Chewbaccas and various "Star Wars" characters, our Boba Fett out there taking photographs and smashing things on May the Fourth.

May the Fourth be with you all. By the way, when I say May the Fourth be with you, you're supposed to say, "and also with you." Right, I'm Catholic. That's how it goes.

We have some exciting news from the world of health. Syphilis is back. According to the CDC, cases of syphilis have skyrocketed by 700%. All the great diseases are making a comeback: syphilis, measles, Kanye, you name it.

On Saturday [May 2] at 2 a.m., Spirit [Airlines] put out a statement announcing their demise. ... You know, at least Spirit died doing what they loved, which is being the worst airline in the history of the world. And I have to say this announcement is a particularly bitter pill for those of us who host late night talk shows. Spirit being terrible. It was something every person got immediately. And that's hard to replace. We are taking applications. I've got my eye on you, Allegiant.

Late Night With Seth Meyers

A 28-year-old woman was arrested recently after she allegedly pretended to be a 16-year-old student and enrolled at a high school in the Bronx. Though I'm pretty sure that's just the plot of the movie "Grease."

The Pentagon is reportedly considering renaming the war with Iran "Operation Sledgehammer." First, it was "Epic Fury." Now it's "Operation Sledgehammer." Are they getting all the names from the "White Kung Fu" category on Netflix?

According to a new poll, nearly 80% of Americans believe that artificial intelligence will eliminate more jobs than it will create. And keep in mind, that's coming from people who are so old that they answer polls.

Target has announced that it will replace its fleet of shopping carts with a new model. This news first reported in an all-caps text from your mom.

"Dragon Striker" - Season 1

What happens when sports and magic collide? Find out when Season 1 of the all-new animated series "Dragon Striker" arrives on Disney+ this Wednesday, June 10. When Key (Akshay Kumar, "Homeland") arrives at Kal Asterock, an elite school for students who possess extraordinary abilities, he discovers that he is the legendary Dragon Striker. When he meets goalkeeper Ssyelle (Rebecca LaChance, "Smart Rabbit Momo: The Big Chase," 2025), the two form a scrappy new team and challenge the school champions. But "as [Key] struggles with the raging dragon inside him and Ssyelle fights to hold her team together" (per Disney+), they learn that beyond the thrill of the game, an ancient evil lies in wait. Featuring the voices of Evanna Lynch ("Harry Potter and the Order of the Phoenix," 2007) as Ameline, Yeukayi Ushe ("Dragon Striker: Meet the Players") as Milo and Waylon Jacobs ("Kingdom of the Planet of the Apes," 2024) as Odward, "Dragon Striker" was created by Sylvain Dos Santos ("The Basketeers") and Charles Lefebvre ("Anime: A Japanese Epic") — who also serves as director — with Paul McKeown ("Spirit: Stallion of the Cimarron," 2002) as head writer and Cash Callaway ("Miraculous: Tales of Ladybug & Cat Noir") as a producer.

"The X-Files: I Want to Believe" (2008)

The truth doesn't retire and neither do Mulder and Scully, as the director's cut from "The X-Files: I Want to Believe" (2008) arrives on Disney+ this Thursday, June 11. Fox Mulder's (David Duchovny, "The X-Files") relentless pursuit of the truth has cost him everything — driven out of the FBI and into years of isolation, while his former partner Dr. Dana Scully (Gillian Anderson, "The Crown") has long since traded casework for a quieter life as a hospital physician. But when a federal agent goes missing and a disgraced former priest (Billy Connolly, "The Hobbit: The Battle of the Five Armies," 2014) steps forward claiming to have psychic visions connected to the disappearance, Dr. Scully is called in — and, as always, Mulder isn't far behind. Pulled reluctantly back together, the two investigate a case that grows darker and stranger with every lead, forcing them to ask how much they're still willing to believe. Written and directed by Chris Carter ("The X-Files"), the film stars Amanda Peet ("Your Friends & Neighbors"), Xzibit ("8 Mile," 2002) and Mitch Pileggi ("The X-Files").

"Marvel's Iron Man and his Awesome Friends" - Season 1

Get ready to power up with Tony Stark (voiced by Mason Blomberg, "9-1-1: Lone Star"), Ironheart (Kapri Ladd, "Abbott Elementary")

Iron Hulk, Iron Man and Ironheart in "Marvel's Iron Man and his Awesome Friends" and Iron Hulk (Aidyn Ahn, "Dear Mom," 2022), as new episodes of "Marvel's Iron Man and His Awesome Friends" blasts onto Disney+ this Friday, June 12. From their high-tech beachfront headquarters — the Iron Quarters — this trio of genius inventors takes on challenges big and small as they work together to defend their city. Each hero brings unique strengths: Iron Man's Nano-Shield, Ironheart's Heartbeat Bubble, and Iron Hulk's mighty Iron Boom Clap and Iron Hulk Stomp. With guidance from the ever-wise Vision (David Kaye, "Eternals," 2021) and their trusty Iron Pup, Gamma (Fred Tatasciore, "Kung Fu Panda 2," 2011), the team proves that courage, friendship and teamwork are the strongest superpowers of all. Facing off against clever foes like Ultron (Tony Hale, "Veep"), Swarm (Vanessa Bayer, "Saturday Night Live") and Absorbing Man (Talon Warburton, "Megamind Rules!"), these young heroes know that every problem has a solution ... and every hero starts somewhere. From "Hello Ninja" director Michael Dowding, "Marvel's Iron Man and his Awesome Friends" is written by James Eason-Garcia ("Pupstruction") and Neyah Barbee ("The Fairly OddParents: A New Wish").

Hollywood Q&A

By Adam Thomlison
TV Media

Q: Did Ryan Gosling do his own singing as Ken in "Barbie"?

A: Not only did Ryan Gosling ("Drive," 2011) do his own singing as Ken in the 2023 film phenomenon that was "Barbie," he insisted on it. And he did better than anyone expected.

Pop music hitmaker Mark Ronson, who scored the film along with frequent writing partner Andrew Wyatt (the pair previously did the music for 2018's "A Star Is Born"), told Vanity Fair magazine that he didn't expect Gosling to even want to sing.

But when the film's director and co-writer, Greta Gerwig ("Lady Bird," 2017) shared an early version of the "I'm Just Ken" song, Gosling insisted on performing it himself.

With that decided, Ronson expected to have to rewrite his first draft of the song to make it easier to sing, but Gosling again surprised him.

"He was really amazing, and when he really did start hitting the big notes, I was like, this dude is a vocal powerhouse!"

Ronson admits in the interview that it shouldn't have been such a surprise. After all, Gosling first came to fame as a Mouseketeer in "The All New Mickey Mouse Club," which required some singing.

Gosling's performance of "I'm Just Ken" became one of the iconic parts of the movie — and he's been called on to repeat it numerous times, including on the Oscars telecast the following year, in "The Masked Singer" and in an official music video.

Q: Is O'Shea Jackson doing another "Den of Thieves"? I like that they always leave it open for more.

A: No one is as excited for "Den of Thieves 3" to start shooting than O'Shea Jackson Jr. ("Straight Outta Compton," 2015) — if only because it means he'll be able to stop dieting.

Fortunately, for him and for fans, it seems like it's just a matter of time.

"I haven't been told a specific date," Jackson said in an interview with Collider. "But since the second one came out last January, I've been on a fitness journey. It's really like 52-54, but 60 sounds better in interviews, so: we're down 60 pounds. In June, hopefully I'll be down 100, and then I'mma just bulk up and get my R&B body."

The work makes sense: he's now a bona fide action hero, having played professional thief Donnie Wilson in the surprise hit "Den of Thieves" (2018) and its sequel, "Den of Thieves 2: Pantera" (2025).

The first was set in LA, while the second took him and the on-the-edge cop (played by Gerard Butler, "300," 2006) chasing him to the more glamorous French Riviera and northern Italy. But all the thievery he got up to in those films means Jackson's character needs to find a new place to do more thieving.

"I can't be in the States because of what happened in LA. Now, I can't be in Europe. So, we're running out of spots. So we gotta find a safe place for us to be able to film this movie."

That decision, he says, is up to writer-director Christian Gudegast ("A Man Apart," 2003). "As long as I look pretty, I'll be OK."

And it seems that Gudegast has it worked out — according to IMDb.com, the script is in the bag and it's now in pre-production. However, there's been no word on a release date.

Q: What's Denis Leary doing now that "Going Dutch" is over?

A: Having your sitcom canceled is a little easier to take when you're part of one of the biggest, longest-running film franchises in the world.

In "Going Dutch," Leary played a loudmouthed Army colonel sent on a new assignment forcing him to rebuild his relationship with his estranged daughter (Taylor Misiak, "Dave"). It was canceled after two seasons on Fox, but compared to his commitment to the "Ice Age" films, that's a very short time indeed.

Leary has voiced the saber-toothed tiger Diego in the series, which launched all the way back in 2002. It's since grossed more than $3 billion worldwide through five big-screen films so far (to say nothing of the made-for-TV features and video games, which Leary also does).

The new movie, "Ice Age: Boiling Point," slated for theatrical release in February 2027, comes more than 10 years after the last entry, "Collision Course" (2016).

Leary was on hand during the CinemaCon conference in April to unveil the film's first trailer, which focuses on the threat of an exploding volcano (that seems to explain the film's title).

With release just a half-year away, Leary will soon be looking for his next project — especially if another decade passes between this "Ice Age" film and the next one. However, there's no word yet on what that might be.

"Sweet Magnolias" - Season 5

The Magnolias have survived just about everything, and Season 5 of "Sweet Magnolias" proves that New York City is no match for margarita night when the new season premieres Thursday, June 11, on Netflix. Marriage, infidelity, divorce and unexpected loss — lifelong best friends Maddie (JoAnna Garcia Swisher, "Reba"), Dana Sue (Brooke Elliott, "Drop Dead Diva") and Helen (Heather Headley, "Respect," 2021) have weathered all storms together. Now, with Maddie trading small-town charm for a big publishing career in New York City, Dana Sue and Helen are also headed to the big apple in support of Maddie's sudden career change. Based on the novels by Sherryl Woods ("Chesapeake Shores") — who also serves as showrunner and executive producer — this new season stars Frank Oakley III ("The Wonder Years"), Artemis ("Heels"), Dion Johnstone ("Star Falls"), Justin Bruening ("Grey's Anatomy"), Brandon Quinn ("Big Wolf on Campus"), Jamie Lynn Spears ("Zoey 101"), Anneliese Judge ("Where's Rose," 2021), Carson Rowland ("Pretty Little Liars: Original Sin"), Logan Allen ("Talia in the Kitchen") and Chris Medlin ("The Vampire Diaries").

"Song Sung Blue" (2025)

Based on a true story, two down-on-their-luck musicians prove it's never too late to find love and follow your dreams in 2025's "Song Sung Blue," available to stream on Netflix this Saturday, June 13. In 1987 Milwaukee, a part-time Don Ho impersonator named Mike (Hugh Jackman, "The Greatest Showman," 2017) crosses paths with Claire (Kate Hudson, "How to Lose a Guy in 10 Days," 2003), a hairdresser by day and Patsy Cline by night, at the Wisconsin State Fair and they fall in love. After they get married, the newly weds become a Neil Diamond tribute act called Lightning & Thunder and go from performing in dive bars to opening for Pearl Jam, with Eddie Vedder (John Beckwith, "Three Women") himself joining them onstage for "Forever in Blue Jeans." In 1999, a car strikes Claire and she loses part of her leg and Mike suffers a heart attack, and the music goes quiet. What follows is many years stumbling through addiction, depression and doubt, as Mike and Claire find their way back to the music and to each other. Written and directed by Craig Brewer ("Empire"), the film also stars Ella Anderson ("Suncoast," 2024), Hudson Hensley ("The Wildman of Shaggy Creek," 2025) and King Princess ("Nine Perfect Strangers").

"Norway: The Dark Horse"

From acclaimed filmmaker Emil Trier ("The Worst Person in the World," 2021) and produced by Vidar Lien Amundsen ("Henrik the Outsider") for Novemberfilm, "Norway: The Dark Horse," a two-part sports docuseries, premieres Tuesday, June 9, on Netflix. "It's been over a generation since Norway last reached the big stage," per Netflix, and hope had all but faded for fans that their favorite team would one day return. Now, with global stars like Martin Odegaard ("2025-2026 UEFA Champions League"), Erling Haaland ("Sevilla vs Borussia Dortmund," 2021), Alexander Sorloth ("2025-2026 UEFA Champions League") and Antonio Nusa ("Inside: Antonio Nusa") under head coach Stale Solbakken ("The Football League Show"), that's finally possible. Norway's men's football team returns with a major international tournament on the horizon, and it all unfolds across two episodes that offer exclusive, inside access to one of football's most emotionally charged comebacks.

Chef Jet Tila serves up easy, delicious dishes in 'Ready Jet Cook'

Jet Tila hosts "Ready Jet Cook"

By Caroline Collacutt
TV Media

The James Beard Award- and Emmy-nominated chef Jet Tila ("24 in 24: Last Chef Standing") might be known for his elevated takes in the kitchen, but with simple and delicious ingredients from his family's very own grocery store, Jet shares his easiest and most approachable go-to recipes in the instructional series "Ready Jet Cook," airing a new episode Saturday, June 20, on Food Network.

As a Los Angeles native, Tila was born into the "first family of Thai food," known for establishing the first Thai food market in America, the Bangkok Market, in 1972. Tila was raised to continue his family's culinary legacy and now does so both on and off screen.

"With his mastery of formal French and Japanese techniques and extensive knowledge of Thai and Chinese ingredients, flavors and methodology, Jet became a force in the kitchen with a unique signature style that quickly gained attention," Food Network describes, making him a perfect addition to series such as "Tournament of Champions," "Beat Bobby Flay," "Guy's Grocery Games," "Cutthroat Kitchen," "Wildcard Kitchen" and more, where he's appeared as a judge, competitor and now, in "Ready Jet Cook," as host.

"Watching 'Ready Jet Cook' will result in a hunger so strong it leaves you with no choice but to beeline it to your closest market to re-create Jet's signature flavors at home," the series' description reads. "In this Food Network series, Jet offers viewers an intimate look at his culinary process. Each episode, he walks through his family's grocery store to source fresh ingredients, then returns home to prepare his go-to recipes, such as sesame chicken, Cantonese potstickers and street-style basil chicken."

In the series' first two seasons, Jet shared tips and tricks for preparing everything from elevated short rib tacos with bulgogi to his family's beloved Pad Thai recipe, passed down through generations. So far, Season 3 has continued to serve up delicious dishes, with episodes featuring recipes for Thai cashew chicken, tom yum soup, beef and broccoli and more.

Spice up your weekly meal plan with something new, thanks to "Ready Jet Cook" — airing a new episode Saturday, June 20, on Food Network.

Scream 7

Several years after surviving the Woodsboro murders, Sidney Prescott (Campbell) has built a quiet life with her family in Indiana. When a new Ghostface killer (Jackson) emerges and begins targeting her daughter Tatum (May), Sidney is pulled back into the terror she thought she had finally escaped. As the body count rises, the murders reveal disturbing ties to the past, forcing Sidney and Gale Weathers (Cox) to uncover who is behind the mask before history repeats itself again. As the killer's attacks become increasingly personal, Sidney realizes the new Ghostface is not just seeking revenge, but trying to create a new legacy of fear tied to her family.

"Alice and Steve" - Season 1

The friendship is officially over as the first season of "Alice and Steve" lands on Hulu this Monday, June 8, with all six episodes dropping at once. When Alice (Nicola Walker, "Four Weddings and a Funeral," 1994) discovers her best friend of 25 years, Steve (Jemaine Clement, "What We Do in the Shadows," 2014), is dating her 26-year-old daughter Izzy (Yali Topol Margalith, "A Good Girl's Guide to Murder"), she's determined to blow up the relationship before it goes any further. But Steve isn't going down without a fight. From the producers of "Baby Reindeer," the series stars Ken Blackburn ("Hercules: The Legendary Journeys"), Joel Fry ("Game of Thrones"), Tyrese Eaton-Dyce ("A Good Girl's Guide to Murder"), Sam Chapman ("Vera"), Marcia

Laura Pulver and Theo James in "Underworld: Blood Wars"

Warren ("Leap Year," 2010), Kasha Bajor ("Hinterland"), Eilidh Fisher ("Dope Girls") and Ebony Aboagye ("The Conjuring: Last Rites," 2025). Created by Sophie Goodhart ("Sex Education"), the first season is directed by Tom Kingsley ("Stath Lets Flats").

"It Ends With Us" (2024)

Based on Colleen Hoover's best-selling novel, "It Ends With Us" (2024) arrives on Hulu this Tuesday, June 9. Lily Bloom (Blake Lively, "Gossip Girl") can't find a single kind word to say at her father's funeral. After walking away, she moves to Boston and opens the flower shop she's always dreamed of. One evening, a chance meeting on a rooftop brings Ryle Kincaid ("Jane the Virgin" star Justin Baldoni, the film's director), a charming neurosurgeon, into her life. Their romance moves quickly — they date, move in together and get married — but when her first love, Atlas Corrigan (Brandon Sklenar, "Westworld"), re-enters her life, her marriage begins to mirror the abusive home Lily grew up in and spent her whole life trying to escape. However, when Lily finds out she's pregnant, she must find the strength to make the most difficult choice of her life and break the cycle of abuse for her daughter. Directed by Baldoni, "It Ends With Us" stars Jenny Slate ("The Secret Life of Pets," 2016) as Allysa, Ryle's older sister; Kevin McKidd ("Grey's Anatomy") as Lily's late father; and Hasan Minhaj ("Patriot Act with Hasan Minhaj") as Marshall, Allysa's husband and Ryle's best friend.

"Underworld: Blood Wars" (2016)

The war between vampires and Lycans continues when "Underworld: Blood Wars" (2016) lands Tuesday, June 9, on Hulu. Picking up after the events of "Underworld: Awakening" (2012), this fifth chapter finds death dealer Selene (Kate Beckinsale, "Vacancy," 2007) at the center of a deadly war fought between the Lycan clan and the very same Vampire faction that once betrayed her. While the Vampires demand justice for the death of Viktor (Billy Nighy, "Love Actually," 2003), the Lycans begin hunting Selene's daughter, Eve (India Eisley, "I Am the Night"), while growing their army of vampire-werewolf hybrids. With David (Theo James, "The White Lotus") and Thomas (Charles Dance, "Game of Thrones") by her side, Selene tries to stop the eternal war between the Lycans and Vampires, even if it means making the ultimate sacrifice. Directed by Anna Foerster ("The Day After Tomorrow," 2004), "Underworld: Blood Wars" also features Tobias Menzies ("Outlander"), Lara Pulver ("Sherlock") and James Faulkner ("Game of Thrones").

“Every Year After”

Based on “Every Summer After,” the best-selling novel by Carley Fortune, the TV series “Every Year After” premieres Wednesday, June 10, on Prime Video with all eight episodes. Every year, Percy Fraser (Sadie Soverall, “Saltburn,” 2023) spent her summers in Barry’s Bay — a small lake town in Ontario where time moved slower and everything felt possible. There, she found her people: the Florek brothers, Charlie (Michael Bradway, “Chicago Fire”) and Sam (Matt Cornett, “High School Musical: The Musical: The Series”). Somewhere along the way, Percy and Sam’s easy friendship became complicated by their feelings for one another. Years later, a tragic death pulls Percy back to Barry’s Bay, where she must face a devastating mistake that she made all those years ago. Told across six years and one defining week, “Every Year After” is executive produced by showrunners Amy Harris (“The Comeback”) and Leila Gerstein (“The Handmaid’s Tale”), making for a romantic, nostalgic story about first love, heartbreak and the choices that stay with us forever.

“Are You There God? It’s Me, Margaret.” (2023)

Based on Judy Blume’s novel, a story about life, friendship and faith unfolds in 2023’s “Are You There God? It’s Me, Margaret.”

arriving on Prime Video this Thursday, June 11. In 1970, 11-year-old Margaret Simon (Abby Ryder Fortson, “The Pitt”) is uprooted from her home in New York City and dropped into a New Jersey suburb where she knows absolutely no one. Raised with no religion by a Jewish father (Benny Safdie, “Oppenheimer,” 2023) and a mother (Rachel McAdams, “Send Help,” 2026) estranged from her Christian family, Margaret is left to figure out her faith entirely on her own. She talks to God, privately and persistently, hoping he’s listening to all the things she couldn’t possibly say to anyone else. When the school year begins, Margaret’s teacher, Mr. Benedict (Echo Kellum, “Arrow”), assigns a year-long project exploring religious identity, and alongside her new friends Nancy (Elle Graham, “The Hunger Games: Mockingjay - Part 2,” 2015), Gretchen (Katherine Mullen Kuperferer, “Fools,” 2016) and Janie (Amari Alexis Price, “The Knife,” 2024), they discover what it means to belong to a community, and maybe, to faith itself. Written and directed by Kelly Fremon Craig (“The Edge of Seventeen,” 2016), the film is executive produced by Jonathan McCoy (“Blockers,” 2018).

“Plane” (2023)

From director Jean-Francois Richet (“Mesrine: Killer Instinct,” 2008), “Plane” (2023) makes a crash landing on Prime Video this Friday, Sadie Soverall and Matt Cornett in “Every Year After”

June 12. On New Year’s Eve, pilot Brodie Torrance (Gerard Butler, “The Bounty Hunter,” 2010) flies a routine commercial flight from Singapore to Honolulu when a violent storm destroys the plane’s avionics, forcing him and his co-pilot, Samuel (Yoson An, “The Luminaries”), to attempt an emergency landing on a remote airstrip. Unbeknownst to them, they’ve landed in enemy territory, and now, Brodie, Samuel and the passengers must survive until help can come and save them. Among the passengers is Louis Gaspare (Mike Colter, “Luke Cage”), a murder suspect being extradited to Canada and Brodie’s only real shot at getting everyone out alive. But when armed men swarm the wreckage and haul off the passengers for ransom, Brodie and Louis venture into the jungle together on a daring mission to save them. Starring Daniella Pineda (“Jurassic World: Fallen Kingdom,” 2018), Lilly Krug (“Salt and Fire,” 2016), Kelly Gale (“Uglies,” 2024) and Tony Goldwyn (“The Last Samurai,” 2003), “Plane” hails from executive producers Tim Lee (“Adulthood,” 2025) and Nik Bower (“Selma,” 2014).
