The Longhorn Players: ‘Mamma Mia!’ is a show the audience ‘will easily let into their hearts’

It was the third day of school following the blissful freedom that accompanies the summer months and the student actors in the George Ranch High School's theatre department were onstage laughing and joking with one another as they waited for their photos to be taken. Although their official costumes weren't ready, they were able to pull together some threads that complemented the personality of the characters they would soon be playing in the department's first production of the new school year.

As the camera clicked and the flash illuminated both nervous and genuine smiles, glimpses of their characters looked back at the lens. They still had a little more than two month's of disciplined preparation and rehearsals before them, but their bubbling enthusiasm was overtly evident.

"I'm excited about this show because it is one of my favorites, and to do it my senior year is such a blessing," said George Ranch High School senior Paige Klase, who has been involved with theatre since she was in the sixth grade.

Klase, who has performed in varsity theatre since her sophomore year, will play the role of "Donna" in the George Ranch High School Longhorn Player's production of "Mamma Mia!" which opens Oct. 24. The show holds a particular affection from Klase, who said the production "requires a realistic happiness that shoots down barriers any young actor or actress might have."

"This way," she explained, "the actors can feel the joy of the show just as an audience would."

"Anyone who comes to see "Mamma Mia!" will easily let it into their heart as it unfolds major comedy, romance, drama and some killer ABBA songs all in one," said Klase. "It's one of those shows you just can't quite let go of once you see it. I can't wait to tell this amazing story in my last chapter of high school."

Even the talent behind the scenes, like Riley Halford, was amped for the opening of the show.

"I'm so excited for "Mamma Mia!" not only because of the great visions I have for it, but also because it is my senior musical," said Halford. Halford also started her theatre career in sixth grade, but two years ago she became a technician. She will serve as the lighting technician and designer for the show.

"When people come to see the show, they can expect an exciting and fun musical made possible by the hard work of everyone involved," she added.

The show's stage manager, Charis Christy, echoed Halford's sentiments.

"I can't wait to see all of the cast and crew put their hearts into one of my favorite shows, and to produce a beautiful musical that audiences are going to love," said senior Christy who has been a member of the Longhorn Players since freshman year. "Audiences can expect a wonderful group of people performing in a show we all love, and they will too."

DIRECTOR SAYS THIS SHOW IS 'AN AMAZING OPPORTUNITY'

Directing this eager and equally skillful cast is George Ranch High School theatre L.Jay Edenmeyer, who said one of his prominent goals is to continually present challenges to the school's theatre department.

"I have, historically, chosen musicals based on what I saw as a need in our department," he said.

He refers to his choice opening show for the 2016 school year, "Sweet Charity," which was a musical that was more advanced, in terms of subject matter, than any of the department's prior productions at that time.

"I chose "Sweet Charity," not because I had the dancers to do the show well, but because I needed dancers to do it," he explained. "I want to always challenge students — as well as other directors, choreographers and even myself — to go beyond their level of comfort."

He notes that his motivation this year was a tad different.

"We went all out last year with "Seussical." It was, for me, a wonderful surprise at how much I loved the whole process. It isn't normally the kind of musical that draws me," he said. "But, it was such a rewarding experience. We had so many challenges this last year, as well as many demands on our already extended schedules. I decided that I wanted to do something that showed the wonderful talent in my department — even while challenging many — and at the same time have a wonderful time working on a show.

And this, he stressed, is why "Mamma Mia!" was his choice for the department's season opener.

Longhorn Players, from left, Clair Mangum, Paige Klase and Reagan Scott will play "Donna and the Dynamos" in the George Ranch Theatre Department's first show of the year: "Mamma Mia!"

"It is such an amazing opportunity to be able to share not only the love of what we do, but the joy of the process at the same time," Edenmeyer said.

"Mamma Mia!" which will feature a cast of 38 students from George Ranch High School, plus a youth ensemble comprised of elementary, middle school and junior high students from the maroon track, will run from Oct. 24 through Oct. 26 at 7:30 p.m. and at 2 p.m. on Oct. 27 at the George Ranch High School auditorium.

'OUT-OF-THE-PARK TALENT' AND POWERFUL LESSONS

A jukebox musical told through the music of ABBA, "Mamma Mia!" is set on a small Greek island where the character of Sophie dreams of a perfect wedding where her father gives her away, except Sophie doesn't know who he is. Her mother, Donna, a former lead singer of the 1970s pop group Donna and the Dynamos, refuses to speak on the past, so Sophie tries her hand at her own investigative work. Sophie ends up getting her hands on her mother's diary, which reveals three possible fathers — Sam, Billy and Harry — so Sophie secretly invites them to the wedding.

See, she's convinced she will instinctively know him when she sees him, but it's not as easy as that.

"This show is going to be the best that this school has ever seen," said George Ranch High's Tate Mangum. "The talent this year is out of the park, this show is not to-be-missed for sure."

Mangum, who has been in theatre since sixth grade and a member of the Longhorn Players since his freshman year, is portraying the character of Sam in the musical.

"I'm very excited about this show because it's my senior musical with the Longhorn Players,” he said. “It’s a opportunity I wouldn’t give up for anything.”

Edenmyer points to the powerful lesson the musical provides not just his actors, but viewers as well. Honesty, he said, is what the audience can expect from this show.

“I have always believed that our young men and women, particularly those in theatre, are ready to face the challenges of our modern society. We face many different families in 2019 and the Sheridan family is no different,” he explained “Donna found herself in a situation back in 1980 that some find themselves in, in our society’s history.”

He points out that “Donna” was a single woman with a child who “needed to move forward without a real care for who the father was and forged her way into the world.”

“She did an amazing job of creating a life and a world for her daughter and herself, without the guidance, or even the need for a male figure,” Edenmeyer added. “This may possibly be a quintessential story of the lack of need for a male figure for a successful life and family. While this may not be the ideal outline for the nuclear family, it is one we are all too familiar with. “Mamma Mia!” goes a long way to empower that dynamic in a way that we have begun to feel empowering in modern time.”

Endenmeyer considers the “amazing strength” of this show to have been “shown in a time when this want not an acceptable family dynamic.”

“Mamma Mia!” premiered in the West End at the Prince Edward Theatre on April 6, 1999 and since then has been performed in 40 different countries across five continents.

“I think it is essential for people to see past the ‘ideal’ framework and identify that the strength we see in this family is the strength necessary in every family to overcome any situation viewed as detrimental by society,” Edenmeyer said. “To paraphrase a common terminology: ‘family is family is family is family.’ And we are all better for it’s existence.”

The Fort Bend Women's Center: 'SAVES LIVES every single day'

by MARQUITA GRIFFIN | mgriffin@fbherald.com

One of the most commonly held beliefs about domestic violence is that if the victim leaves the abusive relationship, the abuse will end, said Peggy Wright, the sexual assault and counseling director of the Fort Bend Women's Center.

"It is not unusual for abuse to continue months, if not years, after the relationship ends," Wright countered. "For example, verbal or physical abuse during the exchange of the children, legal system abuse — constantly filing frivolous suits — to bankrupt the victim and sabotaging the victim's jobs are common tactics used long after a break-up or divorce."

Additionally, Wright adds, the most dangerous time for a victim is after leaving the abusive relationship.

"When you hear about a woman being murdered, you will most often hear then the murderer is an estranged boyfriend or husband, indicating that she was probably killed soon after leaving the relationship," she said.

The topics of domestic violence and sexual assault is unfortunately surrounded by several fallacies, Wright stressed. Including that such violence only happens to women.

"These crimes happen to men as well," she said, explaining that the center serves men of all ages. "We are called Fort Bend Women's Center, but we help any and all victims of domestic violence and sexual assault."

In 2018, the center assisted 23 male clients with services such as counseling, medical care, crisis intervention, legal assistance, relocation assistance, transportation, housing search and clothing.

"Sometimes it just seems to be too horrible to be true, and yet it is," Wright said. "If you haven't experienced domestic violence or sexual assault personally, it's very hard to imagine that anyone could act to violently against someone they say they love. But the crime is becoming more and more visible through wide access to media and other outlets, so people are beginning to recognize this type of violence as a very prevalent problem."

'INTEGRAL SUPPORT SERVICES'

The Fort Bend Women's Center is the only full-service domestic violence and sexual assault emergency shelter and crisis hotline in Fort Bend. Last year it served 1,289 new clients and as of June 2019, it has assisted 468 clients. But, Wright noted, "this does not include the thousands that sought our help but either had to be referred to another organization due to lack of space or to have other issues addressed."

"The need is still very present in our community."

In 2020 the center will celebrate its 40th anniversary in the community, having grown from a "tiny house that only sheltered a few victims" to the new housing program that will house as many as 72 families simultaneously.

"In the last 40 years, we have become the primary Fort Bend County provider of free, integral support services for survivors," Wright said. "The services we offer help save lives every single day."

Volunteer Carolyn Annim encourages church leaders to get involved with the center by having at least one person on their staff complete the training certification course to "enable our faith-based communities to better understand what it means to be a survivor of domestic violence and sexual assault."

Guests at the 2018 Healing and Hope Luncheon, which was sold out with 250 supporters in attendance and raised $62,000. For 2019 the center relocated the luncheon to Marriott Sugar Land Town Square to increase capacity and it is already sold out with 440 attendees, tracking to raise $95,000.

“[The support provided by the Fort Bend Women’s Center] was the first time someone acknowledged the abuse for what it was. This allowed me to begin accepting and healing,” said a current client who wished to remain unnamed. “The most beautiful people we have known are those who have known defeat, known suffering, known struggle, known loss and have found their way out of the depths. These people have an appreciation, a sensitivity and an understanding of life that fills them with compassion, gentleness and a deep loving concern ... Beautiful people do not just happen.”

The center offers longterm support services including: counseling, case management, legal advocacy, employment and education assistance, children’s services, rape crisis services, rental assistance and transportation.

Additionally, the center has “a history of successfully identifying and adopting innovative approaches to victim services to address the trauma of abuse and break the cycle of violence,” Wright said.

“Over the past 10 years, Fort Bend Women’s Center has been serving survivors with increasingly complex emotional, psychological and physical needs. Many have experienced abuse throughout their lives and have suffered brain injuries due to head trauma and/or strangulation.”

On top of the positive reinforcement, motivational interviewing and mobile advocacy services offered, the center has also introduced a behavioral therapy, called neurofeedback training, to help clients living with brain injuries, post-traumatic stress disorder and other mental health disorders.

“We are currently the only agency to offer this therapy to domestic violence and sexual assault victims,” Wright said.

Another current client who also did not want to be identified by name, said that in addition to teaching her how to become self-sufficient, the Fort Bend Women’s Center taught her “how to be safe for [her] kids,” and provided her with “coping mechanisms for stress and trauma.”

“They help women who think they have no way out to start over in a positive way,” she said, also offering advice to any victims in a desperate situation. “Don’t be afraid to get help. Take it one day at a time.”

THE 2019 HEALING & HOPE LUNCHEON

Elizabeth Smart, an abduction and abuse survivor, will be the guest speaker at the 2019 Fort Bend Women’s Center Healing and Hope Luncheon.

As 2020 approaches, Wright said the center has several goals in mind — like “increase our abilities to help more survivors and their families to achieve safety and independence, free of violence and fear” — and to continue spreading awareness, education and working with the community to end the cycle of violence.

True to this effort, the Fort Bend Women’s Center is hosting its 4th Annual Healing and Hope Luncheon on Oct. 17, featuring Elizabeth Smart, whose story about abduction and abuse became one of the most followed nationwide cases of child abduction in the early 2000s.

The Healing and Hope Luncheon is Fort Bend Women’s Center’s annual keynote event in recognition of Domestic Violence Awareness Month.

Smart was abducted from her own bed in the middle of the night on June 5, 2002. For the following nine months, Smart was victimized before being found by police and returned to her home on March 12, 2003.

At the luncheon, Smart will share her personal story and how she transformed from victim to advocate, traveling the country to educate others and advocate for change in child abductions, recovery programs and national legislation.

“All of our clients have been victimized in horrific ways, whether it was through sexual abuse or physical violence,” said Wright.

“Elizabeth was also victimized when she was kidnapped by her abuser at just age 14. Not only can she relate from the perspective of a child victim, she can provide hope for all victims and show that they can survive and thrive after their abuse. We feel Elizabeth offers so many teachings on how a survivor can find healing and succeed after being victimized but also how the people and community around them can help with that process.”

Smart, who founded the Elizabeth Smart Foundation is involved with the National AMBER Alert, The Adam Walsh Child Protection & Safety Act and other safety legislation in the country.

Smart has also authored two books — “My Story” and “Where There’s Hope” — and along with other abduction survivors, has worked with the Department of Justice to create a survivors guide, “You’re Not Alone: The Journey From Abduction to Empowerment,” meant to encourage children who have gone through similar experiences.

“We are very pleased to have Elizabeth Smart speak at this year’s luncheon. Her story demonstrates an outcome that we would hope for all of our clients and strive to help them to achieve every day,” said Fort Bend Women’s Center CEO Vita Goodell. “We are beyond grateful for all of the supporters who make that possible by continuing to bring healing and hope to survivors of domestic violence and sexual assault and their children.

“We could not do this work without them.”

MOVED TO ACT

Last April there was an exhibit on display in different locations in the community called “What Were You Wearing,” and it was through this exhibit that Carolyn Arnim made her first contact with the Fort Bend Women’s Center.

“As outreach coordinator for my church I wanted to see what it was all about,” Arnim said. “The exhibit was incredibly powerful and moving.”

The exhibit, created by the Women’s Center, showcased mannequins in outfits with sexual assault stories written by Fort Bend County residents.

People still believe that a woman can provoke sexual assault by the way she was dressed or if her “behavior is perceived as promiscuous,” Wright said.

“That type of thinking is comparable to an excuse such as ‘Well, you had a $100 dollar bill sticking out of your pocket so I felt like it was mine to take.’ Careless decisions or behaviors do not give others a right to commit a crime against you,” Wright said. “People who buy into this rationale do not give men who do not rape the credit they deserve.”

The exhibit was an effort to make the public aware of and to stop the trend of victim-blaming.

While viewing the exhibit, Arnim spoke with Women Center staff who were on site and learned about the center’s STARS Volunteer Auxiliary. Arnim chose to attend one of the meetings and from there was encouraged to sign up for the center’s Sexual Assault Advocate Training, which is a 40-hour certification course.

“This led me on a three-week journey where I had the privilege of hearing from local leaders and experts in the fields of domestic violence and sexual assault. Upon receiving my certification, I was able work directly with Fort Bend Women’s Center clients,” she said. “Basically, the more time I spent engaged with [the center’s] activities, the more I realized I knew nothing about how to really help domestic violence and sexual assault survivors in our community.”

Arnim has been a volunteer for more than a year now, and in that time at least one truth has made itself abundantly clear: domestic abuse can happen to anyone.

“It does not discriminate based on economic status, religion, race, gender or sexual orientation,” she said. “I’ve also learned that abusers don’t come with a warning label. Most people have the misconception that abusers are abusive because they lack self-control. When in fact, they are actually in complete control of what they are doing. That is why they can exist in our community undetected, they are superstars at their jobs, maybe even attend church every week and no one would suspect or believe that they are capable of abuse.”

Arnim said the center’s leaders and staff have a commitment to survivors that “is contagious and inspiring,” and that “we can all want to support domestic violence and sexual assault victims, but we can’t execute the healing process without the proper training.”

“The Fort Bend Women’s Center took my casual interest to get involved and upgraded it,” she said. “They didn’t just train me for a cause. They equipped me for a lifetime.”

Domestic & Sexual Violence Q&A: What to do

Fort Bend Women's Center Sexual Assault and Counseling Director Peggy Wright answered questions about how a victim can get to safety following domestic or sexual assault.

When a victim first experiences domestic violence, what are the first important steps to take?

"The most important step is to get to a safe place. Every circumstance is different and each person's resources may be different so it is impossible to have a blanket answer that applies to all people. It may mean going to another room in the house, locking the door and waiting until the crisis is over. It may mean grabbing the children, running to the neighbor's house and calling the police. It may mean calling 9-1-1 immediately or calling our Hotline as soon as it is safe to do so. Whatever you choose to do, think safety. Every victim has several complicated decisions to make, and one of the toughest is: 'Should I stay or should I go?' This is not unlike the decision we may make when faced with potential flash flooding. Both staying and leaving involve risks, and the process of leaving is the most dangerous time. Calling Fort Bend Women's Center and speaking with specially trained advocates who can give you some safety tips as well as help you weigh your options is a good first step to take once you are safe. They will not tell you what to do, but rather help you decide what option(s) might work best for you."

Wright notes that in the case of sexual assault, the steps are the same, however, another crucial step is to get an exam. "It does help in both cases," she said.

When a victim of domestic violence or sexual assault contacts the Women's Center, what does the process look like?

"A victim can call our hotline (281-342-HELP) any time of the day or night. After you state your reason for calling, the hotline operator will ask a few questions that will help determine how to best accommodate you. Be sure to indicate whether you are seeking shelter or non-residential services. If you are seeking shelter and there is space, the operator will give you instructions for getting safely to the shelter. At the shelter, all your basic needs will be provided. If there is no room at the shelter, the operator will provide you with a list of other shelters and resources. Additionally, the operator can schedule an appointment for you with a non-residential case manager to complete an intake, a needs assessment and various other brief assessments. Once you have completed the intake process, you may request which services you would like to access. The case manager will then send a referral to the appropriate staff member who will contact you to schedule an appointment. All victim services are offered at no cost. Please visit our website at fbwc.org for more details about our services."

Greatwood residents to vote on $90 million bond package

Greatwood residents will have an opportunity this November to vote for or against a proposed $90 million Sugar Land bond package. Residents in the subdivision can hear all about the bond package on Wednesday, Oct. 30.

The Fort Bend Chamber of Commerce's Infrastructure Division will host an informative presentation and breakfast on the upcoming Sugar Land bond with Chris Steubing, assistant city manager and Mayor Joe Zimmerman, from 7:30-9 a.m. at the Chamber office, 445 Commerce Green Blvd in Sugar Land.

With infrastructure aging, the City of Sugar Land has called a $90 million general obligation bond election for November.

The bond proposes to address drainage, public safety facilities, streets and mobility, and an animal shelter. The projects that make up the bond propositions have been identified by residents through the citizen satisfaction survey, past master plans and citizen boards.

The bond election provides residents an opportunity to determine which projects to fund. More than half of the proposed projects address drainage, with 82 percent of the total funds dedicated to drainage and public safety projects.

The Fort Bend Chamber of Commerce Infrastructure Division educates and advocates for transportation, infrastructure and development programs throughout the region that promote opportunities for investment and encourage an improved quality of life in the region.

Details of upcoming events can be found at www.FortBendChamber.com. Registration is open.

Event Presenting Sponsorship: $600, includes reserved seating for six, recognition at the event, and logo recognition on all printed and digital marketing materials.

Member Pricing: $25. Prospective Member Pricing and onsite admission: $35. Breakfast is included.

Texas board chair Dianne Wilson retires

Texana Center announces the retirement of their last founding Board of Trustees member, Dianne Wilson. Wilson has served on the Texana Center Board of Trustees since its creation in 1999 and has led as Board Chair for the last 14 years.

Prior to her appointment to the Texana Center board, Wilson served in the 1980s as Chair of the Volunteer Services Council for Richmond State Supported Living Center and in the 1990s as a member of the Advisory Committee for Central Gulf State Operated Community Services.

In the early years of Texana, the board focused its time and energy on successfully merging two separate organizations, one serving those with mental illness and the other serving people with intellectual disabilities. The board also helped in developing Texana's identity and increasing the public awareness of its services to the community. Wilson was on the committee that hired Texana's current and only Chief Executive Officer, George Patterson, in 2000. The Board also made the decision to move Texana Center's headquarters to Rosenberg to be more centrally located in the geographical service area. Today, under her leadership, Texana is an ever-growing and vibrant organization with 850 employees and serving over 14,000 individuals a year at its various facilities in Austin, Colorado, Fort Bend, Matagorda, Waller and Wharton Counties.

With the growth of several programs, the board decided in 2008 that it would be cost effective to build and/or own its facilities in all six counties. After raising approximately $3 million in Texana's first capital campaign, the second campus in Rosenberg opened its doors in 2011. It combined four leased office spaces into the new Service Center and had Texana's first purpose-built Learning Center for adults with intellectual disabilities. Texana's board has approved purchases so that most of the 19 group homes throughout the counties are now owned and operated by Texana.

In 2014 with Wilson at the helm, Texana Center expanded again and added four new programs: the Behavioral Health Crisis Center, the Behavior Stabilization Team, Therapy for Tots and the second location of the Children's Center for Autism. The following year, the board approved the purchase of 14.5 acres one mile north of downtown Fulshear to build a new regional campus that will serve the most northwestern portion of Fort Bend County as well as Waller, Austin, and Colorado Counties. To date, the Forward Together Capital Campaign has raised approximately $2.2 million and are in the permitting phase for the first building.

Wilson's retirement also fittingly coincides with Texana Center's 20th Anniversary. "We're grateful for all the years of service that Dianne has given to Texana and are especially thankful that

Diane Wilson

2019 Fort Bend County Walk to End Alzheimer's

More than five million people are living with Alzheimer's and between 2000 and 2017, deaths attributed Alzheimer's has increased 145%.

According to the Alzheimer's Association, in 2019, Alzheimer's disease will cost the US $290 billion — and this number is projected to rise to more than $1.1 trillion in 2050.

Research, the association stresses, is the option to prevent and treat Alzheimer's.

In its efforts to raise funds for Alzheimer's care, support and research, the association is again hosting its Fort Bend County Walk to End Alzheimer's on Oct. 26 at the University of Houston-Sugar Land. Registration is set for 7:30 a.m., followed by a ceremony at 8 a.m. and the walk beginning at 8:30 a.m.

Characterized by impaired communication, disorientation, confusion, behavior changes and, ultimately, difficulty speaking, swallowing and walking, Alzheimer's disease is a growing epidemic and is the nation's sixth-leading cause of death. Almost two-thirds of Americans with Alzheimer's disease are women and one in three seniors dies with Alzheimer's or another dementia, the associated reported.

To date, the Alzheimer's Association Walk to End Alzheimer's — held annually in more than 600 communities nationwide — is the nation's largest event to raise awareness and funds for Alzheimer's er's care, support and research.

This year's goal for the Fort Bend County Walk to End Alzheimer's is $175,000.

Golfers to test their 'skill of thrones' during Hope For Three fundraising tournament

Hope for Three will demonstrate its talent for creativity and wholesome fun during the nonprofit's 4th Annual Golf "Fore" Autism by having players test their "skill of thrones" while taking a swing from a literal porcelain throne during this scramble-styled golf tournament.

Sitting on a "throne," golfers will make a drive hit with the ball lying at zero. The best ball is played to continue the scramble.

The tournament, which is presented by Timewise, is what event organizers are calling a "royal opportunity" to raise awareness and funds for local children and families living with autism.

The scramble-style golf tournament is set for Oct. 28 at the Sweetwater Country Club in Sugar Land.

Guests will enjoy food on the course including Off the Vine Bistro and Top Gun BBQ. There are two chances at hole-in-one vehicle wins courtesy of Classic Chevy Sugar Land and Sterling McCall Lexus. Golfers and the general public can also take their chance at winning gas for one year, compliments of Timewise, by donating $20 for a chance to win $1,200, $800 or $600 ($2,600 value) in gas cards.

Live and silent auctions with vacations, concerts, jewelry, sporting events and memorabilia, will also held at the dinner and awards banquet.

Teams are available for tournament play — individual ($125) or foursome ($500). Sponsorship and underwriting opportunities also available. Golf registration and gas chances are online www.hopeforthree.org/events

For additional information on Hope For Three's programs and resources, call 281-245-0640 or visit hopeforthree.org.

'It's Cool To Care'

Interactive presentation empowering students and faculty

When the new school year kicked off, Hope for Three announced the continuation of its "It's Cool to Care" (ICTC) program, which educates and empowers students and educators on the topic of bullying, specifically against children living with autism.

Students living with autism spectrum disorder are 63% more likely to be bullied in public schools than typically developing peers, the nonprofit stated.

Since inception, the ICTC program has successfully presented information to more than 15,000 students and educators throughout the Greater Houston area. ICTC creates heightened awareness and knowledge through its key concepts of patience, empathy, and anti-bullying.

The target audience for this program is grades K-12, as well as faculty members. During the presentation handouts are used to illustrate and define what autism is, and interactive exercises and videos depict the daily struggles and experiences of those living with autism.

Students are also given real-life tactics to put to use on how to be a 'good friend' and an advocate for anti-bullying.

Not only has ICTC reduced bullying and assisted educators in identifying and handling issues, it also inspired students to give back. More than half of this year's Teen Huddle program, presented by Hope For Three, is made up of high school students who completed an ICTC training.

Teen Huddle is an auxiliary group of 20 teen volunteers from 13 different area schools who share a mission: To increase autism awareness and acceptance among teens.

The bi-monthly programs they host provide families with 'Parents Time Out' and 'Sibling Sessions,' a mentor program for siblings of children with autism.

The 2019/2020 Teen Huddle volunteers, which also includes four teens who experienced 'Siblings Sessions' were just inducted during a beach retreat in August and are eager to begin their philanthropic journey.

"ICTC and Teen Huddle are both Hope For Three programs conducted to ignite a stronger, more knowledgeable community," said Samantha Katchy, Hope For Three Family Assistant Manager. "These relationships not only help cut down the statistics of bullying but also provide a pathway for more inclusive opportunities."

Schools, businesses and organizations can schedule an It's Cool To Care presentation by contacting Hope For Three at 281-245-0640 or visit hopeforthree.org/programs

The 2019/2020 Teen Huddle volunteers create a circle of love and band together during their annual beach retreat to prepare for their year of philanthropic giving and supporting families and children living with autism spectrum disorder.

COMING SOON: 'DISNEY'S MY SON PINOCCHIO JR' & 'THE ADDAMS FAMILY SCHOOL EDITION'

Morticia (Lizzie Tyer) and Wednesday (Madison Willett) and their ancestors — including Olsin Waldorf (rear, center) in the "Addams Family School Edition."

Olsin Waldorf

Inspiration Stage is presenting two youth productions in October — "Disney's My Son Pinocchio JR" and "The Addams Family School Edition."

'Disney's My Son Pinocchio JR,' runs Oct. 4 - 6.

In this musical, the classic tale of toymaker Geppetto's little wooden puppet is given new life. This new production, which retells the classic Disney story from Geppetto's perspective, features the beloved classic songs, "When You Wish upon a Star" and "I've Got No Strings," alongside a host of new songs by Oscar winner and Grammy Award winner Stephen Schwartz.

Join the Blue Fairy, Stromboli and a lively cast of characters as Geppetto journeys beyond the toyshop to discover the meaning of family. When the Blue Fairy grants Geppetto's wish to bring his beloved puppet to life, the new father quickly learns that being a parent is full of challenges.

He struggles to make his son "the perfect boy," only to lose him to a gang of Roustabouts. It is only when faced with the thought of never seeing Pinocchio again that Geppetto truly learns the joys of being a father and loving his child unconditionally.

"Disney's My Son Pinocchio JR," with its cast of 40 talented youth, ages 7 to 17, is appropriate for audiences of all ages. Four shows are scheduled the weekend of Oct. 4 - 6, all at the Sugar Land Auditorium, 226 Lakeview Dr. in Sugar Land. Showtimes are: Friday, Oct. 4, 7:30 p.m.; Saturday, Oct. 5, 3:30 p.m. and 7:30 p.m.; and Sunday, Oct. 6, 3:30 p.m.

'A FUN, UPBEAT MUSICAL'

"The Addams Family School Edition," is a comical feast that embraces the wackiness in every family, and features an original story that's every father's nightmare: Wednesday Addams, the ultimate princess of darkness, has grown up and fallen in love with a sweet, smart young man from a respectable family — a man her parents have never met.

If that wasn't upsetting enough, Wednesday confides in her father and begs him not to tell her mother. Now, Gomez Addams must do something he's never done before — keep a secret from his beloved wife, Morticia. Everything will change for the whole family on the fateful night they host a dinner for Wednesday's "normal" boyfriend and his parents.

"I've watched my sisters perform for years, and have wanted to be up on the stage each time. Now I get to," said Greatwood resident Olsin Waldorf, 14.

Waldorf, a ninth-grade Logos Online School student, is appearing in his first iStage production as an ancestor in "The Addams Family" production.

"The Addams Family is a pretty iconic and original show and the musical delivers all of that," he said. "And interestingly enough, the show is similar, I think, to the Adam Sandler movie "Hotel Transylvania," so younger audience members will get a kick out of the love story between the normal boy and eccentric girl."

"The Addams Family School Edition," with its cast of 29 talented youth, ages 12 to 19, is appropriate for audiences ages 8 years old and older. Four shows are scheduled the weekend of Oct. 18 - 20, all at the Sugar Land Auditorium. Showtimes are: Friday, Oct. 18, 8 p.m.; Saturday, Oct. 19, 3 p.m. and 8 p.m.; and Sunday, Oct. 20, 3 p.m.

For tickets to this month's shows, visit inspirationstage.com/shows.

MOTOWN COMES TO MORTON

The Historic Richmond Association is inviting the public to experience its Motown on Morton from 6 p.m. to 10 p.m., Oct. 12 in downtown Richmond.

What began as an effort to bring awareness to ALS by in support of Steven 'Rocket' Rosen, who is a downtown business owner and community hero diagnosed with ALS, has developed to a free evening of great music and dancing in the streets. The fun cranks up with Level One Band jamming with Motown sound at 7 p.m. To learn more about Level One Band visit www.leveloneband.com.

Activities include costume contest, car cruise-in, food trucks and shops will be open. Funds raised will support ALS Heroes.

The Level One Band

A LITTLE 'HOCUS POCUS' FOR HALLOWEEN

Just in time for the Halloween festivities, the City of Richmond will continue its Movies On Morton series with 1993 Disney film "Hocus Pocus," showing on Oct. 4 in historic Downtown Richmond in front of City Hall, located at 402 Morton Street. "Hocus Pocus" is a comedic movie about a trio of witches who are accidentally resurrected by a teenage boy in Salem, Massachusetts on Halloween. The Movies on Morton series will proceed with Disney's 2017 animated film "Coco" showing on Nov. 1.

The city organized these screenings to provide a free family event — complete with popcorn and refreshments — for residents and visitors. Watch City of Richmond TX Facebook page for updates.

36TH ANNUAL TEXIAN MARKET DAYS CELEBRATES HISTORY

Tickets Tickets are now on sale for the 36th annual Texian Market Days festival. Set for Saturday, October 26 at the George Ranch Historical Park, Texian Market Days celebrates more than 150 years of Texas history through battle reenactments, pioneer folk life demonstrations, cowboys, vintage games, food and craft vendors, historic house tours and much more.

“Texian Market Days has always been an amazing way to get an immersive perspective of this area’s history in a memorable, multi-sensory way,” said Steve Nelson, 2019 festival co-chair and vice president of the Fort Bend History Association’s Board of Trustees. “This year, we’re putting the ‘market’ back in Market Days with more vendors, more food choices, a beer garden and live music – all grouped together as a hub where people can congregate, re-charge and then head back into the Park for more history.”

Founded in 1984, the full-day festival celebrates Texas history – ranging from the early pioneer days of the 1820s through World War II and beyond. More than 5,000 students, chaperones and visitors attend the festival annually; guest favorites include live period music and entertainment, cavalry demonstrations, cannonfire, Victorian games and dancing, antique vehicles and children’s activities such as making cornhusk dolls, a petting zoo and face painting. Community organizations, both locally in Fort Bend County and from the Greater Houston area, also attend the festival and provide hands-on activities as part of the experience.

A few of this year’s participating organizations include the Houston Maritime Museum, Fort Bend Master Naturalists, Texas Prison Museum, T.W. Davis YMCA, Fort Bend Master Gardeners and Sam Houston Memorial Museum.

Held annually on the fourth weekend in October, the Texian Market Days festival is a community event that benefits the Fort Bend History Association, a 501(c)3 non-profit organization dedicated to preserving and sharing Fort Bend County and Texas history. All proceeds from Texian Market Days benefit the educational and preservation efforts of the Association, which includes the George Ranch Historical Park, Fort Bend Museum, DeWalt Heritage Center and other affiliates.

For the second year in a row, Houston-area H-E-B Business Centers are selling discounted Texian Market Days tickets; advance pricing at H-E-B Business Centers is $18 for adults and $13 for seniors and children ages 4-12. At-the-gate or online pricing is $20 for adults and $15 for seniors and children ages 4-12. Children 3 and under and members of the Fort Bend History Association are free.

Festival hours are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday, Oct. 26. The George Ranch Historical Park is located at 10215 FM 762 in Richmond. For more information about Texian Market Days, visit www.texianmarketdays.com or call 281-343-0218.

THE 2019 SUGAR PLUM MARKET IS FAST APPROACHING

The 19th Annual Sugar Plum Market, presented by the Fort Bend Junior Service League and Title Sponsor Memorial Hermann Sugar Land, will focus on this year’s “Joy to the World” theme through continued support of organizations in Fort Bend County.

Since 2001, the holiday shopping extravaganza has raised over $2.5 million for many Fort Bend County non-profit organizations. Previous grants have contributed to educational programs, food pantries, assistance for women and children, literacy programs, and many other charitable needs. The women of Fort Bend Junior Service League (FBJS�) and Memorial Hermann Sugar Land said they hope to spread “joy to the world” by raising money for Fort Bend County’s charitable organizations providing assistance to those who need it most.

The Sugar Plum Market offers a variety of sponsorship and underwriting opportunities for both businesses and individuals,

ANNUAL HARVEST FEST IS 'TWO BIG DAYS JAM-PACKED WITH FUN AND EXCITEMENT'

Make plans now to join the fun at the 36th annual Needville Harvest Festival, Friday and Saturday, Oct. 18 and 19. The first Harvest Fest took place the third weekend in October, 1983, and it has been held at that time each year since.

Downtown Needville was the site of the celebration for many years, but continued growth necessitated the move to Harvest Park, where nearly 5,000 people gather annually for lots of food, fun, and a wide variety of activities, events and entertainment.

The 16-acre Harvest Park, located at 3001 Violet St., is open year-round for the enjoyment of the community, but Harvest Festival President Chris Janicek said the annual event that made the park possible is something folks look forward to for months.

"Needville Harvest Festival features two big days jam-packed with fun and excitement for people of all ages," he said.

Activities kick off the evening of Oct. 18 with a barbecue cook-off featuring more than 50 teams. Events begin early the following morning with a fun run and continue throughout the day with everything from a talent show to a live auction, lawn mower races to a car show.

More than 60 food and craft vendors offer something for everyone, and the Kidz Zone is always a favorite, featuring performances such as the Jelly Belly Schmelly Show, magician David Gish, and Sonny the Bird Man. Other crowd-pleasers include interviews of Little Miss and Mr. contestants prior to the naming of the winners of those titles, and the crowning of the 2019 Harvest Fest Queen.

The newest addition to Harvest Park in Needville got under way in August. On hand to watch the start of construction on a new covered pavilion alongside the jogging trail were, from left, Harvest Festival Committee members W. Lee Hedt, Sandra Wendt, Sherry Winkelman, Tommy Stavinocha and Chris Janicek.

Raffle prizes include a new John Deere Gator, a 48-inch riding lawnmower, and cash. All proceeds from the Harvest Fest are used for the development and maintenance of Harvest Park and for scholarships for graduating Needville High School seniors. More than $30,000 in scholarships have been awarded thus far.

In order to make the festival a continued success, said Janicek, community support is important and sponsors are crucial.

"Sponsors are listed on all event information and advertisement, and we will honor them at a dinner at the park on opening night," he said. "We're counting on our sponsors to help us make this year's festival the best ever. We are so grateful for their support and for the incredibly dedicated and devoted committee members and volunteers who donate endless hours of service to make the Harvest Fest such a success each year."

Needville Harvest Festival, Inc., is a non-profit 501c3 organization that raises funds for current and long-range projects for Harvest Park. The newest addition to the park is a 50-foot by 30-foot covered pavilion which is currently being constructed alongside the half-mile paved walkway that winds through the grounds.

The pavilion and security cameras for the protection of physical property are made possible by a grant from The George Foundation in honor of a former board member.

Other recent improvements include: restroom and building expansions; a playground with benches and additional playground area; covered picnic tables and barbecue pits; lights for the walking trail and parking lot; and much more.

"We hope to be able to continue to make improvements to the park, but to do that sponsors are vital, and we need the support of our community in the form of attendance at the festival as well," said Janicek. "We hope folks from all across the area will come out and see all we have to offer at the Harvest Fest and Harvest Park, and we know they'll enjoy meeting lots of friendly folks."

To become a part of all the fun by becoming a sponsor or volunteer, contact Janicek at chris.janicek@yahoo.com or 281-468-9314.

NEW DONATION OPTION AVAILABLE FOR TEACHER APPRECIATION

Our PTO hosts many events for our amazing teachers throughout the school year. We are always so thankful for our wonderful parents who take the time to cook, bake, and donate endless amounts of goods for our teachers. While participation is still very much needed, we recognize there is a desire for parents who wish to help but may not necessarily have the time to do so.

This year we are implementing a monetary donation option that is readily available via our PTO site. All donations will be used for the purchase of food, supplies, and other miscellaneous items needed for all teacher appreciation events throughout the year.

Visit our website to make your donation. Thank you!

YEARBOOK REMINDER

Don't forget to purchase your child's yearbook and memory message before the price increases. Last day to purchase a memory message is October 31. Visit our website to make your purchase.

2018 READ-A-THON: OCT. 10- 28

Students invited to compete in Congressional App Challenge

U.S. Rep. Pete Olson has invited Fort Bend County middle and high school students to participate in the 2019 Congressional App Challenge.

This app challenge is designed to challenge student's creativity and encourage their participation in the Science, Technology, Engineering and Math (STEM) fields.

"It's an honor to once again host this year's congressional app-building challenge for our Texas middle and high school students," Rep. Pete Olson said. "The technology field is constantly changing and growing and computer applications are the way of the future. I'm continually impressed with the ingenuity of our students and encourage more participation to inspire interest in developing STEM skills that they can use for the rest of their lives."

This event is open to all middle and high school students who live in the 22nd Congressional District of Texas.

Students can submit an app individually or as part of a team. The winning app will be displayed in the U.S. Capitol Building and on the House of Representatives' website, House.Gov.

The deadline to apply is Nov. 1. Winners will be chosen and announced in December. For more information, or to apply and submit an application, visit webportalapp.com/sp/login/congressional_app_challenge_2019.

Houston Methodist Sugar Land Hospital has received certification from DNV GL - Healthcare as a Primary Stroke Center, affirming the hospital's readiness to handle a full range of stroke-related medical problems.

"This certification let's our community know we have the resources and commitment to provide the best possible stroke care," said Maureen Lall, PhD, RN, FNP-BC, SCRNP, COHN-S, director of the Neuroscience & Spine Center. "It's a combination of the right personnel, training and equipment to quickly assess and treat strokes. Achieving certification ensures the health and safety of our patients."

The DNV GL - Healthcare Primary Stroke Center Certification is based on standards set forth by the Brain Attack Coalition and the American Stroke Association, and affirms that the hospital addresses the full spectrum of stroke care - diagnosis, treatment, rehabilitation and education - and establishes clear metrics to evaluate outcomes.

"Achieving this certification shows commitment to excellence,” said Patrick Horine, CEO of DNV GL - Healthcare. “And it helps demonstrate to your community that you are performing at the highest level.”

According to the National Stroke Association, stroke is a leading cause of death, killing nearly 130,000 people each year, and is a leading cause of serious, long-term adult disability. Because stroke or “brain attack” effects blood flow to the brain, rapid and effective treatment can save lives and provide the best chance of limiting the extent of long-term damage.

DNV GL is a world-leading certification body that helps businesses assure the performance of their organizations, products, people, facilities and supply chains through certification, verification, assessment and training services.

The many health benefits of honey

Honey is nature's sweet nectar. While honey certainly can add flavor to various recipes or be enjoyed straight out of the jar, it has many other surprising benefits as well. Used since ancient times as both a food and for medicinal purposes, honey can make for a versatile addition to anyone's diet.

- Substitute for refined sugar: Refined sugar offers little to no nutritional value and is full of empty calories. Healthline says that honey has bioactive plant compounds and antioxidants as well as trace amounts of vitamins and minerals. The antioxidants in honey, which include phenols and flavonoids, may help prevent cardiovascular disease, stroke and some types of cancer.

- Has antibacterial and antifungal properties: According to the Honey Research Unit at the University of Waikato in New Zealand, honey is antibacterial. Honey will not foster growth of these microorganisms because it contains small amounts of hydrogen peroxide. Because of these properties, some people say that honey can help disorders such as ulcers and bacterial gastroenteritis, or other conditions where fungi and bacteria grow unchecked.

- Soothes sore throat: Taking a tablespoon of honey to relieve itchy, dry throats and coughs can be effective. • Helps reduce inflammation: Honey is well known for its anti-inflammatory properties. As a result, honey can help treat diabetes, cardiovascular disease, atherosclerosis, and other diseases traced back to widespread inflammation, according to Greek researcher Natalia Vallianou of the Evangelismos Hospital in Athens.

- Regulates blood sugar: The combination of fructose and glucose in honey may help the body regulate its blood sugar levels, which could be beneficial to those with diabetes. Certain types of honey also may have a lower hypoglycemic index, which means they don't cause a dramatic shift in blood sugar, according to the food and health resource Real Food for Life.

- Has probiotic properties: Some varieties of honey contain large amounts of the friendly bacteria that the body needs to maintain a healthy gut microbiome.

- Promotes healing: There is evidence that clinical use of honey on burns and wounds can be beneficial. Data published in the Scientific World Journal said that honey can be used to dress wounds and that it produces similar results to other topical treatments in promoting healing.

TRICK OR TREAT

BREAST CANCER AWARENESS

ALCOHOL AND BREAST CANCER RISK

Many people unwind with a glass of wine or a cocktail after a stressful day, and some research suggests that mild to moderate consumption of alcoholic beverages can have various health advantages.

According to the Mayo Clinic, moderate consumption of alcohol has been linked to a lower risk of developing and dying from heart disease, possibly reducing the risk of ischemic stroke and potentially reducing the risk of diabetes. However, for some people, the risks of consuming alcohol may outweigh the benefits.

Many studies show that drinking alcohol may increase the risk of breast cancer, advises the research and information organization Susan J. Komen.

The group says pooled analysis of data from 53 studies found that, for each alcoholic drink consumed per day, the relative risk for breast cancer increases by about 7 percent.

Researchers aren't quite sure why there is an increased risk of breast cancer associated with alcohol intake, but experts at MD Anderson Cancer Center have some theories.

Some theorize that alcohol can increase levels of estrogen and other hormones that affect breast cancer formation and growth. Excess fat can lead to an increased cancer risk, and the consumption of empty calories through drinking alcohol can lead to unwanted weight gain. Furthermore, those who consume alcohol have increased amounts of folic acid in their systems, which can increase cancer risk. The nonprofit breast cancer organization Breastcancer.org states that, compared to women who don't drink at all, women who have three alcoholic drinks per week have a 15 percent higher risk of breast cancer.

Experts also estimate that the risk of breast cancer goes up another 10 percent for each additional drink women regularly consume each day. Keep in mind that a drink is defined as 12 ounces of beer, five ounces of wine or 1.5 ounces of liquor.

Women who want to do all they can to reduce their risk of developing breast cancer may want to avoid alcohol.

3 POTENTIAL SIDE EFFECTS OF BREAST CANCER TREATMENTS

Cancer is a painful, potentially life-threatening disease. Though discomfort might be the first warning sign that compels people to visit their physicians on the road to receiving a cancer diagnosis, cancer treatments can produce a host of side effects, including pain, as well.

According to the Sidney Kimmel Cancer Center, breast cancer treatments can create both long-term side effects and late side effects. Long-term side effects are those that begin during treatment and continue after all treatments have stopped, while late side effects refers to symptoms that can appear weeks, months or even years after treatments have ended.

The list of potential side effects of breast cancer treatments is lengthy, but may include the following conditions or issues.

FATIGUE

The nonprofit organization Breastcancer.org notes that fatigue is the most common side effect of breast cancer treatments, with some estimates suggesting it affects as many as 90 percent of all patients. Some breast cancer patients may experience fatigue after treatment and find it's worsening because they are eating less and not getting enough nutrients. In such instances, the initial fatigue may make people too tired to cook, ultimately contributing to more fatigue when they are not eating or eating convenient yet potentially unhealthy foods. Cooking healthy foods in bulk when fatigue is not overwhelming and accepting others' offers to cook is a great way for cancer patients to ensure their diets are helping them combat fatigue and not making fatigue worse.

LYMPHEDEMA

Johns Hopkins School of Medicine notes that, following breast cancer treatment, some patients may suffer from lymphedema, a condition characterized by the accumulation of lymphatic fluid in the tissues. Lymphedema most often occurs in the arms, but can contribute to swelling in other parts of the body as well. Why some people suffer from lymphedema after treatment and others don't is a mystery, though surgeons at Johns Hopkins Breast Center have noticed a low occurrence of lymphedema in patients who have undergone sentinel node biopsies or axillary node dissection. Breast cancer patients are at risk of lymphedema for the rest of their lives after treatment, and while there's no way to prevent it, patients should avoid getting needle sticks or blood pressure tests in arms where lymph nodes were removed. In addition, any injuries or cuts in arms where lymph nodes were removed should be treated with vigilance.

INFERTILITY

Many women will stop menstruating while undergoing chemotherapy or after chemo treatments, and that cessation is often temporary. These irregularities may be traced to hormonal therapies that make the ovaries stop producing eggs. However, in some instances, even premenopausal women may have trouble getting pregnant after hormonal therapy. Breastcancer.org notes that women whose periods do not return after treatment may still be fertile, but also notes that women who are close to menopause when beginning chemo may become permanently infertile. Women who have been diagnosed with breast cancer who are concerned about post-treatment infertility should speak with their physicians immediately about their prospects of getting pregnant after treatment, including fertility treatments and the potential safety risks of getting pregnant after being diagnosed with breast cancer.

Breast cancer treatments save lives every day.

When discussing treatments with their physicians, breast cancer patients should ask questions about potential short- and long-term side effects.

DOWN SYNDROME AWARENESS

THE CAUSES OF DOWN SYNDROME

While most cases of Down syndrome, which is sometimes referred to as trisomy 21, are related to a third partial or complete copy of chromosome 21, Down syndrome can be caused by other genetic variations. Mosaic Down syndrome is a rare form in which a person only has some cells with an extra copy of chromosome 21, states the Mayo Clinic.

Translocation Down syndrome, in which a portion of chromosome 21 becomes attached (translocated) onto another chromosome before or at conception, is another form of the syndrome. Children born with translocation Down syndrome have extra genetic material attached to another chromosome from chromosome 21.

There are no known behavioral or environmental factors that cause Down syndrome, which results from chromosomal abnormalities during cell division. Chromosome 21 is the smallest human autosome (non-sex-related chromosome), but it encodes approximately 225 genes.

While most are not affected by an extra copy or extra genetic material, there are a few genes for which an extra copy creates an issue that results in Down syndrome.

LEARN ABOUT DOWN SYNDROME TO ADVOCATE FOR CARE

Having a child is an exciting experience full of anticipation. Thanks to modern medicine, expecting parents are able to learn much more about the little one they will welcome into the world while the fetus is in utero than their own parents could decades ago.

Modern medicine makes it possible to approximate a baby's length, weight, gender, and even if the child will be born with a head full of hair. Doctors also can utilize technology to look for genetic abnormalities, including Down syndrome, so parents can educate and prepare themselves for such situations.

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention says that Down syndrome occurs in approximately one in every 700 pregnancies. Many factors can elevate the risk for Down syndrome, including

EXCITING COMMUNITY EVENT:

The 'i have a Voice' gala set for Oct. 19

GiGi's Playhouse in Sugar Land will host its annual 'i have a Voice' gala from 6 p.m. to 11 p.m. at the George Ranch Historical Park in Richmond.

GiGi's Playhouse is a worldwide nonprofit network that is an achievement center for children and adults diagnosed with Down syndrome. Through its free programs, those diagnosed with Down syndrome are offered educational and therapeutic programs devoted to increasing self-confidence and skills.

In 2015 Sugar Land became the 27th playhouse in the network.

GiGi's Playhouse Sugar Land welcomes all ages from prenatal to adults and offers custom, research-based curriculum for advancing literacy, math skills, gross and fine motor skills, improving low muscle tone, building self-esteem, preparing for the workforce in addition to fostering acceptance, awareness and networking resources for parents, siblings and the community.

All programs are free of charge.

The 'i have a Voice' gala supports these efforts and celebrates children and adults with Down syndrome.

The ticket price includes a gourmet dinner, open bar, live music and dancing, live auction, raffle, wine and whiskey pulls, silent auction, the GiGi Prep Market, boot shine station and "inspiration from our children and adults and much more," said the nonprofit. Complimentary valet is also included.

For more information on the event, ticket prices or sponsorship opportunities, visit gigisplayhouse.org/sugarland/gala having already had a child with Down syndrome. Women older than age 35 are more likely to give birth to a child with Down syndrome than women younger than 35, making age one of the biggest risk factors.

Down syndrome also may be referred to as trisomy 21. That's because the syndrome occurs in most cases when there is a third copy — either complete or partial — of chromosome 21. Normally there are two copies of every chromosome. The Mayo Clinic says a third copy results from abnormal cell division while the fetus is developing. This extra genetic material causes the developmental changes and physical features of Down syndrome.

Down syndrome is the most common genetic chromosomal disorder and cause of learning disabilities in children. The Mayo Clinic also states that the disorder commonly causes other medical issues, including heart defects and gastrointestinal disorders.

Down syndrome cannot be prevented, advises the Cleveland Clinic. However, families can take steps to reduce the risk.

Giving birth before the age of 35 can significantly reduce risk. The CDC says Down syndrome occurs in fewer than one in 1,000 pregnancies in which the mother gives birth before the age of 30. After the age of 40, this figure rises to about 12 in 1,000.

Taking folic acid supplements before and during pregnancy also may help lower the likelihood that a baby is born with Down syndrome.

The outlook for babies born with Down syndrome is quite good. Many traits and conditions are manageable with treatment and therapies. The level of cognitive impairment is unique to each individual and may be mild to moderate. Other effects, such as obesity, sleep apnea and digestive problems, may be treated.

Doctors also can utilize technology to look for genetic abnormalities, including Down syndrome, so parents can educate and prepare themselves for such situations.

With medical care, support from parents and family and education, many people with Down syndrome live very active and healthy lives. The life expectancy for babies born with Down syndrome is now 60 or older.

A variety of organizations provide support and information for parents of children with Down syndrome. These include the National Down Syndrome Society and the National Association for Down Syndrome. Contact these and other groups for more information.
