Sunday's son: 'Jesus Christ Superstar' gets Legend-ary treatment

By K.A. Taylor
TV Media

In the late 1960s, musical theater was getting a complete make-over. For years, the genre did its best to avoid serious subjects, keeping joy and whimsy in the forefront. While it seemed for a time that interest in this form of theater was waning, a new breed of musical theater would resurrect the genre. Rock was woven into the pages of fresh, new takes on biblical narratives and, in 1970, "Jesus Christ Superstar" was born. On Sunday, April 1, NBC brings this legendary rock musical to audiences across North America, when "Jesus Christ Superstar Live in Concert" takes over prime time.

Initially a concept album, "Jesus Christ Superstar" delves into the last days of Jesus Christ, with particular focus on the relationships between Jesus and some well-known biblical figures, including Judas, Mary Magdalene and King Herod. The show plays fast and loose with depictions of these figures, as the musical's creators, Andrew Lloyd Webber and Tim Rice, look to humanize them and make them relatable. The lines between God and man are blurred, with Jesus unafraid to confront modern-day social issues.

While the musical has no doubt been performed in countless high schools and independent theaters around the globe, its professional runs have been consistent since the concept album's creation, with more than 19 productions, including four on Broadway.

For NBC's live, prime-time adaptation, some major star power has been recruited. In the titular role of Jesus Christ is singer, songwriter and actor John Legend ("La La Land," 2016). Not only is Legend the star of the production, he is also co-producer. When asked by The Paley Center for Media to express why he was intrigued by the opportunity, Legend's answer was amusingly simple: "Bottom line is, they offered me the chance to play Jesus Christ ... I was like, let's do it."

While this is Legend's first leading role in a televised musical, it's not his first screen gig — he played the role of Keith in the multiple award-winning feature musical film "La La Land" in 2016. He also co-wrote and recorded a song with the film, "Start a Fire," enjoying a rare opportunity to contribute to a musical's score.

Joining Legend onstage — and on screen — is singer-songwriter Sara Bareilles as Mary Magdalene, a notable follower of Jesus, according to biblical records. Sadly, she was known less for her witnessing of Christ's crucifixion and resurrection and more so for her profession as a sex worker, a depiction not entirely present in the gospels or other biblical texts. Another key player in the musical, one well familiar with its story and lyrical content, is legendary rocker Alice Cooper. Cooper takes on the role of King Herod, a ruler who lives for excess and decadence and fails to see the divinity of Christ, declaring him a liar.

This isn't Cooper's first time in the role: a 1996 cast recording of "Jesus Christ Superstar" also featured him as the king. Sitting at the Paley Center's discussion on this anticipated televised production with his fellow cast and crew, Cooper expressed his feelings about returning to the role. According to Cooper, Tim Rice is an "old friend of [his]," and it was Rice who long believed Cooper had the "[cynicism] and dangerous" nature required for the part.

Despite finding the same appeal as Legend with regard to being cast as Jesus, Cooper admits that "[he] never gets cast as Jesus," though he's not surprised and fairly certain he knows why. His stage persona as a rock musician doesn't really give that Christ-like vibe.

This all-new, one-time production of "Jesus Christ Superstar Live in Concert" is not the first television special of its kind. Many viewers may be familiar with recent small-screen live adaptations of other musicals by NBC, including

"The Sound of Music Live," "The Wiz Live," "Hairspray Live!" and "Grease: Live."

While these offerings may seem to be a recent phenomenon, NBC is no stranger to the teleplay. Both 1955 and 1956 found the musical adaptation of J. M. Barrie's classic "Peter Pan" making waves on TVs across America — notably the first time that a Broadway musical had ever been televised as a complete production, at that time also including almost the entire stage cast. Fittingly, "Peter Pan Live!" was also a recent NBC production, with the adaptation airing Dec. 4, 2014.

"Jesus Christ Superstar" made a name for itself in the early '70s for its infusion of rock 'n' roll with the Bible's foremost narrative. At once daring and mesmerizing, the production, which also received cinematic treatment in 1973, wasn't afraid to challenge preconceived notions and depictions of Christ and the figures that surrounded him.

At its core, though, much like the variability of the characters portrayed and the depths of their personas, Legend sees the production's music as not merely one-note. To him, the musical is "kind of a genre-bending and expanding piece," one that, "for those ... who love music and those ... who love to perform," does not have "as many boundaries as some would suggest."

Take a break from the quiet contemplation of Easter weekend and rejoice, for a renowned rock musical is about to shake up prime time. Catch John Legend, Sarah Bareilles and Alice Cooper as they're joined by an incredible cast for "Jesus Christ Superstar Live in Concert," airing Sunday, April 1, on NBC.

Insidious: The Last Key

Horror hits close to home when paranormal investigator Elise Rainier (Shaye) investigates a haunting in her own childhood house. When the home's current owner (Acevedo) begins experiencing paranormal activity in the house, Elise returns to confront the demon that terrorized her as a child and drove a rift between her and her family. As she and her team investigate the strange goings-on within the walls, however, they begin to uncover a secret that proves that sometimes the demons can be far more familiar than they might first appear.

Director: Adam Robitel. Stars: Lin Shaye, Leigh Whannell, Angus Sampson, Kirk Acevedo, Caitlin Gerard, Josh Stewart. 2018. 103 min. Horror.

Father Figures

When adult twin brothers Peter (Helms) and Kyle (Wilson) learn from their mother (Close) that their father did not, in fact, die when they were young, they set out on a lengthy road trip to track him down and finally meet him. With the additional revelation that their mother was promiscuous in her youth, meaning their dad could be any one of several men, they meet with a number of potential fathers who all share their memories of the twins' mother.

Director: Lawrence Sher. Stars: Ed Helms, Owen Wilson, Glenn Close, J.K. Simmons, Christopher Walken, Terry Bradshaw, Harry Shearer, Zachary Haden. 2017. 113 min. Comedy.

The Ten Commandments

In what has become an Easter tradition, Charlton Heston stars as Moses in one of the greatest films ever made, Cecil B. DeMille's "The Ten Commandments," airing Saturday, March 31, on ABC. The classic film is based on the Holy Scriptures and follows Moses's life from his birth to receiving the Ten Commandments on Mt. Sinai and beyond.

Seven skilled chefs aim for the ultimate culinary prize

By Andrew Warren
TV Media

It's time to throw down: one of the biggest and most coveted prizes in culinary television is once again up for grabs, and seven incredibly talented chefs are bringing their A games to seize it.

"Iron Chef Gauntlet" returns for a second season on Wednesday, April 4, on Food Network. A companion show of sorts to "Iron Chef Showdown" (which itself is a reboot of the venerable "Iron Chef America"), "Gauntlet" brings together some of the industry's top chefs, who are all hoping to be named the next Iron Chef and adding their names to the ranks of Michael Symon, Alex Guarnaschelli, Bobby Flay and last season's "Gauntlet" winner, Stephanie Izard.

"Gauntlet's" ultimate goal is to find a chef worthy of the Iron Chef title, but there's no guarantee that the accolade will even be handed out — that's where the real suspense comes in. Through several weeks of competition overseen by the incomparable Alton Brown ("Cutthroat Kitchen"), the seven competitors will be whittled down until only one remains, but making it that far is the easy party of the battle.

In that final episode, the sole remaining chef will face three culinary battles in quick succession against Iron Chefs Guarnaschelli, Symon and Izard. Only if the challenger's total score, as determined by a panel of judges, tops that of the reigning Iron Chefs will he or she join their ranks — and presumably the next season of "Iron Chef Showdown."

The fact that the top prize isn't even guaranteed to be handed out is definitely outside of the norm for a cooking competition, but that's a big part of what sets "Iron Chef Gauntlet" apart from its peers. The chefs looking to take that title run the gamut of culinary styles, and this season there are even two Canadians in the mix. Nicole Gomes and Dale Mackay are both "Top Chef Canada" winners, and they join Miami's Timon Balloo; David LeFevre of Manhattan Beach, California; Jeanie Roland of Punta Gorda, Florida; New York's Hong Thamee; and Kevin Tien of Washington, D.C., in competing for that sweet chef's jacket.

"Iron Chef Gauntlet" is a fun twist on cooking competitions, with one of the biggest prizes in the industry up for grabs. The second season premieres Wednesday, April 4, on Food Network.

Hollywood Q&A

By Adam Thomlison
TV Media

Q: Soap opera characters are always drinking wine that looks genuine, but is it? I can't imagine producers allowing them to do so on set.

A: For the most part it's not genuine, but according to "Young and the Restless" and "Days of Our Lives" star Eileen Davidson, that hasn't always been the case.

Davidson has played "Y&R's" Ashley Abbott, off and on, for 34 years, and in an interview on Bravo's "Watch What Happens Live," she said the '80s were a decade of decadence on soap sets. Stars did cocaine and got frisky with each other in their dressing rooms, and they sneaked real alcohol into the prop glasses that were supposed to hold water or some other booze stand-in.

Note, however, that it really was sneaking. The generally accepted, and followed, rule has always been to use some kind of fake. And not just because they're told to — soap stars are on set for long hours doing numerous takes, often of the same scene. If you had to do a few takes of wine-drinking in the morning and used real wine, you wouldn't make it to the evening.

Prop masters have a range of tricks for faking various drinks, from simple solutions such as cranberry juice for wine or straight fizzy water for gin and tonics, to more complicated ones such as root beer with Mentos mints dropped in and then sprayed with hair spray to stand in for a foamy beer (the hairspray preserves the foam so it lasts for more than one take).

As you can imagine, the stakes are particularly high on a soap like English institution "Coronation Street," which is basically built around a bar — the famous Rover's Return.

John Michie, who played Rover's bartender Karl Munro from 2011 to 2013, said that it's doubly hard to pretend to sell pretend alcohol.

Q: I enjoyed "Monk," especially when Bitty Schram played Sharona, his sidekick. What's she doing these days since leaving that show?

A: Oddly enough in the over-sharing era of social media, we don't know what Bitty Schram is doing.

Stars often keep up accounts on Twitter or Instagram to let fans know what they're up to, and to plug whatever new projects they're working on, even after they leave the limelight. But Schram has not.

It's possible, though, that she's glad to be out of the limelight.

She's only appeared in one thing since the end of "Monk" in 2009, and she didn't even audition for it. She had a bit part in the 2016 indie comedy "Moments of Clarity," which she said resulted from the producers calling her up. "They just gave it to me, which was very nice," she said in a 2015 interview with the Vallejo Times-Herald. This suggests she isn't actively chasing new roles these days.

She may have become embittered toward the whole acting business after her experience on "Monk." It's no secret that she left the show on bad terms partway through its third season in 2004.

Fox
Empire

While on the brink of nailing down an important tech deal, Eddie (Forest Whitaker) realizes that Empire needs to be rebranded in a new episode of "Empire," airing Wednesday, April 4 on Fox. Meanwhile, a girl group re-unites and threatens to expose long-buried secrets from the past, forcing Cookie (Taraji P. Henson) to spring into action to keep things under wraps.

Terrence Howard stars in "Empire"

A&E
Grace vs. Abrams
Legal experts Nancy Grace and Dan Abrams dig into the disappearance of Stacy Peterson and investigate whether she ran away with another man, as her husband claimed, or if she died at his hands in “Grace vs. Abrams,” airing Thursday, April 5 on A&E. The two debate the possibilities in front of a live audience.

only education is making a comeback. In fact, Melania Trump said, "Abstinence saved my marriage!"

The Tonight Show With Jimmy Fallon
I read that President Trump is on a diet and has been trying to eat more salad. When he first ordered one at the White House, the kitchen was excited 'cause they thought the Obamas were back.

Conan
Today, Pizza Hut introduced a pair of athletic shoes that have a button that orders pizza. When they heard about it, fans of Pizza Hut said, "What are athletic shoes?"

President Trump is planning a meeting about violence with the heads of the video game industry. However, some people worry that it's just a trap so that Trump can deport the Mario Brothers.

It's come out that under President Trump, abstinence-

It was so windy this weekend that almost all the passengers on a United flight to D.C. threw up. When United said, "We're gonna have to get rid of this plane," Spirit Airlines was like, "We'll take it!"

Tonight, North Korean leader Kim Jong Un invited South Korean officials to dinner. It was described as two hours of, "You take a bite." "No, YOU take a bite first."

I read that Apple employees keep walking into the glass walls at their new campus in California. Then Apple customers said, "Oh, so you DO know how to make glass that doesn't shatter! That's interesting!"
