In an effort to help them focus on developing the new game, Leon (Samuel Anderson, "Doctor Who") invites everyone to take a trip on his luxury yacht in a new episode of "Loaded," airing Monday, Aug. 14, on AMC. This new comedy follows four hapless friends who become multimillionaires overnight when they sell their startup video game company. Jim Howick ("Horrible Histories"), Scarlett Alice Johnson ("EastEnders"), Jonny Sweet ("Together"), Nick Helm ("Uncle") and Mary McCormack ("The West Wing") also star.

Money problems

Four friends strike it rich in AMC's 'Loaded'

By Kyla Brewer

TV Media

ver since Jed Clampett (Buddy Ebsen) struck oil in the classic series "The Beverly Hillbillies," television viewers have imagined going from rags to riches in style.
Swimming pools. Fancy cars. Lavish vacations. Just about everyone dreams about what they'd spend money on if they suddenly found themselves rich, but a new comedy is serving as a cautionary tale for those who think money can buy happiness.

Four friends struggle with their new status as multimillionaires after they sell their hit iPhone game and video game company in "Loaded," airing Monday, Aug. 14, on AMC. Unfortunately, the thirtysomethings have more money than sense and end up spending their fortune on frivolous toys, vacations and other nonsensical things as they try to impress those around them.

Based on the Keshet International award-winning Israeli series "Mesudarim" by Muli Segev ("Hayom BaLayla," 2015) and Assaf Harel ("Shotetut," 2001), the British comedy was co-produced by Keshet UK, AMC, Channel 4 and Hillbilly Television. Executive producers Kate Norrish ("The Level") and Polly Leys ("The Full Monty," 1997) had high praise for the series when the eight-episode deal for the English-language version was announced.

"It is a fresh, funny and pertinent take on four friends trying to cling on to the slats of their friendship in the eye of a hurricane of money and excess," Norrish and Leys said.

Eight episodes is a pretty short run, even for a summer series, but the talented cast has managed to pack a lot of laughs, and even a little social commentary, into "Loaded." Jim Howick ("Horrible Histories") stars as Josh, the leader and moral compass of the group, who almost seems to suffer under the weight of his new wealth.

"No one deserves millions for a cat game that mums play on the toilet," Josh quips in a trailer for the series.

Still, he hopes to impress exgirlfriend Abi (Aimee Ffion-Edwards, "Peaky Blinders") with fancy dinners and charitable donations.

His best friend, Leon, played by Samuel Anderson ("Doctor Who"), is a charismatic snappy dresser who enlisted the help of a barbershop quartet to mock all of the people who refused to invest in the game before the guys hit it big. As the business development director, Leon rewards himself for his success with a Ferrari and other expensive toys.

Jonny Sweet ("Together") portrays technical whiz Ewan, a sweet and sensitive soul who is in charge of the coding team at Idyl Hands. A stereotypical nerd, Ewan is a tad awkward and feels unrecognized for his contributions.

In contrast, Nick Helm's ("Uncle") character, Watto, is a recently sober, over-the-top personality whose artwork graces the team's hit game Cat Factory. He enjoys the thrill of spending his money flamboyantly, but quickly realizes the things he buys leave him feeling empty.

The main cast also includes American actress Mary McCormack ("The West Wing") as the guys' new high-powered boss, Casey, a self-proclaimed "sexy Darth Vader." The seemingly heartless vice president boasts some of the most memorable lines in the series, including: "There's only one way to climb to the top: treading on people's faces." Scarlett Alice Johnson ("EastEnders") and Lolly Adefope ("Rovers") round out the

With people spending more and more time on their phones and tablets, the app and video game business has become a hugely important global industry, and "Loaded" isn't the first series to take a look at the rise of startup technology companies. Since its North American premiere on AMC Monday, July 17, the comedy has been compared to HBO's "Silicon Valley," which also follows friends struggling to develop a product that will make them rich. Created by Mike Judge ("King of the Hill"), John Altschuler ("The Goode Family") and Dave Krinsky ("Lopez"), the show has been a big hit for HBO, earning a 100 percent approval rating on popular review aggregator website rottentomatoes. com for seasons 2, 3 and 4. Season 4 wrapped up at the end of June, and season 5 is slated to premiere in 2018.

AMC also offers viewers a look at life in the technology industry in "Halt and Catch Fire," a drama set in the 1980s that presents a fictional account of the beginning of the personal computer revolution. Starring Lee Pace ("The Fall," 2006), Scoot McNairy ("Monsters," 2010) and Mackenzie Davis ("The Martian," 2015), the period piece is scheduled to return to AMC's prime-time lineup Saturday, Aug. 19.

The "Loaded" collaboration isn't the first time AMC has partnered with Channel 4. The two networks also worked together on "Humans," a futuristic science fiction series about anthropomorphic robots known as synths. While "Humans" has been a hit on both sides of the Atlantic, it remains to be seen how the first season of "Loaded" will fare with North American audiences.

The guys from Idyl Hands prove that money may not be everything as they continue to struggle in spite of — or perhaps because of — their newfound wealth. Don't miss their latest adventure as Leon invites the gang on his luxury yacht in the hopes they'll focus on developing a new game in a new episode of "Loaded," airing Monday, Aug. 14, on AMC. What follows is 24 hours of drugs, sex and murder.

Food with 'Hart'

YouTube star Hannah Hart explores culinary hot spots

Hannah Hart stars in "I Hart Food"

By Andrew Warren

TV Media

ere's a confession that shouldn't come as much of a surprise: I love food. As much as I do, though, Hannah Hart probably loves it more. Heck, she has her own cooking-oriented YouTube channel with millions of subscribers and hundreds of millions of

That channel, "My Drunk Kitchen," is pretty much just what its title advertises: Hart cooks while intoxicated, to great comedic and culinary effect. Concerns about overindulgence aside, it's been a huge hit since its first episodes in 2011, and now Hart has made the transition from web to television with a new Food Network show.

"I Hart Food" premieres Monday, Aug. 14, on Food Network, and Hart serves as both host and executive producer. Over six episodes, the media personality with a laugh-out-loud sense of humor follows her stomach to some of the country's top regional food hot spots, where she finds some amazing local dishes, and equally amazing people. In Monday's premiere, Hart is in Santa Fe, New Mexico, where the food is just as hot as it is outdoors. She's there to check out a local culinary tradition: red and green chilies on everything. Whether it's on an all-American hamburger or a Mexican chili relleno, the little heat bombs are everywhere, giving the city's culinary scene a vibrantly colorful and oh-so-spicy personality.

Over the next five episodes, Hart heads to Portland, Maine; Asheville, North Carolina; Minneapolis, Minnesota; Eugene, Oregon; and Missoula, Montana. At each stop, she not only checks out the city's eclectic food scene but also its people. Hart's an entertaining, outgoing personality and has no trouble at all finding an "in" with the locals. After all, to truly experience a city's food, you also have to experience the people who get to enjoy it every day.

Hart may be best known for the award-winning "My Drunk Kitchen," but that's just one of her accomplishments. Her books "My Drunk Kitchen: A Guide to

Alien: Covenant

In the future, the colonization spaceship Covenant picks up a strange radio transmission from a previously unknown planet. When some of the Covenant's crew members descend to the planet's surface to investigate, they find a crashed alien spacecraft, along with David (Fassbender), an android from the earlier Prometheus mission, who crashed there many years prior. When some members of the crew begin coming down with an unknown illness, they are put in quarantine, but that won't be enough to stop the alien menace that is unleashed upon the unsuspecting colonists.

Director: Ridley Scott. Stars: Michael Fassbender, Katherine Waterston, Billy Crudup, Danny

Hollywood Q&A

By Adam Thomlison

TV Media

Q: Can you please tell me why Alex Price and Nancy Carroll have left "Father Brown"?

A: Neither actor has given reasons for leaving "Father Brown," but it seems to boil down to a desire for change. Both have simply moved on to new roles.

Alex Price, who played the petty criminal-turned-chauffeur Sid, has a pretty high-profile stage gig, playing an aged Draco Malfoy in "Harry Potter and the Cursed Child." While plays are often seen as a step down from film and TV work, starring in anything Potterrelated, particularly in London, will always be a special case.

Nancy Carroll, who played the glamorous (and amorous) Lady Felicia in "Father Brown," has stuck with television, appearing in two somewhat similar productions. Most recently, she's been appearing in the TNT drama "Will," a period historical-literary drama set in England (much like "Father Brown") — it tells the story of the early days of a young William Shakespeare. Earlier this year she appeared in four episodes of "Prime Suspect:

Tennison," a '70s-set prequel series to the classic cop show "Prime Suspect," based on the mystery novel series by Lynda La Plante.

The common thread here is literature — all these roles are based on books. That says something about the British culture industry (although "Will" is produced by an American channel, it's filmed in Wales, set in London and features mostly British actors), but it also says something about the actors' backgrounds.

"Father Brown" is still what they're known for, and it, too, is literary. It's based on the classic detective novels by G.K. Chesterton, and it also plays around with historical setting — the novels were set in the early 1900s but the show's producers moved the setting forward to the 1950s.

While neither Price nor Carroll has made an official statement saying they left to pursue these new opportunities, it seems likely, given the way their characters exited the show. Their departures were not essential to the plot in any way, suggesting that it was the actors' choice.

HOW DOES LOW-DOSE ASPRIN PREVENT CANCER?

While it has been established that a daily low-dose (81-milligram) aspirin helps prevent colorectal cancer, it had not been known how it does so. Now, new research sheds light on how a low dose of aspirin may inhibit cancer cell proliferation and metastasis. Researchers have found that, instead of working directly on the tumor, aspirin has an effect on blood cells called "platelets." These tiny cells help a body form clots that 292 Prospect Street. stop bleeding when necessary. It also appears that blood platelets increase the levels of a certain protein that may support cancer cells and help them adults.

to spread. However, aspirin helps suppress platelets' ability to raise levels of this "oncoprotein" called "c-MYC" that spreads the Aspirin has often been called the "wonder drug." Like any over-the- countermedication, though, it's important not to abuse aspirin and to talk to your doctor about the safety of taking aspirin for other ailments. #### The Late Show With Stephen Colbert Folks, things are not looking good for the president's son, Donald Trump Jr., because of a meeting he took last year with Russian lawyer Natalia Veselnitskaya. And now

I have some sad news tonight. As of 10:48 p.m. eastern last night, the GOP health-care bill was pronounced dead of terminal sucking. It was always a longshot because the Republicans control only all three branches of government and can't be expected to do everything.

Jimmy Kimmel Live

Did you watch the season premiere [of "Game of Thrones"] last night? More than 16 million people did. I was one of them. I never thought I'd be excited to see someone empty a bedpan.

have my son, Kevin, explain a lot of it to me after the show. It's like an adult version of summer school: "Who was the guy who sailed in on the black ship and proposed to Cersei?" That was Euron Greyjoy — Theon's Uncle. "Who was the prince that met with the enemy to try to bring down the Queen who was threatening his father?"

That was Donald Trump Jr.

But I loved it, even though I

A whole week dedicated to products made in the U.S.A. Which is funny, because almost none of the products the Trump family sells are made in the U.S.A. Donald Trump's wife wasn't even made in the U.S.A.!

Did you see that there was a mystery as to who the eighth person who was in the room when Donald Trump Jr. met with the Russians to try to get dirt on Hillary? That person's identity had not yet been revealed until today, and it's this guy: Irakly Kaveladze. First name rhymes with broccoli, that's right ... I guess Russia has nerds.

Although I do want to say, to be fair, it was hard for [Donald Trump Jr.] and for Jared Kushner and Paul Manafort to know how many Russians would be in that meeting, because, you know, sometimes they hide the smaller Russians inside the bigger Russians — and then inside an even bigger Russian than that!
