Helen Mirren reigns again

'Catherine the Great' on HBO

By Sachi Kameishi

TV Media

n a scene from the first trailer released for HBO's upcoming miniseries "Catherine the Great," Dame Helen Mirren ("Collateral Beauty," 2016) stands as the eponymous Russian empress, her fist raised firmly. "Do you know what I hold in my hand?" she asks decidedly. She lets her words hang for a beat before pointedly answering her own question: "Absolute power."

Premiering Monday, Oct. 21, on HBO, the four-part "Catherine the Great" period drama co-produced by Sky Atlantic explores the public and private lives of Catherine the Great in her later years. Russia's last and longestruling female leader, Catherine revitalized the country during her strict reign. Russia grew larger and more unified than ever, cementing the nation as one of Europe's greatest powers during the 18th century. The new HBO series tells her glorious, politically victorious story as such, while also outlining the controversy and eroticism that challenged her luxurious, golden court.

As per Sky Atlantic's news release, the series shines a spotlight on Catherine's place historically and in today's context as a woman who was "strong-minded, independent, brilliantly intelligent and sexually liberated ... the definition of the modern woman."

Many of the production's interior scenes were filmed in Catherine the Great's actual palace, a detail that will be a treat for audiences as much as it was for the cast. Speaking to the Evening Standard about shooting in the decadent Moscow residence, Mirren said, "I was looking out of the same windows onto the exact same grounds [as she was]. It was an extraordinary feeling being that close to her."

The depiction of a woman in power who isn't defined by the men around her hasn't been the norm in modern media. Anticipation for this kind of female-focused storytelling is only heightened when you add the abilities of an actress of Mirren's caliber.

Helen Mirren stars in "Catherine the Great"

Not only the lead of the series, Mirren also serves as executive producer for the project. In fact, she reportedly took the idea to fellow producer David M. Thompson, who claimed, "It's a part she's always wanted to play."

A lesson in inspired casting, Mirren's turn as Catherine the Great marks her return to the royal tale. Mirren has explored the significance of womanhood in monarchy her entire career. Her roles as Elizabeth I in the mini-series "Elizabeth I" (2005) and Queen Charlotte in "The Madness of King George" (1994) debuted to great acclaim, and her portrayal of Elizabeth II in "The Queen" (2006) earned her an Academy Award. Empress Catherine already feels like an excellent addition to Mirren's collection of regal roles, because it's the kind of royal story Mirren has not told before: the story of an openly erotic and deeply romantic monarch. HBO has clearly stated that Catherine's sexuality and passionate demeanor are to be spotlighted as one of the most fulfilling aspects of her life, supposedly in an attempt to destigmatize her as the lust-obsessed vixen many historians remember and shame her for, and instead consider her sexuality as part of her legacy as a complex woman.

Given the romantic heart of HBO's "Catherine the Great," it's crucial to mention Mirren's right-hand man in the series: Jason Clarke ("Zero Dark Thirty," 2012). Clarke stars as the most passionate of all of Catherine's lovers, Russian statesman Grigory Po-temkin. Rounding out the cast for the Catherinian court are Richard Roxburgh ("Angel of Mine," 2019) as Grigory Orlov, another noble favorite of Catherine the Great, who is rumored to have fathered her son and essentially coruled with her until his death. Rory Kinnear ("Spectre," 2015) portrays Catherine's mentor, Nikita Ivanovich Panin, Gina McKee ("The Borgias") plays the empress's lady-in-waiting and confidant, Praskovya Bruce, and Andrew Rothney ("Mary Queen of Scots," 2018) appears as Alexander Mamonov, one of the empress's youngest lovers in her court.

A cast like this, with Mirren leading the charge, can be expected to deliver a great final product, but the behind-the-camera team and production crew involved with the project only add to the show's already sky-high pedigree. The series was written by novelist Nigel Williams, who won an Emmy for his work on the series "Elizabeth I," which established his relationship with Mirren and his expertise with the period drama genre. The director helming all four episodes is Philip Martin, whose credits include several episodes of "The Crown" and "Prime Suspect," the latter of which also starred Mirren, giving them a decades-long connection.

As for the program's setting and set pieces, HBO and Sky Atlantic spared no expense filming the series on location in Russia, Latvia and Lithuania. The HBO series features a lavish rendition of The Transvestite Ball, one of Catherine's favorite events of the year, where men dressed as women and women dressed as men. It was filmed in the real palace's ballroom.

Catherine the Great's last years in power were riddled with immense conflict and violent adversaries, all situations she had to control while her private life inspired scandals and constant shaming. Yet somehow, despite this, her gender and her affairs, she made her mark. To quote Mirren: "Catherine is a survivor in this dangerous role, and succeeds in becoming the most powerful woman in Russia ... she outmaneuvered them all." Witness Mirren bring Catherine's royal resilience to life in "Catherine the Great," premiering Monday, Oct. 21, on HBO.

The Neighborhood

4 8:00 p.m.

Calvin (Cedric the Entertainer) is still adjusting to life with his new neighbors in this comedy. Luckily, his wife Tina (Tichina Arnold) is much more welcoming to Dave (Max Greenfield), Gemma (Beth Behrs) and their son, Grover (Hank Greenspan).

All American

63 8:00 p.m.

Spencer (Daniel Ezra) delivers an ultimatum to his Dad (Chad Coleman) in this new episode. Coop (Bre-Z) gets a confidence boost after showing off her rapping skills at school and decides to enter a freestyle battle. Samantha Logan also stars.

Hank Greenspan and Cedric the Entertainer in "The Neighborhood"

Halloween Baking Championship FOOD 9:00 p.m.

The remaining four bakers dig into their latest challenges in this new episode. First, they're tasked with creating terrifyingly tasty grave-robber desserts. Later, the bakers will have to sculpt marble tomb cakes to impress the judges.

The Love of Dogs Benefit Concert HALL 10:00 p.m.

Host Larissa Wohl teams up with country music artists to raise money for shelter and rescue dogs in this special benefit concert at the Country Music Hall of Fame CMA Theater. Featured performers include Lee Brice, Hunter Hayes and Easton Corbin.

Halloween, Yearwood style

New episodes include annual costumed edition

Trisha Yearwood of "Trisha's Southern Kitchen"

By Michelle Rose TV Media

ot "Every Girl" can say she's a famous singer, TV chef, bestselling author and entrepreneur. But Trisha Yearwood is living proof that you can do it if you dream it. And success is sweetest when you can share it with family and friends, especially during this fun time of year.

Yearwood recently released a new album — her first alloriginal solo effort since 2007's "Heaven, Heartache and the Power of Love" — and she's busy with a full touring schedule. Luckily, that hasn't stopped her from making new episodes of "Trisha's Southern Kitchen," which air every Saturday this month on Food Network.

After cooking up career milestone-inspired recipes in the Oct. 19 episode, Yearwood gets ready for Halloween in the episode on Oct. 26. And if you're a longtime fan, you know you can look forward to seeing Yearwood and friend/ hairstylist Glenda Martin unleash the fun with creative costumes and snacks.

It's difficult to imagine anything will top Yearwood's costume in 2017, when she dressed up as husband Garth Brooks — complete with his much-talked-about 2017 beard. The new Oct. 26 episode is titled "Ghoulish Gatsby," and that means the decadence of the 1920s will be roaring back to life, at least in costume

But let's talk food. The Halloween menu is a party-friendly one, with a festive fruit gelatin mold, as well as fried olives, shrimp cocktail with dipping sauces and spider web deviled eggs. To cap it all off, the costumed duo will mix up an apple champagne cocktail that's perfect for this time of year.

This year's Halloweenthemed episode of "Trisha's Southern Kitchen" is part of Food Network's "Sweets and Treats Weekend," which runs through Oct. 26 and 27. The special-themed block of daytime programming brings viewers back-to-back Halloween episodes of everything from "The Pioneer Woman" to "Guy's Ranch Kitchen."

Angel of Mine

After the death of her daughter, grieving mother Lizzie (Rapace) appears to be on a downward spiral and seems uninterested in her iob and even her own son. Thomas (Little), whom she co-parents with her ex-husband Mike (Evans). After noticing Lola, (Whiteley) the young daughter of her neighbor Claire (Strahovski), at a party, Lizzie rapidly becomes unnaturally obsessed with the young girl. Desperate for the connection she missed with her own daughter, Lizzie's fascination with the child begins to test the boundaries of Claire's patience. Understanding the truth about Lizzie's tragedy, Claire must balance the sympathy she feels for Lizzie with the nagging undercurrent of danger. Director: Kim Farrant. Stars: Noomi Rapace, Rebecca Bower, Luke Evans, Finn Little, Annika Whiteley, Yvonne Strahovski, Richard Roxburgh. 2019. 98 mins. Drama.

Bloodline

Haunted by the dark memories of his own childhood abuse, Evan (Scott), now a counselor for at-risk teens himself, becomes a father. Determined to exact his own justice, legal or not, Evan tortures and murders the abusers of the children and teens he encounters in his day job. Believing he's exorcising his own childhood demons, Evan's meticulous homicidal schedule is thrown for a loop by the birth of his son and a visit from his mother, Marie (Dickey). When a detective begins to investigate the case of the missing parents from the local school, Evan must protect his new family from the trouble he created. Director: Henry Jacobson. Stars:

Sean William Scott, Mariela Garriga, Dale Dickey, Kevin Carroll, Christie Herring. 2018. 95 mins.

World Series

23 8:00 p.m.

Baseball's biggest event begins as the winners of the National League take on the American League champs in Game 1 of the World Series. The two teams play for the Commissioner's Trophy, as well as coveted championship rings, in a best-of-seven playoff.

Toy Story of TERROR!

6 8:30 p.m.

When the toys stop at a roadside motel during a trip, someone goes missing, and the rest of the gang bands together to solve the mystery before it's too late. This animated Halloween special features the voices of Tom Hanks, Tim Allen and Joan Cusack.

Stephen Amell stars in "Arrow"

Arrow

69 9:00 p.m.

Connor (Joseph David-Jones) has a heart to heart with his brother in this new episode. Meanwhile, Oliver (Stephen Amell), John (David Ramsey), Laurel (Katie Cassidy) and Tatsu (Rila Fukushima) look for someone within the Monitor's (LaMonica Garrett) plan.

Finding Escobar's Millions DISC 10:00 p.m.

Chris and Jerry are provided with new Intel thanks to two former Medellin cartel members in this new episode. The evidence leads them to investigate cocaine labs and secret hideouts in the remote Columbian countryside.

Ghost Hunters

A&E 7:00 p.m.

The team travels to the Original Springs Hotel in Okawville, Illinois after getting an urgent call from the owner's son, Jeremy, in this new episode. Of the last four owners of the hotel three have committed suicide and Jeremy worries his mother is next.

Nancy Drew

69 9:00 p.m.

Teenage sleuth Nancy Drew (Kennedy McMann) struggles to clear her name when she finds herself the prime suspect in a murder case in this modern take on the classic mystery novels. She discovers the case may have a connection to a long unsolved murder.

Cobie Smulders stars in "Stumptown"

Forged in Fire

нізт 9:00 р.т.

Weapon smiths are challenged to harvest a blade from one knife and combine it with a different weapon's handle in this new episode. The judges then subject the new weapons to a series of brutal tests. The two finalists must forge Chinese Jian swords.

Stumptown

⑤ ② 10:00 p.m.

Cobie Smulders returns to television as private investigator Dex Parios in the premiere of this drama based on the graphic novel series. The strong, assertive army veteran often finds herself at odds with criminals and police officers.

Hollywood Q&A

By Adam Thomlison

TV Media

Q: I just watched the movie "Harvey" for the umpteenth time, and something's always bothered me about it. Elwood is supposed to be an alcoholic, right? Then why does he never drink on screen?

A: The Motion Picture Production Code, that's why.

ugarland Express

Kunis, Ben Affleck, Jason Bateman.

('09) Laura Fraser, Clive Owe

"Harvey," the hit 1950 comedy, starred James Stewart as a happygo-lucky drunk with a humansized talking rabbit as an imaginary friend. As you can guess, the character's alcoholism was a driving factor in the plot of the film.

But despite that, he's only seen taking one drink throughout the course of the movie (instead, he iust talks a lot about it). That is reportedly so that the film could meet the strict rules of the Motion Picture Production Code in force at the time.

The code was a self-regulation regime set up by the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America to ensure films met certain "moral standards."

The code fell out of use in the 1960s and was officially abandoned in 1968, replaced by the film-rating system we know today. The key difference being that the ratings system doesn't mean unscrupulous activities aren't shown on screen, just that the films are labeled appropriately.

Q: "Who Wants to be a Millionaire" has suddenly disappeared from television. Has it been canceled? I really miss it.

A: "Who Wants to be a Millionaire" has used its last lifeline. It's asked the audience, it's phoned friends at every network in the country, but it has still been canceled.

Well, the U.S. version has, at least. The long-running game show started in prime time on ABC in 1999 and was canceled after just three seasons, but it was then revived in syndication, where it lived on for a whopping 17

outherland, Charlie Sheen, Emilio Estevez

During its first 14 years, it had just two hosts: Regis Philbin and Meredith Vieira. But it cycled through three more in its last six years (Cedric the Entertainer, Terry Crews and finally Chris Harrison) as it struggled to regain some of the magic of its early years.

The Emmys "In Memoriam" section, you know where we say goodbye to people, accidentally broadcast a photo of a person who is not dead yet. Today, the producers apologized profusely to Bernie Sanders.

It's a big night for NBC.
Tonight was the season premiere of "This Is Us" — or as it's known over at Kleenex headquarters: "Christmas."

Facebook just paid almost $1 billion for a company that makes wristbands that can people who used to live in their countries.

For two and a half years, Trump has had scandal after scandal — every time people have asked: "Is this the thing? Surely this must be the thing?" And every time, it wasn't the thing. But here's the thing: There's a new thing ... it might be the thing.

A lot of people are celebrating that Donald Trump is in serious trouble, but Trump has shown over and over again that when he's cornered, he will fight like the rabid weasel that lives on his head.

The Late Late Show with James Corden

Trump called his conversation with the Ukrainian president a, quote, "perfect phone call," which is obviously a lie. A perfect phone call is a text message! exchanged built, crim in the built, crim five stars.

We still do

The country's first cannabis restaurant is set to open here in Los Angeles. The restaurant says they're going to have a menu filled with farm-to-table items: the beef will be grass fed, also the customers will be grass fed.

Trump is denying that this is a case of quid pro quo, but I'm pretty sure that's because Trump thinks "quid pro quo" is that game they play in "Harry Potter."

White House lawyers were so concerned about Trump's phone call with Ukraine that they hid the transcript in a top secret computer system. They hid Trump's embarrassing communications, which is weird because they know that we can all see his tweets, right?

Today was the first day of autumn. I'm telling you this because here in Los Angeles there really is no other way of knowing.

Jimmy Kimmel Live

The Emmys rotate from network to network every year, so this year they were on Fox, next year they'll be on ABC. Fox tried to do things differently. They did not have a host, and instead of a red carpet, they had a purple carpet, which looked like they'd skinned Barney and made a rug out of him.

The president has repeatedly claimed that the call in question was "perfect." He's right — it was a perfect phone call. Pleasantries were exchanged, friendships were built, crimes were committed ... I have no notes. I give it five stars

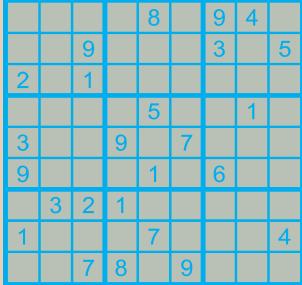

We still don't know the identity of the whistleblower — that will be revealed next Wednesday on "The Masked Singer."

Late Night With Seth Meyers

While addressing the whistleblower complaint about Ukraine, Nancy Pelosi accused President Trump of endangering national security. Yeah, Nancy, where ya been? You're like my mom's friend who's watching Season 4 of "Breaking Bad" and goes, "I think this guy might be dealing meth!"

Canadian Prime Minister Justin Trudeau has announced a proposal to ban assault rifles, which sounds great, but he hid a clause in it that also bans looking up old yearbook photos.

Sudoku

Fill in the grid so that every row, every column, and every 3x3 box contains the digits 1 through 9. Solution on page 8.

President Trump is in hot water for asking the leader of Ukraine to look up dirt on Joe Biden. Now, for you history buffs out there, get this — no one's asked a foreign government to interfere in a U.S.. election since way back in 2016.

The Tonight Show Starring Jimmy Fallon

Over the weekend, several 2020 candidates were in lowa and Joe Biden set up a tent with a bouncy castle, a fire truck and an ice cream truck. It's all part of his plan to win that coveted 3-8-year-old demographic.

read your brain, which is crazy because I was pretty sure Facebook already knew everything about me.

A woman in the U.K.. fell in love with her wedding DJ and now they're dating. Even worse, the woman told her ex-husband: "shoulda sprung for a band."

The Late Show With Stephen Colbert

It's been a very big week here in New York; the UN General assembly is in town. Leaders from Asia, Africa and Europe have come to New York City to see all the
