Your Weekly Guide to TV Entertainment

For the week of March 31 - April 6, 2019

Julia Louis-Dreyfus ("Seinfeld") stars as narcissistic presidential hopeful Selina Meyer in season 7 of the critically acclaimed, irreverent political satire "Veep," premiering Sunday, March 31, on HBO. After trying unsuccessfully to acclimate to civilian life in Season 6, Selina decides to take another stab at the presidency. This new season is the last for the beloved comedy, and fans can expect a satisfying ending as storylines are wrapped up for good.

THE EAGLE TRIBUNE, March 31, 2019

'Veep' returns for a triumphant final season

By Joy Doonan

olitical satire is a beloved comedic tradition, but it can be tricky to pull off successfully, let alone consistently for a long period of time. There are few television series that have achieved this, and most of those have been news or talk show programs — "The Daily Show" and "The Colbert Report" spring to mind.

HBO's "Veep" is one of the very few narrative comedy series that has managed to mercilessly satirize politics over the course of numerous highly rated seasons. In fact, the comedy and several members of its cast have won multiple prestigious awards and nominations since its debut in 2012, including Critics' Choice Awards, Screen Actors Guild Awards and several Emmys.

"Veep" follows fictional former U.S. senator Selina Meyer (Julia Louis-Dreyfus, "Seinfeld"), who has served as both vicepresident and president of the United States over the course of the show's first six seasons. The series sharply mimics real-life petty political bureaucracy and manages to do so in a lighthearted, very watchable way. After a long, successful run, showrunners announced last year that the seventh season of this beloved series would be the last. The Season 7 premiere of "Veep" airs Sunday, March 31, on HBO.

Last season saw Selina in transition. Ousted from the presidency, she tried to acclimate to civilian life but failed miserably. She wrote a memoir, burned down a barn, almost had her own presidential library built and made some personal psychological breakthroughs, but ultimately she found herself pulled back towards politics. At the end of Season 6, Selina decided to run for president again, and Season 7 promises to be a hilarious account of her attempt to regain the highest office in the land.

Selina's entourage includes political advisers Dan (Reid Scott, "Venom," 2018) and Amy (Anna Chlumsky, "My Girl," 1991), sycophantic personal aide Gary (Tony Hale, "Arrested

Anna Chlumsky in a scene from "Veep"

Development"), White House liaison Jonah (Timothy Simons, "Gold," 2016) and the director of communications for the VP, Mike (Matt Walsh, "Comedy Bang! Bang!"). The clashing group of strong, dysfunctional characters comes together as a perversely whimsical clan as they scramble to cover up one political or public image mess after another.

Impressively, the show's writers have managed to stay fairly ambiguous when it comes to labeling their characters politically and have strategically avoided revealing Selina's party affiliation. As Selina and her dedicated (and often bumbling) staff navigate their way through the political landscape, they often commit missteps that result in PR nightmares. Usually, the resulting situations seem too outrageous to ever occur for real, but on several occasions, life seems to have gone out of its way to imitate art.

In Season 4, for example, Selina bungles a debate topic after forgetting one of the elements of her "Three Rs" (a nonsensical "reform, reaffirm and renew," if you're curious). Later on, during a real-life debate, Republican governor and presidential hopeful Rick Perry forgot one of the three government agencies he planned to ax should he win the presidency, resulting in a similarly awkward scramble to come up with something to say. "Veep's" eerily accurate coincidental forecasting of actual campaign slip-ups has earned it a reputation for being shrewdly in tune with the material it skewers.

The antics of the characters' personal lives is another comedic anchor of the show, as well as how those private issues often bleed into their jobs. Talking about his role as Selina's cartoonishly loyal political aide, Hale told Stephen Colbert, "I do emasculation really well," and he described Gary as an insecure yes-man who "worships the ground Selina Meyer walks on." This dynamic is comedy gold, given Selina's penchant for selfabsorption and insensitivity.

For the cast, starring in the series has been an exceptionally emotional journey. On the final day of shooting the series, many of the stars posted emotional tweets about the show and the family they had found on the job. Hale posted a selfie in which he wears a sweater with a heart on it, with a caption that read, "I can't describe how blessed and thankful I feel for everyone here. The sweater says it best." A seven-season run is nothing to sneeze at, and many of the cast members have been through a lot while working on the show. Louis-Dreyfus herself battled breast cancer, and the show went on hiatus in 2017 while she was in treatment. She fought hard and won that battle, and fans of the show will appreciate this final season all the more because of her strength and courage.

Season 7 packs a lot into its seven episodes, and since the end of the line came about organically (instead of by way of a sudden cancellation), fans can look forward to a satisfying and, of course, hilarious ending. You can watch the season premiere when it airs Sunday, March 31, on HBO.

The Resident

23 8:00 p.m.

While a severe snowstorm blankets Atlanta, Mina (Shaunette Renée Wilson) performs a complicated surgery in the hopes of saving a young father's life in this new episode. Nic (Emily VanCamp) and Conrad (Matt Czuchry) clash over a patient's treatment.

DC's Legends of Tomorrow

66 8:00 p.m.

The legends travel to 1961 Mexico City to clean up Mona's (Ramona Young) mess when they learn that she's let a fugitive go in this new episode, but when they arrive, she insists that it was the enigmatic Men in Black who released the criminal.

Tala Ashe in "DC's Legends of Tomorrow"

Man With a Plan

4 8:30 p.m.

Determined to check it off his bucket list, Adam (Matt LeBlanc) plans a risky dirt bike excursion, despite the fact that he's thrown his back out in this new episode. Meanwhile, he and Don (Kevin Nealon) give out bonuses at work.

Knightfall

нізт 10:00 р.т.

Talus (Mark Hamill), the hardened Initiate master, continues to train Landry (Tom Cullen) in this new episode. Elsewhere, De Nogaret (Julian Ovenden) tries to convince King Philip (Ed Stoppard) to build a case against the Knights.

Molly Yeh's family gets bigger in 'Girl Meets Farm'

Molly Yeh hosts "Girl Meets Farm"

e all get food cravings. Sometimes it's a rich, succulent burger or buttery and salty popcorn; other times we want something sweet, like a big, generous slice of pecan pie or an entire tub of chocolate ice cream. Being pregnant, though, can take those cravings to an entirely new level, and one of Food Network's most endearing hosts is inviting viewers to join her on a food-focused journev through her pregnancy.

A new season of "Girl Meets Farm" kicks off Sunday, March 31, with host Molly Yeh setting out on a new adventure: impending motherhood. Throughout the season, she brings her combined Chinese and Jewish heritage to bear as she tackles the challenges — and the excitement — of pregnancy.

In this week's season premiere, Molly puts some tasty spins on a few of her favorite dishes that she prepares for the dad-to-be, her husband, Nick. She prepares a Chicago dog meatloaf with a mustard glaze, makes a salt-and-vinegar potato galette and whips up some wedge salads with bacon and feta cream.

Next week, as her due date draws closer, the host prepares some make-ahead meals that are destined for the freezer for those days when she just doesn't have the energy to cook. On the menu are sweet potato and black bean burritos, mini spinach and artichoke chicken casseroles, and even some potato bagel breakfast sandwiches. Of course, she expects dad to help out, so she also teaches Nick how to prepare a succulent (and super quick) salmon sheet pan supper with horseradish sauce.

Over the next few weeks. Molly hosts a baby shower and learns a few cherished family recipes from her own mother. Of course, it isn't all baby all the time, and the host also whips up a fresh spring feast to share with her family.

Molly Yeh is a big-city girl who grew up in Chicago's suburbs before marrying and moving to her husband's farm on the Minnesota-North Dakota border. She's a woman with a wealth of experiences, and she shares them with audiences in "Girl Meets Farm," Sundays on Food Network.

Vice

Dick Cheney (Bale) never lets anything get in the way of his ambition. After dropping out of Yale University, the young man gets a job as an intern in the White House, where his political ambitions are sparked. He goes on to win a seat in Congress, but his conservative values are challenged when his daughter, Mary (Pill), comes out of the closet. After retreating from public life after years of service, he is approached by presidential candidate George W. Bush (Rockwell), who asks Cheney to be his running mate. After some consideration and convincing, he accepts, but not until he's made a few demands of his own.

Director: Adam McKay. Stars: Christian Bale, Amy Adams, Steve Carell, Sam Rockwell, Alison Pill, Justin Kirk. 2018. 132 min. Biography.

Charlie (Steinfeld) is still grieving after her father's death, and she resents her mother for moving on with a new boyfriend. When a friend lets her take home an old yellow Volkswagen Beetle found in his scrapyard, Charlie's attempts to repair it cause it to transform into a friendly alien robot with amnesia. She names him Bumblebee. The two forge a quick friendship, but they soon encounter evil aliens intent on killing Bumblebee, as well as hostile government agents that believe him to be a threat. The pair must trust in each other and work together not only to survive, but to save an entire species. Director: Travis Knight. Stars: Hailee Steinfeld, John Cena, Jorge Lendeborg Jr., Jason Drucker, Pamela Adlon. 2018. 114 min. Action.

The Mule

A veteran and award-winning horticulturalist in his 80s is estranged from his family and faces financial ruin. When the opportunity to transport cocaine presents itself, he takes the job as a way to make easy money. Thanks to his age, he easily avoids suspicion and dodges police, but as the DEA closes in on the source of the drugs flooding Chicago's streets, he finds himself caught between clever agents and an increasingly demanding cartel.

Director: Clint Eastwood. Stars: Clint Eastwood, Bradley Cooper, Manny Montana, Taissa Farmiga. 2018. 116 min. Crime.

Amy Adams and Christian Bale in a scene from "Vice"

NCIS

4 8:00 p.m.

When Nick Torres (Wilmer Valderrama) wakes up on a dilapidated fishing boat covered in blood, he can't remember what happened in this new episode. He relies on the NCIS team's investigative skills as they try to help him piece together the last 12 hours.

Black-ish

6 9:00 p.m.

Andrew Johnson (Anthony Anderson) tries to raise his family with a strong sense of their cultural identity in a new episode of this acclaimed sitcom. With the help of his wife Bow (Tracee Ellis Ross), he struggles to keep his kids interested.

Laurence Fishburne stars in "Black-ish"

North Woods Law

ANPL 9:00 p.m.

Sgt. Lucas checks out duck hunters up north in this new episode. Further south, Officer Benvenuti and trainee Crouse talk to a man suspected of hunting over bait. Later, Lucas and Holmes work together to free a cub stuck in a trap.

One of a Kind

нсту 10:00 р.т.

Interior designer Grace Mitchell uses personal elements to create unique wallpaper as she transforms Trista and Mark's Forth Worth property into a stunning home in this new episode. She and her team even incorporate a windmill into the design.

Gotham

23 8:00 p.m.

Gordon (Ben McKenzie) is hopeful that the creation of Haven, a safe place for refugees, will help rein in the gang violence that's been crippling Gotham City in this rebroadcast. Meanwhile, Selina (Camren Bicondova) gets help from Bruce (David Mazouz).

Marvel's Cloak & Dagger

THURSDAY DRIME TIME

FREE 8:00 p.m.

Tyrone (Aubrey Joseph) and Tandy (Olivia Holt) secretly hone their powers while living separate lives in this season premiere. As they come to terms with their destiny, they find it increasingly difficult to stand idly by while bad things happen.

David Mazouz stars in "Gotham"

In the Dark

69 9:00 p.m.

While out for a walk with her guide dog, Murphy (Perry Mattfeld) stumbles upon what she thinks is her friend's lifeless body in this premiere. But when the cops arrive, the body is gone. Murphy decides to investigate, even if she has to sober up first.

Law & Order: Special Victims Unit 10:00 p.m.

Lt. Olivia Benson (Mariska Hargitay) leads an elite squad of NYPD detectives dedicated to helping the victims of violent crime in this critically acclaimed drama. All the while, she struggles to balance her career with her responsibilities as a mother.

MacGyver

4 8:00 p.m.

When villain Nicholas Helman (Michael Des Barres) reappears and goes on a killing spree, the Phoenix Foundation mobilizes to stop him in this new episode. To track him down, they must turn to the person who knows him best: Murdoc (David Dastmalchian).

Blindspot

3 8:00 p.m.

The tattoos on Jane's (Jaimie Alexander) body continue to lead the team through a web of conspiracy and corruption. Since being found in Times Square covered in cryptic tattoos, Jane has struggled to unlock the secrets of her past life.

Sullivan Stapleton in "Blindspot"

Crazy Ex-Girlfriend

66 8:00 p.m.

Rebecca (Rachel Bloom) comes to a life-altering decision about her future in this series finale. Immediately following the episode, Bloom and the rest of the cast of the acclaimed series perform live versions of fan-favorite songs in a concert special.

Proven Innocent

23 9:00 p.m.

Determined to right the wrongs of the past, the team works to exonerate a transwoman (Jazzmun) convicted of murdering an activist in this new episode. At the same time, Violet (Nikki M. James) welcomes NPR's Ira Glass to her podcast.

Hollywood Q&A

By Adam Thomlison TV Media

O: I would like to know what happened to the show "Good Witch." It seems to come and go a lot, but it hasn't been on for quite a while now.

A: It can certainly seem like our favorite shows are gone for too long between seasons, but in fact, you can rest assured that "Good

381 385

Mullan, Emily Watson, Jeremy Irvine

Cody Fern, Maika Monroe

McCutc..

Linney, Ernie Hudson, Tim Curry

Witch" is coming back — soon, and right on schedule.

The fifth season of the Hallmark Channel fantasy dramedy is scheduled to premiere May 5. Again, that may seem like forever to eager fans, but it's just a year and a week since the fourth-season premiere. And actually, fans got a little extra to tide them over in October with the annual "Good Witch" feature-length special.

Indeed, the show began life as a series of telefilms — "the most successful in the network's history," according to Hallmark — and has been airing new ones at roughly the mid-season point each year since the show began.

Q: I have a question about two original television series that aired on TV Land several years ago: "Chasing Farrah"

(2005) and "TV Land: Myths and Legends" (2007-2008). Will Viacom ever release them on DVD?

A: It's not looking likely. The company has other, frankly more successful TV Land shows to get to first, if it even gets to those.

According to official press statements made by TV Land, the official goal of its in-house production studio is "to develop original programming that complements its roster of acquisitions." That is to say, the original shows were always a side hustle to support its rerun business (TV Land was always primarily a station for watching classic TV).

There's nothing wrong with that, of course, except that it means these original shows may not get the focus of originals on other networks. The effects of this can be seen in the DVD releases of TV Land's shows — or, more to the point, the lack thereof.

Chasing Farrah," a pretty high-profile celeb-reality show documenting the life of TV great Farrah Fawcett, only lasted a single season and was never released on DVD.

The Tonight Show With Jimmy Fallon

A member of the band Journey said "Don't Stop Believing" was inspired by the time he borrowed money from his dad to pay his dog's vet bill. Apparently the dog was hit by a midnight train goin' anywhere.

I read that more New Yorkers are biking to work. Which is good news for the environment but bad news for their co-workers who have to hear them brag about it.

A new study found that hand dryers in bathrooms spread more germs than paper towels. Then the makers of hand dryers said, "But don't forget — we also don't dry your hands."

I heard that South Korea has "stress cafes" where people can go to take a break from their day. Or, as they're known here in America, "bars."

I read about a farm in Canada where the cows use a machine to milk themselves. Though it's weird when the farmer knocks on the door and all the cows yell, "Don't come in here!"

I heard about a new bowl with a built-in wall that goes between your milk and your cereal, so the cereal doesn't get soggy. Or as one guy put it, "The cereal should make the milk pay for that wall!"

A woman in Colorado was cited for property damage after she used a 7-Eleven microwave to heat up a urine sample and it exploded. The 7-Eleven owner was like. "Lady, if you wanted hot urine, you could've just poured yourself a coffee."

In Poland yesterday, a truck carrying liquid chocolate overturned on a highway and spilled all over the road. When police arrived at the scene, they were like, "Dear God, please let that be chocolate."

The Late Late Show With James Corden

Italian sports car manufacturer Bugatti just sold a one-of-a-kind supercar for a record price. They sold the car of $18.9 million. $18.9 million for a car. It's $19 million if you want the optional floor mats.

Today is Day 3 of Jonas Brothers Week. We love having them here so much we started calling it Jochella.

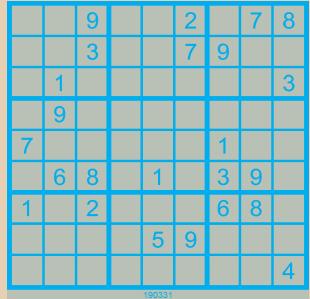

You know how when you buy furniture from Ikea, you assemble everything yourself? Well, Ikea has just released a chocolate Easter bunny that also requires assembling. It comes in three pieces that you put together. It's actually sturdier than most of their furniture.

A new study reveals that sales of potato chips, cookies and ice cream have increased in states that have legalized recreational marijuana. I mean, is this a shock? Are we surprised by this? I think the real takeaway from this study is that scientists have officially run out of actual things to research.

According to a recent report, Google is currently working on a new Android feature that would allow users to store a digital version of their driver's license on their phone. You have to admit, Google is definitely making it easier and more convenient for your personal

Today Forbes released their annual list of billionaires. Or, as Bernie Sanders calls it, the list of "People We'll Eat First."

Jeff Bezos is worth $131 billion. Almost all of that from selling tube socks. It's amazing.

HBO this morning released the trailer for what will be the eighth and final season of "Game of Thrones." I watched it with my wife. I watched it twice this morning. Here's how I watch every trailer. I go: "Wait who is that? Is it — I thought — Are we supposed to know who that is? He's — I thought he was dead!"

President Trump's former campaign chairman was sentenced to 47 months in prison, which was a shock to prosecutors, who suggested a sentence of 19 to 24 years. You know a sentence isn't too stiff when they announce in months. It's like when you tell somebody how old your baby is.

Kim Jong Un is celebrating after his trip to Vietnam with President Trump. North Korean State TV released a documentary they made about the summit. Just what we need — another Kim with a reality show.
