Holy high rollers

Greedy, seedy evangelists take center stage in 'The Righteous Gemstones'

By Kyla Brewer

TV Media

elevangelism allows millions of Christians to celebrate their faith through the magic of television. For many, it's a saving grace. However, a new comedy takes a look at what happens when a morally corrupt family dupes good and honest people into parting with their hard-earned money, all in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ.

John Goodman ("The Conners") stars as Eli Gemstone, the patriarch of a family of televangelists prone to deviance and greed, in the new comedy "The Righteous Gemstones," premiering Sunday, Aug. 18, on HBO. The series follows the world-famous family as they pursue wealth under the guise of serving Jesus.

The series was created by Danny McBride ("Vice Principals), who also co-stars, writes and directs some of the episodes. While it may seem as if the new comedy is poised to make fun of Christianity, McBride has insisted that "The Righteous Gemstones" is in no way meant to ridicule religion. Instead, it's a satirical look at a family that doesn't practice what they preach.

"I would not pass judgment on other people," McBride explained at this summer's Television Critics Association press tour as quoted in a July article on ew.com. "For us, it's about lampooning a hypocrite, lampooning somebody who presents themselves one way and is not that way."

An unscrupulous, unyielding church leader known the world over for his aggressive salvation techniques and popular TV program, Eli definitely fits the bill of "hypocrite". The merciless patriarch doesn't take any guff from anyone, especially his grown children. His light may be starting to fade, but the other Gemstones are ready to take up the charge. Eli's eldest son, Jesse (McBride), is the heir apparent to his father's televangelist empire. He hopes to modernize their ministry for today's audience as he tries to blaze his own path. Eli's other son, Kelvin (Adam Devine, "Workaholics"), represents the new generation of devotees with his hip hairstyle and edgy fashion. Meanwhile, Eli's daughter, Judy (Edi Patterson, "Partners"), stands in the shadows of her brothers and father as they take the lead in the chauvinistic church.

The new comedy features a roster of supporting players who help bring the story to life. Jesse's wife, Amber (Cassidy Freeman, "Smallville"), gave up a career in journalism to focus on her family and the church. Judy's fiancé, BJ (Tim Baltz, "Shrink"), struggles to find his place among the eccentric Gemstone family. Ex-Satanist Keefe Chambers (Tony Cavalero, "School of Rock") has been dedicated to serving the Lord and the Gemstones since Kelvin saved him from evil. Meanwhile, Eli relies on the sage counsel of conservative friend Martin Imari (Greg Alan Williams, "Remember the Titans," 2000).

"The Righteous Gemstones" is undoubtedly one of the most highly anticipated summer series, in no small part thanks to Goodman's casting. One of the rare talents equally praised for his dramatic work and his comedic appearances, Goodman is practically prime-time gold. He rose to fame as Dan Conner in the original run of the ABC sitcom "Roseanne," which aired from 1988 to 1997, and later reprised his role in the 2018 revival of the series. The show has since been retooled without Barr as "The Conners," which is set to return for a second season this fall. His other television work includes memorable roles in "The West Wing" and HBO's "Treme." On the big screen, he's known for his frequent collaborations with Joel and Ethan Coen, having appeared in their films "Raising Arizona" (1987), "Barton Fink" (1991), "The Big Lebowski" (1998) and "O Brother, Where Art Thou" (2000), among others. Goodman is also famous for his work in such popular mainstream movies as "The Flintstones" (1994) and "Monsters, Inc." (2001).

Just as the return to HBO is a homecoming of sorts for Goodman, "The Righteous Gemstones" marks a milestone for McBride. He and longtime collaborator Jody Hill ("Observe and Report," 2009) have worked on two other successful comedies for the cable giant: the sports comedy "Eastbound & Down" and the high school spoof "Vice Principals." They're both executive producers for "The Righteous Gemstones," alongside David Gordon Green ("Halloween," 2018), who directs a few episodes of the new HBO series as well. McBride directed the show's pilot, which was ordered in June 2018. By October, it was clear that HBO had faith in the series when it was announced the cable channel had given the show a series order.

Goodman and McBride's castmates in "The Righteous Gemstones" are all gems in their own right. Devine is well known to the Comedy Central set as one of the stars and co-creators of "Workaholics" and his namesake television series "Adam Devine's House Party." Texas native Patterson should be familiar to "Vice Principals" fans as Ms. Abbott, while Freeman is best known for her role as Tess Mercer in the superhero drama "Smallville." Cavalero had big comedy shoes to fill when he played Dewey Finn in Nickelodeon's television version of "School of Rock," a role portrayed by Jack Black in the original 2003 film. Baltz has been a regular in Comedy Central's "Drunk History" and "The Opposition With Jordan Klepper."

Watch as Goodman, McBride and the rest of the cast breathe life into the shady televangelist Gemstones in the debut of "The Righteous Gemstones," airing Sunday, Aug. 18, on HBO. The first season of HBO's newest comedy features just nine episodes, including the hour-long season premiere, which will be followed by half-hour editions subsequent Sundays.

New Food show tests mom-and-pop restaurant owners

Valerie Bertinelli with contestants

By Michelle Rose

hey're the family-owned eateries that consistently cook up good food and, in some cases, they've been doing it since before you were born (that's what I hear every time I set foot in my favourite pizza place, and that's pretty often).

With its newest competition show, the Food Network has tapped into our undying love for mom-and-pop restaurants. Beginning Monday, Aug. 19, "Family Restaurant Rivals" pits three of America's entrepreneurial families against each other in a weekly competition hosted by Valerie Bertinelli.

How does it work? At the start of each hour-long episode (there are six in total), viewers are introduced to three new families, who compete in two rounds of challenges that include putting a fresh spin on old classics like kid-friendly or meat-and-potato dishes or preparing guilty-pleasure desserts.

It's all about who did it better. In the premiere episode, each family restaurant's top lunch combo needs to be adapted for fussy eaters, Round 2 is about creating a noodle dish - the more creative, the better.

Sounds pretty straightforward when you read the official news release, until you get to the part about how "a surprise twist in the competition will leave the families reeling." Talk about a teaser.

Who decides the weekly $10,000 winner? A rotating panel of judges, including Kardea Brown, Jason Fullilove, Alex Guarnaschelli, Robert Irvine, Ray Garcia, Clinton Kelly, Antonia Lofaso, Bricia Lopez, Simon Majumdar, Christian Petroni, Courtney Rada, Aarti Sequeira and Jet Tila. And they can expect competitors to pull out all the stops for the prize money, which can give independent business owners a nice boost.

"Hot in Cleveland" alum Bertinelli has emerged as a bonafide Food Network star. Her star vehicle, "Valerie's Home Cooking," debuted in 2015, and just this year it earned her two Daytime Emmys. This venture is part of a multi-series deal announced last fall. Bertinelli extended her Food Network hosting duties on the popular "Kids Baking Championship." And with new episodes of that competition series also airing on Mondays, that should give you a weekly double shot of Valerie for the next while.

"One Day at a Time" and

Tune in to the premiere on Monday, Aug. 19, to see how competitors fare in challenges that put their kitchen knowhow, industry instincts and family dynamics to the test.

The Hustle

After con artists Josephine Chesterfield (Hathaway) and Penny Rust (Wilson) inadvertently attempt to swindle each other in the French Riviera, the two make the unlikely decision to compete for the right to stay in the lavish French town to scam wealthy men of their money for years to come. When Penny begins to fall for tech billionaire Thomas Westerburg (Sharp), Josephine takes her under her wing to teach her the ropes. The film is a gender-flipped remake of the 1988 comedy "Dirty Rotten Scoundrels," starring Michael Caine and Steve Martin. which itself was a remake of 1964's "Bedtime Story," starring Marlon Brando and David Niven. Director: Chris Addison. Stars: Anne Hathaway, Rebel Wilson, Alex Sharp, 2019. 93 min. Come-

A Dog's Journey

This sequel picks up where the 2017 film "A Dog's Purpose" left off. Bailey (Gad), a handsome and elderly dog, realizes that his life's calling is to protect Ethan (Quaid) and Hannah's (Helgenberger) granddaughter, CJ (Prescott), on their Midwestern farm. Through the years, Bailey becomes Molly, Big Dog and Max, but he never abandons his mission to stick with CJ through her ups and downs. The film follows the many iterations of a loyal dog who finds new adventures, challenges and love. Director: Gail Mancuso. Stars: Josh Gad, Dennis Quaid, Kathryn Prescott, Marg Helgenberger, Betty Gilpin. 2019. 109 min. Drama.

Brightburn

Tori (Banks) and Kyle Breyer (Denman) are living in Brightburn, Kansas, when an unidentified flying object crashes near their farm. They soon discover that the craft contains a baby boy with superhuman powers, and they adopt him as their own, naming him Brandon (Dunn). As the child grows, the new parents realize that something is amiss. After Brandon attacks and kills his classmate Caitlyn (Hunter), the young man finally understands the haunting message coming from the spaceship that brought him to Earth: "Take the World.' Director: David Yarovesky. Stars:

Elizabeth Banks, David Denman, Jackson A. Dunn, Matt Jones, Meredith Hagner, Emmie Hunter. 2019. 90 min. Horror.

Anne Hathaway and Rebel Wilson star in "The Hustle"

The Goldbergs

6 9 8:00 p.m.

Barry (Troy Gentile) and Lainey's (AJ Michalka) wedding is right around the corner, and Beverly (Wendi Mclendon-Covey) tries to make everything perfect in this rebroadcast. Elsewhere, Geoff (Sam Lerner) worries about Adam's (Sean Giambrone) video skills.

Ghost Hunters

A&E 9:00 p.m.

In this rebroadcast of the supernatural reality show, Grant Wilson and his team investigate when the security cameras at a school capture an unexplained electrical disturbance followed by what appears to be a ghost in the hallway.

Peri Zarrella in "Psychic Kids"

Guy's Grocery Games

FOOD 9:00 p.m.

Host Guy Fieri welcomes chefs from four distinct American regions in this new episode. As they vie for culinary supremacy, they're challenged to turn a hometown hit into a homerun using just five ingredients. Later, they use frozen food to make supper.

Psychic Kids

A&E 10:00 p.m.

Young adults with psychic abilities work alongside licensed therapists to mentor a new generation of child psychics in this premiere. Together, they try to show the young adults how to take control and benefit from their unique gifts.

The Wall

3 8:00 p.m.

Chris Hardwick hosts as contestants answer questions in the hopes of winning a life-altering cash prize. If they answer correctly, a green ball is dropped down a wall to add to the cash total, but if they are wrong, a red ball subtracts from the prize.

Young Sheldon

THURSDAY DRIME TIME

⊞ 8:30 p.m.

In this rebroadcast of the popular comedy spinoff, George Sr. (Lance Barber) asks Sheldon (Iain Armitage) to keep a secret from Mary (Zoe Perry). The stress of not being honest drives Sheldon to hideout at Tam's (Ryan Phuong) for his first sleepover.

Michelle Wohlberg in "Alone"

Alone

нізт 10:05 р.т.

As the final participants close in on the $500,000 prize, they continue to battle weight loss, extreme temperatures and predators in this season finale. One of the contestants loses everything in a devastating catastrophe before the winner is crowned.

My Crazy Birth Story

тьс 11:00 р.т.

When a couple doesn't make it to the hospital in time, their birth experience gives new meaning to the term "convenience store" in this new episode. In another story, a woman goes into labor in the car during a big storm.

Hollywood Q&A

By Adam Thomlison TV Media

Q: Tom Selleck has a reputation for being precise about the weapons he uses in his roles. So why is "Blue Bloods" so full of discrepancies? Why does Frank wear a heavy sweater at the lunch table when the women have on summer tops? Why is Danny the only Reagan with a New York accent?

A: Way back in the show's very first season, Britain's the Guardian newspaper criticized the show for, essentially, being lazy, and jokingly offered an eight-step guide to writing a "Blue Bloods" script.

To your first point, Step 5 is "insert random and wholly unavoidable error." The article points to similar clothing inconsistencies.

More recently, the New York Post weighed in on the accent question, including Amy Carlson and Donnie Wahlberg (Linda and Danny on the show) on its list of "terrible TV accents that'll have you reaching for the earplugs." They even called in professional dialect coach Patricia Fletcher to help make fun of Carlson and Wahlberg, but it backfired, in a way — Fletcher went easy on them but said, "If we want to complain about the New York dialects, we really should be critiquing co-stars Tom Selleck [who plays Frank on the show] and Len Cariou [Henry]."

But you asked why these things are happening, and there's a pretty short answer to that: It doesn't seem to matter. Any criticism you want to level at this show can be refuted with two simple words: "Season 10."

People love this show, and so CBS loves this show and keeps renewing it, and so the costumers, writers and actors will keep doing the same job they're doing. Why wouldn't they?

As for Selleck's previous attention to detail regarding firearms, it seems that Selleck's careful attention to guns had more to do with his being a firearm aficionado — he's a former (and maybe current) member of the National Rifle Association and donated a number of his old movie guns to the National Firearms Museum in Virginia.

The hilarious Jim Gaffigan is here. I'm happy he's here — I think he's the only guy in show business whiter than I am.

At Disneyland, a family was kicked out after getting into a violent fist fight. They were told to leave and come back on St. Patrick's Day.

The Tonight Show Starring Jimmy Fallon

The heat was brutal all around the country. For the first time in years, ice cream truck drivers sold more ice cream than weed.

White House adviser Stephen Miller went on "Fox News" and said that Trump was not a racist. People at home were confused. They couldn't tell if they were watching "Fox News" or "Big Little Lies."

Democrats are hoping Mueller goes out there and explains his written report on camera. It's their way of saying to Americans, "We know you didn't read the book, so maybe you'll watch the movie."

A pair of Nike shoes were just auctioned off for a record $430,000. One day, the buver will show his kids and say, "These are the reason you couldn't go to college."

The Late Show With Stephen Colbert

So things are pretty bad here, but on the bright side, they're also bad in other places. Take Great Britain. They just got a new prime minister: former foreign secretary and shaved muppet Boris Johnson.

Everyone knew this was a historic day, especially the woman filming it on her phone. That woman's name: CSPAN 2.

At a fundraiser this week, [Joe] Biden said, "I'm not going to be as polite this time," and I'm excited for "Bad Grandpa 2: Biden His Time."

Twin brothers in Belgium were recently arrested after getting involved in a fight, but police couldn't differentiate the brothers in the security footage. First, the authorities in Belgium thought it was one brother, then the other, then the one. then the other — it's a classic case of Belgian waffling.

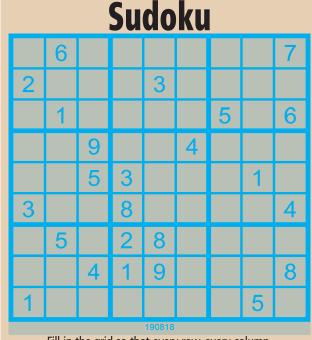

Some airline passengers were delayed when a slowwalking flamingo took a stroll across the runway. Here's the thing, though: flamingos can fly! What are you doing at an airport?

According to researchers, donkeys living in England hate the weather over there. Apparently, donkeys really dislike wind and rain. Was this a study we needed? Did we ask for this? Nobody likes the weather in England!

A company in Idaho has just developed the world's first potato infused with cannabis. This is the first potato in history that bakes you.

In the United Kingdom, as of tomorrow, they will have a new prime minister. And this is exciting because it is the first time the U.K. has ever had a prime minister who looks like he smoked meth in an Arby's dumpster.

Bernie ran for president in 2016, and he's hoping people are still feeling the "Bern." Though, if you are still feeling that after three years, you should probably consult a urologist.

Late Night With Seth Meyers

T-Mobile and Taco Bell are running a promotional event this weekend called T-MoBell, which gives out free tacos inside T-Mobile cellphone stores. Not to be outdone, Arby's just announced their new promotion, "Sprint to the Bathroom."

Today was Amelia Earhart Day. And people celebrated almost all the way around the world.

Former vice-president Joe Biden told reporters last night that he won't be "as polite" during next week's second Democratic debate. Added Biden, "Let's just say that this time I won't be saying thank you after Kamala rips me a new one."
