Vibrant Victoria

Being a monarch isn't easy, especially when you're young, newly married and also a mother. Jenna Coleman ("Doctor Who") stars as Queen Victoria in the PBS "Masterpiece" series, "Victoria." In season 2, with advice from Lord Melbourne's (Rufus Sewell, "The Illusionist," 2006), the queen navigates her increasing responsibilities alongside those of her husband Albert (Tom Hughes, "Cemetery Junction," 2010). A new episode of "Victoria" airs Sunday, Feb. 11, on PBS.

Defining an age

Fact flirts with fiction in 'Victoria' on PBS

By Kat Mulligan TV Media

he British Monarchy is often explored through the cinematic lens, with the lives of numerous kings and queens regularly adapted for film and television. While the regal males of history may have a longer list of fictional representation, the lengthy legacies of Britain's queens have arguably provided far more captivating and immersive narratives.

In August 2016, British television powerhouse ITV continued this tradition, giving the life of one of the kingdom's most beloved monarchs a stunning series treatment. Thankfully, those of us in North America have also had the opportunity to fall for this majestic, spirited queen, as the story of "Victoria" continues to unfold Sunday, Feb. 11, on PBS.

A part of "Masterpiece," "Victoria" is a dramatic television series adaptation of the queen's life, following Alexandrina Victoria (Jenna Coleman, "Doctor Who") as she learns of the death of the king and her subsequent ascension to the throne at age 18. Still young, naive and not fully prepared, Victoria is determined to define her own reign and avoid the external influence of her mother's adviser, or others bent on persuading her. Early assistance from the dashing Lord Melbourne (Rufus Sewell, "The Illusionist," 2006) prepares her for both the court and the parliament, though it isn't long before concerns shift — though not her own — to the need for her to be wed and assisted by a husband.

Enter Prince Albert of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha (Tom Hughes, "Cemetery Junction," 2010), the choice of Victoria's uncle who initially seems an undesirable choice. Their first meeting is lukewarm, but as time passes, Albert is able to introduce Victoria to the world beyond the throne, providing an education on the poverty and trials of her subjects and encouraging her to be the kind of monarch who will finally be a voice for the people. With a newfound sense of maturity and resolve, Queen Victoria now finds herself a match and a king. Season 2 of "Victoria" begins a month after the birth of her first child, and as Victoria discovers all that has been kept from her while she has been in recovery from childbirth. Eager to regain control, she takes the necessary steps to reassert power while reintroducing herself to the British people. As the season progresses, each passing moment seems to emphasize the growing weight of royal and motherly responsibiliand monarchs. ties, as Victoria juggles family and political matters. In a "Masterpiece" PBS featurette leading up to the premiere of season 2, Coleman discussed these developments. For the still relatively fresh Queen, the "honeymoon period is now over," and Victoria's life is now comprised of "balancing motherhood, marriage, work, job [and] baby." A month away from her regal duties finds Victoria battling with "a bit of jealousy and ... quite a bit of insecurity" with regard to Albert's assertion of leadership in her absence. Their relationship continues to be tested and often strained, as both Victoria and Albert delve into parenthood and continually attempt to renegotiate their roles as both spouses and monarchs. Historically accurate visually

Historically accurate, visually elaborate productions of Great Britain's regal history seem to endlessly captivate audiences. Creator and writer Daisy Goodwin's "Victoria" now joins the ranks of works by Michael Hirst ("Elizabeth," 1998) and, more recently, Peter Morgan ("The Crown"). This is by no means the first depiction of Queen Victoria on the small or large screen, however. The Queen's first foray onto the big screen came through Rose Tapley's portrayal in the silent short "The Victoria Cross," which dates back to 1912. Smallscreen depictions began much later, with the first of these occurring in 1951 in an episode of the American series "Robert Montgomery Presents" called "Victoria Regina," in which the queen is played by Helen Hayes.

The most successful film and television adaptations of royalty achieve greatness largely due to their carefully crafted narratives, which oh so elegantly dance over the boundary between fact and fiction. Goodwin addresses this dance in a Masterpiece Studio podcast episode, along with "Fact or Fiction: Inside Episode" posts on PBS's website. These posts examine pivotal moments from the noted episode, with Goodwin either emphasizing the historical significance or justifying the fictitious indulgences portrayed.

What Goodwin wisely notes while discussing season 2 on the podcast is the challenge of navigating and maintaining this balance, so that the result is a "show that is ... compulsively watchable, entertaining, funny ... that you will learn something from ... [that] will also make you feel emotionally involved." Subtle flourishes of fiction or factual exaggerations often make for a far more entertaining series, but, in order to have lasting resonance, a story grounded in truth can amplify the legacy of an already formidable historical figure.

Despite the western devotion to democracy, there is still a romantic allure attached to the reign of monarchy. Public fascination with royalty ebbs and flows, but the moment a royal wedding, birth or death is announced, it's rare to find someone unaware of it by day's end. Certainly, PBS had this in mind as it decided to bring the reign of Oueen Victoria into North American homes, where it continues to receive a warm reception. Indulge in the life of the queen whose legacy defined an age, one that continues to be felt this very day. Prepare to receive a visit from the queen, when an allnew episode of "Victoria" airs Sunday, Feb. 11, on PBS.

Thursday

FREE 9:00 p.m.

Mulan

When a young Chinese maiden learns that her ailing father has been called to serve in the army, she disguises herself as a boy and takes her father's place in this animated classic. She summons her courage to fight for China against the invading Huns.

Saturday

FX 10:00 a.m.

Home

Jim Parsons lends his voice to a hapless alien named Oh in this heartwarming computer animated film.

A scene from "The Good Dinosaur"

Sweet love

Food Network's competitions embrace Valentine's Day

"Chopped" host Ted Allen

By Andrew Warren TV Media

t's that time of year again: romance is in the air and Food Network is never one to let a good holiday go to waste. Food just has a place alongside every holiday, and the culinary channel's many cooking competitions are bringing some sweet, sweet love into their kitchens with "Chopped," "Guy's Grocery Games" and "Worst Cooks in America" all presenting special Valentine's Day episodes.

"Chopped" switches things up when four pastry chefs battle it out this week in the Tuesday, Feb. 13, Valentine's episode. The masters of sweets fall in love when they learn that host Ted Allen has thrown mealtime conventions aside and requires them to cook three sweet desserts rather than a three-course meal.

It's not just ice cream, candy and cake for the competitors, though. Each round's baskets, which contain secret ingredients that the chefs must use in their dishes, contain some sort of chocolate, but the real shocker comes with the other mystery ingredients. In the first round, they find a squirmy invader that's most unwelcome, while round 2's baskets contain hummus, a dip that's far from a typical chocolate pairing.

Guy Fieri is also in a lovey mood, and on Sunday, Feb. 11, he invites three of "Guy's Grocery Games'" regular judges to bring their significant others to Flavortown for a friendly competition. In the first challenge, Guy sends out the couples to shop together for a romantic dinner, but with one of them wearing a blindfold, that ticking clock adds a bit of urgency to what could otherwise be

Over at boot camp, mentors Anne Burrell and Tyler Florence show the recruits how to make perfect sweets for their sweeties in the Sunday, Feb. 11, episode of "Worst Cooks in America." First, the recruits learn how to properly whip cream, with the mentors suffering the sweet, sweet consequences if they slip up. Then, they're tasked to put together multicomponent desserts that are capable of winning over their soft-hearted mentors.

Love really is in the air at this time of year, and on Food Network there are sweet Valentine's Day episodes happening all week.

Hollywood Q&A

By Adam Thomlison TV Media

Q: Did actress Ellen Burstyn have a different name early in her career? And was she in a movie titled "Gunfight at Black Horse Canyon"?

A: The answer is yes, but I had a lot of trouble getting there.

SATURDAY DAYTIME

For starters, "Gunfight at Black Horse Canyon" is barely a movie. It's really a collection of episodes of "Tales of Wells Fargo" cut together into a feature-length story.

The second challenge was that Ellen Burstyn, as you suspect, hasn't been Ellen Burstyn forever.

In a long feature on National Public Radio's "All Things Considered," interviewer Robert

(:15) 😤 A Woman, a Part (2016, Drama) Khandi

Thewlis, Anatole Taubman, Peter Capaldi

Alexander, John Ortiz, Maggie Siff

тмс 381 385 Siegel said: "One measure of Ellen Burstyn's story is the number of names she's had." The answer, incredibly, is 10.

The long and varied list of names goes with her long and varied career. According to the interview, her start in showbiz came through some modeling work, which she did first under her birth name, Edna Rae Gillooly, then under the shortened

Edna Rae. But her first screen test was done under the name Erica Dean. When she moved to Montreal to work as a dancer, she became Keri Flynn.

Next she went with Ellen McRae for a while (she doesn't explain how she picked up the Ellen, let alone the "Mc"), and that's when her screen career started in earnest. She did dozens of TV and film roles as Ellen McRae before settling on Ellen Burstyn, shortly before landing what most consider her breakthrough role in 1971's "The Last Picture Show.

So it was during the Ellen McRae years that she appeared in "Gunfight at Black Horse Canyon," which was released in 1961.

That film, as I said, was cobbled together out of a number of "Wells Fargo" stories, but the main plot centered around a recently released outlaw seeking vengeance against the show's main character. Jim Hardie, for putting him in jail.

Valerie's Home Cooking

FOOD 12:00 p.m.

In this new episode, host Valerie Bertinelli explains how she discovered some of her favorite foods while visiting her brother, Patrick, in Louisiana. She prepares some traditional New Orleans dishes as a treat for Patrick and his wife.

Terminator 2: Judgment Day

амс 2:00 p.m.

The Terminator (Arnold Schwarzenegger) from the future returns in this sequel. However, this time he is reprogrammed to protect Sarah Conners' soon-to-be-savior-of-the-world son from a shape-changing terminator who will stop at nothing to kill him.

Lucas Till stars in "MacGyver"

Thor: The Dark World

FX 2:00 p.m.

Chris Hemsworth reprises his role as Thor in this sequel, which is followed by "Iron Man 3" and Captain America: The Winter Soldier." When Malekith (Christopher Eccleston) threatens the Nine Realms, even Odin (Anthony Hopkins) can't stop him.

MacGyver

🕑 8:00 p.m.

MacGyver (Lucas Till) and his team use a soccer ball and cellphone as they search for a Navy SEAL who's believed to be living in captivity in the Middle East in this rebroadcast of the season premiere. George Eads also stars in this rebooted series.

The Late Show With Stephen Colbert

There has been a whole lot of talk about Donald Trump's fitness for office lately. He took a physical last Friday, and today we got the results from his doctor. Ronny Jackson, Right off the bat. the doctor broke big news: "The heart exam was normal." So, despite all evidence, Donald Trump does have a heart.
